

THE ROCHESTER SENTINEL

1886

Wednesday, January 8, 1886

BIOG - Readers of the Sentinel will remember the account, given in these columns, of a horrible murder committed in Missouri, in which a young man named [Henry S.] STAIR was the principal actor. Stair is a son of Fred STAIR who resides in Marshall county, but is well known in this community. The young man is accused of killing a father and son, for no other purpose than that of coming into possession of two teams, two wagons and a lot of trumpery. His trial was had a few weeks ago and being found guilty he was sentenced to be hung on the 15th of this month. Since the trial the woman with whom Stair lived has confessed the whole crime and tells how, and where Stair committed the deed. Although Fred Stair has been to Missouri to see the Governor to intercede for the life of his son, there is but little hope that his life will be saved.

MARRIED - Mr. Benjamin F. CONE and Miss Sarah C. HARRIS, both of Bruce Lake, were married in this city on New Year's Day, by Rev. A. O. RABER, at the residence of the officiating clergyman.

BIRTHDAY - The many friends of Sam JOHNSON of Henry township perpetrated quite a surprise upon him last Saturday evening. It was his 46th birthday and his friends to the number of a hundred made a raid upon him and helped to celebrate the event. It was a very pleasant party, and he was kindly remembered with an elegant chair as a present.

DIED - George TIPTON, an old resident of this county, died at his home on the 1st inst. He was 75 years 6 months and 29 days old. He was born in Virginia, from whence his parents moved while he was quite young, to Coshocton county, Ohio. June 15, 1837, he was married to Susannah HOLMES who survives him. January 1, 1846, just forty years prior to his death, he crossed the Indiana state line and about two years afterward settled on his farm in Newcastle township where he has ever since resided and where he died. He was a member of the Yellow Creek Baptist church for over thirty years, and while they have no family of their own, their home was scarcely ever without the presence of some little one, placed in their care and keeping by others.

MARRIED - Mr. William V. JAMISON and Miss Ella SNYDER, both of this city, were married last Wednesday at the residence of Rev. A. O. RABER, who was the officiating clergyman.

HANGED - Readers of the Sentinel are familiar with all the facts concerning the atrocious murder committed by Henry S. STAIR in Missouri last July.

He was accused of killing old man SERWELL and his son for no other purpose than that of coming into possession of their personal property, consisting of two teams, two wagons and a lot of camp property. For that offense he was tried and sentenced to be hung on the 15th of the present month. The fact that the doomed man was born and raised just across the county line, in Marshall county, and was well known in this county, having been sentenced to the penitentiary from this place for counterfeiting, makes his case one of local interest to our readers. He was a son of Fred STAIR, a worthy citizen and farmer of Marshall county. After his liberation from prison he drifted westward and but little was heard of him until he committed the deed for which he suffered the death penalty last Friday. Every effort that could be made was taken advantage of to save him from the scaffold but without avail. All the circumstances were entirely against him and a reprieve was among the impossibilities. His father visited him prior to the hanging and remained with him until the fatal ending of his life. The hanging took place about a mile from Nevada, Mo., in a ravine that formed a natural amphitheater that was crowded with thousands of people to witness the execution. Young Stair remained firm until the last and protested that he was innocent of the crime for which he was to hang. He spoke to his large audience for half an hour and not only insisted that he was innocent but that his acknowledged wife who was accused of being his accomplice was as innocent as himself. But his words availed for naught. He hung until he was dead and his body was then taken in charge by his father who brought it to the family home. The father passed through this place last Saturday evening with his dead son and the burial has since taken place near the old homestead. It was a severe blow to the parents of the wayward boy and they have the deep sympathy of all their true friends in their sore affliction. May his sad case be a terrible warning to all young men who are disposed to disregard the teachings of their parents and are determined upon traveling the road that leads to destruction.

DIED - A young child of Mr. & Mrs. Albert MADARY, of Liberty township, was buried on Monday.

MARRIED - Schuyler C. BENNETT and Miss Ida E. MILLER, both of Bruce Lake, were married at the Central House, in this city, last Thursday morning by Rev. A. E. GIFT.

BIOG - Rans SHIREMAN who has been sent to the penitentiary from this county on two occasions, was quite recently sent for the third time from Warsaw, for one year for stealing a set of harness. . . . .

DIED - On January 5 Mrs. Mary Jane JACKSON died at her home near Mount Nebo, after a three week's illness of lung and typhoid fever. Mrs. Jackson was loved most by those that knew her best. Her nature was so pleasant and cheerful she won the friendship of everyone around her. She leaves a husband and five children and a large circle of friends to mourn their loss. Age 53 years. (STRINGTOWN)

DIED - Mrs. Margaret [HUFFMAN] PLANTZ, wife of Rev. Samuel PLANTZ, was born August 10, 1827; died January 28, 1886, in Richland township, this county, aged 58 years 5 months and 18 days.

The deceased was well known and among the first settlers there as also among the first of the members of the church of the Evangelical Association. When people yet had to worship in houses and old log school houses, she with her sorrowing husband would go through storm with ox teams, making all kind of sacrifices for the cause of Christ and the church. About 37 years ago she was united with the respected Rev. S. Plantz -- a true wife, a kind neighbor, a loyal and true christian, a sufferer for many years, but in all of these years of toil and suffering not a murmur was known to escape her lips. The bereft husband and children, brothers, sisters and relatives will never forget her kind admonitions. Among the well known brothers to the town of Rochester are the following: Rev. John HUFFMAN, Samuel and Peter HUFFMAN. Rev. S. Plantz is well known and of him it can be truly said that he was a kind and affectionate husband, doing all in his power to ease the afflicted sufferer, his dear wife, who is now gone to rest with loved ones gone before, as she left such a bright evidence behind, and admonished all to meet her in Heaven. Bro. Plantz and family has the true sympathies of all around. On the 29th inst., her mortal remains were followed to the old Germany church by an immense concourse of people. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. A. O. RABER, of Rochester, and the writer. - James WALES.

Mrs. Plantz, wife of Rev. Plantz, of the Evangelical denomination, died at her residence in Richland township, last week, and was buried last Friday. Mrs. Plantz had been an invalid for years, suffering severely with asthma. There were months at a time that she enjoyed no rest or sleep except as she secured it in an upright position in a chair.

BIRTHDAY - Several of the children and many of the grandchildren of Mrs. George [Ann BLACK] DOWNS assembled at her residence, south of town, last Thursday, and by their presence assisted to make the 72d birthday of the old lady very pleasant. The day's doings were concluded at the residence of Wm. DOWNS where all spent an enjoyable evening in a family reunion.

BIOG - Young Emery HARRISON who carved young KRYER with a big knife, at Walnut, a few months ago, over a dispute about the killing of a chicken, was tried in the Marshall circuit court recently and given a three year's term in the penitentiary for his viciousness.

MARRIED - The marriage of Mr. Adolph BICCARD and Mrs. Minnie MOSES occurred at the bride's residence on South Main Street at 6 p.m. on last Sunday, Rabbi Jacob WILE, of LaPorte, officiating. . . . Among the guests from abroad were Miss Fannie ROSENTHAL, Mr. I.

ROSENTHAL, Mrs. GUGGENHEIME, Mr. J. WILE, LaPorte; Mr. Marcus KOCH, Cincinnati; Mr. & Mrs. ALLMAN, Plymouth . . . .

DIED - Mrs. Anna HARRIGAN passed from labor to reward and was laid in the grave at the Catholic cemetery last Thursday. The loss is deeply felt by the entire community and the bereaved have our sympathy. The disease was consumption. (BLUEGRASS)

DIED - It was stated in these columns last week that in a hand-to-hand fight between Hudson STILES and Mrs. GILKISON, the keeper of a boarding house, the former got a lock on the forehead with an iron poker, wielded by the strong arm of the Teutonic hash dispenser.

The difficulty between them occurred on Saturday night and originated by Mrs. Gilkison refusing to allow Stiles to occupy one of her beds for the night without payment for it in advance. The wound Stiles received in the battle was regarded as a very slight one and but little attention was paid to it until the following Monday when it inflamed to such an extent that his eyes and face swelled beyond recognition. The township trustee provided quarters and medical assistance for him at the City Hotel where he lingered in great agony until Wednesday evening of last week when death came and relieved him of his suffering. The attention of the coroner was called to the circumstances of his death and that officer at once proceeded to hold an inquest . . . being on the 8th of February duly called upon to hold an inquisition . . . that at the time of his death he was about fifty-three years of age; that he was six feet high and was of strong and heavy build; his hair (originally dark) was considerably turned to gray; that his complexion was light; that there was a scar in or near the center of his forehead. . . and had not, on or about his person, or belonging to him, so far as could be ascertained, any valuables whatever. . . this 6th day of February. . . Jacob HERRING, Coroner Fulton County.

A post mortem examination was also made by the medical firms of SHAFFER & RANNELLS and GOULD & GOULD. They have made no official report, but it is safe to say that in their opinion death did not ensue by reason of the blow he had received, only as a primary cause. As soon as his death was reported Mrs. GILKINSON was lodged in jail to await the finding of the coroner's inquest. All the evidence plainly indicated that she acted in self defense and was not responsible for his death, on which statements she was released from jail.

Hudson Stiles had been a citizen of this county for many years and has been engaged in many business pursuits, chief of which has been the sale of liquors. He has been low in the scale of humanity and again he has occupied prominent positions in society. He had served as constable and town marshal, and once the Republicans nominated him for Sheriff, but he was badly defeated by Dell WARD. Like other men he had some good traits of character but the bad strongly predominated. He came originally from Pennsylvania where he yet has two brothers in Philadelphia and a sister in New Jersey. He was buried in the Citizens cemetery on Friday last. His death was a sad ending of a misspent life.

DIED - Philip MIKESELL, one of the first settlers of the county, and a man esteemed by all his neighbors, was taken from among us last week by the relentless hand of death. (BIGFOOT)

The Rochester Sentinel - 1886

There were present friends from Columbia City, Warsaw and other points. Mrs. Ferguson is of Kentucky stock, having been born and raised in that state, and is a hospitable and kind old lady.

Mr. H. was born in Rochester, N.Y., but has been a citizen of this place for a number of years. He was a soldier of the late war and on the day of his death a check came to this office from Washington for some $900 and odd dollars, but too late for him to sign, so it is a question of doubt whether the widow can draw the money. The deceased was laid to rest in the Fulton cemetery Feb 7, 1886. (FULTON)

Wednesday, March 3, 1886

DIED - After many months of severe suffering, our townsman, Calvin VanTRUMP, has been called to his home beyond this vale of tears. His death occurred last Wednesday morning and on the following day he was buried at the Odd Fellows cemetery.

The deceased was born in Rockingham county, Va., May 12, 1833, and was at his death nearly fifty-three years of age. For nearly thirty years he had been a citizen of this county, and before he was broken down by disease he was one of the most active, energetic and enterprising citizens. Years ago he served this township as its trustee and made an honest and very efficient officer. He had all the qualifications for higher and more honorable positions, but changes in fortune and circumstances prevented his obtaining them. In common with other people he had his faults that were severely criticized, but withal he had a host of friends to do him honor and to remember him with respect. Of his immediate household there is but one to mourn his departure -- his devoted wife -- who has tenderly and lovingly ministered to all his wants through his long sickness.

BIOG - The State of Indiana has prosecuted its cases against Ab. BARRETT and Lou McDONALD pretty vigorously. Lou was charged with keeping a house of ill fame and Ab. was accused of being a frequent visitor. The case against Lou was tried at Akron and resulted in a conviction and a fine of $5.00 and costs, amounting to nearly $75. Ab. plead guilty and he also was fined $5.00 and costs, total fines and costs of the two cases being near $100, a sum that ought to be sufficient to cool their ardor for a little while at least.

Wednesday, March 24, 1886

SUICIDE - A messenger from near Five Corners in Liberty township came to town last Thursday evening bearing the intelligence that Mrs. Joseph [Ann] CHAMP had committed suicide that evening by hanging herself.

The coroner went out and investigated the matter. He found the report to be true. Mrs. Ann Champ in a fit of despondency had taken her own life by the means indicated. Her husband, Joseph CHAMP, is a well known character, not for his virtues as a good husband and honest man, but for his ways that are dark and tricks that are vain. He is accused of illy treating his family and failure to provide for them the comforts of life. At one time he was financially well fixed but the reverses of fortune, for which he is said to be responsible, has swept it about all away, and that, in addition to his indifference and want of care for his family, caused his wife to become despondent, and it is supposed that in that mood she determined upon self destruction. For that purpose she repaired to the wood house about 4 o'clock Thursday evening and with a rope about her neck suspended herself from a joist. She leaves three small children to mourn the loss and care of a mother. The following is the official report of the Coroner:

I, Jacob H. HERRING, Coroner in and for Fulton county, in the State of Indiana... on the 18th day of March, 1886. . . . Ann Champ, found dead in Liberty township . . . . about thirty-four years of age, that she was of rather dark complexion, with gray eyes and very dark, almost black hair; that she was five feet two inches in height . . . .

DIED - Newcastle township lost one of its good citizens last week in a distressing and unfortunate manner. Jarvis JEFFRIES was an old and very respected citizen who for many years had been afflicted with epileptic fits. Last Friday morning he started for the woods to do some chopping, his course being along a public highway. When about a quarter of a mile from his home he was taken with a fit, and at the point where he fell there was a ditch along the roadside containing some water. Into that he rolled and was drowned, being found a short time after with his face buried in the water and mud. Mr. Jeffries was regarded as one of the most honest and faithful citizens of that township and his untimely and sudden death is mourned by all who knew him. He left a wife and a number of small children in straitened circumstances.

BIRTH - In all probability Cora VANDERGRIFT is the happiest mortal in the north end -- another Democratic voter in 21 years. (WAGONERS)

MARRIED - Mr. Wilfred HARRIS wooed and wedded a fair maiden by the name of Elizabeth NEFF, who resided near Germany Station. This happy couple are among the most highly esteemed of the young people of this vicinity, and they have a host of friends who will join with the Echo in wishing them a most happy and pleasant journey through a long and blissful married life. (GERMANY ECHO)

The funeral of Aggie BEATTIE was preached here at the Baptist church on Monday, the 15th of this month, by Rev. McDANIELS, after which the burial took place at the grave yard of the M.E. church at the lake. (BLUEGRASS)

Wednesday, March 31, 1886

MARRIED - At the residence of the bride's parents, in Henry township, this county, on March 30, 1886, Mr. Emery A. FARMER, of Minneapolis, Minn., to Miss Edelle ORR, of Akron, Ind.

. . . . she is the youngest daughter of our old and highly esteemed citizen, Melville ORR. For several years she has stood in the front rank of Fulton county teachers, closing a work of much usefulness in the Akron graded school where she was employed during the past winter. Her chosen companion is, as above indicated, a resident of Minneapolis, where he has resided for about five years. For the past two years he has, as we are informed, been engaged in the wholesale fruit and produce business as the senior partner in the firm of FARMER & McLEAN . . . .

. . . . The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. M. RUSH, of Roann, Ind. . . . .

The newly wedded pair left on the 1 p.m. train over the C. & A. for a brief visit among friends in Hamilton county, Indianapolis -- the former home of the groom -- and Chicago; after which they will settle down to housekeeping and business in Minneapolis, where, as we have said, Mr. Farmer is engaged in a profitable trade extending over the entire Northwest. . . [lengthy details]

The Rochester Sentinel - 1886

DIED - Mrs. Joseph [Emma E.] STINSON whose mind became badly disordered a few weeks ago while attending a revival meeting in Henry township, continued to grow worse day by day until death relieved her of her suffering last Thursday. Her funeral occurred last Saturday.

DIED - An almost unintelligible postal card was received at this office, mailed at Elkhart, from which we extract the information that Marion WOODS died on the 8th of this month and that his remains were taken to Cadillac, Mich., for burial. We presume it refers to the Marion Woods who for years lived at this place and was engaged as bus driver and hotel help. If that is the man there are but few here to regret his death, for a man that deserts his family of wife small children and leaves them to be cared for by the charities of a cold world, cannot expect to have many friends to mourn his departure.

MARRIED - Rev. WORK went out to the residence of Joseph WHITTENBERGER yesterday afternoon to perform a marriage ceremony that would unite a Mr. [Benjamin F.] DITMIRE and Miss [Ida M.] WHITTENBERGER as husband and wife.

DIED - Dr. James Wolfe BRACKETT was born October 8, 1816, at Cherry Valley, N. Y., and departed this life at Rochester, Ind., March 21, 1886, at the age of sixty-nine years five months and thirteen days.

He was first married to Miss Sarah Ann Work BROWN, March 26, 1846, at Logansport, Ind., from whom he was separated by her death in 1868, at Rock Island, Illinois. He was again united in marriage, March 22, 1870, with Mrs. Margaret (ZABST) WEBER, who survives and mourns her loss. She has been faithful, respected and loved as a mother by her husband's children. The first union was blessed by six children -- four sons and two daughters -- of whom two sons and one daughter died in infancy and two sons and one daughter remain to follow the remains of their father to their former home to deposit their beloved "dust" beside that of mother, children and grandparents in the Rock Island cemetery.

Dr. Brackett came of sturdy Welsh-English ancestry -- his father, a man of learning, (a class mate with Daniel WEBSTER) who sought to give his sons and daughter a liberal education. So far successful was he that each obtained honorable distinction in the several callings pursued. The subject of this sketch began his literary and professional studies at such an early period that at the age of 19 years he completed his studies at the Medical College of Castleton, Vermont; and two years later, at the age of 21, began the practice of his profession at the then village of Logansport, Ind., where he was early associated in practice with Dr. FITCH and later with Dr. BUCHANAN. In 1843-4 the Dr. was a partner in the practice with his brother Lyman [BRACKETT] in Rochester, and later returned to Logansport. Soon after his first marriage -- probably in 1848 -- he left the malarious climate of Logansport, "the Wabash valley" and went with his bride to Rock Island, Ill., which was then his parental home; and he was a resident of that place when the war of the Rebellion came. Moved by that common impulse of the loyal North, he left his little family to the protection of their kindred and went to the field of blood and to the hospital as surgeon of the 9th Illinois cavalry. What service he rendered and how long continued we have no means of knowing; but are assured that his services were valuable and that his surgical skill won for him merited distinction.

At the close of the war he returned to Rock Island and remained there until the death of the first Mrs. Brackett, and then came with his little children to Rochester, where he has since resided. His active professional life in this place would cover about ten years. In his practice he has been regarded as an able and honorable practitioner and in society a man of integrity. The summing up of such a life-work must be left to Him who is in possession of all the facts and to whom mistakes are impossible. During the past five or six years he has made but little attempt to practice his profession, on account of failing health. Notwithstanding the employment of the best surgical skill he has been totally blind for sometime past. This, with a breaking down of the nervous system -- troubles supposed to have had their origin in the exposure of army life, has rendered him helpless and made his pleasant home a place of patient waiting for the final change. Loving hearts and hands of wife and children have ministered to his comfort for the last time. They have done what they could but the "silver cord is loosed, the golden bowl is broken, the pitcher has been broken at the fountain and the wheel at the cistern. So shall the dust return to the earth as it was; and the spirit shall return unto God who gave it."

The funeral service took place at the family residence, one-half mile south of town, on Tuesday, March 23, at 12n., conducted kby Rev. A. M. WORK, of the Presbyterian church, assisted by Rev. J. C. REED, D. D. and Rev. Mr. CHITTENDEN. The remains were taken to the C. & A. station enroute for Rock Island, Ill. The choir of the Presbyterian church had charge of the music. The respect shown in the memory of Dr. Brackett must ever be gratifying to his family and friends.

Wednesday, April 14, 1886

REUNION - The Mickey family is not very extensive but it held an enjoyable reunion at the residence of Daniel MICKEY, in Newcastle township, yesterday. There are but three brothers - H. H. MICKEY, Daniel and Hiram MICKEY. H. H. Mickey is the oldest and for many years he has been in the far West and South and had not met his two brothers who live in this county for thirty-five years, until last week when he came to visit them from his present home in Louisa county, Iowa. He is an intelligent old gentleman and the meeting with his brothers and their friends was an occasion long to be remembered.

BIRTH - Last Sunday morning Mrs. M. O. REES gave birth to twin girl babies. Monday morning, or twenty-eight hours later, she gave birth to a still born boy baby. The daughters live with good prospects for continued existence. Our latest information is that the mother is in a very critical condition. The genial deputy county clerk is a subject for congratulation and sympathy.

DIED - On last Saturday morning, at 7:30 o'clock, the spirit of Elijah PARSONS took its flight. The deceased was a native of New Jersey, being born near Cape May, in 1807. As early as 1811 he emigrated with his parents to Hagerstown, this state. In September, 1830, he was married to Elizabeth OSBORNE, who preceded him to the spirit land nearly two years ago. In 1850 he and his family located in Henry township, where they remained until about nine years ago, when they gave up farm life and located in this city. Their marriage union was blessed with eight children, four of whom survive them and were in attendance at his funeral that occurred on Monday afternoon from the Evangelical church, Rev. S. McNEILY, of the Christian church, officiating. Mr. Parsons was one of the most honored and respected citizens of the county. He had been in feeble health for several years, but was yet able to be on the streets as late as the 5th of this month. His funeral was largely attended by his old friends and neighbors to pay the last mark of respect to his memory. Well may it be said that another true and noble man has departed.

MARRIED - Wednesday evening of last week the marriage of Mr. Will MERCER and Miss Byrd HICKMAN took place at the residence of the bride's parents, in this city, in the presence of a large number of their relatives and admiring friends, Rev. J. C. REED, of the M.E. church officiating. This evening the happily wedded twain will be tendered a grand reception at the residence of the groom's parents. . . .

BIOG - After a long time the celebrated Corbin-Mercer case was given a hearing in the Miami circuit court last week. About two years ago, when the bicycle craze first struck Rochester, Ed. MERCER attempted to tame one of the firey steeds with ill success. He utilized the sidewalks of Rochester for his practice, and in doing so, in one of his mad flights he ran over old David CORBIN, knocked him down and created general havoc by scattering the rider, the bicycle and the old gentleman promiscuously over the walk. A sharp prong of the bicycle pinned the hand of Corbin to the wooden walk and it was with difficulty that he was released. The wound proved to be quite serious, and for a time it was thought that death would ensue. It finally healed but the hand and part of the forearm was left in a shriveled and stiffened condition. Corbin brought suit for damages, and a jury awarded him a round $1,000. The injury was unintentional, it is true, but considering the great suffering the old gentleman endured, and the total loss of the use of his hand, he will be but poorly repaid with the $1,000 verdict.

BIOG - Mrs. [Jane L.] STERNER, an old lady living in the south part of town, was stricken with paralysis some time ago. She is now very near death and all hopes for her recovery have been abandoned.

DIED - Robert Newton RANNELLS was born in Crawford county, Ohio, March 21, 1827; died at Rochester, Ind., April 22, 1886, at the age of 59 years 1 month and 1 day. He was the third son and fifth child of fourteen, of William and Susan RANNELLS.

When but eleven years of age he came with his father's family to this county, where he has ever since been a resident. As merchant, farmer and hotel keeper, he has been identified with the interests of this county almost from its beginning. He has seen the Indian's wigwam displaced by the white man's comfortable home; the densely unbroken forests give way to fields of waving grain; the malaria-breeding atmosphere of "this Wabash valley" yield under drainage and the letting of the sun light to as healthful atmosphere as may be found.

His life in this community has covered the most important and laborious events of the history of this section of the country, the most important of the history of the world, for that matter. The last fifty years has made more substantial improvements than any equal period in all the thousands of years past. History's pen can hardly write fast enough to record the changes in domestic, social and civil life -- to keep pace with invention in its application to the employments of our people. The reforms, real and so-called, during this period have been many.

The subject of this sketch has not been a passive spectator of all of these. A constant reader, and an independent thinker, caring less for the good opinions and favors of men than for liberty in its broadest sense, he has passed his years without seeking position or arrogating to himself the prerogatives of a leader.

Mr. Rannells was united in marriage with Elizabeth SPENCER in May, 1848 -- a married life reaching over nearly 38 years. To this union three sons were born; all of whom are living and were permitted to be with their father in his declining days and today, the solace of a grief-stricken mother, who mourns for him who merited their affection both by his position and his conduct. Thus death for the first time has invaded the immediate ranks of this family, although friend after friend has gone from them and more than once has their home afforded the sick chamber which has become the chamber of death for some of their kinsfolk. Their home has been an asylum for the orphan and the needy. Next to his own family will the poor and unfortunate of the community miss him. Many such, turned away from the doors of the more pretentious, have found food and shelter under his hospitable roof. Benevolence was a distinguishing trait of the deceased -- and this was always bestowed without ostentation.

In August, 1862, Mr. Rannells offered his services to the government then in the midst of the terrible civil war, and was appointed Quartermaster to the 87th Ind Volunteers, which position he retained until sickness and destroyed health compelled him to leave army life. To his memory as a soldier the members of the G.A.R. were present at his funeral to pay their tribute. In his death the independant Order of Odd Fellows lose a faithful, devoted member.

A long, painful but cheerfully borne sickness has taken another of our number from our midst and while asking the oft repeated question "What is thy life," we may also with eminent propriety, call upon Him who holdeth our lives in his hands, to "so teach us to number our days that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom."

KILLED BY LIGHTNING - Last Monday evening this community was visited by a thunder, lightning and rain storm that was pretty severe for so early in the season. It seems to have spent its greatest force about two miles south of town, in the neighborhood of the county asylum, at least there is where it did its most frightful work in killing Nathan BIBLER, an insane person who had been an inmate of the asylum for about a year. Bibler was a harmless creature and was given the freedom of the farm. Having been a soldier he imagined that he was always on guard duty and every day and evening he "walked his beat" in a lane just east of the asylum. He was performing his supposed duty Monday evening when the storm came on. The keeper of the asylum supposed that he had returned to the house and gone to bed early in the evening as was his custom. Next morning, an employe on the farm, going through the lane at an early hour, found Bibler near the fence, dead. The fence was built of boards in the ordinary way with twisted wires on the top of the posts. For a distance of 20 rods every post was split and splintered. Bibler lay near the fence with the hair on his head singed and one ear lacerated, together with other marks on his body showing that he had been a victim of the lightning's wrath. A coroner's inquest was had [and] the following is the official report of that officer:

. . . . on the 27th day of April, 1886 . . . . Nathan Bibler. . . . about forty-eight years old; that he was of light complexion, heavy build and five feet eight inches high. . . . Jacob H. HERRING, Coroner.

The funeral of the deceased will occur this afternoon at 2 o'clock and will be in charge of the members of the G.A.R. The interment will be made in the Odd Fellows cemetery.

DIED - Mrs. John H. SHELTON after a long and severe illness died at her home in South Bend last week. Mr. Shelton and his family formerly lived at this place and the distressed husband has the deep sympathy of his many Rochester friends in his great affliction. The funeral was attended by several relatives of the family from this place.

FUNERAL - The funeral of R. N. RANNELLS occurred at 2 o'clock last Sunday afternoon, and the wonderful concourse of people in attendance to pay their last respects to the dead, is the best evidence of his high social standing. Religious services were conducted at the M.E. church by Rev. A. M. WORK of the Presbyterian church from whence the remains were conveyed to the Odd Fellows cemetery for burial where the various orders of which he was a member performed the last sad rites.

BIRTH - Born to Mr. & Mrs. [Andrew C. & Ellen] SHEPHERD, on Saturday, a daughter. Mrs. S. is quite ill but her ultimate recovery is earnestly looked forward to.

Wednesday, May 5, 1886

BIOG - The train north at noon on Monday conveyed three prisoners to the Michigan City penitentiary in charge of Sheriff WALLACE. They were Stephen and John SANDERS and E. A. WILHELM.

The two Sanders were the parties who stole a few bushels of wheat of Ben MOORE and upon conviction were each given a term of one year. Two other young men were engaged in the same transaction one of whom was acquitted and the other fined $10 and given a six months jail sentence, but was paroled on good behavior. Wilhelm was the man who speculated in notes and in order to raise the wind, used the names of good men on paper from which he realized handsome profits. He was finally caught at it and for his folly he will do service for the State for two years. Fulton county is getting a good many representatives at the State institution north, but if men will violate the law they must suffer the penalties.

GRAVE ROBBED - When the grave-diggers dug the grave for the old German who suicided by morphine, they located his resting place along side of the grave of Hudson STILES, who died a few months ago. So closely were the graves connected that at the proper depth the grave of Stiles caved into the vault that was being dug. It was then discovered that Stiles' grave had been robbed of its remains, the coffin and body being gone. The body of Stiles no doubt became a subject for dissection for the young disciples of Esculapius of this or some other city.

UNKNOWN SUICIDE - The funeral of the old Dutchman, who suicided last week, took place from the Pioneer Restaurant, in this city, on Monday, at 10 o'clock. All attempts to find any of the deceased's friends proved futile, and the poor, unfortunate soul, was laid to rest in a strange land among strangers. The expense was borne by the township Trustee.

Last Wednesday an old German came over from Peru to get work in the woolen mill, failing in which he began to tank up on Rochester whiskey. That evening he was pretty full but was given lodging at Wood's boarding house. Next morning he seemed to be all right and went out on the street. At about 9 o'clock he dropped into Pellens' drug store and procured fifteen grains of morphine. An hour later he was back at the boarding house so limber he could not walk. Supposing he was drunk again, he was put out onto the sidewalk when he fell into a stupor from which he could not be aroused. It was finally discovered that he had taken a poisonous drug. A physician was called who did all he could to restore him. By every means that could be employed he was kept alive all that night and the following day when he was so far revived as to be considered out of danger. Saturday night he was in a pretty comfortable condition, but at 4 o'clock Sunday morning he took a relapse and died in a few minutes. On Monday he was buried at the public expense in the Citizens cemetery.

WOLFORD in the holy bonds of wedlock, . . . on the day following, Mr. Urshel was knocking at the door of the Clerk's office . . . He had lost his marriage license. . . Of course Isaiah after giving him a brief lecture upon the frailties of humanity, and the fatal results following in the wake of the careless man, again made the applicant happy, by furnishing him a new outfit. .

RUMOR OF BODY SNATCHING NOT TRUE - A rumor to the effect that the bodies of Hudson STILES and the old German who suicided here last week, had been exhumed by human ghouls, is pronounced a canard by Trustee SHELTON and Undertaker SELLERS.

BIOG - A petition to Gov. GRAY is being circulated and has been signed by the court officers and many leading citizens, asking that E. A. WILHELM, the forger, who was sent north for two years, be pardoned. The petition sets forth that Wilhelm is the father of eleven children; that there are living three sets of twins; that he was without means to pay rent during the cold month of January, and that he might bridge over for a little while his terrible destitution and save his large family from being turned out in the cold winter, he deposited the forged note as security for the rent then due, which was afterward settled. The names of Judge CONNER, Prosecutor MARTINDALE and Sheriff WALLACE head the long list of names and Wilhelm's attorneys are confident that Gov. Gray will grant their petition.

BIOG - W. W. McMAHAN, the successful pension attorney, yesterday secured a pension for Jacob YOUNG, of Henry township, of $8 per month, from May, 1881. The aggregate to date being $487, which will materially aid Mr. Young in fighting life's battles as he is old and very poor.

BIRTH - A girl baby, [Grace May LOWE] their second, was born to Mr. & Mrs. Neal [Cornelius] LOWE, of Liberty township, Sunday.

MARRIED - Fredrick D. PROCTOR to Mary F. ENGLISH, is the way it reads on the Clerk's marriage record. They were married at the residence of Mr. BROWER, of this city, on the 12th inst., by Rev. N. L. LORD, and immediately departed for Chicago, where they will make their future home.

MARRIED - Dr. J. B. PETERS and Miss Mary A. HANSON were issued a marriage license Wednesday, by Clerk WALKER. The parties reside in Fulton.

BIOG - Dwelly BAILY [BAILEY] is the proud father of eleven girls all living and no boys. (BLUEGRASS)

Wednesday, May 26, 1886

DIED - Martha S. TRUE, nee WALTERS, departed this life in Rochester, Ind., May 20, 1886, aged 19 years 8 days.

She was united in marriage to Melvin TRUE, September 21, 1882. They moved to Southern Dakota about one year ago, and for the greater part of the time resided at Miller, in Hand county. On account of her failing health they returned to Rochester, arriving here on the first day of April, where, amidst the scenes of her childhood she unexpectedly soon departed this life a victim to that dread disease, consumption.

She leaves a husband, two children, and many other relatives and friends to mourn her early departure, but not as those who have no hope.

DIED - For some time Mrs. John SELLERS has been at the bedside of her father, Mr. Geo. W. CHAPMAN at his home in Kokomo. Saturday morning Mr. SELLERS received a telegram from his wife, stating that her father had died that morning. Mr. Sellers left on the noon train south and we failed to get any of the particulars of the funeral.

BIOG - The numerous readers of the Sentinel are acquainted with the trials and misfortunes of Uncle Sol. WAGNER during the past twelve months. The litigation in which Uncle Sol. has been involved and his subsequent removal to Canada has so weighed upon the mind of his son William [WAGNER] that last Wednesday he became violently insane and will no doubt have to be treated at the insane asylum for his malady.

BIOG - Another sad case is that of Emmet BOWERS, of Henry township, who through religious excitement became demented, and in one of his maniacal fits performed emasculation upon himself, as he imagined the Lord had commanded him to do.

Papers of insanity have been made out and forwarded to Indianapolis, and as soon as word is received here authorizing his admittance to the asylum for the insane, he will be taken thither. Several cases of mental trouble exist in the immediate vicinity of Hoover's Station, and it is probable that in the near future we will be called upon to record several more insanity cases from the same cause as Mr. Bowers. Religion is a good thing in its place, but all good people will join with us in saying that a religion that drives men mad and breaks up homes, is a kind which the general public will not uphold.

BIRTH - Henry MYERS' [MEYER's] notes on his E flat cornet have perceptibly changed since the advent of a new baby girl at his residence. Mother and child doing well.

Wednesday, June 9, 1886

DIED - David BRYANT, of Henry township, and brother to ex-county commissioner BRYANT, died at his home Thursday, and was buried on Friday. Mr. Bryant was an old settler and highly esteemed by his neighbors.

DIED - J. M. CALVERT, a prominent lawyer of Peru, died at his home in that city Monday, and will be buried today. Mr. Calvert was a brother of Mrs. J. N. ORR, of this county, and was well known by many of our citizens. He formerly lived in Liberty township, and his many friends there will be pained to hear of his death. His disease was consumption.

MARRIAGE LICENSES issued last week: Will J. MASON and Cora BRUMBACK; Chas. H. HORTON and Emma HICKS; Alonzo WILLARD and Hattie B. RICHARDSON.

DIED - Job JOHNSON, a once well-to-do farmer in Liberty township, this county, died a few weeks ago in Cass county.

Mr. Johnson was once one of the foremost in business as a citizen in Liberty township and served several years as justice of the peace in that township, was well versed and a good judge of law and was well fixed financially; but about 1883 his wife too sick and died and from that time the wheel of fortune began to roll the other way, until his death, which found him, it is said, in the county house, and he was laid away in a pauper's grave only about twelve miles from two of his companions.

Wednesday, June 16, 1886

MARRIED - Last Saturday evening Ellsworth JEFFRIES was married to Miss Sarah BALL. . . . (BLOOMINGSBURG)

MARRIAGE LICENSES issued: Thos. WADDUPS and Eliza ABBOTT; Elmer JEFFRIES and Jane BALL; Wm. H. CUFFEL and Louisa WILHOIT; Lincoln ROSS and Maggie J. SMITH.

MARRIED - W. H. SMALLEY was married last Thursday to Rosa AUTHORHOLTS, near Henpeck, Cass county. Harvey was a long time making up his mind but finally made a good choice. We all wish him much joy. (BLUEGRASS)

Wednesday, June 23, 1886

DIED - On Monday, word was received here of the death of Emmett H. BOWERS who last week was taken to the insane asylum at Indianapolis.

The remains arrived here Monday evening on the 7 o'clock train and were conveyed to his late home in Henry township, where the funeral took place yesterday. Mr. B. leaves a wife and several small children to mourn his death.

The case is a peculiarly sad one, in that its surrounding are such as give reason to believe that the remote cause of his death was the over zealous efforts of his friends in trying to convert him to the Christian religion. Emmet, as he was familiarly called, was an honest, upright citizen and by hard work and economy had become the possessor of a small farm and was just getting in a shape financially in which he could live with less hard work, but death ends all.

BIRTH - Perry SANDERS is the happiest man in the neighborhood. A bouncing boy [Elery Leroy SANDERS]. (TIOSA)

BIRTH - Dan JONES was made happy by the addition of twin girls but would have been happier if they had been voters. (TIOSA)

THE MACY SHOOTING AFFRAY PETER AND JOHN CARVEY SHOT BY WM. BILBY

Several weeks ago the Kokomo papers contained sensational items of William BILBY kidnapping his own child from its mother, who had refused to live with her husband, (Bilby) and was then keeping house for a relative in Kokomo.

The sequel to this episode transpired at Macy on last Friday evening where Mrs. BILBY had gone to live with her brother-in-law, Mr. Peter CARVEY.

Bilby resides in Logansport, and on Friday went to Peru and while there was heard to threaten the life of Dr. COE, of Mexico, whom it is understood he accuses of being to a certain extent, responsible for his trouble with his wife. He took the evening train at Peru for Macy, arriving there, went direct to the residence of Mr. Carvey. Bilby asked his wife to take a walk with him which she refused to do, and then he ate supper with the family, and all the time seemed in a very pleasant mood. After supper he started to go away and Mr. Carvey walked with him to the gate. Bilby asked Mr. C. to go on his bond for the maintenance of the child which he had taken at Kokomo, but Mr. Carvey refused to do so. They stood at the gate several minutes and indulged in a friendly chat, when Mr. Carvey, bidding him good bye, and telling him to come and see the child whenever he wanted to, turned toward the house, and had walked but a few steps when Bilby drew a revolver, and fired at him, striking him in the side, the bullet ranging downward and lodging in his abdomen.

Mr. Carvey's son John [CARVEY] run out of the house to protect his father, when the murderous Bilby fired at him, striking him on the side of the head, where the bullet glanced off without doing much injury. Another son [Sylvester A. CARVEY] then came out and started after Bilby who turned and shot at him twice without effect, and then escaped to the woods and is still at large. Before the shooting occurred, Bail PALMER, who lives in Macy, and is said to have come with Bilby from Peru, went to FARRER's Livery Stable and ordered the fastest team in the barn hitched up, and to be tied at a certain place, but Mr. Farrer, hearing of the shooting, run to his team and took it back to the barn.

Evidently Bilby's intention was to kill his wife and then escape in the rig which Palmer is reputed to have hired, to Mexico, and there settle his trouble with Dr. Coe in the same way.

Mr. Carvey is seriously, though not necessarily fatally injured and may recover.

Mrs. Bilby was formerly the wife of Silas HORTON, who committed suicide at Logansport several years ago by hanging. She afterward came to this city and formed the acquaintance of, and married Bilby, who was then working for Mr. A. BOWERS, the lime dealer.

Many rumors are afloat of Mrs. Bilby's unfaithfulness to her husbands, which, no doubt, has much to do in giving her more than her share of this world's troubles. The Carvey family is highly respected in Macy, and in their affliction have the sympathy of the entire community.

MARRIED - At the residence of the bride's parents, Rochester, June 22, by the Rev. G. A. CHITTENDEN, Mr. William EULITT and Miss Ollie Bell DAWSON. Both of this city.

BIRTH - Mr. and Mrs. Chas. LEEBRICK, of Peru, are the proud parents of a bouncing boy baby. Uncle Bobby WALLACE is in a happier frame of mind over the event than he has been since Cleveland's election, and parties who have observed his profuse and vigorous gesticulations in the last few days will now understand that the grandson, and not politics, is the topic of his conversation.

DIED - From Saturday's Republican we clip the following: "Some days ago Mrs. Peter WEASNER was summoned to Ohio to attend the funeral of her sister. She went on the sorrowful journey, and a day or two later her husband here received word that his wife was very sick. Peter started immediately to take care of his wife, and while he was on the road to Ohio, their daughter, Jennie [WEASNER], received a dispatch addressed to her father from friends in Ohio, stating that her mother had died this morning. It is indeed a very sad bereavement and one that elicits the sympathy of every friend here."

MARRIED - Chas. E. MARTIN and Mary A. YOUNG have been licensed to marry.

BIOG - Sheriff WALLACE received word Saturday from the authorities at the Insane Asylum at Indianapolis to come and remove Mr. Uriah SPANGLER to his home, as he had been pronounced incurable. Ten years ago Mr. Spangler was taken to the asylum and will now have to be kept by either his friends or the county, till the new asylum is completed at Logansport, where the incurable insane of Northern Indiana will hereafter be cared for. Mr. Wallace left for Indianapolis Monday.

DIED - Mrs. Ed. CHAPIN died on the 24th and was buried at Five Corners on the 25th. (MUD LAKE)

Wednesday, July 7, 1886

MARRIAGE LICENSE - The past week has been a bad one for the marriage license trade, as only one couple braved the intensely hot weather to get married. Jas. W. DAUGHERTY to Malone KESSLER is the way it reads on the record. . . .

Wednesday, July 14, 1886

BIRTH - Milo MARTIN, of Liberty township, is the proud father of twin babies, a boy and a girl. Uncle Jimmy MARTIN, the grandfather, is highly elated over the event, and it is very probable that if an election would have occurred last week, he would have gone one better, and voted three times instead of twice.

MARRIED - James DAUGHERTY wooed, won and wedded a fair young maiden by the name of Malona KESSLER, both residing near Germany Station. They were pronounced man and wife by Esquire STEPHENSON, of Rochester, and they started hand in hand to accomplish the journey of life. . . . (GERMANY)

Wednesday, July 21, 1886

DIED - On Monday evening, at the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. Robert GOULD, Father Foote, quietly and apparently without pain, breathed his last.

Adrain FOOTE was born in Pittsfield, Mass., April 2, 1787, and died in Rochester, Indiana, July 19, 1886.

His father was a surgeon in the Revolutionary war and at its close resumed the practice of medicine and also operated a farm. When the subject of this sketch was 5 years old, his father moved into that portion of Western New York, known as the wilderness, and located twelve miles beyond an open road, and blazed the trees as he went through, that he might find his road back. Here he cleared a farm and raised a family of children. The opportunity for securing an education in this woody country was limited to the lessons which the father gave to his children, around the fireside. At the age of 19 he was married, but his wife soon died and he entered college and graduated from Madison University at the age of 26, from which his career as a philanthropist and a clergyman, may be said to have properly commenced. He was again married in 1832, and was largely instrumental in building several churches in New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio, where he spent 43 years in active ministerial work. He then moved west to Indiana, and in 1856 located in LaPorte, where he lived three years and then purchased and moved onto a tract of land near Lake Maxinkuckee, from which there was not a stick amiss, and here he, and an only son, cleared the farm, and they prospered until the war of the rebellion came on, when the son entered the army, only to soon return a cripple for life. Fifteen years ago Father Foote moved to Rochester and has since made this his home. His intellect was remarkably vigorous, and his theological and scientific research in his younger days gave him such a wide range of thought, that his ideas on religious and scientific questions were eagerly sought for by ministers and students of the sciences. He cast his first vote in the Presidential election of 1808, and voted at each Presidential election since.

Until two years ago he was a regular attendant at church and manifested an unusual interest in the welfare of the Baptist denomination, of which he was a member from early life. His wife [Philomella ALDEN FOOTE] survives him, and though entirely blind and 77 years old, she is a pleasant and interesting conversationalist, and is thoroughly familiar with many historical events which can only be obtained by a long life of practical observation.

All the ministers of the Logansport Baptist Association have been invited to attend the funeral, which will be conducted at the Baptist church today at 2 o'clock by Rev. CHITTENDEN, assisted by Rev. LORD and Rev. E. J. DELP.

Thus closes the life of one who has devoted three score and ten years of a lifetime, covering a period of almost a century, to the welfare of his fellow beings, and to the service of his Creator.

Father Foote was the father of seven children, three of whom survive him, viz: Mrs. Robert GOULD, Mrs. Etta BUMSTEAD, of Lincoln, Nebraska, and Mr. A. B. H. FOOTE, of Knox, Indiana.

MARRIED - Elmer E. ELY and Allie MILLER were granted a marriage license by Clerk WALKER last Thursday.

BIOG - Peru, July 18: - William BILBY, who shot the Carveys (Peter and John W. CARVEY] at Macy, on the evening of June 20, and made his escape, surrendered on Friday night to Sheriff STANLEY at Logansport. The sheriff here, who had offered $100 reward went to Logansport today, and tendered Stanley the reward, and demanded Bilby, but was refused. Stanley demands a bigger reward. His actions are denounced as discreditable. Habeas corpus proceedings will follow.

Monday Sheriff Stanley, of Logansport, came over to Macy and tried to get the additional $200 offered by Sheriff GREY for Bilby's capture. In this he was unsuccessful, and if the parties at Macy, who offered the reward are not worth the amount, the Cass county official will have to be content with an even hundred.

Bilby surrendered unconditionally, and will no doubt do service for the State for several years, as his deed was a dastardly one, and for which he should be justly punished.

DIED - Many of our readers are no doubt acquainted with James CAHILL, who last December moved from this city to western Illinois. Mr. Cahill had lived in Rochester for several years and came here from Kewanna, where he married a daughter of Mr. Jos. BISHOP.

The Sentinel is in receipt of a copy of the Decatur (Ill.) Herald of the issue of July 29, in which the particulars of the heartrending affair are given as follows:

Yesterday afternoon at about two o'clock came the news of a babe which was burned to death in a burning building near the city limits, and east of the Amman brick yards. A Herald Scribe sought the facts, and immediately repaired to the scene. On the site of the house, on the ground owned by James GADDIS, there was only a heap of ashes, and in the midst of the pile no trace of the burned child could be found. The scribe, therefore, sought the mother, Mrs. James CAHILL, who lay suffering at the home of W. DAUBENSPECK, some distance south. From her at second-hand he obtained the following particulars of the catastrophe to her family:

"I was working in the potato patch at some distance from the house, and was so busy that I had not looked toward the house for some time. I heard my boys, aged five and three years, calling to me from the house, and looking toward them I saw that the house was on fire.

"My baby, three months old, was in the cab inside, and I ran with all possible speed to the house. The fire seemed greatest in the front room, where the baby was, although there had been no fire in that part for two months. The heat was awful, but I wanted to save my baby, and rushed through the flames. I did not know where the cab was exactly. I was crazed. I heard baby scream once after I was in the house, but I could not see anything for the fire and smoke. I felt my senses leaving me. I was fainting as I rushed out again. The fire was all about me. My dress and hair were ablaze. I managed to reach the spring and lay down beneath it before my senses left me. The pain was awful, but the water quenched the fire, and there I remained until help came. Then I was brought here. I don't know how the fire could have started. There was very little fire in the cook stove in the kitchen, and none in the room in front."

The woman's injuries are very serious. She is burned all over the face and neck. Her eyebrows and eyelashes are burned off, and half the hair is burned from the head. Both arms are very severely burned to the elbows, and the right forearm is so badly burned that the flesh may drop off in places. Her ears and lips are terribly burned. Her lips are white. She is covered with blisters. There appears as yet no reason to believe that she inhaled flame so as to permanently injure her lungs. Dr. HARSHA attended her and administered such relief to the sufferer as was possible to give. She is a woman apparently about 35 years of age. She will recover.

The burned house was an old log structure of two rooms. It was very dry and burned fiercely. When the flames attracted the attention of the neighbors they ran to the spot, but could do nothing towards extinguishing the fire. The heat was so intense that they could not approach the dwelling.

It was the property of James GADDIS and was valued at about $300. All the clothing and furniture belonging to James Cahill and wife were burned. Cahill is a day laborer and in needy circumstances.

The two children who called to their mother were uninjured. They had probably left the house before the fire started. It is conjectured that they were playing with matches and had started the fire without knowing it.

The coroner was notified last evening but could not find the remains. The calamity has nearly crazed the poor mother. She has undergone such physical suffering that she is unable to say much. She is being cared for by the Daubenspeck family, and, unless something more appears in the case than is now evident, the good nursing and careful treatment she is receiving will lead to her recovery.

It is a case the sadness of which appeals to the sympathy of all.

Mr. & Mrs. Cahill have many friends and relatives here who will be pained to hear of this terrible calamity which has overtaken them, and the heart of every mother will go out in sympathy to the parents, whose darling baby had to meet the most horrible of deaths.

DEATHS! OLD CITIZENS RAPIDLY PASSING AWAY

Elsewhere in this issue will be found the obituary of Mother [Catharine WILSON][Mrs. Abel] ROSS, who died last week at the advanced age of 83 years.

On Sunday at his home in Aubbeenaubee township, Daniel LAYMAN, an old and respected citizen, died from that dread disease, milksick, and was buried on Monday.

On Sunday Joseph WILHOIT, of Akron, who is well known in this county, was stricken with paralysis, and on Monday morning breathed his last, and was laid to rest on Tuesday. His remains were followed to the grave by an unusually large concourse of neighbors and friends.

Of the departure of these old citizens the public was scarcely aware when Mrs. Daniel [Rebecca] FINLEY, of this city quietly closed her eyes in death at her home on South Madison street. Mrs. Finley's disease was consumption, from which she had been a great sufferer, and had been lingering between life and death for several months. A short service will be held at their residence this morning, and the friends will then proceed to Richland Center, where funeral services will be conducted and interment made.

Thus in one week's time are we called upon to chronicle four deaths of Fulton county citizens, each of whom was upward of sixty years of age.

DIED - Catharine WILSON [ROSS] was born in Pennsylvania, Feb. 21, 1803, died July 28, 1886, aged 83 years 6 months 7 days, was married to Abel ROSS, June 14, 1827, and moved from Mercer county, Kentucky, to Johnson county, Ind. In 1856 they moved to Miami county, Ind., and in 1871 her husband died, since which time she has resided with her daughter. She was the mother of five children, of which three survive, two sons and a daughter. She united with the Presbyterian church when quite young, and afterward joined the Methodist church, of which she was a member at the time of her death.

She has been a patient sufferer for a number of years. Afflicted with bone erysipelas her mind was feeble and sometimes deranged. At times be it said to their shame, she did not receive the care from her sons, which a mother deserves. She was buried at the Shelton cemetery, followed by a large concourse of neighbors and friends.

ANNIE NEWBRAUGH SHOT --- EDWARD O'BRIEN COMMITS SUICIDE

Last Monday at about 8 o'clock at the residence of Thos. McDONOUGH, in Wayne township, there was enacted the saddest and most cruel tragedy that has ever darkened the history of Fulton county. The circumstances as fully as we have been able to glean them are given below.

Edward O'BRIEN, a young man perhaps 21 years of age, had been for some time paying his attentions to Miss Annie NEWBRAUGH, a refined and highly respected young lady of his neighborhood. About two months ago, however, the young lady rejected his company, and accepted the attentions of a Mr. SMITH. On last Sunday Miss Newbraugh took dinner at the O'Brien homestead, and in the evening was taken home by Edward. It appears that some difficulty had arisen which it is thought brought the would-be murderer to Mr. McDonough's where Miss Annie worked, in the morning following. Meeting Miss Newbraugh, he was invited in the room, and it was soon apparent that he was in a desperate mood. In a few minutes Annie came running from the room, closely followed by Edward, who drew a revolver, and fired at her on the porch, striking her in the side of the face, and as she ran continued firing until he had emptied three chambers of his revolver, a 22 calibre.

Mrs. McDONOUGH and the hired man, Jim CONNERS, ran with Annie toward the barn, and one ball fired struck Miss Annie in the fleshy part of the arm near the shoulder, and another perforated the coat sleeve of Mr. Connors, without any injury to him. Miss Newbraugh sank to the ground and O'Brien supposing that he had killed his victim, or fearing the consequences of his rash act, placed the weapon to his right temple and fired. He fell on the porch where he lay some time before friends arrived who removed him home, where he died in the afternoon at 4 o'clock and was buried yesterday at 2 p.m.

A messenger was at once dispatched for Dr. SHULTZ of Logansport, who upon his arrival probed for the ball in the head and found that it had entered near the point of the right cheek bone and ranged upward and forward back of the eye, and its location cannot be found. In the search for the bullet the right eye was removed from its socket, and was found to be badly mangled on its posterior side by the cruel missile. The wound on the arm is very painful though of itself not fatal unless blood poison or inflammation should take place. The wound in the face is a very severe and dangerous one and considering the fact that the bullet is probably imbedded near the cerebrum and will likely produce inflammation of the brain makes her chances for recovery extremely doubtful.

Miss Newbraugh was a very pretty and unassuming girl of seventeen, and was very popular in her neighborhood.

It is learned that not only jealousy was the cause of the trouble, but that O'Brien made improper proposals to her and attempted to do violence to her person on Sunday evening, when she resisted and declared that she would tell her mother, and he told her he would kill her if she did so. When on his visit to her on the morning of the tragedy, he asked her if she had told anyone of his conduct the evening before, and when she replied that she had, he drew his revolver and commenced to fire. Both parties are well connected in Wayne township, the young lady being a niece of county Commissioner Ed. McLOUGHLIN and the young man a nephew of Mrs. McLOUGHLIN.

Many reports are afloat about the sad event, and it is with a considerable degree of uncertainty that facts are obtained, as the location of the scene of the tragedy is seventeen miles southwest of this city, and there is no means of getting the particulars, except from individuals living in that vicinity, who do not claim to be familiar with all the facts surrounding this terrible ending of a lovers' quarrel.

MARRIED - On last Thursday occurred the ceremony which united "Two souls with but a single thought, Two hearts that beat as one," by the marriage of Mr. Oliver S. EWING and Miss Sarah GREGSON. These young people start out in life under very favorable circumstances, and with a bright future before them. Mrs. Ewing is of one of the best families in Fulton county, while Ol, as he is familiarly called, is a prosperous young farmer of this county, an honest and upright young man, a staunch Democrat, and withal a jolly good fellow. . . .

BIOG - Joel R. TOWNSEND, of Liberty township, who has had some newspaper notoriety on account of his crooked ways, is again in trouble and last Friday filed a complaint against Holmes J. TIPTON for assault and battery. The cause was heard by Justice BUCHANAN Friday evening and the defendant was acquitted.

DIED - Wm. BINKLEY who for years has been a mental wreck, died in the poor house last Thursday, and was buried on Friday. Mr. Binkley is well known in the southern part of Fulton and northern part of Miami counties. He traveled from one neighborhood to another, and, while at times was very crazy, he was considered entirely harmless, and was never in the asylum. His mental disorder was brought about by studying mechanical inventions.

BIOG - In the preliminary trial of [William] BILBY at Peru, on last Thursday, Attorney W[alter] C[lark] BAILEY persisted in objecting to Jno. L. FARRAR's questions to a witness, whereupon Mr. Farrar remarked to the court: "Your Honor, I think we would get along very well in this trial if that monkey would keep quiet. He is more of a monkey than a lawyer, anyway." Mr. Bailey jumped up and told the Hon. J. S.[?] that if he repeated that, he would slap him. Mr. Farrar said "Bah!" and Bailey struck him a stinging blow in the face with his open hand. Officers interfered and Bailey was fined for contempt of court.

DIED - An infant son of Mr. & Mrs. B. F. GREGORY, of Macy, died last Thursday and was buried in the Shelton grave yard near Green Oak, on Friday, aged about 5 months.

MARRIED - George W. SULT and Emma FRYE were made man and wife by Justice STEPHENSON one day last week.

BIOG - Now that [William] BILBY, the Macy shootist, is in durance vile, the citizens of Macy, who were so free in offering a reward for his capture, have taken in their sign and refused to pay what they agreed to. The love of law and justice has somewhat abated since there is no longer any danger of Bilby perforating their guilty hides with his little pop. Better whack up, boys, he may get loose again. (GREENOAK)

Wednesday, August 11, 1886

DIED - Aaron BROWER, an old and highly respected citizen of Wayne township, arose last Wednesday morning at half past three o'clock, when he informed a member of his family that it was too early to arise, and again laid down on his couch. When the family arose an hour later, they found Mr. Brower dead. Examination of the body disclosed the fact that the cause of death was heart disease, and that it had probably captured its victim while he was sleeping, as the expression of the deceased's countenance indicated that he had experienced little or no pain, and had apparently died while sleeping. Mr. Brower was one of Wayne township's prominent and influential farmers and his death has created a void which will not be soon filled.

DIED - St. Louis, Aug. 5 - A special from Pierce City, Mo., says: Last night the few people who were on the street near the Decatur House, were startled by the sound of pistol shots in the Decatur House saloon. In a few minutes the cause was ascertained, and Wm. REX was found lying dead upon the floor between two billiard tables. The cause of the shooting was about a bill of eighty cents that Rex had owed ROUNTREE & LIVESEY. A few days before Livsey had asked Rex for a settlement of the bill. Rex was maddened because he had asked him for it in the presence of bystanders, and a quarrel ensued, which did not then result seriously. Last night the quarrel was renewed, with the above results.

Since receipt of the above telegram the Pierce City papers giving the details of the murder, have been received here, and they give the facts about the same as given above. It appears from the papers that a quarrel ensued that resulted in a fist fight, when Livsey drew a revolver and shot Will twice, either of which inflicted a fatal wound. Dr. and Mrs. [M. M.] REX on receiving the sad intelligence, immediately left for Pierce City and on account of the long distance and hot weather the remains were interred there. The family is highly respected here and they have the sympathy of their hosts of neighbors and friends in their sad bereavement. The coroner's jury found that the shooting was unjustifiable, and the preliminary trial of Livsey was in progress at the time the paper forwarded here went to press.

BIRTH - Editor BROWN of the Akron Echo, announces . . . . the advent of a boy.

DIED - At her home, four miles north of Rochester, on July 26, Mrs. Laura Bell GLAZE, wife of Jesse GLAZE, died. After four months of severe suffering death quietly stole in upon her and bore her hence. Through all her long suffering she manifested a Christian spirit, and bore her affliction without a word of complaint. Mrs. Glaze was 22 years and 8 days old at the time of her death.

Truly in the midst of life we are in death. She leaves a husband and two little boys to mourn her loss. The funeral sermon was preached the following Sunday at the Sandhill school house, by Rev. FITZGERALD which was listened to by a large and attentive audience, the text being, "Set your house in order, for thou shalt die and not live."

MARRIED - Mr. E. L. YARLOTT, of Kewanna, was married last week to a Miss HECKART, of Cass county.

DIED - Peter HAMLET died of consumption of the bowels at his home in Newcastle township last Wednesday night, and was buried on Friday at the Hamlet graveyard. He leaves a wife and one child.

MARRIAGE LICENSES - Wm. HENDERSON and Eliza KIRK, also Marion W. BEERY and Lavina CALENTINE were licensed to marry this week.

DIED - Mr. HOLLIDAY, after being confined to bed more than two years with spinal affliction and lung troubles passed from this world of troubles to a land of rest July 30. His remains were deposited at Fletchers Lake, July 31. (FULTON)

Wednesday, August 18, 1886

DIED - At Madison, Wisconsin, Miss Flora [A.] McCULLOUGH, aged 22 years. Deceased was a niece of Elder SHARPE, of the Adventist church, was for several years a resident of this city, and was consequently well known to many of our young people who remember her as a young lady of many Christian virtues, patient under heavy afflictions, ready and willing to render prompt obedience to the slightest wish of her friends. The remains were brought to Rochester and deposited in the Odd Fellows cemetery last Friday. The ceremonies were attended by quite a large number of her former neighbors and friends, who join in extending to the bereaved relatives the deepest sympathy in this their time of sorrow.

MARRIAGE LICENSES issued by Clerk WALKER: Uriah M. WEIRICK and Mary CANNON; Alpheus L. ADAMSON and Sarah M. BRYANT.

DIED - Archibald HUDKINS, Sr., of Union township was buried yesterday. We were unable to learn any particulars of his sickness or death.

MARRIED - Mr. Charles DUVALL, of Kosciusko county, and Miss Clara E. GILAM, one of Rochester's fair daughters, were united in marriage last Wednesday, August 11, at the office of his Honor P. M. BUCHANAN. The many friends of the bride and groom wish them joy and success in their journey through life. They intend to take up their residence at the Gilam farm, west of the city, in the near future.

BIOG - On last Saturday Cyrus GOODWIN, a Green Oak, Fulton county sample, went to the Deedsville picnic with a jug of whisky and opened a bush saloon and for a while did a thriving business selling to minors and adults alike. Deputy Sheriff James RHINEBERGER was present and soon dropped on to the illegal business and arrested Goodwin who was at once fined for selling liquor without license. Then Constable George WILSON, of Allen township arrested Goodwin for selling liquor to minors and Squire Henry PULVER of Macy ladeled out a huge chunk of rural justice to the offender, Monday. A fine of $25.00 was assessed which with the cost amounted to $36.89. The payment of the first fine exhausted the Green Oak saplin's cash, and Constable Wilson brought him to jail Monday night. The illegal dispenser of blue lightnine in the hazel brush is now an inmate of Sheriff GRAY's plush-lined parlor and will eat hash-on-toast for the next thirty-seven days at the expense of Miami county, and no one will regret the outlay. --- Peru Sentinel.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING - William and James THARPE, sons of Wm. THARPE, who lives at Prairie Grove, about three miles east of Kewanna, have for several months, been slowly sinking with that terrible disease, consumption, and the undertain [?] problem of which should be released from his excruciating suffering first, was solved on Monday, August 16, by James quietly passing away into the spirit world.

It will be remembered that on that day, in the evening, a heavy storm passed over the west and south part of the county, which was accompanied with heavy thunder and vivid lightning. While the storm was raging Mr. Tharpe's house was struck by lightning, and, tearing the gable out of the end of the house, the current of electricity then sought the inside, and running down the wall, it struck the bureau and tore it all to pieces. The inmates of the house were severely shocked; and Mrs. ARMSTRONG was momentarily prostrated, but soon recovered. William was lying at the point of death at the time, but after receiving the electric shock he showed signs of convalescence, and when last heard from was feeling very much better, and hopes are entertained by his friends that he may recover. James was 27 years old, and the remains were interred in the Bowman cemetery on the 17th inst. The relatives have the sympathy of the entire neighborhood in their trouble, which seems to come upon them in a deluge.

MARRIED - Mr. John A. MOW and Mrs. Emma C. WOODRUFF were married at the residence of Nicholas LOCK, Monday evening, by Esquire STEPHENSON. . . .

DIED - Miss Susie E. CARTER, daughter of George CARTER, died at her home on South Jefferson street, last Wednesday, and was buried on Thursday. She had suffered a great deal with consumption, and was thirty-two years old at the time of her death.

The Rochester Sentinel - 1886

DIED - A ten year old son of Fred STURKIN, who lives two miles south of town, died of quinsy on Monday morning, and was buried at Odd Fellows cemetery yesterday at ten o'clock. The parents have the sympathy of this community, in this, their sad bereavement.

Wednesday, September 1, 1886

KILLED - George Clarence PONTIUS, son of Rev. D. J. PONTIOUS, was born in Marshalltown, Marshall county, Iowa, and met violent death, near Rochester, Ind., the morning of August 28, 1886, at the early age of 14 years 6 months and 20 days.

His mother preceded him to the spirit world by about seven years. Early in life he was taught the principle and excellence of the Christian religion; through the influence of pious parents he grew up a Christian youth, and at the early age of seven years he made a profession of religion; whenever questioned by anyone as to his experience, he was positive in his answer in reference to his having peace with God.

His father enrolled his name on the church record at so early an age, that our brother could not remember the day when he was not a church member and a Christian. George was an active Christian in Sabbath school, in church and in his daily life, and was held in universal esteem by those who knew him.

Brother George Clarence Pontius leaves a grief-stricken, affectionate father, step-mother and one sister, with many other friends and relatives to mourn their sudden loss. May the grace of God sustain them in their sorrow, and may they all finally meet him in Heaven.

Funeral services were conducted by the writer, assisted by Rev. G. A. CHITTENDEN, of the Baptist church, and Rev. Wm. MEHAFFIE, of Grace M.E. church, on Sunday. --A. O. RABER.

At about 7 o'clock last Saturday morning Mr. John D. HOLMAN came riding into town at a rapid gait in search of a surgeon, stating that a young man had been badly hurt in a runaway, near the old cemetery just west of town. Further investigation revealed the fact that it was George PONTIOUS [PONTIUS], son of Rev. PONTIOUS [PONTIUS], of this city, and that he had breathed his last before the surgeon arrived on the scene of the accident. Rev. Pontius owns a farm north of town and on that day, he and George had intended to do some hauling on the farm, and George took the family horse and went to a Mr. HUFFMAN's, who lives west of the fair grounds, to borrow his one horse wagon. The boards used for hauling gravel were on the wagon, and it is supposed that in coming down the little hill south of the cemetery, the boards slipped forward and striking the horse, caused him to run away. Mr. Ans. MERRICK saw the horse running, and looking in the direction from which the horse came, he saw someone lying in the road, and hurrying down to the prostrate form, found George, with the blood running from his mouth and nose. Mr. Merrick picked him up, but he only breathed two or three times when life left him. Upon examination by the parties present, it was discovered that the right anterior part of the skull was crushed and the scalp badly lacerated. He evidently fell off of the wagon in front of the wheel, which struck his head with such force as to fracture the skull and cause almost instant death. His parents and sister were immediately notified and upon their arrival, the scene is said to have been a most heart rending one, as they viewed the lifeless form of a son and brother who had only a short time before left them the very picture of health and happiness. Elsewhere in this issue will be found his obituary from the pen of his pastor, which beautifully delineates the character of this young man, who has been so ruthlessly torn from his home and friends in the very morning of his usefulness.

MARRIED - On last Wednesday evening Prof. Albert E. DAVISSON and Miss Emma REED were married at the M.E. parsonage by the Rev. Dr. REED. The ceremony was witnessed by only a few friends of the high contracting parties who are so well and favorably known in this city. For three years Prof. Davisson has been principal of the Rochester High School, and is known by every teacher in the county as one of the ablest and most zealous instructors that has ever been connected with the Fulton county schools. The bride is the handsome and accomplished daughter of Rev. Dr. Reed of the M.E. church of this city, and is just such a quiet and unassuming lady as is men's ideal of true womanhood. Prof. and Mrs. Davisson left on the evening train for Chicago, and from there they go to East St. Louis, where they will make their home. The Sentinel joins with their friends here in wishing them peace and prosperity through life's journey.

MARRIED - Adam ROBINSON and Lucinda BABCOCK have been licensed to marry.

BIRTH - Dr. SHERWIN announces the advent of a nice girl baby at his home . . . .

MARRIED - Miss Clara HOLZMAN went to Logansport, yesterday, to attend the NESSBAUM-MICHAELS wedding which will be solemnized today.

MARRIED - Monday afternoon, Aug 20, 1886, by P. M. BUCHANAN, Esq., at his office, Mr. Michael WHEELER and Miss Laura E. LAKE, all of Liberty township.

Wednesday, September 8, 1886

DIED - Many of our readers are aware of the fact that [Sarah J. BITTERS] the wife of ex-editor of the Sentinel, A. T. BITTERS has been an invalid for two years. All that the best medical skill in this country could do for her was done, but her disease was unallayed and day by day she grew worse until Monday evening, when death released her.

All through her sickness she was a terrible sufferer, but she bore it patiently and with remarkable fortitude. All the attention and care a husband and foster daughter could give was continually bestowed upon her to alleviate her sufferings and comfort her. Mrs. Bitters was born near Troy, O., 43 years and 5 months ago, and when quite young her parents died and she was adopted by Dr. StCLAIR, of Troy, who afterward moved to this state. At the age of 16, she was again left alone in the world by the death of her foster parents. She afterward located in Akron, this county, and in 1867 was married to the husband who now mourns her death. For eighteen years the deceased has been a resident of this city and has always been a prominent leader in benevolent movements and a faithful member of the Presbyterian church. Having no children, Mr. & Mrs. Bitters adopted a child which has grown to womanhood, and has shown her appreciation of her parents' benevolence by her tireless and unwavering devotion to the care of her invalid foster parent. Funeral services will be held at the family residence today at 2 p.m. and interment will be made in Odd Fellows cemetery.

DIED - Two weeks ago the Sentinel contained an account of the accidental discharge of a gun in the hands of Mr. Samuel MECHLING, of this city, which resulted in mangling his foot considerably.

His wound healed rapidly and last Wednesday he was on the street greeting his friends, who, in return, were congratulating him on the prospects of his early recovery from the wound. On Wednesday night, however, blood poisoning set in and proved fatal on Saturday at 6 p.m.

Mr. Mechling was born in Perry county, Ohio, December 14, 1814, and was therefore 71 years 8 months and 23 days old at the time of his death. But two members of Mr. Mechling's family survive him, viz: Mrs. Will[iam H.] [Amanda (MECHLING)] SHELTON, of this city and Mr. B. F. MECHLING, of Cincinnati, Ohio. Mr. Mechling was an honest, industrious and benevolent citizen, and always had a good word for his neighbors.

Mr. B. F. Mechling, of Cincinnati, is in the city. He was telegraphed to come to the bedside of his sick father, the late Samuel Mechling, but before he arrived the spirit of his old father had departed, and he was permitted to see him only as he lay wrapped in the icy arms of death. Mr. Mechling laments very much that his father was so suddenly called away as to make it impossible for him to see him once more before he died, but such is life, and mankind must accept it in all its phases.

DIED - About two months ago Mr. & Mrs. Milo MARTIN, who live south of town, were made very happy by the advent in their family of twin babies, a boy and a girl. The little girl was taken with cholera infantum last week, and died on Wednesday. Funeral services conducted by Rev. CHITTENDEN were held at Oliver's school house on Thursday, and interment made in the cemetery near by.

MARRIED - Mr. Richard MORPHAT and Miss Catharine HENDRICKSON were married by P. M. BUCHANAN, at his office last Wednesday, Sept. 1. The bride is a highly respected young lady of Wayne township, and daughter of Criny HENDRICKSON. The groom is a thrifty young farmer of Cass county . . . .

BIRTHDAY - A birthday party was held in honor of Mr. Albert SHELLY last Saturday evening. . . .

Wednesday, September 15, 1886

DIED - Nearly or quite one year ago, triplets were born to Mr. & Mrs. Thomas SHANLEY, who live a few miles south of here. One of them died soon after, and another was buried last Saturday and the following Monday the third and last one was put under the sod. -- Kewanna Herald.

BIOG - In the divorce case of McCLURE vs McCLURE, wherein Mrs. Clara McCLURE asked the court to grant her a divorce from her husband and the custody of her two year old baby. His Honor decided in favor of the plaintiff on the condition that the defendant be allowed to visit his child, and that Mrs. Clara's father, Doc. JOHNSON, give an obligation of $500 to care properly for the child, which he did.

It will be remembered that Jesse McCLURE, the defendant, had considerable newspaper notoriety last March for taking his baby from its mother while her father was away, and has since kept it near Logansport. Much conflicting evidence was introduced as to McClure's violent character and abuse of his wife, but the fact of his having no home, except where he worked, to keep the child, seemed to impress the court with the idea that the child would be best cared for by the mother, who could give more attention to its proper training, and he so decided. Both parties are from respectable families, but the general drift of the evidence seemed to substantiate the charge in the complaint that the defendant was very irritable at times and could not control his wrath in such a manner as a dutiful father and husband should.

MARRIED - Jasper J. CRAIG and Phoebe BLOSSER were married in Rochester last Thursday. Both are industrious, intelligent citizens of this county, and the Sentinel predicts for them a bright and prosperous future.

MARRIED - Nellie F. SCHOTT brought suit against James D. FARRAR for bastardy in Judge STEPHENSON's court last week. Notwithstanding the fact that the parties to the suit were both non-residents of Fulton county, and that the defendant could not be held here, he acted the man by taking out a marriage license and employing Esq. Stephenson to unite him and Nellie in the holy bonds of wedlock.

BIOG - Had Jno. A. BARNETT's revolver not missed fire in his attempt to take the life of Mr. A. D. TONER, last winter, he would now probably be on trial for his life or doing service for the State at the Michigan City prison instead of asking to be honored by an election to the office of Auditor of Fulton county.

DIED - Mrs. Hattie JINKENS, wife of L. D. JINKENS died Saturday at about 9 o'clock. (BLOOMINGSBURG)

Wednesday, September 22, 1886

BIOG - Miss Maud REX started to Pierce City, Mo., last Thursday where she will spend the winter with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Will REX.

DIED - J. W. GREEN, who lives seven miles west of Rochester, Ind., took his lingering look at family, relatives and friends Sept. 18, and was buried on the 20th. His desire was to be restored to health that he might make good use of it, but acquired consumption did its work. Two heavenward looks and two gracious smiles passed on the vision of those at his bedside at 7 o'clock a.m., of the 18th, and all was over with him.

He came to this county in '55 with his parents, being then near fourteen years old. Being a dutiful son he became a model young man and at his country's call enlisted in the 29th Ind Regiment and received a gunshot wound and a sunstroke while in the service from which he never fully recovered. His comrades speak of his manliness and influence. The members of the church with which he was connected, will remember his exhortations. His neighbors and friends vied with each other in doing him kindly acts during his sickness and they will long be remembered by his worthy family. His brothers and sisters will miss a true brother and a wise counsellor, and the hope of the writer is that they may emulate his example.

BIOG - Miss Mary A. HUFFMAN, of Henry township, has brought an action against Wm. WILHOIT, a butcher of Akron, for seduction and also one for breach of promise of marriage contract. Miss Huffman is 19 years old, is of highly respectable family, and has always borne a good reputation. Wilhoit has been paying attention to Miss Huffman for several months and under promise of marrying her, she allowed him privileges which brought about the trouble in which she now finds herself. The penalty for seduction is imprisonment either in the penitentiary or county jail, and Prosecutor McMAHAN thinks he will have no trouble in convicting the defendant of the charge. The law is not severe enough on offenders who gain the confidence of respectable young girls and promise to marry them for the sole purpose of stealing their virtue away.

MARRIED - Louis J. BEEHLER and Louella HASSENPLUG have been licensed to marry. The parties live in Richland township.

DIED - Master Glen BURCH, son of Mr. & Mrs. Arnold BURCH, of this city, died from membranous croup last Saturday. Glen was a general favorite with his playmates and the idol of his parents who are now left alone. Funeral services conducted by Rev. WILSON were largely attended at Grace church Monday, and the little body was consigned to a grave in Odd Fellows cemetery.

MARRIED - On the evening of Wednesday, Sept. 22, there assembled at the residence of Mr. & Mrs. Wm. MARTIN, of Fulton, one of the gayest parties the village has witnessed for many a day. Guests were present from Rochester, Kewanna and Logansport, and when the appointed hour arrived about seventy persons had assembled to witness the marriage of Misses Minnie and Etta MARTIN to Mr. E. B. MOORE and Mr. Martin DAY, respectively. At eight o'clock the two couples appeared and took position side by side in front of the Rev. SPARKS of Kewanna. . . .

DIED - An infant child of Mr. & Mrs. Clark CONDON died last week and was buried Friday.

MARRIED - Miss Mattie WILE accompanied by Mrs. Jacob ROSENBERG and daughters departed for Cincinnati yesterday morning, to be in attendance at the marriage of the latter's sister, Miss Mary ZINSHEIMER.

MARRIED - The following wedding notice from the Plymouth Democrat will be read with interest by many of our readers, as the groom was for several years pastor of the M.E. church at Kewanna:

Miss Lillie DIAL was married Tuesday forenoon to Rev. J. C. MARTIN, of Rossville, Ind. The ceremony was performed at Mr. John DIAL's residence by the Rev. Dr. A. A. GEE, who came to Plymouth to tie the nuptial knot. Rev. Mr. Martin is a minister of the M.E. church, and took away his bride to their new home at 2 o'clock same day. Miss Jennie RHEAM, of Millersburg, O., Miss Alice COFFEY, of Crown Point, and the members of the THOMAS and DIAL families were present.

MARRIED - Thomas H. LEASE and Laura C. ROBBINS pledged their troth before P. M. BUCHANAN at his office on last Thursday morning. The groom is thrifty carpenter of Wayne township, and the bride is the esteemed daughter of Richard ROBBINS of Greenoak. They intend to begin housekeeping at Marstown. May success attend them.

DIED - John Wesley GREEN was born in Farmersville, Montgomery county, Ohio, October 19, 1840, and died Sept. 18, 1886 aged 45 years 10 months and 29 days.

He was united in marriage with Rachel A. MARTIN, April 30, 1863. He leaves a devoted wife, one son and three daughters to mourn his loss, also four brothers and two sisters. His life has been marked as one of unswerving energy. In the earlier part of his life he was engaged as a clerk in the mercantile business. Later in life, when our country called and demanded the patriotism of her sons, he was among the first to respond and faithfully did his duty until wounded in the "Battle of Pittsburg Landing," when he was honorably discharged; after which he chose farming as a vocation. He joined the M.E. church when a boy and lived a consistent christian in that church for many years, but joined the U.B. church later in life, where he strove to let his Light shine the remainder of his life.

MARRIED - Mr. John A. YOUNG, the merchant at Hoover's Station, was married yesterday evening at Van Wert, Ohio, to Miss Emma SCOTT. Several invitations were received by parties in this county, and Mrs. A. F. BOWERS, of this city, and Mrs. Jacob HOOVER, of Grant, attended the wedding.

DIED - Last Thursday at 12 o'clock a.m., Carrie GOULD peacefully and quietly breathed her life away at the Gould residence on South Main street.

That terrible disease, diphtheria, selected her for a victim, and notwithstanding the fact that the best medical skill in the city fought the disease, death's hand could not be stayed, and in a few days its work was accomplished. Just as she was leaving her girlhood days, and entering upon the duties of noble womanhood, surrounded by every comfort that tends to make life pleasant, at the age of twenty she was stricken down and her friends stood by and watched her life slowly ebbing away as they sadly realized their utter inability to save her. She was rational up to the moment of her death, and conversed with her friends on the subject of death in a manner which more thoroughly than ever before convinced them that this life is not all there is of us, or for us. After she had directed what disposition she wished to have made of her effects, she then bade each member of the household a last farewell and directed that they tell all her friends goodby, and especially to say farewell to poor Mattie, meaning her life-long friend, Mattie ALLEN, who is away attending school at Butler University. On Friday a short funeral service, conducted by Rev. WILSON was held at the residence after which her remains, followed by a large procession of relatives and friends were silently conveyed to their long home in the beautiful Odd Fellows cemetery.

BIRTH - A girl baby was born to Mr. & Mrs. Will COOPER, last Wednesday.

DIED - Henry BERRY, who was formerly a resident of Liberty township, but lately of Miami county, died of consumption last week. He was married and leaves a wife and one child.

DIED - Little Maud [CHRISMAN], the 5 year old daughter of Mr. & Mrs. John CHRISMAN, of Fulton, died of diphtheria and was buried at Fulton cemetery on Thursday evening. Maud was an only child, and the sadness in that home can be fully realized only by those who have been likewise bereft.

DIED - Sarah CURTIS [HOOVER] was born in Miami county, Ohio, Aug. 13, 1814. She was united in marriage with Henry HOOVER in 1830. Died in Fulton county, Ind., Oct 9, 1886, aged 72 years 1 month and 26 days.

Henry Hoover was one of the first three settlers in Henry township. He located where the family residence has since been, at what is now Hoover's Station, on the C. & A. R.R., in March, 1837, within a year of the date of the organization of the county. There he made a good valuable farm and home. There the children grew up, and at and near there, four sons and two daughters have their homes. One son resides in Kansas. In the history of the Hoover family we have in a measure the history of Fulton county from the beginning. Three brothers and one sister of Mrs. Hoover also reside in Fulton county.

Mrs. Hoover had survived her husband almost 13 years. During these years her younger daughter and son remained with her, and rendered her help and comfort. Especially during the many months of her confinement by infirmity and sickness have they shown their fidelity and love.

Mrs. Hoover's life was adorned by many domestic and kindly virtues. While able she was much in the habit of reading the Bible, and when no longer able, her son often comforted her by reading to her. Some years ago she asked and received Christian baptism. Funeral services were held at the adjacent brick church. A large and interested audience was present.

DIED - At his home near Bruce Lake in this county, Oct 6, 1886, John MOYERS (commonly called "MYERS") aged eighty-four years four months and fifteen days.

John MOYERS was born in Burks county, Pennsylvania, May 21, 1802 and in his early childhood removed with his parents to Shelby county, O., where he grew to manhood. In 1827 he came to Carroll county, Ind., where he resided for 16 years. There, on Feb 14, 1832, he was married to Elizabeth CURTNER, a faithful Christian woman, a patient and devoted wife, who shared his joys and sorrows until her death, which occurred Feb. 4, 1877. In 1843 he came to Fulton county, and was consequently among the first settlers in this part of the State. Here he lived for forty-three consecutive years, and here he reared and aduated his large family of children, nine of whom survive to mourn the loss of an ever kind and indulgent father. Perhaps no man ever lived a life more blameless. From the fact that much of his life was spent in what were then the frontier settlements, it may be inferred that he did not escape the trials and hardships incident to the times and circumstances. Yet he was ever patient and hopeful, possessing a genial, pleasant manner, and a disposition unmarred by the least suggestion of selfishness or avarice. By persevering industry and wise economy he succeeded in providing for himself a modest home where, after a brief illness, he died as he had lived, honored and respected by all who knew him, at peace with everyone.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. A. E. GIFT on last Friday at the late residence of the deceased, after which the remains were gently laid to rest beside his life companion, in the Moon cemetery. A large concourse of relatives and friends joined in paying their last respects, and testifying their warm affection for one who by long association had endeared himself to every heart. This closes the earthly career of a man pure in heart, thought and action, and one void of offense. Peace be to his ashes.

BIOG - Mr. & Mrs. Martin DAY, who were recently married in Fulton, have taken up their residence on the farm of Mr. Day's father, Esquire Marion DAY.

DIED - Mr. & Mrs. David GOOD, of Newcastle township, mourn the loss of a child. The particulars of its sickness, death and funeral were not learned by our informant.

FUNERAL - The funeral of Mr. & Mrs. Frederick STURKEN's son, Martin [L. STURKEN], will be preached at Trinity Evangelical church next Sabbath morning at the usual hour for preaching. All neighbors and friends are especially invited to attend.

DIED - Mrs. Sarah HOOVER, one of the early settlers of this county, died at the old Hoover homestead near Hoovers Station 5 miles east of Rochester, last Saturday. The funeral was held Monday and was largely attended by her many acquaintances.

DIED - Death, that grand leveler of all mankind, visited our neighborhood last week and claimed for his victim Henry M. BERRY who had been a sufferer from bronchial consumption for several months. He leaves a wife and one child and a host of friends to mourn their loss. Thus again are we reminded to prepare for death. (MUD LAKE)

MARRIAGE LICENSES - Ira N. KERSHNER and Mary H. NOGGLE; James R. CARTER and Ida J. RUSH; Wm. WILHOIT and Mary HOFFMAN; John E. REED and Rosa SUNDAY; Ulysses S. MARSH and Rhoda ELKINS; Wm. WILSON and Minerva BEELE JOHNSON; James W. BUNTON and Laura EWING; Harrison MARTIN and Rosetta WINN; Lawson D. ALLEN and Margaret STEPHENS.

MARRIED - Last Wednesday morning Mr. George DAWSON, junior member of the drug firm of DAWSON & SON, accompanied by his sister, Stella DAWSON, went to Dayton, O., where he was married on Thursday to Miss Effie CAMPBELL, who formerly lived here, and is a sister to Mrs. J. N. ORR. Only the members of the family witnessed the ceremony, and on Friday eve the newly wedded pair arrived in this city where on Saturday evening a reception was given them at the residence of the groom's parents, which was attended by a large number of the young friends of the bride and groom. This couple starts out in life under remarkably favorable circumstances, and in common with their many friends, the Sentinel wishes them unbounded pleasure and prosperity on their journey through life.

BIRTH - Probably no event has so surprised our citizens in several years as the announcement that Mrs. and Uncle Jimmy MARTIN had born to them a daughter last Saturday.

Nineteen years had passed since any addition to their family has been made, and consequently the advent of a baby in their family is an item of more interest than the ordinary event of this kind excites. The father has passed his three score years, while the mother left her teens thirty years ago. Nothing on earth makes home so bright and attractive as a bright-eyed baby, and the Sentinel congratulates them in their good luck in having a little prattler to comfort them in the autumn of their lives.

Mr. Martin came with his parents to this county in Nov. 1832, and has ever since resided here. He was here when the county was organized and is the oldest settler in the county. He has cast every vote he ever voted in this county, voted at every general election held in the county, paid all his taxes in this county, seen Rochester grow from a single house to the beautiful town it now is and cast two ballots for the Democratic candidates at the Nov. election, 1884.

Wednesday, October 27, 1886

BIOG - In 1838 John PENCE located in the woods southeast of Rochester on the site of his present fine farm. Red men were then roaming all over this county and where our beautiful city now stands, the deep sigh of the forest oaks was heard instead of the hum of industry in all its branches. Mr. Pence cleared a farm, sold wood for 25 cents per load, eggs at 3 cents per doz and is today well enough supplied with this world's goods to give him peace and plenty for the rest of his life. Last Monday was his 70th birthday and his children and friends planned a surprise party on him . . . . One hundred and forty-seven guests sat down to the well filled tables. . . .

BIOG - Mary REED, of Iceburg, has filed a complaint against David PECK, of Newcastle township, for assault and battery with intent to commit a rape. She alleges in her complaint that she went riding with Mr. Peck last Sunday and he put his arms around her and made a proposal to her which completely shocked her modesty, and she therefore appeals to the great State of Indiana to reprimand Mr. Peck for his rude conduct. Mr. Peck is a young man of good reputation and considering the fact that the Reed family's record for truth, veracity and correct deportment is anything but enviable, it is quite likely that the complainant will fail to make a case.

Mary was of a winning disposition and pleasing manners, intellectually bright and studious in her habits. She leaves a sorrowing father, mother, two sisters and one half-brother to mourn their loss, which is her gain. May the Lord comfort them.

His parents and brothers have the sympathy of all their neighbors and your correspondent in their grief and sorrow. Funeral services conducted by Rev. REED. (BLOOMINGSBURG)

BIOG - A complaint was filed last Monday in the Circuit Court, in which James M. MOW alleges that his neighbor, Wesley ALEXANDER has alienated the affections of his wife and seduced her, and plaintiff asks the court to give him damages in the sum of $10,000.

The parties to the suit live on neighboring farms and both are married and have children, and from the complaint, the inference is drawn that in the trial shameful revelations will be made. The plaintiff says that it was while he was in Kansas, seeking a home for his once happy family of a wife and three little children, that the defendant invaded his home and ruined his happiness. Mr. Alexander is the father of several children, and his present predicament is one of a very serious nature. The defendant claims that it is a case of blackmail, and nothing more, but the facts obtained from a disinterested citizen in the neighborhood leads to the conclusion that there is some truth in the complaint, and that the scandal, as usual, has lost nothing by being communicated from one neighbor to another.

The defendant in this case swore he could not get justice done in Miami county, hence the change. Wednesday, December 15, 1886

DIED - On last Thursday morning, after a severe illness of half a year, Samuel FULTZ, an old and respected citizen of Fulton county, crossed over the peaceful river.

Mr. Fultz has been identified with the growth and development of this county ever since its formation as such, having endured many of the hardships devolving upon early pioneers. He entered into the sacred bonds of matrimony Jan. 20, 1850, with Margaret GREGSON, an estimable wife and mother, who has been left to mourn his loss. His life has been one of a christian, having united early under the guidance of the church. The funeral services were conducted at Grace M.E. church of this city and the remains interred in the I.O.O.F. cemetery. A large concourse of friends followed the remains to their last resting place. With his death society has lost a good member, the wife a good husband and the children a kind and indulgent father. In his life, harvest and springtime have been continually one, until Death has gathered him and sown anew in that invisible land. Thus all, in this eventful race, must sooner or later give up the ties that bind us to those we love. May peace rest to his soul and may the loved ones left behind look forward to that happy meeting where parting shall be no more but all is joy and gladness.

J. B. FULTZ, of Highland Park, Illinois, who was called here by the sickness of his father, the late Samuel FULTZ, made a pleasant call at the Sentinel office yesterday.

DIED - Late Monday evening Coroner LINE was notified to go to the residence of George BOZARTH, who lives five miles southwest of town, and hold an inquest on the body of Mr. Bozarth's son, William [BOZARTH], who had been found dead.

About four o'clock in the afternoon Will, as he was called, was about the house and had been there but a short time, when the report of a gun was heard and on going out, he was discovered lying inside the yard gate breathing his last.

Upon examination by the coroner, it was discovered that a bullet had entered his left breast and came out on his back passing very near, if not through, the heart. Some member of the family was the owner of an old rifle and this was lying in the wood house, while the dying man held the ramrod in his hand. Whether the shot was accidental or intentional, will never be known, as there is evidence that it might have been either. The gun was an old one and the lock so badly worn that it would not stand cocked, which made it very dangerous, while on the other hand, an ounce bottle half full of ether was found in deceased's pocket, which furnishes grounds for the theory that he had determined to end his life in some manner. He was twenty-nine years old and unmarried and at times acted in a strange manner, which led his neighbors to believe that he was deranged. He leaves a sorrowing father, mother, and several brothers and sisters to mourn his untimely death. It is a very sad case and the bereaved family have the sympathy of the entire community.

MARRIAGE LICENSES ISSUED: Adam RUTZ and Jennie WEASNER; J. G. TROUTMAN and Cassie RHODES; Frank A. MARTIN and Ella ZABST.

Wednesday, December 22, 1886

DIED - Charles KINDIG, one of the early settlers of this county, died from dropsy on last Thursday. Two weeks ago accompanied by his son-in-law, Charles RICHTER, he went to Hot Springs, Arkansas, but only remained a short time. Seeing that nothing short of death could relieve his sufferings, they returned home. The funeral was largely attended. (GRANT)

She had been a resident of this county since 1870 and was a faithful member of the M.E. church for 42 years. DIED - Jack JOHNSON died at his home, near Millark, last Friday, and was buried on Saturday. Mr. Johnson was well and favorably known in the southern part of the county, where he has resided for many years. DIED - Mr. James MULLICAN died at his home near Wagoners Station last Sunday. Deceased was about thirty-five years old and leaves a wife with several small children to care for. Congestion of the lungs or consumption was the disease which caused his death.

DIED - Mrs. Lou FEDER, formerly of this city but lately of Cincinnati, died at her home last Friday evening. She had been afflicted for some time with consumption and her death was therefore not unexpected by her friends. While here, Mrs. Feder was a general favorite in society and in her neighborhood, and her husband has the sympathy of all who knew her in his sad bereavement.

Mr. & Mrs. Lou WOHLGEMUTH attended the funeral of Mrs. Lou Feder in Cincinnati, Sunday.

BIRTH - J. Q. BARCUS and family of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, are here on a two weeks visit. They surprised their relatives and many friends by bringing with them a nice six months old boy baby whose advent into the Barcus family had been kept a secret, even from grandma SHIELDS. The precedent is at last established, and there is no longer any doubt that woman can keep a secret, even if there is a nice baby connected with it.

DIED - Debby Ann ALSPACH died Christmas morning. She was forty-three years old, less one day. She has been afflicted with consumption for several years, and had to submit to the dread conqueror at last. Her husband died of the same disease a few years ago. ## THE ROCHESTER SENTINEL

Wednesday, January 5, 1887

MARRIED - Mr. James L. BABCOCK and Miss Nellie STEVENS at 5 p.m. December 30, 1886, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. & Mrs. Jacob STEVENS. . . . Mr. & Mrs. BABCOCK will follow the quiet pursuit of farm life some miles south from Rochester. . . . A. O. RABER.

MARRIED - Last Wednesday a telegram was delivered to Mr. A. J. CORBETT, from Ben ELLIOTT, stating that Charley HOOVER and Miss Julia CORBETT were married at his residence on that day and that after a two weeks visit with relatives in Pennsylvania, they would return to this city.

Both of the high contracting parties have lived in this city for years, the groom being one of the popular managers of the North End Shoe Store, and the bride, the handsome daughter of Mr. A. J. Corbett. . . .

DIED - Our citizens were surprised yesterday at the announcement that Mrs. Margaret HERMAN, wife of E. R. HERMAN, had suddenly died at the family residence. Deceased was for some time a sufferer from heart disease, and after a very brief illness yesterday, death occurred at 12 o'clock m. Mrs. Herman was 54 years and three months old at the time of her death, and leaves a large circle of friends and neighbors to mourn her sudden death. The funeral services will be held at Trinity Evangelical church this afternoon at 2 o'clock and interment will be made in Odd Fellows cemetery.

DIED - Miss Clara MILLER, daughter of Simon MILLER, deceased, died at the family residence south of Akron last Saturday, and was buried on Sunday. At the time of her death she was about 17 years old and was universally admired and loved by all who knew her. Her disease was consumption.

MARRIED - Rev. Sam'l PLANTZ and Martha GATES were married at the residence of the groom near Germany, on new years day.

DIED - Mrs. Susan KING received a telegram Dec. 28, informing her that her mother, of Lancaster, Ohio, was dead. (TIPPECANOE)

Wednesday, January 12, 1887

DIED - The city had scarcely recovered from the shock caused by Mrs. [Margaret] HERMAN's death of just one week ago, when the announcement was made that Mrs. Wm. FERGUSON had suddenly passed away at her home, on Madison street.

At 5 o'clock Monday evening, Mrs. Ferguson finished her supper and remarked to her daughter, Minnie [FERGUSON], that she felt remarkably well and went into the sitting room where she was suddenly seized with a pain in the head and sank upon the lounge.

Not a member of the family was at home, except Minnie, both Clara and Mattie [FERGUSON] being away visiting, and Mr. FERGUSON was at Kewanna where he is building the TONER ROLLER MILLS.

A physician was immediately summoned and messengers sent to the members of the family but before any of them could get to her bedside -- except Clara, who arrived just as life was fading out -- her spirit took its departure and as the family arrived one after another and found the wife and mother, who they had left in apparent good health only a short time before, wrapped in the icy arms of death, their grief knew no bounds and the scene was heart rending. The attending physician pronounced the disease apoplexy. Mrs. Ferguson was 46 years 10 months and 23 days old, and was the mother of eight children, five of whom survive her. She was universally loved and respected for her many christian traits of character, and sociability, and her death will cause a void that can never be filled. The funeral service will be conducted at Grace M.E. church today at 2 o'clock, by Rev. WILSON, and intement made in Odd Fellows cemetery.

DIED - For several years Tommy JAMESON conducted a general store at Wagoners, a station on the I. P. & C. R.R., where it crosses the county line between this and Miami counties. He came to Wagoners several years ago and purchased a stock of goods from his uncle, Thomas HOLCOMBE, and, being a whole-souled, jolly fellow, he made friends and gained customers very rapidly, and from every indication, was making plenty of money. He increased his stock of goods until he had an immense stock for a country store, and the people in the vicinity of Wagoners had as good a trading point as either Macy or Rochester.

Everything glided along smoothly until about one year ago, when Mrs. GOULD (for whom Mr. Jameson was acting as agent) returned from the West, and discovered much of the valuable timber removed from her real estate and for which she claimed Jameson had never turned over to her any money. A settlement could not be reached and the public was surprised to hear of Tommy's arrest for embezzlement. Through the kindness of friends, a bond was secured for his appearance, but through some technicality in the preparation of the complaint, the case was dismissed and the defendant re-arrested.

This time it was more difficult to secure bondsmen, and for several days there seemed to be no other alternative for him but to go to jail, but friends again came to his rescue, and he was released from the custody of the sheriff. This second case was dismissed in the Fulton circuit court in order to bring an action in Miami county, where he lived at the time the crime was alleged to have been committed.

Being released here, before the officials of Miami county had a chance to arrest him, he left for parts unknown, and his whereabouts remained a mystery until last week, when the Indianapolis papers published an account of the finding of a dead body one hundred miles from Duluth, Minnesota, and from papers found on the body of the dead stranger, it was ascertained that his relatives lived in Indianapolis, and that he had formerly resided in Miami county.

The dead man had been living at Duluth, Minnesota, and was known by the name of O. A. GRAY, and he had given his residence as Ash street, Indianapolis.

It was soon learned that Gray was not the young man's name, and from the description it was ascertained that it was the son of T. H. JAMESON, of 338 Ash street.

Upon investigation by his relatives, it was found that the report was correct, and that the body when discovered was lying in the woods in the snow.

Tommy Jameson left his father's residence about four months ago, and, after drawing $3,000 at a bank in Peru, he went to Duluth, where he "fell in" with a fellow, who, from letters received by Tommy's father, he feared was a dangerous man.

The following article from Saturday's Indianapolis News, confirms the statement that it was our Tommy, and that his murderer is now in jail. It says:

The man SUTTON, who accompanied Thomas H. JAMESON from Duluth to the pine regions, is in jail at Duluth, under charge of killing and robbing his companion. He returned from the expedition alone, representing that Mr. Jameson would be back in a day or two. When the latter did not appear, suspicion began to thicken and the arrest was made. The discovery of the body, with the marks of several fatal stabs upon it, make an ugly case against Sutton. The deeds for certain lands and other valuable papers belonging to Mr. Jameson were left at Duluth in charge of a friend, and will be forwarded to his father in this city.

There is, therefore, no doubt that this man, who claimed to be his friend, murdered Tommy and then robbed him, for, in his letter to his father, he had stated that he intended to go up into the pineries and invest in some timber land. The last year of his life was one fraught with many troubles and vexations and to close up such a career, it seems hard that it had to be done by meeting death at the hands of an assassin in a lonely forest, and far from home.

MARRIED - Miss Jennie LAUER, formerly of this place, is soon to be married in New York City.

MARRIED - Abe WILE and his sister passed through here last Wednesday, enroute for Indianapolis, to attend the FISHER-REINART wedding.

Sam FISHER, of Ft. Wayne, who is quite well known to many of our young people, was married last week at the Bates House, Indianapolis, to Miss Flora REINART.

MARRIED - Yesterday evening at 9 o'clock at the residence of Mr. B. M. ELLIOTT, 2114 K. street, Mr. Charles E. HOOVER and Miss Julia C. CORBETT, of Rochester, Ind., were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony, the services being performed by the Rev. Thomas S. WYNKOOP.

The marriage was quiet and unostentatious, only a few select and intimate personal friends of the high contracting parties being present. The bride was handsomely attired in a neat traveling suit, and the happy couple, as they stood in the exquisite parlors of the Elliott mansion, presented a rare picture of youth and beauty. They left on the 10 o'clock train for Philadelphia and New York, and will reach their home in Indiana about the middle of January next. -- Washington National Republican.

MARRIED - George DOWNS was "run down" by Miss Lizzie GILBERT's mother on Saturday morning and she informed him that it was absolutely necessary for him to marry Lizzie and no monkeying. Accordingly a license was procured and Esquire STRADL[E]Y bound them for better or worse.

MARRIAGE LICENSES ISSUED - George C. STEININGER to Sarah E. WEBB; James L. BABCOCK to Miss Nellie STEVENS; Lorenzo D. JENKINS to Margaret A. PETIT; Anthony W. BURDGE to Martha MULLENS; Dr. A. A. EIKENBERRY to Mina C. WILKINSON; George N. DOWNS to Elizabeth GILBERT; Lorenzo D. LEASURE to Sarah A. PUTNAM.

BIRTH - Born to Mr. & Mrs. Joe HUFFMAN on the 3rd inst., a boy. Mother and baby doing well. (MUD LAKE)
Wednesday, January 19, 1887

DIED - For several days the little eighteen months old son of Mr. & Mrs. S. Y. GROVE, of Bloomingsburg, had suffered with scarletina, but just after midnight last Monday, death stole the bright little fellow from his parents and the soul returned to the God who gave it.

BIOG - Simon BYBEE, formerly of this county, is now engaged in the practice of law at North Judson. It is hoped he may be more successful as a pettifogger than he was as an editor.

MARRIED - Mrs. Ed. CALKINS and Miss Carrie SHRYOCK, of this city, attended the ELVIN-JAMISON wedding at Peru, last Wednesday evening.

DIED - Mrs. Ruben BATZ, age 56 years. The deceased had been a member of the Baptist church for forty years and had led a faithful christian life. She was at church the day before her departure. For many years she had suffered of asthma which was the cause of her death. She leaves an aged husband, three sons and four daughters to mourn her loss. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. DELP at the Yellow Creek church. The remains were deposited in the Horn cemetery on the 12th. The family has the sympathy of the entire neighborhood. (BLOOMINGSBURG)

DIED - The Sentinel failed to get the sad news of the ravages of scarlet fever in the family of ex-trustee [Della and Ida F] BLACKBURN of Fulton last week. No one can fully sympathize with a father and mother as they stand and see their entire family of three little children [Zoa Fay, Orno and Omar BLACKBURN] silently laid side by side in a single grave, yet such was the terrible ordeal that Mr. & Mrs. Blackburn had to endure. Darkness and sorrow certainly now exists in that home where only a short time ago the prattling tongues of little children made it all sunshine and happiness.

Wednesday, January 26, 1887

MARRIED - Mr. Jasper MILLISER, of Kewanna, and Miss Sallie McMAHAN, daughter of William McMAHAN, were married by Rev. BAIR, at Kewanna, on Wednesday, Jan. 19. Mr. Milliser is one of Kewanna's prominent citizens, and his bride is one of Fulton county's most successful teachers and has a wide acquaintance in Rochester. The many friends of the high contracting parties unite with the Sentinel in wishing them unbounded prosperity.

BIOG - Henry GARNER, an old soldier, was in town last week, soliciting aid to keep him above hunger until his departure for the soldier's home tomorrow.

Mr. Garner has a family living near Hoovers, and we are informed that he has been, in his healthy days, one of the most industrious men of the neighborhood, but now being broken down, he must leave his family and seek a home among strangers.

Mr. Garner informed a Sentinel scribe that he has two sons grown, and it is certainly a clear case of laziness or pure cussedness that they will allow an old and crippled father, who has cared for them all their lives, to get a living as best he can. Two stout young men in Indiana can keep themselves and their father from begging, if they are "made of the proper stuff," but from the record one of the young Garners made last fall in the orgy with Bruce MOORE, which has cost Bruce so much money, the inference is drawn that to support a crippled father is too humiliating to suit the taste of young men of his stripe.

DIED - John MILLER, an old resident of Henry township, died last Friday, and was buried at Mt. Zion on Saturday. For a long time Mr. Miller was afflicted with heart disease which terminated his life at the ripe old age of seventy years.

ANNIVERSARY - A large and happy party assembled at the residence of Mr. & Mrs. Myer WILE on South Main street, last Thursday, in honor of their 20th wedding anniversary. An elegant luncheon was served and the evening was pleasantly spent.

DIED - Grandpa Jonathan ROSE, father of [Maria V. E. (ROSE)] Mrs. [T.] Major BITTERS, was stricken with paralysis on the morning of Jan 11 and died last Thursday morning at the home of his daughter on South Main street.

Mr. Rose was of a retiring disposition and in his six year's residence in this city made but few acquaintances. He was industrious and accepted everything in life without a murmur. One more year and he would have outlived the allotted lifetime of man ten years. Funeral services were conducted at the residence on Friday by Rev. WILSON, and the last on earth of Jonathan Rose was gently consigned to a silent home beneath the pines in Odd Fellows cemetery.

DIED - Alice [REED], the little 3 year old daughter of Mr. & Mrs. R. M. REED, of Fulton, died Tuesday, Jan 18, of scarlet fever. Their other four children are also sick, three with scarlet fever and one with lung fever. Mrs. Reed, who has been sick for some time, is now convalescent. The family have the sympathy of the entire community.

BIRTH - Mr. & Mrs. Joe SMITH, who live south of town on Mud creek, are the parents of a nice boy baby.

ANNIVERSARY - Mr. & Mrs. Sol ALLMAN celebrated their 6th wedding anniversary yesterday and entertained a large number of their friends at tea.

Wednesday, February 9, 1887

DIED - Jane W[right] PERSCHBACHER, first born and only daughter of James and Margaret WRIGHT, was born July 2, 1837, in Newcastle township, Fulton county, Ind., and was united in marriage to George PERSCHBACHER April 2, 1857.

This union was blessed with seven children, six daughters and one son, one daughter having preceded the mother in death. Mrs. Perschbacher was a faithful member of the Lutheran church for many years, died February 3, 1887, in the hope of a blissful immortality. Aged 49 years 7 months and one day.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. A. E. GIFT, at St. Paul Lutheran church, east of Tiosa, last Saturday, and largely attended by neighbors and friends. Thus an affectionate companion, a loving mother, and a kind neighbor and friend has left us. Peace be to her ashes.

MARRIED - On last Sunday, Mr. Charles RAMER, of Peru, was joined in holy wedlock with Ida METZ, of this place. The ceremony was performed by Esq. STRADLEY, and the contracting parties left for Peru on the 2:30 train Monday where they will take up their abode.

MARRIED - At the home of the bride near Akron, Ind., February 6, 1887, Mr. Wm. H. KING and Miss Rose MILLER. Both groom and bride are highly respected by all who know them, and their many friends wish them a happy future. -- Resp'y, James WALES.

Wednesday, February 16, 1887

Wednesday, February 23, 1887

DIED - The Sentinel announces with sadness the death of Mr. Ivy MERLEY, son of Geo. MERLEY, which occurred at the parental home near Tiosa last Sunday evening.

Just as this young man reached his majority and was prepared to fight life's battles with vigor and perseverance the grim monster, death, fastened its relentless fangs upon him and claimed him for its victim. The funeral services were held at Tiosa yesterday afternoon and interment was made in the Richland Center cemetery.

BIOG - Wm. HUNTER has been granted an increase of pension from $4 to $8 per month. Mr. Hunter is not rich and the liberality of Uncle Sam toward him for faithful services rendered during a time when brave men were in demand is duly appreciated by him.

DIED - Mr. & Mrs. Nancy WILHELM's daughter, Sarah [WILHELM], aged six years, died of scarlet fever last Sunday and was buried Monday afternoon. The family resides in Liberty township and two more of the children are reported down with the same disease.

BIOG - The case of Sarah E. SPOHN vs Sylvester A. SPOHN for divorce, occupied the attention of the court Saturday forenoon, and, as usual at the trial of such cases, the bald heads had front seats. Mrs. Spohn sued Sylvester for divorce and alleged in her complaint that his habitual drunkenness was absolutely unendurable. Sylvester filed a cross complaint charging his wife with adultery and being "sweet" on Newt WHITIS and as both proved their allegations to the satisfaction of the court, his honor decided to keep them in double harness, as from the evidence, neither their own conditions nor society would be benefitted by a bill of divorce.

The Rochester Sentinel - 1887

Wednesday, March 2, 1887

BIOG - Andrew CALHOUN, of this city, has been granted an increase of pension.

DIED - Jethrow NEW, one of the oldest settlers in the county, and a resident of Liberty township, suddenly died at his home last Saturday night. Mr. New was the father of Commissioner I. R. NEW and Postmaster R. A. NEW, of Green Oak and has many friends all over the county who will hear of his death with sorrow.

Wednesday, March 9, 1887

MARRIED - Omar H. DOWNEY, of the Sentinel, left for Churubusco, Ind., last Friday, where he was married on Sunday to Miss Nettie GEIGER, a handsome and accomplished young lady of that town. For several years Omar spent most of his time trying to determine how many different vocations a man can follow, but for the past several years he has faithfully and industriously applied himself to business in Rochester and is fully competent to discharge his duty as a benedict with dignity and honor to the fraternity. May success and happiness attend Omar and his new bride throughout life's journey.

DIED - The announcement of the death of Dr. A. K. PLANK last Saturday morning was heard with universal surprise and sorrow in this city. For several weeks he had been indisposed with a nervous trouble, and was at times, confined to his room, but the beautiful warm days brought him out again, and he was at his place of business several times during the week, including Friday afternoon, when he appeared to be better than for several weeks past.

Lately the doctor had suffered at times with heart disease, which he feared would, sooner or later, cause his death, but his attacks had been so light as to give his friends no cause for fears of early fatal results therefrom. About ten o'clock Friday evening he complained of difficult breathing, and as he grew rapidly worse, Dr. SHAFFER [SHAFER] was summoned and after examination found that congestion of the lungs was preying heavily upon his already weak vitals. Restoratives were administered and the patient relieved of his pain, but at three o'clock in the morning suddenly and unexpectedly he laid his head back in his chair and life was extinct. A biographical sketch in the Daily Republican says:

The deceased was born in Schoharie county, New York, on the 22nd day of February, 1827, and was therefore sixty years and eleven days old at the time of his death. His father died when he was but eighteen months old. In 1835 his mother and three children moved by wagon from New York State to Indiana, and settled near Door Village, in LaPorte county. When Asa K. became a young man he commenced the study of medicine with Dr. TEEGARDEN, at LaPorte. Soon after graduating he commenced the practice of his profession at South Bend, but not being satisfied with his surroundings he resolved to seek some other location. During his journeying he went to New Orleans, and returned again to Southern Indiana, where he accepted service for some time as a drug clerk. Desiring to follow his profession he returned to LaPorte by stage through this place, and while stopping at Banner LAWHEAD's hotel was solicited to come to Rochester, which seemed to impress him favorably. Some time after he opened an office here, and soon acquired a very profitable patronage. After a residence here of about three years he married Mrs. Elizabeth SIPPY, of Akron, to whom were born Charles K. [PLANK], our respected townsman, Edward T. [PLANK], deceased, and William [PLANK], who departed this life in 1875. Not long after his marriage he drifted into the drug business, which he followed continuously up to the present time.

Mrs. Elizabeth PLANK died in 1871 and 1872, the Dr. was again united in marriage with Miss Mattie TRIMBLE, who is now left alone to mourn the loss of a kind and indulgent husband.

During his long residence and business career here, Dr. Plank was known as one of Rochester's model citizens, and his death creates a void that can never be filled.

The funeral services took place Monday conducted by the Masonic fraternity, of which deceased was an active member and after a short discourse by Rev. N. L. LORD, at the Presbyterian church, the remains were sorrowfully borne to Odd Fellows cemetery and consigned to their long home.

DIED - Death is striking his cruel blows at our old citizens with quick succession in this city, as the death of Dr. PLANK was followed by a surrender to the inevitable by another of his class, Frank F. RICHTER, last Monday morning at 3 o'clock. For many months Mr. Richter had been a great sufferer and it was only a determined will to live that prevented death from demanding an immediate surrender months ago.

Mr. Richter came to America from Saxony, Germany, fifty years ago when he was but 16 years old, and located in Ohio, but when the gold fields of California offered such bountiful rewards for explorers twelve years later, Mr. Richter went there and being successful, he returned to Ohio three years afterward where he was married to Miss Eva MEDARY who survives him.

In 1857 Mr. & Mrs. Richter came West and settled near Fulton and have ever since resided in this county. A family of nine children were born to this couple seven of whom are still living and are an honor to their father and mother.

The funeral services were conducted at the family residence on north Main street yesterday at 2 o'clock Rev. N. L. LORD officiating. Deceased was a member of the I.O.O.F. of this city and that order had charge of the funeral exercises. Interment was made in Odd Fellows cemetery.

Fred RICHTER was called home from Wisconsin by the illness and death of his father.

Mrs. Ollie MEDARY, of Logansport, attended the funeral of her uncle, Mr. Frank RICHTER, yesterday and returned home today.

Mr. & Mrs. C. E. GLASS, of Huntington, were called to Rochester by the death of Mrs. GLASS's father, Mr. Frank RICHTER.

DIED - While the body of Frank F. RICHTER was being gently consigned to its final resting place yesterday, Charles J. STRADLEY was peacefully breathing out a well spent life surrounded by his relatives and friends, at his home on Jefferson street.

Mr. Stradley has been afflicted with lung fever for two weeks, and for several days, all hope for his recovery has been abandoned. The announcement yesterday evening therefore, that Justice Stradley was dead, was not unexpected by his many old neighbors and friends in this city. The Sentinel was unable to get any facts of a satisfactory nature before going to press, concerning his biography and it will be given next week. Justice Charles J. Stradley was a man widely known for his benevolence, model Christian character, and honesty of purpose in every step in life, so far as we know, had not an enemy in the world. Peace to his silent rest. The funeral services will be held at Grace church tomorrow at 3 o'clock.

BIRTH - Rev. and Mrs. A. E. GIFT are the parents of a little son which made its appearance last Thursday night.

DIED - Andrew CALHOUN died at his home in this city last Wednesday evening and the funeral services were conducted on Thursday by Rev. WALES. At the time of his death Mr. Calhoun was 49 years old. He leaves a wife and one daughter, Mrs. [Henry] Frank [Nora CALHOUN] CRIM, to mourn his death. His disease was consumption, which he contracted while on duty in the late war, and which preyed on him for several years.

MARRIED - Mrs. C. STEVENS, of Rochester, was in attendance upon the PUTTERBAUGH-COX wedding. -- Peru Sentinel

Wednesday, March 16, 1887

OBIT - On Wednesday, March 8, 1887, Justice Chas. J. STRADLEY one of the oldest and most honored citizens of Fulton county departed this life at the ripe old age of 72 years.

The subject of this sketch was born in Kent county, Delaware, Oct 14, 1814. His parents, Cable and Susan STRADLEY, were also natives of Delaware, and were descendants of English parents. In 1822, the mother died, and six years later the father moved with his family to Fayette county, Ohio, where they resided about seven years, when he again started westward. This time he settled in the eastern portion of Fulton county, now known as Henry township, where they bore all the hardships attendant upon the life of the early pioneer.

Here Mr. Stradley received all the education possible in the primitive schools of that day.

At the organization of Henry township he was chosen as trustee, which office he held for several years.

In 1839, he was married to Miss Hellen BENNETT, to whom were born three daughters, Mrs. L. F. WHITE, of Valparaiso, being the only one now surviving. Mrs. Helen STRADLEY died March 18, 1848, and four years later the husband found another partner in the person of Miss Harriett SMITH, who with her four children mourn the death of a kind husband and a beloved father.

In 1848 Mr. Stradley moved to Rochester, where he embarked in the mercantile business, in which he continued for about fifteen years, after which he held the office of postmaster for several years, and from that time until his death, he had served the people in various capacities.

Mr. Stradley was known to his neighbors as a most devout and exemplary christian man, a kind father, an indulgent husband and a model citizen, respected and honored in all the walks of life. In fact he was a self-made man, and the void caused by his death will be one which will not be easily filled.

Prof. H. T. LOOMIS, of the Detroit Business Institute, and wife, Lydia STRADLEY LOOMIS, attended the funeral of Justice STRADLEY last week, and remained in the city until yesterday.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT - A series of resolutions from the Mt. Pleasant S.S. eulogizing the life and character of Alfred G. LONG, step-son of James STALEY, who departed this life March 2, was received for publication this week, but owing to mutual existing rules of our local papers we cannot give them space. Personally we knew Fred to be a truthful, quiet and unassuming boy, and so promising at the age of fifteen that his death is deeply mourned by all his acquaintance. May the great Comforter console the relatives in this, their deep sorrow.

DIED - Ike SAMUELS, of Roann, visited his friends in this place last week. In a conversation with Mr. Samuels, a Sentinel scribe was informed that while on the way from Roann to Denver, he had noted George SARGENT, who formerly resided here and Sargent told Samuels that he was then on his way to Chili, that the remains of the late Mrs. Sargent were on board the train, and that he was taking the body to her old home, near Chili, for burial. It is supposed that Mrs. Sargent has been living with her husband, who is a fugitive from justice, for several months past, but the particulars of her death could not be learned. Mrs. Sargent was a noble, deserving, warm-hearted woman, and had a host of friends here, who will regret to learn of her death.

PAPER READ BY THE LATE C. J. STRADLEY AT A S.S. CONVENTION IN ROCHESTER:

In the fall of 1835 I with my father's family came from Ohio, to Northern Indiana, then an almost unbroken forest with an occasional log cabin which marked the humble home of the pioneer of early days, stopping to rest over the Sabbath on the bank of Lake Manitau. Then the old Pottawottomie mill stood near where the dam now stands, and a few Indian camps were there and one white man. Curiosity led us to tramp around that Sunday and see the sights. Near where the water mill stands were two cabins which showed signs of civilization.

In December of that same fall we found a place in the east part of this county, which afterwards proved to be in Fulton county. At that time there was no organization, we knew not what particular place we occupied on this globe, but were sure we were in the woods, and knew of no settlement near. During the summer, a settlement of a few families three miles away, called the South Settlement, among them a few christians, soon formed a class and on Sabbath held prayer meetings, and I soon became a church goer. In 1837 they organized a little S.S. I had an invitation to attend, which I did more for curiosity than otherwise. At the first attendance I was installed teacher. From 6 to 10 children and as many men and women were in attendance; the Testament primer and small catechism were the books used; let me say that although a wild unconverted young man, I owe a debt of gratitude to the friends of that little Sunday school for the care they had for me, and it seems as an oasis in the desert to look back to those happy hours.

In 1850 I came to Rochester to make it my future home, here I soon became connected with the M.E. Sunday school and in my humble way have been working with it ever since, being superintendent for 22 consecutive years, and at different times since; I have seen the S.S. in its infancy in this county, held in the houses of the good men and women of early years, when there was not a church or school within the limits of the county, but the Missionary, the forerunner of civilization, the energy and nerve of the pioneer have so developed its resources that today from 96 to 100 dot the county, and in nearly all of them are organized

Sunday schools, to say nothing of the numerous churches. The facilities for teaching and learning have so improved that all over this broad land we have uniformity of lesson, and still "there is more to follow." The harvest truly is great but the laborers are few, let us pray the Lord to send forth more laborers, and earnest workers in the Sunday school vineyard.

Wednesday, March 30, 1887

DIED - Saturday, March 19, 1887, Hannah EWER, aged 86 years. The deceased was the mother of T. G. EWER, of Mud Lake, who is the last survivor of the family.

Aunt Hannah, as she was generally known, was one of the earliest settlers of this county having settled here fifty years ago. She was the last member of a family of six, two brothers and three sisters having preceded her to the Spirit land. The youngest member of her family died at the age of sixty-six, which shows that they were a long-lived race of people. She is dead but yet she speaketh, saying to us, "prepare for death." After a long, weary life she is at rest. Sleep on, sweet saint until God shall awake your sleeping dust, and crown it with immortality at his right hand.

Shall we meet her there?

The Rochester Sentinel - 1887

resided and raised the family of children consisting of Mrs. T. FELTS, Mrs. Martin FLETCHER, Mrs. M. LEEDY, Mrs. Christiana WILSON, Jos. WINN, Marion WINN, Eli WINN and Harrison WINN who all reside in Fulton county, except Mrs. Wilson, who lives in Kansas. The subject of this sketch was preceded to the spirit world by her husband about 14 years ago and her remains were laid to rest beside his in Richland Center cemetery yesterday at 12 o'clock.

DIED - Mrs. Wm. [Emma] BEATTIE very suddenly died at the family residence on the old BOOTS farm in Wayne township last Saturday morning and was buried at Fletchers Lake cemetery on Sunday. The husband and six grief stricken children have the sympathy of the entire community in this their deep affliction.

DIED - Through an oversight of a compositor, the Sentinel failed to publish a notice last week of the death of Mrs. Chas. ORR's aged father, H. C. CHAFFEE, which occurred at Tippecanoe town two weeks ago. The deceased had reached the ripe old age of 76 years.

BIRTHDAY - About forty of the friends and neighbors of D. F. COOK, of Green Oak, Indiana, made up a very pleasant party at the residence of Mr. & Mrs. E. A. NEWCOMB, and armed with good things to eat and some valuable presents, started for Mr. Cook's residence, where they celebrated his 44th birthday anniversary in grand style. . . .

BIOG - The estate of the late David BRYANT, of Henry township, was partitioned last week.

DEATH EXPECTED - Mrs. LYON, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, passed through this place last week, enroute for Kewanna where her father, Mr. SHAFFER lies at the point of death.

Wednesday, April 13, 1887

BIOG - Last Sunday was Uncle Joshua BLACKETER's 60th birthday and in the evening his relatives and friends to number of more than one hundred assembled near his home, four miles south of town, and taking him completely by surprise they walked into and took possession of the house.

After all were inside of the comfortable residence, Mr. Jacob CAMERER, an old neighbor, made a speech presenting Mr. Blacketer with a handsome pair of gold spectacles, from his children, a comfortable easy chair by his friends and a choice twist of long green tobacco by Grandpa ONSTOTT . . . .

Fifty-two years ago Uncle Joshua Blacketer settled in this county when most of his neighbors were red men. Later he helped clear the route of the present Peru road, and cleared the fine farm on which he now lives.

Messrs. Ed. and Omar CAMERER favored the party with instrumental music, and all departed feeling that they had fittingly honored an old citizen and neighbor, who is noted all over this section of the county for his liberality and noble citizenship.

BIRTH - At the April fool party at Melvill BUSENBERG's his wife presented him with an 8 pound boy baby. All parties concerned are doing well. (BLOOMINGSBURG)

BIRTH - Jno. M. FISH will hereafter be much pleased if friends in saluting him will just call him grandpa. (BLOOMINGSBURG)

DEATH EXPECTED - John KESSLER, one mile and a half east of here, is very ill and but faint hopes of his recovery are entertained. (BLOOMINGSBURG)

MARRIED - Willard BOGGESS, who skipped the county some time ago to evade a warrant which had been issued against him for bastardy, returned last week and married the plaintiff in the case, Miss Rosetta REED.

MARRIAGE LICENSES ISSUED - Willard BOGGESS and Rosetta REED; Washington J. BENTON and Emmarilla MACKKEY.

BIOG - The Tattler, a magazine-newspaper edited by Mrs. Margaret HOLMES and published at Indianapolis, is a new candidate for popular favor, and the appearance of the first number is such that the editor's many friends here anticipate a prosperous future for the handsome periodical and its publishers.

DIED - Yesterday's Indianapolis Sentinel contained a telegram from Logansport announcing the death of Mrs. Susan KRIDER, which occurred at Spring Creek church, Cass county, last Sunday during services.

She was sitting beside her daughter when she quietly passed away without a struggle. Mrs. Krider was truly a pioneer, having celebrated her eighty-fifth birthday the 23d day of March, with about eighty of her relatives and neighbors, and having lived in this county a half century, moving from Washington county, Pa., sometime in the thirties. She saw Cass county in its wild and primitive state, and afterwards in its present prosperous condition. She was the mother of Mrs. Jno. HEDDINS and an aunt to the DAGUE brothers of Liberty township.

BURNED TO DEATH - Many who have visited the poor farm will remember a female inmate of the insane department, who was always kept carefully dressed in a "straight jacket," and who by her idiotic actions and soul harrowing, unintelligible appeals, elicited a feeling of pity which clung so tenaciously to the memory of all that it seemed impossible to forget or dismiss it from the mind for many weeks. She was usually locked in a cell at all times, except meal time, and at the breakfast hour last Thursday morning she was in the corridor of the department and in some manner her clothing caught fire and before Supt. BLACK discovered her, her clothing was nearly all burned off, and her body so badly burned that after twenty hours suffering the poor unfortunate's life went out in apparent peace.

Her name was Alice STEWART and she had been a county charge since April, 1881. Her family formerly resided near Perrysburg, but her father and mother are now dead and her brothers and sisters have left that part of the country. Her remains were buried in the Potter's field at the poor farm, and although Mr. & Mrs. Black are very sorry that her life ended in such a distressing manner, all who ever saw her will feel a sense of relief in the fact that her body is at rest.

Anderson, as he was familiarly known, was injured internally while at work on a section of the railroad several weeks ago, and from which he took his bed three weeks ago, and gradually grew worse until death released him from his suffering.

He was an industrious, inoffensive young man, admired by all of his associates, and his death just at the beginning of manhood, is a severe affliction for his parents, who only one year ago followed a daughter, Mrs. Amos [Sarah A. MYERS] THURSTON, to the grave. Funeral services were conducted at the Christian church, on Monday at 3 o'clock by Rev. McNEALY, of Tiosa, and the remains were laid to rest in the Citizens cemetery.

DIED - Sheriff WALLACE received a telegram from Indianapolis yesterday evening informing him that Louisa HELTZEL, an inmate of the Insane Asylum from Rochester township, had died yesterday morning.

MARRIAGE LICENSES ISSUED - John MALAY and Rose O'BRIEN; Charles C. THOMPSON and Serene E. FEECE; Samuel D. BURK and Anna V. FREEL; James MITCHELL and Birdella MACKEY; James CRIST and Vidora SCOTT.

MARRIED - A could-be-quiet wedding occurred at Billy FEECE's Saturday night between Charlie THOMPSON and Emma FEECE.

The contracting parties thought they would let no one know about it, consequently C. C. loaded up his intended and started for the preacher's viz: Billy Feece's. They arrived in good shape, and on entering the house their surprise may be imagined when they saw the room crowded with young folks eager to see the hymenial knot tied. Billy tied the knot in grand shape, after which there was a greater surprise, the newly married couple being escorted to the dining room, where a bountiful repast was in readiness provided by the young people of the neighborhood. To conclude the whole matter the Antioch drum corps was present, and after their salutations and a belling by the boys, counting the evening well spent, all returned to their homes. We wish the newly married folks success and prosperity.

BIOG - A man from Rochester, "so they say," is here just about this time every year to avoid the assessor. By leaving the county his personal property is not assessed. -- Winamac Republican.

The "man from Rochester" is Joe BOWEN without a doubt, and assessor ERNSPERGER should see to it that he no longer dodges the assessor. Last year, Joe boarded through the month of April and a part of May at Ora, a station on the C. & A. Ry. in Starke county. Poor men must pay taxes and it is contrary to all justice to allow a man with as much money as Joe has to escape paying on at least a part of his personal property. An examination of the mortgage records will also give the assessor some pointers on the wealth of several "stiff" Rochester citizens who pay taxes on only about one-fourth of their actual possessions.

BIRTH - Joe BARRETT is the father of a nice little girl baby who arrived at his home last Thursday morning.

Wednesday, April 27, 1887

DIED - Mrs. Martha LONG wife of Franklin LONG, near Bigfoot was buried last Sunday. (BLOOMINGSBURG)

ESTATE CLOSED - Jno. W. SMITH has filed his final report as administrator of the Eliza McHENRY estate.

EXECUTOR NAMED - Samuel RUSSEL is named as the executor of the will of the late Benjamin STEFFEY.

DIED - Mr. Darius POLK, of Kewanna, who the Sentinel mentioned last week as dying from the effects of self emasculation, lingered until Monday evening and then expired. He believed that the Bible demanded of him a great sacrifice, the performance of which brought him to untimely grave. He was about 30 years old and unmarried, and had been demented for several years.

BODY RETURNED TO ROCHESTER - The authorities at the Insane asylum sent the remains of the deceased Louisa HELTZEL to this city last week. Trustee SHELTON took them in charge, and the body was interred in Citizens cemetery.

Wednesday, May 4, 1887

MARRIED - At the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. & Mrs. J. G. HILL, Mr. Henry WARNER to Miss Tracy HILL, Sunday, May 1, 1887, by Rev. J. D. WALES.

DIED - At his home near Mt. Zion April 27, Benjamin STEFFEY, aged 73 years 4 months and 20 days.

Mr. Steffey was a native of Pennsylvania, where he married Lizabeth MILLER in the year 1841; and afterward moved to Indiana. The union was blessed with nine children of which seven and their mother remain to mourn the loss of a kind and indulgent father and husband. During his sickness he gave the strongest evidence of his reconciliation to God's will. Father S. was known as an honest citizen, a devout christian, and a kind neighbor and he will be grievously missed in his neighborhood as well as the family circle. Funeral services conducted by the writer, were held on the 28th inst. and the remains were deposited in Mt. Zion cemetery. Peace to his silent rest.

MARRIAGE LICENSES ISSUED - Edward DAY and Ida McKITRICK; Delbert E. WRIGHT and Alta D. EIDSON; Anthony BRUGH and Rose HAY; Henry WARNER and Tracy HILL; Jno. G. FLINN and Lillie L. WALES; Anthony COOK and Jennie HARRIGAN.

BODY EXHUMED - Mr. John HELSEL/HELTZEL, father of [Louisa HELTZEL] the blind girl who died in the Insane Asylum recently and whose body was shipped here for burial, filed a complaint with Coroner LINE yesterday in which he set out that he believed that Louisa had come to her death through violence at one of the institutions where she was recently treated.

The body was exhumed by coroner Line, and Drs. GOULD, DAWSON and SHIELDS made an examination, and reported that the deceased died from natural causes and not as the parent had thought. Dr. Dawson informed a Sentinel scribe that the body was neatly and cleanly attired and was in a finely finished, satin-lined casket. Mr. Helsel says that he is now entirely satisfied that he was mistaken in his idea of the cause of his daughter's death.

DIED - Vincent SOUTHARD died at his residence on the evening of April 29, and was buried in the Odd Fellows cemetery on Sunday, May 1. He leaves two sons, a daughter and step-daughter to mourn his loss.

MANN, who was sent to the female reformatory for the murder of her husband three years ago last fall, returned to this city Monday, having served out her sentence. DIED - Mary C. AWALT was born in Germany 1816, married to John A. AWALT in 1840, and died May 8, 1887.

The funeral services will be conducted at the family residence today at 2 o'clock by Rev. T. G. SMITH, and neighbors and friends are invited to attend.

DIED - For more than a year Mrs. Hattie [DAVIS] BEEBER has been confined to her home with consumption, which has slowly preyed upon her vitals until Sunday night when the last spark of life died out and her soul took its flight to the mystic world beyond.

Mrs. Beeber was born March 30, 1853, and married Mr. Joseph W. BEEBER in May 1874. Her maiden name was Davis, being the daughter of Mr. & Mrs. John W. DAVIS who preceded her to the spirit world. In May, 1880, Mr. Jos. Beeber died, leaving his wife and one daughter, Ruth [BEEBER], surviving him, of whom little Ruth is now left an orphan.

Mrs. Beeber leaves one sister, Mrs. Jennie BRANDON, of Kokomo, and two half-sisters, Mrs. Ollie POWNER, of Niantic, Illinois, and Miss Fannie DAVIS, of Warsaw, Indiana, and a large circle of friends here who are grieved to part with one so kind, benevolent and companionable.

Rev. FRAZIER, of Kokomo, preached a beautiful funeral sermon at the Christian church yesterday at 2 o'clock p.m. where the deceased was a devout worshipper, and the remains were then taken in charge of the Daughters of Rebekah and quietly conveyed to the Odd Fellows cemetery where the body was laid to rest.

May the fragrant zephyrs steal gently through the pines of Odd Fellows cemetery today and drift the May blossoms profusely over the newly made grave while the spring birds chant their plaintive requiems to the silent dead.

Since the death of her mother several years ago, Hattie GORDON has had a home and been cared for by her aunt, Mrs. Hattie BEEBER in this city whose death therefore leaves two little girls homeless. Hattie will go to Kokomo to live with Mrs. Jennie BRANDON while little Ruth [BEEBER] will be given a home by Mrs. Ollie POWNER, of Niantic, Illinois, both of the ladies being sisters to the late Mrs. Beeber.

Wednesday, May 18, 1887

DIED - Last Wednesday at noon a report of the sudden death of Uncle Billy [William] TRIBBETT spread rapidly over the city and was received with surprise by all who heard it.

During the early part of the day Mr. Tribbett worked in his garden and at 11 o'clock went to the house telling Mr. BRIDEGROOM, who was helping him, that he felt tired and nervous. He was at the house but a short time when Mrs. TRIBBETT called to Mr. B. telling him to come to the house as Mr. Tribbett was quite sick.

A messenger was at once dispatched for Dr. SHAFFER [SHAFER] who went down and found Uncle Billy suffering terribly with a spinal affliction which produced convulsions. The Doctor had been treating him for some disease and had prescribed nox vomica which he asked Mr. Tribbett if he had taken an overdose of, but the patient assured the Doctor that he had not and expired in a convulsion in a few minutes afterward.

William Tribbett was one of Fulton county's pioneers and was well and favorably known throughout the county. He leaves a wife and one child, Mrs. Peter BIDDINGER, and several brothers and sisters to mourn his sudden death. He was always happy and contented and by hard work had accumulated considerable property.

The quartett were out walking one evening last week and the boys behaved so badly that one of the girls reluctantly sacrificed her virtue while the other escaped after a terrible struggle. It is an old fashioned Iceberg case and will probably amount to nothing.

DIED - Clara V. GOSS, the five year old daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Jonas GOSS died of brain fever Monday evening at the family residence 5 miles southwest of town. Little Clara was a bright and promising little girl and the household pet, but this did not stay death's hand and he claimed her for a victim. SUICIDE - Last Saturday evening word reached this city that Miss CARL, who resides about two miles west of Kewanna, had committed suicide.

It has since been learned that the unfortunate girl in a fit of despondency brought on by the embarrassing situation she was in went to Kewanna and procured a vial of laudanum, and a revolver, and proceeded to pay a visit to her betrayer, a young man named Henry HOOVER, residing in Pulaskiville, where she had a lengthy conversation with him. She then returned to her home and there swallowed the deadly drug which ended her existence. It is a sad case and one that should serve as a warning to other girls to take no stock in the before-marriage promises of any man.

MARRIED - Alfred THOMAS and Miss Emma CALIFF were married last week.

MARRIED - Last Wednesday evening Deputy Clerk REESE opened the marriage license record and inscribed therein with many flourishes the names of Mr. I. R. WEAVER and Miss Lillie M. PRATT, of Wagoner.

The wedding followed on Thursday evening at the residence of the officiating minister, Rev. MILLER, near Green Oak. The groom is one of the most industrious young farmers in the county, while the bride is a young lady of retiring and sociable disposition and is in every way fitted to make a home pleasant and a man happy. May their wedded lives be sunshine with just enough clouds flitting by to reveal to them their silver linings.

BIOG - Mr. Jas. WARE, of Johnston county, is in the city visiting his nephew, county Treasurer James WARE. Mr. Ware camped on the banks of Lake Manitau 55 years ago when there was not a single house between South Bend and Logansport. The old gentleman says that he distinctly remembers the night he camped in Fulton county, as the wild animals and birds kept up such a screaming as he will never forget. The light of the camp fires seemed to make the wolves and wildcats frantic with rage and they kept up a hideous and blood curdling noise all night.

MARRIED - Henry L. FOGLESONG and Miss Marcia WHITTENBERGER were married Wednesday evening of last week, at the residence of the bride's parents. Mr. F. has been for a long time one of Fulton county's best teachers, as was also she who is now his wife. The happy couple will locate in Nebo, Cass county, where Mr. F. will go into business. . . .

ACCIDENTAL DEATH - At James NAFE's saw mill, five miles west of Rochester, an accident occurred last Tuesday, which was most shocking and resulted in the death of Albert MOORE, a young married man about 27 years old.

Deceased was working in the mill and stood on the carriage as it ran back past the saw when in some manner he fell over against the running saw, which caught his foot cutting it nearly off and then cut the bone off below the knee and threw the unfortunate man down in such a position as to again come in contact with the murderous saw, which this time accomplished its undertaking by completely severing the limb from the body above the knee, and then throwing the amputated member thirty feet through the mill.

As quickly as the mill could be shut down the mangled and bleeding man was carried into the house where the fast flowing blood was checked until Dr. OVERMYER, of Leiters and Drs. SHAFFER

[SHAFER] and RANNELLS of this city were summoned and dressed the wound. The patient was apparently rapidly improving from the shock and seemed quite bright on Wednesday, but in the evening he suddenly grew worse and after lying in a comatous condition for several hours, quietly breathed his life out.

He was a kind hearted, affectionate companion, a tender father, providing well for his family, a good neighbor and universally respected. He leaves the wife of his youth, two daughters, one son, father, mother, one sister and many other relatives and friends to mourn his loss. DIED - The subject of this sketch, Isaiah HOOVER, was born in Miami county, Ohio, Nov. 10, 1810, died in Rochester, Indiana, June 20, 1887, aged 76 years and 7 months.

Mr. Hoover came here in an early day and was for years identified with the growth and business interests of Fulton county having faithfully served the people as county Treasurer for two consecutive terms.

Fortune smiled on Mr. Hoover for several years and he became well fixed financially, but his benevolence and liberality were successfully appealed to on every hand and there are but few churches, benevolent institutions or societies in the county which existed during his prosperous days to which he was not a liberal contributor. It is said, and truthfully too, that to his benevolence and philanthropic disposition the extreme poverty in which he died is directly attributable.

Deceased was married to Rebecca BLACKBURN 42 years ago and six children blessed their union, two of whom only and their mother survive. He was a great sufferer for years with rheumatism from which he died.

The funeral services was conducted by Rev. RABER yesterday at 3 o'clock and the remains were laid to rest in Odd Fellows cemetery.

KILLED ON RAILROAD - Readers of the Sentinel have become somewhat familiar, through its columns, with Richard McINTIRE, a young man about twenty-three years old who has recently figured in the courts as defendant in the sleigh-bell case, and the Marshland larceny suit in both of which he was acquitted.

For several months Dick, as he was familiarly called, has worked on the C. & A. gravel train and last Thursday he quit work at North Judson and told his friends that he was going to ride home to Marshland on a freight train which came through from Chicago in the night.

He left his fellow workmen and nothing more was thought of the matter until the next morning when someone discovered a ghastly spectacle a short distance this side of Judson. Near a cattle guard and to the side of the track was found part of the remains of a human being, but as it was ground into an unrecognizable mass no clue to its identity was obtained until an acquaintance of the unfortunate young man came and recognized the body by the clothing. A part of the skull and brains were found on the cattle guard in which it is supposed he fell from the running train, while a lower limb was found ten miles this side, part of the intestines on a car at Huntington, and one hand and arm has not yet been found.

It was a sight from which the bravest of men turned in horror, but kind [hands?] gathered up the scattered fragments of the body and they were brought home to a mother whose distressing grief cannot be pictured in words.

When sober, Dick was a quiet and orderly young man, but whiskey frequently got him into trouble and either directly or indirectly brought him to an untimely death.

The funeral services were held Friday evening and a concourse of sympathizing friends tenderly consigned the remains to a silent grave with but a single thought: 'tis finished.

The sympathy of every father and mother will go out to the parents of this unfortunate son.

MARRIED - A report on the streets last Friday morning that the popular young barrister, Will McMAHAN, had joined the great family of benedicts, created considerable surprise among his many friends. MARRIED - . . . . news came, through the medium of the Chicago papers, that Mr. Harry KANE, of Chicago, and Miss Carrie SHRYOCK, of Rochester, Indiana, had been united in wedlock, the Tuesday evening previous.

The information, coming as it did to the family of Col [Kline G.] SHRYOCK, who had no previous intimation of the event, produced a complete shock. . . . .

It seems that Miss Irene WEBB and H. A. BRADFORD and Miss SHRYOCK and Mr. KANE were spending the Sunday preceding the marriage, together, when apparently in a joking manner, one of the young fellows proposed that they have a double wedding. The young ladies acquieced in the proposals in a bantering way, but no serious thoughts of accepting the proposales were given at the time. The young men, however, alluded to the subject several times during the day and in carrying out their programme they procured licenses to marry, Tuesday, the 28th ult., and calling upon the young ladies, they insisted upon them complying with the agreement made a few days before. The girls were at first completely nonplused, but finally consented that the marriage should proceed, and accordingly Bishop CHENEY, of the Episcopal church, was called in and officiated at the double wedding. . . . .

The Sentinel says:

Sherman F. CHANDLER and Miss Clara BURROUGHS, of Noblesville, having kept company for some time, desired to have the matrimonial knot tied. They gained the consent of the young lady's parents, that is, all but a brother of the prospective bride who was much opposed to the match for some reason, and threatened to make his opposition emphatic, vigorously assaulted Mr. Chandler with a harrow tooth, cutting a gash and shaking him up somewhat, but not sufficiently to prevent him (Chandler) from going after his assailant and literally wiping the floor with him. On the road home from Monterey Joseph and one of his uncles, two of whom were men, were scuffling in the wagon when Joseph fell out, the wheel passed over his breast and crushed his ribs and breast bone so badly that he died in a few hours. DIED - Sarah E. GOSS, wife of Edward GOSS, was born July 22, 1865, died September 11, 1887, aged 22 years 1 month and 19 days. Her end was calm and peaceful; she died fully trusting in Jesus, and among her last words were these:

"Angels are waiting for me; the golden gate stands open wide for me; I shall meet my mother there." Then looking upward she exclaimed, "Her angel face I see it now." Then speaking of her brothers who were absent, she said, "Tell the boys I've gone to heaven."

Then while standing by her bed I saw a smile upon her face, and I then said to her, "What pleases you so well?" She exclaimed, "I am so happy," Then again: "I am dying so happy I shall clear it triumphant."

Then speaking of her little girl she said to her husband: "Tell my darling little girl of her mother when I am gone, tell her often of me, Edward, so I'll never be forgotten."

She leaves a husband, one child, father, step-mother, five brothers and two sisters to mourn her early departure.

Written by her father, Levi W. POWNALL.

Mrs. Edward GOSS whose obituary appears elsewhere, was one of those unfortunates, who, with all her pleasant surroundings, gave up life after a year of the most excruciating suffering and misery. Her disease was delayed childbirth and all the physicians agreed that death must be the result when, as a last resort, Prof. JAY, of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, was sent for who came and after diagnosing the case, informed the pale emaciated little woman that death would surely result if an operation was not performed which the eminent surgeon thought might possibly save her life. She readily consented to endure any amount of pain if she could only be permitted to live and the Prof. then performed the operation known to surgery as the Caesarean operation which was successfully accomplished but it didn't stay the fast approaching dissolution and in three days death released the sufferer. DIED - Alta HOWARD was born at Angola, Indiana, August 8, 1857, and died there while on a visit, September 13, 1887, aged 39 years 1 month and 5 days.

On the evening of the 14th inst., the remains arrived in this city accompanied by the deceased's father, and were taken to the family residence where many devoted friends awaited their coming.

Alta was one of Rochester's purest and noblest young women, whose every energy was strained to elevate humanity to a higher plane and to teach a lesson each day of eminently noble purposes to her associates.

Funeral services were held in Grace Methodist church on Friday, when Rev. J. H. WILSON pronounced an appropriate and eloquent tribute and funeral sermon to a sorrowing audience, which filled the audience room and gallery to their full capacity.

The remains were then gently laid to rest in Odd Fellows cemetery where mother earth entombed all that was mortal, but the spirit soared triumphantly to the mystic world beyond.

MARRIAGE LICENSES ISSUED - William M. FEIDNER and Sarah E. HENDRICKSON; Fred BEEHLER and Mary SCOTT; George MOORE and Mary LOWER.

KILLED BY TRAIN - Monday at noon as a C. & A. through freight train was pulling rapidly through the yards at the depot grounds, a man was seen to leap out of the door of a box car and fall beneath the moving train. Several persons ran to the injured man's assistance, who was then sitting near the track, and found him badly injured. The stranger said his name was Garry [Geary] THOMPSON and that his home was near Bigfoot.

He was at once taken to the WALLACE HOUSE where Drs. GOULD and LORING examined his injuries and informed the young man that he had but a few hours at the most to live. In answer to the inquiry as to how he came to be on that train, he said he had boarded it at Hammond and as he thought the train was not going to stop here he jumped off and, stumbling, fell so near the moving car that a brake beam caught him with the following result: The left hand was split to the wrist, his forehead and nose were torn into deep ugly gashes, his left foot was mashed and his entire right leg was ground so badly that the thigh and shin bones were visible and the mangled foot hung to the leg only by some shreds of skin and flesh. His relatives were at once notified of the horrible accident and his mother, Mrs. Jarvis JEFFRIES, arrived just in time to see her son writhing in the throes of death which occurred at 4 o'clock p.m. For several months this unfortunate young man had been working in Crown Point and Englewood and last Saturday his mother received a letter from him stating that he would be home this week.

The remains were removed to the home of his parents Monday evening, and the funeral services will be held at the Chapel in Newcastle township.

Deceased was about twenty-two years old and unmarried, and was always a quiet inoffensive young man. His sickening death is another warning to people who jump on and off moving trains.

The Rochester Sentinel - 1887

ACCIDENTAL DEATH - About five years ago Jay ROBBINS, a son of Mr. Cyrus H. ROBBINS, moved to Miami county and has since resided there. He lived about three miles north of Peru, and last Friday he and a neighbor were engaged in cutting timber in the woods, and late in the afternoon they were chopping a tree down, when the ax, used by Jay's assistant, flew off the handle and striking him (Robbins) on the thigh, lacerated the muscles and arteries so badly that he died five hours afterward from loss of blood.

The remains were brought here Saturday evening and taken to the residence of Sylvester McKEE on north Main street, from where the funeral took place Sunday morning interment being made in Odd Fellows cemetery.

Deceased was about thirty-three years old and leaves a wife and four small children to mourn the loss of a kind husband and father. May He who tempers the winds to the shorn lambs comfort the widow and fatherless children in these their hours of awful grief.

DIED - The funeral of Mrs. PARSELLS was preached at the Christian church, of this place, last Tuesday. (BLOOMINGSBURG)

DIED - Jos. JEFFRIES, an old and highly respected citizen of Newcastle township, died of heart disease at Marion, Monday, and was brought home yesterday. He was the grandfather of young [Geary] THOMPSON, who met death the same day by falling under the cars at the C. & A. yards.

MARRIED - The marriage of Deputy Auditor Ed. T. MILLER and Miss Lou HICKMAN, at the residence of the bride's parents last Wednesday evening was one of the most brilliant society events of the season. . . .

PLANK's company of volunteers, which did such valiant service in the Rebellion. The clipping from the Chronicle is now yellow with age and the members of the company who are still living will, no doubt, be pleased to again see the names of their comrades as they appeared on the roll when they were mustered into the service:

HICKMAN, C. S.
HICKMAN, Lem
MACKEY, Shannon
STOOPS, Madison

The Sentinel is under obligations to H. C. LONG and Mrs. Chas. K. PLANK, for copies of the names of the members of company "F" 87th Regiment Indiana Volunteers, as they were mustered into and out of the service. The article elsewhere in this issue will be of much interest to the older citizens and especially to those who had relatives and friends in the company. Quite a number were mustered out and discharged before the close of the war, some joined other companies, but the most of the missing ones died in hospitals and on battle fields.

CITIZENS CEMETERY - Much complaint is heard of the management of the old cemetery west of the city limits [CITIZENS CEMETERY].

A gentleman who has friends buried there asks the Sentinel to say that those interested in the cemetery are dumb-founded to hear that a large drove of sheep and some cattle are pastured in there by permission of the overseer of the sacred homes of the dead. The idea of a mother going to the grave of her child upon which she has lovingly cultivated some flowers, and there find them destroyed and the little mound covered with litter, is a matter which indeed justly deserves the severest condemnation of every man or woman who has a spark of veneration for the dead. The shade trees were all killed in this cemetery last year, this year it is a pasture field and it will not be much of a surprise to see the plow cutting the sod next year above the silent forms of friends and fellow citizens who, while living, would have shuddered at the thought of such inhuman molestation and utter disregard for the sacredness of their silent homes.

BIRTH - Born to Mr. & Mrs. George DAWSON a ten pound boy baby last Friday morning.

MARRIED - Mr. William S. PARKER and Miss Flora C. HAMLET, at the Evangelical parsonage on Vine street at 7:30 p.m. September 22, 1887. . . . A. O. RABER.

A verdict was reached the next morning about 4 o'clock, when they brought in a verdict of guilty and fixed the punishment at two years in the Penitentiary . . . .

MARRIED - At the Christian church last Sunday evening, Elder Sherman CHANDLER in a most pleasing manner pronounced the ceremony which united as husband and wife, Mr. Phillip DeMONT and Miss Mary BEALL, daughter of Thos. BEALL, of this city. . . . They will reside at Aurora, Illinois.

MARRIED - At the residence of the bride, in this city, on last Sunday, Rev. A. O. RABER pronounced the ceremony which joined as husband and wife Mr. Debolt KLINE, of Maxinkuckee and Mrs. Mary E. ABRAMS. Both are estimable christian people who have enjoyed marital bliss before. They will reside at Argos.

DIED - It is an unusual sight to see two members of the same family lying cold in death at the same time but such was the case at the residence of Joseph JEFFERIES last week when the bodies of Mr. Jeffries and Geary THOMPSON were taken to their home, rigid corpses.

Joseph Jeffries was born in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, age 60 years and 29 days; he moved to Ohio and thence to Kosciusko county, Indiana, where he was married to Ellen WILSON. From there he moved to Newcastle township, where he lived until his death which occurred Sunday September 24, at 3 o'clock p.m. at Marion, Indiana, to which place he had gone the Thursday before for medical treatment.

Geary Thompson, whose sickening death was described in our last issue was 22 years old at the time of his death and was the son of Mrs. Elizabeth JEFFERIES.

The funeral of both was preached at the same time by Rev. Noah HEETER after which the remains were lowered into their graves at the same moment and the earth closed over them. Peace to their silent rest.

[from the Marion Jeffersonian]:

On Thursday last Joseph JEFFERIES came from Big Foot, Fulton county to Marion to be treated by Dr. SNODGRASS for hemorrhage of the lungs. He took a severe coughing spell while on the train which caused an internal bleeding. When he arrived here he was in a very feeble condition and continued to grow worse until 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon when his worldly pains were relieved by death. Some years ago Dr. Snodgrass treated a man from the same county named HOLOWELL and so successful was the treatment that the patient fully recovered health. Jefferies heard of this and thought to be relieved by like treatment, but his case was hopeless. He was on the verge of the grave and beyond the control of medical skill. His remains were taken to Big Foot for burial Monday afternoon.

Both are well known in this city and the Sentinel joins their many friends in extending congratulations.

BIRTH - Capt. Chas. BRACKETT and wife are now the parents of a nice big girl baby. The Captain says that if Division No. 27 disregarded his commands as vigorously and haughtily as that baby does of nights, he would order them to disband and mould their swords into plow shares.

BIOG - John BILLS, of Macy, is in the Peru jail awaiting his trial for drawing a deadly weapon on some Macyite, and Jake ZARTMAN, the old timer, is keeping John company for want of funds to liquidate a fine of several dollars for being drunk.

ARTESIAN WELL - Should the vandal who steals the tin cup from the artesian well ever be found out, due vengeance will be wreaked upon him. It is a trying thing to wade across the street, through the mud for a drink of water and find the cup gone.

MARRIED - Married at the residence of the bride's parents in Wayne township, Fulton county, Miss Agnes HARRISON to Mr. George HENDRICKSON. The bride is well known in this city and the groom is a well known farmer of Fulton county. The couple have the best wishes of their many friends. --Logansport Pharos.

The bride has grown up here and was regarded by her hosts of friends as one of the most industrious and companionable girls in the city. Mr. & Mrs. Delvin left immediately after the marriage ceremony for Huntington where they will hereafter reside. Long may they live and prosper.

Monday afternoon while some workmen were engaged in threshing on the farm of Henry LANDIS, southeast of town, Jacob KRULL, who had been feeding the machine, stopped off the platform, and after shaking hands with a friend, dropped dead. The funeral of John NELSON, the Swede, who died at GILKISON's boarding house, last Friday, occurred Sunday at one o'clock p.m. at the Evangelical church. Rev. RABER preached an eloquent sermon on this occasion to a fair sized audience. The interment was made in the Odd Fellows cemetery.

DIED - Mary SANNIS [CLIFFORD BLUHM] was born May 11, 1810, in the State of Ohio. Died at Rochester, Indiana, October 26, 1887, aged 77 years 5 months and 15 days.

Came to Indiana in 1838; was married to Mr. CLIFFORD, her first husband, in 1842. He died in 1848.

She was married to Wilhelm BLUHM her now bereaved husband August 31, 1871. Mrs. Bluhm had been long sick, and had suffered much. By her death another of the very old citizens has passed away. The number is becoming small of those who were living in Fulton county at or shortly after its organization.

MARRIAGE LICENSES ISSUED - Renaldo P. TRUE and Estella MITCHELL; Marion STERLING and Emma DOUGLAS; Wm. A. REED and Elizabeth VANBLARICUM; Nathan ABBOTT and Marilda E. MILLER.

BIOG - One of the most infamous deeds was brought to light a mile north of this place last week that has ever been my duty to chronicle.

In the above named neighborhood lives a well to do farmer named SLISHER, who is a respectable man and has endeavored to train his children right, but one of his daughters is unfortunately subject to fits, which has to a great extent ruined her mental faculties which renders her rather an object of pity than a fit subject for an unprincipled villain to practice his wits on. But near at hand lives one I. B. MULLICAN, also a prosperous farmer who has a son. This son, as the sequel will show, by some means to us unknown, induced this girl to love him not wisely but too well, and a short time ago it was discovered that coming events were casting their shadows before and the girl was questioned as to who was the author of her ruin, her answer was that it was John MULLICAN. Her father at once proceeded to Macy and had the amorous John yanked into court to answer to the grave charge of seducing a young and feeble minded girl. Esq. PULVER upon hearing the evidence bound him over to court where his case will be settled, and it is to be hoped he will be made to pay the penalty of a crime, for which, in the estimation of all right minded persons, he deserves the severest punishment the law allows. These are the facts in the case as we have gathered them. (MACY)

DIED - Readers of the Sentinel are all acquainted with the fact that Capt. Ches. CHAMBERLAIN has for several years been a sufferer with dropsy. Slowly but surely his condition has been growing worse for several months, and on Monday afternoon, surrounded by his family and many friends, he gently sank into death's chilly embrace, and the words, "Ches. is dead!" were quickly heralded throughout the business part of the city.

Chester CHAMBERLAIN, son of Sylvester and Josephine CHAMBERLAIN, was born in Newark, N.J. on New Years day, 1835. On the following year his parents moved west and after stopping a short time in Chicago and South Bend they located near this city upon a tract of land and commenced farming.

Chester was educated at Notre Dame University after which he traveled for three years in the western States and came home at the outbreak of the late war and enlisted in Co "K" 46th Indiana Regiment. He served as a private two years and was then promoted to the office of Captain, in which capacity he served until the close of the war.

After returning from the war he was married to Miss Sarah SWARTWOOD, who survives him, November 6, 1865, and they have ever since resided in this city.

Under President Johnson's administration deceased served as postmaster of Rochester for six months and then engaged in the restaurant business in which he continued until 1871, when he was elected County Recorder and again re-elected in 1875. At the expiration of his term of office he opened an extensive grocery house in which business he has since been successfully engaged.

Capt. Chamberlain was always a staunch Democrat and was honored by being chosen a delegate to the Democrat National Convention of 1886, which nominated President Cleveland.

Although firm in his convictions, Capt. Chamberlain was a liberal minded man and for charity and benevolence he had but few peers in Fulton county. Honored frequently by his party, his friends and his neighbors by positions of public trust, he discharged every duty with such fealty and precision as made him the popular citizen that he was and a father whose example the four sons may be proud to emulate.

The funeral service will be held this afternoon at half past one o'clock at the Baptist church, Rev. E. J. DELP officiating. The remains will be in charge of the G.A.R. assisted by the K. of H. and interment will be made according to the honors of war.

MACY AND SURROUNDINGS - As locals are a little scarce I took a walk through town to see what the boys were doing and this is the result:

Commencing at the east end the first was M. Lew ENYART, of the Monitor, who was seated at his table sweating and writing and we concluded he must be writing a leader which was to doom some great man to oblivion or lift him to the pinnacle of fame.

Merchant COOK and Bill DAY, his clerk, were busily engaged in waiting for customers yet they both looked happy.

Dr. BOGGS was compounding a remedy for Republican hysteria, which is sure cure or no pay. We would advise Lew ENYART, Major BITTERS and W. I. HOWARD to take a bottle.

Frank SKINNER was busy handing out mail and using cusswords because all publishers do not fold their papers as nicely as the Sentinel is folded. He says if they would a great burden would be lifted off his shoulders.

Al DAVIS was trying to coax Yost WHEATLY to drink some sweet cider, but Swabby wouldn't indulge. Al spends his odd moments in writing love poetry for his best girl.

Eph CLENDENING was waiting on his many customers while his clerk, Billy BELT, was calculating how much profit there was in paying sixteen cents for butter and selling it out at fifteen.

John CLOUD was trying to fit a lady who had a number seven foot with a pair of number five shoes, while Geo. was just overdoing himself waiting on some other ladies who were trying to make ten cents buy a dollars worth of good. Geo. is a ladies' man and of course he succeeded in pleasing his customers.

John GROAT was picking his teeth with a spike nail and figuring on how to catch the fellow who got his pocket book.

Dock OGDEN was starting to peg around Jack ZARTMAN's boot and said he would get back next week one day.

George FARRAR was currying one of his horses with a club and studying up a plan to get rid of those fellows who always went to trade horses with him when they know he never trades.

Hank PULVER was shoeing a horse and wondering who made the most cash, the Justice or the saloon keeper as one furnishes work for the other.

John KELLER and Tom Maginis [McGINNIS] were arguing scripture. John believed in hell fire and baptism and Tom favored the revised translation and Universal salvation.

Lyman SAVAGE was making models for Bill's patent fence and wondering who would die next, and if he would get his measure.

Arthur McCARTER was making a tin bucket and whistling to keep from searing.

Elias BILLS was loafing and talking patent rights with Yost WHEATLY and a Green Oak green horn.

Ben HIGHT was wishing somebody would get drunk and give him a chance to exercise a little.

Onis CASE was at his old stand selling hardware cheap for cash.

Schyle FINNIMORE was escorting a dude drummer from the hotel to the depot.

Jerry HATCH was getting fresh beef to feed a large crowd of hungry men who were waiting at his hotel for dinner.

Dave COP was looking up his chances for being elected constable and planning what he would do with the cash four years from now.

Cal FOOR was building a kitchen so as to be even with all his neighbors, as everybody is building in Macy now.

Jim BRIGGS was looking for something to force a rapid growth of Mustache on his lip as he was going to get married Sunday and wants to look manly. . . .

FUNERAL - The funeral of Capt. [Chester] CHAMBERLAIN last Wednesday was one of the most largely attended ever held in the city. The K. of P. band, Manitou Blues, G.A.R. Post, K. of H. lodge and carriages formed a procession the length of three squares and besides there were hundreds of citizens on foot all solemnly wending their way to pay the last tribute of respect to a brave soldier, a popular citizen and a good man. Rev. DELP preached a touching and appropriate funeral sermon after which the remains were laid to rest in the Odd Fellows cemetery according to the rites of the G.A.R. and K. of H.

KILLED BY TRAIN - Mathias BIDDINGER, one of the oldest citizens of this county, met death last Thursday morning at Leiters Ford, in a most unexpected moment.

About half past 7 o'clock Mr. Biddinger went down to Wm. BRUGH's, his neighbor, on an errand and as he was returning to his home on the railroad track the early west bound C. & A. passenger train came thundering along and, as the old gentleman was very deaf and did not hear the whistle, the train overtook him and striking him, killed him instantly.

Lafayette and Elmer BRUGH were only a short distance away from the old gentleman and tried hard by gestures to warn him of his danger but he evidently heard or saw nothing of the approaching train until it was within ten feet of him when he turned partially around only to be struck by the engine and thrown higher than the top of the smoke stack and to one side of the track where he fell, and life was extinct when those who saw the accident hurriedly came up to his body.

A telegram was at once sent to coroner LINE who went down and after examining several witnesses returned a verdict fully exonerating the Railway company from any blame, as the engineer gave the danger signal and reversed his engine, but the train was running at such a high rate of speed that it could not be stopped in time to prevent the accident.

Deceased formerly lived in this city and was the father of Daniel and Peter BIDDINGER, and Mrs. James WALES, of this city. The youngest son of the deceased was killed in the Leiters Ford church several years ago when it was struck by lightning.

The accident is another warning to people who walk on the railroad track, and especially to those whose hearing is defective.

The funeral services which was largely attended was conducted at the Leiters Ford church on Friday, by Rev. A. O. RABER and interment was made in the cemetery near by.

OBITUARY - In its obituary of Joseph MACKEY, brother of Horace MACKEY, and Mrs. [Mary (Mackey) (Noah D.)] LOOMIS of this city, which occurred at Wabash on the 2d inst., the Times of that city says:

It would be a difficult and a tedious task to enumerate all the good works of Mr. Mackey's life. Not a day passed that he did not do some act that endeared him to his fellow citizens. His retiring, almost modest manner, and constant sacrifices for the public weal, will never be forgotten. Mr. Mackey's grandest work, perhaps, was the organization of building and loan associations in this city, in spite of the opposition he met on every hand. From no source did he receive encouragement. Day after day and night after night, he studied the intricate workings of those associations, until he became their master, and was able to unfold and explain the plan, by which poor mechanics and laboring men were enabled to build for themselves comfortable homes. There are scores of pleasant homes in this city, built through the agency of the building and loan associations, that would never have been erected but for Joseph Mackey.

His untiring efforts in behalf of those three institutions in which every citizen feels a patriotic interest -- the School Furniture company, the Underwood Manufacturing Company, and the Novelty Wood Works -- are still fresh in the minds of all. Mr. Mackey was a director in each company at the time of his death, and to him do they all owe their existence.

Eighteen years ago Mr. Rex's wife eloped from Muncie with one John WHALEN, taking with her the two youngest children, one of whom was George, and leaving the other two for their father to care for. For sixteen years Mr. Rex advertised and hunted in vain for the runaway pair, when he was visiting in Ohio and met a man who lived near Metea, Cass county, who told him that one of his neighbors had two boys living with him named George and Victor REX. These were the names of the long lost boys and the father soon after started to Cass county to see them, when upon his arrival in the neighborhood he learned that Whalen, the man who was living with Mrs. Rex, had just died and Mr. Rex returned to his home without seeing his family.

Several weeks ago he heard of the announcement of the marriage of a Geo. W. Rex in Fulton county and came here for the purpose of visiting him. Mr. Rex says his wife never obtained a divorce from him and she therefore lived unlawfully with Whalen all these years. The deserted husband and father's locks are now white from the frosts of many winters, and he spoke of the wife and babies and their deserting him with a degree of sadness which plainly indicated that a spark of love for the wife and fatherly devotion to the children still lingered in his manly breast.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. T. G. SMITH of the Presbyterian church.

DIED - The announcement of the death of Mr. Wm. MICKEY of Newcastle township will no doubt be a surprise to his many acquaintances throughout the northeastern part of the county.

On Monday evening he retired in apparent good health and nothing was known of his sickness until his wife discovered that he was cold in death at 3 o'clock in the morning. It is believed by the attending physician that his death was caused by neuralgia or paralysis of the heart, as every indication pointed to the fact that death had gently crept on him while he was sleeping and he passed away without a struggle. Mr. Mickey was well known in his neighborhood where he has long resided and at the time of his death was about 33 years old. The funeral will be held today.

DIED - (From Tuesday's Daily): Miss Ann LINE was born near Piqua, Ohio, October 21, 1810, and died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. J. DAWSON, in this place this morning, aged 77 years 2 months and 27 days.

She was married to William KING about the year 1833. They removed to Allen county, Indiana, about 1842, where they lived a short time, and soon after to Mexico, Miami county, where her husband died December 22, 1852. The following year she, with her children, removed to Rochester, and has been a resident of this place since.

She was the mother of six children, four of whom died in infancy; one other was Mrs. J. C. WALLACE, who died at Peru, Indiana, February 19, 1884; and the only remaining daughter is Mrs. J. DAWSON, of this place, with whom Grandma King has made her home the past fall and winter. She was the grandmother of six children, four of whom survive, and the great-grandmother of four, of whom three are living.

She united with the M.E. church in her youth, but later changed her membership to the Presbyterian church. She lived a faithful christian life, and was always interested in church and Sabbath school work. For a considerable while about war time she and her deceased daughter conducted a mission Sabbath school at her residence in the northern part of town, and later managed the same alone after her daughter's marriage. She was kind to the poor and gave liberally from her small means for both charity and missionary work.

Friends desiring to see the remains may do so at the residence tomorrow morning from 9 to 12 o'clock. The funeral services will be held at the residence of Mr. J. DAWSON tomorrow afternoon, at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. N. L. LORD. All friends of the deceased are cordially invited to attend.

DIED - We are informed of the death of [Corie T. COON], the youngest son of Elder [Stephen V. R.] COON, of Newcastle township. We were not informed as to the nature of the malady which caused his death. (TIOSA)

SUICIDE - Upon his return from Kewanna Monday evening, ex-Treasurer James WARE brought the intelligence of the tragic death of a beautiful young lady which occurred at her home one-half mile west of Grass Creek Station, in Wayne township, Monday morning. The unfortunate young lady was [Almeda E. HIZER], the youngest daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Alfred HIZER, and was [17 years 12 days] old.

For some time the young lady had been receiving the attentions of a young man by the name of McGRAW, to whom she was very much attached. It was generally understood that the young couple were engaged, but a few weeks ago, a lover's quarrel occurred, or at least the young man's attention to Meda suddenly ceased, and from that moment her melancholy took its origin.

On Sunday evening at five o'clock the young lady was found very sick in her room and it was soon discovered that she was suffering from poison. Nothing further of the facts could be learned except that she took a quantity of Rough on Rats and afterward some other poison, the effect of which could not be overcome by any process known to the physicians and she died on the following morning at five o'clock.

But a little more than a year ago young O'BRINE shot and almost killed Miss NEWBRAUGH and then blew his own brains out only about a half mile from the home of Miss Hizer and last summer another young lady who had worked in the vicinity was disappointed in love and went to her home in Pulaski county and committed suicide. It is touchingly sad to realize the rashness of so many estimable young people in the same vicinity, from the same cause and in so short a time, but such is the fact and He alone who gave them life could reveal the agonies of minds which urged them to exchange their pleasant surroundings in this world for that of the mystic beyond.

Two little boys had gone before and now her father's house is left unto him desolate. The stricken household were left entirely to themselves. Their neighbors being very much afraid of the disease, but we cannot help thinking, "If we benefit our fellowmen, we should not simply be partners of their joy when they have joy, but sharers of their sorrow. True human sympathy is made manifest when we weep with those who weep."

DIED - The announcement on the streets Monday morning that D. W. LYON was dead was the occasion of expressions of surprise and grief from all who heard the sorrowful news.

On Friday he was on the streets and on Saturday he made no complaint until afternoon when he was suddenly afflicted with an attack of neuralgia of the heart which rapidly grew worse and it was then thought by the attending physicians that he could not survive until morning, but the patient rallied and on Sunday hopes were entertained for his recovery. As the sun began to near the western horizon, however, he again became worse and lingered until midnight when he passed away, surrounded by his family, except the youngest daughter, Trudie LYON, who was in Boston.

David Williams LYON was born in Lycoming county, Pennsylvania, October 10, 1817 and had therefore, at the time of his death passed his three score and ten 4 months and 2 days.

After arriving at the age of maturity, deceased came west to Bellevountain, Ohio, and worked at tailoring, where he was united in marriage with Miss Sarah McCracken in 1843, who with three of their four children viz: Mrs. Milo R. SMITH, Mrs. Marion C. REITER and Miss Trudie LYON, survive.

Some time during the year 1854 Mr. and Mrs. LYON settled in Rochester where Mr. Lyon engaged in mercantile pursuits and during the war made considerable money, which, by judicious investments he has since increased until at the time of his death, he leaves an estate estimated at $50,000 or more.

The name D. W. Lyon, is as familiar in many homes in Fulton county as Rochester, and his long residence here and candid, upright bearing has builded for him a fame more to be admired than the brightest ever achieved on the field of battle, and could our rising generation be led to emulate his character, arbitrators, juries and courts of law would be as useless in the future as the court practices of ancient times are in the present age. If the writer remembers correctly Mr. Lyon recently stated in his presence that in all his dealings and business career he never engaged in a suit at law.

He was always cheerful and apparently happy and while he was careful in his business transactions, it was always said of him that he was one of the few men who concerned himself but little about the affairs of others, and he died as he had lived, at peace with all men.

The funeral services will be conducted at the family residence this afternoon at three o'clock, conducted by Rev. T. G. SMITH, of the Presbyterian church after which Rochester Lodge F. and A. M. will take charge of the remains and conduct them to Odd Fellows cemetery where interment will be made.

Miss Trudie LYON was in Boston at the New England Conservatory of music when her father died, and the message announcing his sudden death was the first intimation she had of his illness. She immediately left to mingle her sorrow with the grief stricken family at home and arrived in this city this morning.

DIED - Louise CRAVEN [JOHNSON] was born in Pennsylvania in the year 1835 and at the age of 17 was united in marriage with Mr. B. O. JOHNSON in Cass county, to whom was born one daughter, Mrs. Dosia JESSEN, now a widow, who with the husband and father, are left to mourn the loss of a christian wife and mother.

At an early age, the deceased united with the Baptist church, and has ever been a faithful and consistent follower of Christ.

The funeral will be preached Thursday morning at ten o'clock at the Baptist church.

ROCHESTER

A Review of Our Town and its Business People

FEDER & SILBERBERG

In considering the various enterprises of Rochester, the clothing trade assumes an importance with reference to the wealth and general prosperity that commands it to the most careful attention of any work bearing upon the resources of the city, and in this connection the establishment of Messrs. FEDER & SILBERBERG, both from the extent of its business and the character of its operation, should receive fitting consideration.

This is one of the largest best and most thoroughly equipped and reliable clothing houses in this part of the state, and it enjoys a correspondingly high reputation. Like many of our most successful mercantile institutions, that of Messrs. Feder & Silberberg was begun in a very limited way. Mr. [Louis] FEDER established the business in the year 1865 being located on west side of public square. The goods carried consisted of a general line, and $500 would cover their total valuation. Mr. Feder conducted the business until 1866 and then admitting Mr. [Max] SILBERBERG as partner, changing the firm's name to that of Feder & Silberberg.

They continued their business at their old location until 1875, in the meantime having dropped all lines, except clothing and furnishing goods, when they realized their quarters were altogether too small for the immense proportions their business had assumed. They then built the magnificent building on the north side of public square completing the same in 1876 dedicating the building to the year "Centennial." The building is 43x95 feet, two stories high, the entire lower floor being utilized as salesroom, while the largest part of the upper floor is devoted to Merchant tailoring. This is without question the finest salesroom in Northern Indiana, being especially adapted to the clothing department, enabling them to display goods in the best possible manner. This store has two front entrances and the front contains over 400 square feet of heavy plate glass. In fact everything relating to this establishment has a metropolitan appearance.

In 1881 Messrs. Feder & Silberberg established a wholesale and manufacturing house in Cincinnati, Ohio, which is one of the largest of a similar kind in the city. They manufacture all clothing sold by them which enables them to sell the same grade of goods much cheaper than houses which do not possess these advantages.

After establishing their wholesale house in Cincinnati, it became necessary to procure a manager for their extensive house in our city, and then they selected Mr. Lou WOHLGEMUTH for the position (we but voice the saying of all knowing him) they could not have made a better selection. Mr. Wohlgemuth has demonstrated that he knows how to conduct an establishment of this kind. He is well known to our citizens as a gentleman of excellent business qualifications, and unquestionable reliability in all matters pertaining to his social walks of life as well as in his business relations. He has hosts of friends in this locality, and has succeeded by his square dealing and honorable treatment of customers in building up a very large and pleasant patronage.

Truly this is a mammoth store -- not only in room occupied, but in extent and assortment of goods. The stock displayed is not only the largest in Rochester, but is one of the largest in this part of the state, in fact you seldom see as extensive an exhibit of goods in cities of twenty or thirty thousand inhabitants. The stock is complete, fresh and fashionable, and embraces everything known to the trade. Their room will be found completely filled with a large assortment of all kinds of clothing for men, boys and children, of all colors, styles and prices. The childrens department is quite a feature, in short they can fit any person from child three years old to the largest and most portly man. The list of gents furnishing goods embraces everything in the line from the finest imported goods to the more cheaper grades. They show an assortment not usually found in places the size of Rochester, goods that can be relied upon as being strictly first class in every respect. The facilities enjoyed by this house for obtaining furnishing goods cannot be equaled by any house in the state, receiving the same from Messrs. Feder & Silberberg who conduct three large wholesale houses located in Chicago, New York and Cincinnati. They carry a very large line of hats and caps, displaying all of the latest styles and most popular makes. They make a specialty of merchant tailoring and in this line of trade have a wide reputation.

Mr. Wohlgemuth has recently employed a cutter from Cincinnati, Ohio. This gentleman has a reputation that is not excelled by any cutter in the state. This firm carries a splendid stock of piece goods, including the latest styles of everything pertaining to the business.

Those who deal with this house may confidently depend upon receiving choice fabrics, elegant styles, perfect fits and superior finish, while the prices are invariably governed by a sense of moderation for which this house has a thoroughly established reputation.

BRACKETT & BARRETT Wholesale and Retail Lumber Dealers

In reviewing, even in a passably cursory manner, some of the more important of our city's interests, we cannot but feel impressed that the lumber interests of Rochester, founded as they are with advantage of location, both as to resources and supply, must assume at a near day an importance at the present but little understood by our citizens.

There is no place in this part of the State presenting greater advantages to the dealer in lumber than does Rochester.

Our near proximity to the great lumber districts, and having direct connection with the same gives us great advantages over many places. For a number of years we have been blessed with good facilities for obtaining lumber, but the "Acme" of perfection in this business was reached in 1882, when the gentlemen whose names head this article became sole owners of the extensive lumber yards under consideration. These are the oldest yards in Fulton county, being established by E. D. COWGILL in the year 1857. Mr. Cowgill successfully conducted the business until 1878, then taking in as partners Messrs. Brackett & Barrett (who at the time were in the employ of Mr. Cowgill) changing the firm name to E. E. COWGILL & CO., which name the firm continued under until the death of Mr. Cowgill, which occurred August 1, 1882.

Messrs. Brackett & Barrett then purchasing the interest held by Mr. Cowgill, again changing the firm name to that indicated in the caption of this article. This is one of the largest and most important lumber firms in this section of the country, and their trade the most extensive. It is an establishment which reflects great credit upon our city, one of which our people are justly proud, and we take great pleasure in presenting to our readers a few facts regarding the same.

The individual members of the firm are L[yman] M. BRACKETT and A[bner] J. BARRETT. They are both young men and devote their united energies to their business with telling effect. Mr. Brackett gives his entire attention to the inside and office work, seeing that all orders are correctly and quickly filled, while Mr. Barrett directs his energies to the outside work, buying, making contracts, &c. &c.

Besides their extensive lumber int erests in our city, they have yards located at Marion, Mentone, Deedsville, Etna Green, Argos, Leiters Ford and Marshland, Indiana. The fact of these gentlemen being such large dealers and manufacturing a large percentage of their lumber from their own lumber lands, gives the establishment under consideration a great advantage over the ordinary dealer. Mr. Barrett is constantly in the lumber markets, buying for their yards, and he is able to pick up many bargains not accessible to the majority of country dealers, who depend upon an occasional trip to the markets and visits from traveling salesmen. The purchase of most of the stock is made direct from the manufacturers, in large lots, and is not allowed to pass through the hands of the middle man. This mode of procedure enables them to secure these advantages, while at the same time they are able to pick out such as their trade demands, not being obliged to take an entire miscellaneous lot in order to secure what they need for their patrons here. Another great point is, that their location with independent side track, enables them to handle stock at a minimum cost. And as they at all times carry the largest stock of hard and white wood lumber, lath, shingles, hard and soft coal, in this section of the country, customers can rest assured of getting just what they want, and that too, at the lowest prices. These facts should be considered by our people when wanting anything in their line.

This establishment is situated near the Lake Erie & Western railroad tracks. They occupy over half a block of ground, and have at present employed 62 teams hauling lumber and logs. This establishment is a most desirable one with which to establish business relations. The firm of Brackett & Barrett stands deservedly high in this community, and as they have a well established reputation for commercial honor their representations can always be relied upon with the strictest confidence.

THE CROWN MILLS Ditmire & Edwards, Prop'rs.

We Americans, as a people, are proud of our country, proud of our commerce, but prouder still of our manufacturers - for have we not risen above our neighbors in the production of almost everything?

Much that we were dependent upon the old world for a few years ago we now manufacture here, and to such perfection have we brought the manufacture of certain articles, that we can safely enter our goods side by side with those of the most celebrated manufactures of Europe. In many lines of goods the American productions are placed in connection with the best foreign makes, have successfully won the prize. And so it is with the manufacture of flour: America stands at the head, successfully outdoing all competitors.

Rochester has long felt the need of a thoroughly first-class, modernly equipped flouring mill, a mill that is capable of successfully competing with our surrounding cities in the manufacture of "breadstuff." With this end in view the gentlemen whose names appear at the caption of this article, have already contracted, and have in the course of erection "what is to be" one of the most complete flouring mills in the State of Indiana. Messrs. DITMIRE & EDWARDS will receive some little aid from our citizens in erecting these mills, but the principle part of the expense will be borne by themselves.

The CROWN MILLS will be located near the Lake Erie and Western Ry depot, and a side track will be put in for the convenience of loading cars with its products. The mill proper will be a frame three story and basement building 35x40 feet, the engine house will be built of brick and the entire structure will be covered with an iron roof. The Crown Mills will be equipped with all the new and improved machinery known to the trade from the rollers down to the dust collectors. The system to be used in this mill is known as the Hungarian system, and is manufactured by The Nordyke and Marmon Co., Indianapolis, Indiana. These are the best rolls made; they possess all the latest improvements and are automatic in their working, and are acknowledged as the most perfect at the present day. This mill will be the only mill in this city using this system, and the flour produced will stand without a successful rival. The capacity of the Crown Mills will be 60 barrels every 24 hours, and it will be the aim of its proprietors to start the mill Monday mornings at 6 o'clock and not stop until 7 o'clock the following Saturday night.

The power will be furnished by a fine Automatic Atlas Engine which will be in charge of Emanuel DITMIRE, a thorough engineer, thereby insuring a uniform speed which is very essential in the manufacture of flour.

The mills will be under the supervision of Mr. J. S. CHAPIN, as head miller being a practical miller of large experience whose thorough knowledge of the business will add largely to their popularity.

Messrs. Ditmire & Edwards will manufacture several grades of flour and will guarantee every pound. They will also turn out large lots of graham flour, fine and coarse corn meal, shorts, bran, chopped feed, &c. They will make a specialty of exchange with farmers, and will give as many pounds of flour in exchange for each bushel of wheat as any mill in the county. Another feature we wish to make the farmers acquainted with in regard to this mill is all wheat stored at their mill for grist purposes will be insured against fire, "gratis" to the farmer, which is an item worth looking after.

The proprietors, Mr. B. F. DITMIRE and J. D. EDWARDS are both young and vigorous men, they are endowed with lots of energy, goaheaditiveness, and conservation. They are both well and favorably known, having been raised in Fulton county and need no further comments at our hands.

The weather proving favorable Messrs. Ditmire & Edwards will have their mills ready to start by the first of June, 1888. Rochester looks upon this enterprise as a valuable acquisition to her manufacturing interests and wishes its proprietors the success that they so richly deserve.

CHA'S. LANGSDORFF

Among the oldest institutions of Rochester we have to mention in our editorial review, are some which for extent, and high standing would do credit to a much larger city than this. One we would specially mention is the meat market of Cha's. LANGSDORFF, founded by the present proprietor in the year 1867, since which time it has always held a leading position.

Gradually from a small beginning it has won its way in popularity and increase of trade until today an immense local trade is transacted and includes among its customers a large list of the best families in the city.

This is an evidence in itself of the superior qualities of the meats Mr. Langsdorff kills, but an inspection of the same hanging in his market or refrigerator is more convincing and yet the best proof of its quality is in the eating of the same. This market furnishes the CENTRAL HOUSE with its meats and it is remarked by its patrons that its meats are not excelled by metropolitan hotels. It has been the invariable rule of Mr. Langsdorff to kill only the best quality of stock, and he has been liberal in paying for the same, being determined that nothing shall find its way to or from his market unless of such a quality as to add to rather than detract from the hard earned and valuable reputation this market enjoys.

While this gentleman has received a liberal share of the patronage of our citizens and been successful, yet, he has always been liberal in his actions, remembering that no one can live alone, hence he has always contributed his full quota towards the improvements and enterprise of this city. This as well as rigid integrity of his dealings, full weights, fine quality and the tempting manner in which his meats are arranged for public review has added largely to his success.

The premises consist of a large and commodious room with an engine and sausage house in the rear. The room is fitted up and arranged especially for the business, and everything has a very bright and clean appearance. The front room is the sales room and office, which is supplied with improved racks, scales and one of the best and most improved refrigerators for keeping fresh meats. In the rear of this is the work room where all the rough work is done, and still back of this is the sausage department and packing rooms, the former being supplied with all the most approved machinery for manufacturing all kinds of sausage, and a steam engine for the motive power. Mr. Langsdorff has the best arranged slaughter house in the state, which with his commodious ice houses are located just north of the C. & A. Depot, also a large fish pond bountifully stocked with German Carp, some of which will be found for sale at his market the ensuing season. Persons from all over the country who have visited these premises pronounce them to be among the best and most systematically arranged they ever saw.

Mr. Langsdorff always keeps on hand a large stock of fresh salted, dried and smoked meats, curing the same himself, so you can always rely upon getting the best to be obtained, and the sausage and bologna of his make are the finest in this part of the state. He also keeps a good stock of pickled pigs feet, tripe, tongues, headcheese &c. Mr. Langsdorff employes none but reliable and sober men on his premises and patrons can be assured of the most gentlemanly treatment at all times. Mr. Langsdorff is honest and upright in all his dealings and we cheerfully recommend him to the people as worthy of their patronage.

The patronage of this shop is very large extending all over this section of the country. He guarantees satisfaction with all work intrusted to him, and makes his charges as low as good work and a living profit will allow. He is honest in all his dealings and never allows any dissatisfaction with anyone. All orders left at Mr. Schreyer's place of business will receive prompt attention, and all work left in his care will be attended to in a business like manner. We cheerfully recommend him to the people as worthy of their patronage and hope to see him prosper in the future as he so richly deserves.

SHANNON MACKEY
Grocery & Restaurant

The above named gentleman started in the grocery and restaurant business in this city six months ago. There are many well conducted and popular grocery houses in Rochester, but we are free to confess along with hundreds of our citizens that there is not one more popular or deserving of its growing success than that of the gentleman whose name heads this article.

The stock of goods is full at all times, and they carry only such goods as the trade demands, everything that the most advanced grocery and provision dealers keep is kept at this house, and the public can always rely upon honest weight, fresh goods, and low prices.

In the management of the Restaurant Mr. Mackey is ably assisted by his wife. This lady takes great pride in seeing that all patrons are properly waited upon, and ladies without attendants can go there with the assurance of receiving respectful attention and of being treated in a manner due to all ladies. At this restaurant can be had as good a meal as one could wish for at any reasonable hour on short notice, or board by the day or week.

Everything about this house is kept in the neatest possible manner, and the trade is supplied with the best the market affords. A specialty is made of oysters during the winter and in the summer of ice cream. They carry a fine line of confections, also tropical and domestic fruits during their season. Oysters served in any style, while in the summer a specialty is made of ice cream. Mr. Lane also handles the best brands of cigars, foreign and domestic fruits always on hand. Give him a call.

CENTRAL HOUSE
Hotel

Out in the world, jostled among strangers, the traveling man learns how to appreciate that careful attention and hospitality which characterize the natural landlord and host, calls up home impulses, sheds contempt upon the tired soul and induces rest and repose, even though he be stranger in a strange land. The traveler, after a long and tedious journey experiences sensations on arriving at a hotel where a cordial welcome is given that cannot be described. Such were the writer's feeling a few weeks since when we entered the city of Rochester.

During our stay at the CENTRAL HOUSE the genial proprietor, Mr. A[lonzo] L[eroy] RANNELLS and his amiable wife (to whose good judgment and untiring efforts to make everybody comfortable, the proprietor can attribute largely his success) did all in their power to make us contented and comfortable, and admirably succeeded in doing so.

Ever since coming into the hands of the present proprietor, the Central House has been unanimously regarded not only as a most pleasant and convenient resort for the traveling public, but as one of the most home-like and comfortable hotels in the state, where all are entertained in a pleasant manner and where ladies, traveling alone, can receive the courtesy and attention their position demands. Ladies and gentlemen visiting Rochester either on business or for pleasure will find at this hotel the most polite attendants and a table that is surpassed by no house in the country, being supplied with the choicest viands the market affords and what is equally important, has a corps of the most experienced cooks, as well as polite and attentive waiters.

The proprietor is contemplating building a new brick hotel that he may give his many patrons the comforts of modern improvements, as well as genial and hospitable treatment. Lon, as the proprietor is familiarly called, is one of the few who know how to run a hotel, and when one stops at the Central House there is no doubt but that he will make it his headquarters when visiting the city again.

S. A. BARKDOLL Planing Mill

In publishing a detailed exhibit of the industries of Rochester it is essential that we make mention of this very important branch of her business. This well and favorably known planing mill has been an important factor in the manufacture of lumber ever since its establishment in our city.

N. CRAVEN
Wagons, Carriages & Sleighs

The subject of this sketch, [Noah CRAVEN], is well and favorably known to the readers of the Sentinel, having occupied his present place of business for the past eight years.

Mr. Craven is one of the oldest manufacturers of vehicles in Fulton county, having been in the business for the past thirty years, and today, the best evidence he can give that his work has been satisfactory, is that persons who began as his customers thirty years ago are his customers today, and they are so well pleased with his work that they never go to other factories for anything in his line. This confidence and continual patronage can be accounted for in a few words: good work, honest construction of the same, the best of all kinds of material, fine and artistic finish, and the making of his work good in every transaction.

It is a well known fact that wagons, carriages, sleighs &c that are made from carefully selected stock and put together by competent workmen, are far superior to work made by machinery and put together by boys. Mr. Craven allows nothing but the best of material to be used in the construction of his work, and every piece of wood, iron, or steel is carefully inspected before being placed in the vehicle.

He does all kinds of repairing, repainting, trimming, and all kinds of blacksmithing &c &c., and right here Mr. Craven wishes to say to the readers of the Sentinel: "When wanting a good first class hand made buggy, carriage or spring wagon, come to my factory, I will sell it to you from five to ten dollars cheaper than you can buy the same grade of work for in any place in the State. I mean business, and will demonstrate it to anyone who will call." His charges are always low as the lowest. Mr. Craven owns the buildings he occupies and besides being one of the best mechanics, is counted among our most respected citizens.

J. S. CRIM

His sales rooms and store rooms occupy about 7,000 square feet of flooring.

FRAIN & HOFFMAN Rochester Marble Works

In connection with the trade in marble and granite tombstones and monuments, the house of the above named gentlemen must be mentioned as the most prominent and reliable in this section of the country.

The Rochester marble works was established in 1875 by Mr. FRAIN, who conducted the business alone until 1880, then taking as partner Mr. HOFFMAN, changing the firm name to that of FRAIN & HOFFMAN. These gentlemen keep constantly on hand a complete and well selected stock of monuments and tombstones and no house in northern Indiana can offer better inducements to trade and general public. Being fine, practical workmen, and close observers, Messrs. Frain & Hoffman have always kept pace with the times, and their work is equal to any produced in the county. The public is invited to call and judge for themselves. This house is conducted upon business principles, and the lowest possible prices are always charged, people need not go to other cities for fine work while equally as good can be obtained at home. Our home people can do as artistic work as foreigners, and these gentlemen are willing to compare their work to any brought to Rochester.

Besides understanding thoroughly the monumental business, Messrs. Frain & Hoffman are good sculptors, showing some very fine specimens of their handwork in this art. They are sole agents for the celebrated White Bronze work. This is something new in the line and should be seen to be appreciated. They also handle the famous Georgia Marble which stands today without a successful rival.

Since going into business together, these gentlemen have met with the best of success, and have established a trade which extends all over the surrounding section of the country. This is not to be wondered at however, when we remember that they turn out nothing but first class work, and at prices that are hard to duplicate. Messrs. Frain & Hoffman's motto is "fair dealing and value for value" and as their representations can always be relied upon we can see no reasons why they should not prosper in the future. They have by their honest policies gained the respect of the general public, and we cheerfully commend their house to the people as the most reliable in this section. Their place of business is on Main street opposite Commercial Block.

He is an old physician having graduated from the Weston Reserve Medical College of Cleveland, Ohio, in 1863. We speak without fear of contradiction when we say: That the old time honored drug house of Dr. Plank could not have fallen into hands that were better calculated to maintain its commercial honor than the gentlemen of whom we have made mention.

These paints have an enviable reputation, repeated tests have proven them to be among the best on the market.

In compounding prescriptions this house uses the utmost caution and anyone taking a prescription to the CENTRAL DRUG STORE to be filled can rely upon getting just what he calls for. They carry a fine line of tobaccos and cigars, the best brands always being kept in stock. In fact everything to be found in a first class drug store. We ask our readers when visiting Rochester to give this house a call, you will be waited upon in the most genteel manner and receive value for value.

There is no branch of business which requires a greater degree of enterprise than the boot and shoe trade and the present proprietors of this established house are among the few dealers entitled to attention in this respect, in these days of shoddy imitations of nearly every article manufactured, when the ambition of a certain class of dealers to sell the cheapest instead of the best at the lowest possible prices.

P. M. SHORE
Drugs & Groceries

Of the large number of houses in the same line of trade, there are usually a few who give the best inducements to be honestly obtained. Among the houses of honor in Rochester, which deserve special notice in this issue of the Sentinel, we take pleasure in mentioning that of Mr. P. M. SHORE, dealer in drugs and groceries. This gentleman is well and favorably known to our people, having been in business in our city for the past fifteen years.

He has applied himself strictly to his business, and his career in the commercial world has given him an experience, the advantages of which are daily observed in the management of his trade, which is steadily increasing all the time.

In the drug department, the stock of goods is most complete in every line; it comprises a full line of drugs, and druggists sundries, paints, oils, &c. This gentleman has the sole agency for the celebrated Carry Ogden and Parker Red Cross brand mixed paints, fully demonstrated to be the best in the market.

In the prescription department, his trade is very large, as Mr. Shore gives his personal attention to this branch of the business, and it is not known that this place ever made a single mistake in compounding a prescription. This fact speaks volumes of praise as to the manner of conducting the business, and is the best recommendation that the firm can offer for their careful procedure.

The grocery department is also complete in every particular. The stock consists of all kinds of staple and fancy groceries, with fruits and vegetables in their seasons.

In the line of cigars and tobaccos, his line is especially large; all of the best brands both foreign and domestic always on sale.

The country wide trade will find this store a pleasant place to make their headquarters when visiting the city, and the highest market price will always be paid for country produce. This gentleman's place of business is in the center of the Commercial Block north end Main street.

M. C. REITER
Dry Goods & Groceries

We have had occasion to notice the highly prominent establishments in various branches of trade in our city, and we now desire to call the attention of our readers to one of the largest, best stocked, most handeomely equipped, dry goods, notion, fancy goods, boot and shoe, grocery and provision houses in this section of the country. Mr. M. C. REITER established this popular house in Rochester about two years ago, having the entire and complete management of the same, and from the first has shown an aptitude for the business that few men can lay claim to.

He is a natural business man, and goes at everything systematically. Mr. Reiter has had eighteen years experience selling goods, being engaged in some of the best houses in Chicago, St. Louis and Indianapolis. His extended experience gives him many advantages over the ordinary dealer, knowing how, where and when to make his purchases, and always giving his customers the benefits of their advantages.

In the dry goods line the stock is full and complete the selections of dress goods and trimmings being especially fine, while the notion and hosiery departments are full to overflowing, and they show some exceedingly handsome novelties in these goods.

The boot and shoe department is made a special feature. Mr. Reiter being sole agent for several of the most popular and celebrated makes, among which we will mention, G. M. Gokey & Sons goods, Jamestown, N.Y., E. P. Reed & Co., of Rochester, N.Y., H. J. Holbrock & Co., Utica, N.Y., Jack Richardson & Co., Elmira, N.Y. The reputation of the goods manufactured by these firms are so well and favorably known, that they do not need special mention at our hands; and persons wishing anything in this line will find it to their advantage to examine this stock before purchasing elsewhere.

In groceries the stock is full at all times, only such goods being carried as the trade demands. It consists of all kinds of staple and fancy groceries, canned and bottled goods, with fruits and vegetables in their season. Also a full line of crockery and queensware. The highest price will at all times be paid for country produce.

Mr. Reiter never advertises to do anything he is not prepared to fulfill to the very letter. He has always made a point of keeping in stock the best goods the market affords, and sells everything in his line at the lowest possible prices, as low as they can be bought for at any house in the country. He began with the determination of keeping nothing but the best goods, and was not long in convincing people that such was the case and during the time his house has been in existence, he has fully maintained the high reputation he succeeded in establishing at the outset.

This house is situated in Commercial Block, north end Main street, and we cordially commend it to the trade and public generally. Although a comparatively young man, Mr. Reiter has placed his house among the foremost ranks of our mercantile institutions.

J. W. DELP Meat Market

There is no business that requires more careful looking after, for its successful prosecution, than that of dealer in fresh meats. Men in this business who look after their affairs, buy nothing but the best of stock, and give good weights, are a blessing to the community. Such a firm we have in this city. We refer to the above named gentleman, [J. W. DELP].

His shop is a model of neatness, and in order, everything is scrupulously neat and clean, and everything about his establishment has an air of cleanliness. The refrigerator is one of the best makes, keeping meats in splendid shape no matter what the condition of the weather may be.

So the steaks and roasts, bought at his shhop are always tender and juicy, and the sausage and bologna of his make are as fine as can be obtained in the city. Mr. Delp carries a good stock of dried and salt meats, curing the same himself, so you can always rely on getting the best that can be obtained. In fact, this gentleman keeps a market that does credit to the town.

Mr. Delp makes a point of buying fat stock of all kinds, and farmers having the same to sell will advance their own interest by calling on this gentleman before selling elsewhere.

Mr. Delp was born and raised in this county, and is too well and favorably known to need further comment at our hands, we heartily commend him to the public, knowing as we do, that persons dealing with him will get the best the market affords and receive full value for their money.

MILLER & KEITH Drug Store

The trade in drugs, from the nature of the articles delt in, is a business the successful prosecution of which requires special training and of long and most vivid experience. As the whole world furnishes the materials, so must the knowledge of the conditions of the supply and demand be equally extensive.

As to the extent of the business we can gain some idea by reflecting upon the countless variety of drugs and patent medicines found in the ordinary drug store. There is no ill to "which flesh is heir" for which there is not some specific remedy, and every year adds to the number of the various cures. There are several houses engaged in the drug trade in this city, and prominent among them is the establishment of MILLER & KEITH.

This popular house was established in the year 1881 by Mr. G. I. MILLER who conducted the business alone for one year, then selling one-half interest to Mr. G. P. KEITH, changing the firm name to Miller & Keith. Their house is located in Citizens Block, south side of public square. Messrs. Miller & Keith carry a large and most complete stock of drugs, chemicals, patent compounds, paints, painters supplies, oils, varnishes &c. They also carry the largest line of mixed paints to be found in the city, their specialty in this line being the "Old Reliable" pioneer brand, manufactured at Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, also the Red Seal lead, manufactured at St. Louis, Missouri. These goods have a reputation that places them as "Peers" with all competitors.

At this house a fine line of perfumes, toilet articles, artists materials, school books and supplies, hanging lamps, fine pocket cutlery, scissors, razors, in fact everything to be found in a first class drug and notion house can be had at Messrs. Miller & Keith's. The patronage of this house has enjoyed a steady and healthy increase every year since it was founded, and has continued to grow in public favor. They use the utmost caution in compounding drugs and enjoy the fullest confidence of the people generally.

J. W. HILL
Bus Line Operator

A well conducted bus line is always worthy of one's patronage. If we are going away and love to be dependent on the bus man to wake and take us to the train, there is a great deal of satisfaction in knowing that we will be called for in time, our luggage properly looked after, and that done in an agreeable and gentlemanly manner. Mr. [J. W.] HILL possesses all these requirements. And has never been known to miss a train, or get a person left during the time he has been in business. His headquarters are at the Central House and all orders left there will receive prompt and courteous attention.

C. A. BROUILLETTE
Cigar Manufacturer

In establishing the general aggregate of the commercial and manufacturing importance of Rochester, the tobacco trade in its various branches must not be overlooked, as it is a factor of no insignificant proportions in the many and varied enterprises which influence the prosperity and advancement in our city.

In the cigar manufacturing business, the annual production is no small item, and we deem a sketch of the above named gentleman as worthy of space in our columns. Mr. [C. A.] BROUILLETTE has been in the cigar business in our city for the past three and one-half years, and has built up a very fine trade. He manufactures the following leading brands: The Beauty, Mon Ami, Sweet Lips, &c. All of these brands have a wide reputation, in fact the cigars of Mr. Brouillette's manufacture have such a hold upon the smokers, that they ask for them and will have no others. They are acknowledged to be the best cigars brought to this market, and have become so popular that he has ready sale for all he can produce. He also manufactures the celebrated Clippings smoking tobacco, and has a large local trade on the same.

Mr. Brouillette employs none but first class workmen, and uses only the best leaf for both fillers and wrappers. This being the case, it may readily be inferred that the products of his factory are equal to, if not superior to most others in the State. In fact we doubt if there are many factories, outside of the large metropolitan cities, that can make as good a showing as can our Brouillette. His place of business is four doors north of Masonic building.

He is a young man full of push and enterprise and we are glad to know that the people appreciate his efforts to please them, and that he is enjoying a large and rapidly increasing trade.

SHORE BROS. Dry Goods and Groceries

In a work embracing the various industries of the city, its business facilities and prominent features for the general information of the public, at home and abroad, it is proper that representative houses in their respective lines, with their facilities for transacting business, should be clearly set forth. The stock of goods now under consideration, [SHORE BROS.], embraces two distinct lines, namely: dry goods and groceries, and is one of the best arranged houses in this section of the country.

The room is large and commodious, and is well stocked with a large and complete assortment of goods.

In the dry goods department, they have given special attention to dress goods, and in this line carry one of the most complete assortments in the vicinity. They are sole agents for the deservedly popular Broad Head goods. Their selections in silks and dress trimmings are especially fine, and they can furnish goods to suit any condition of the purse. They carry an unusually large selection of laces, embroideries and kindred goods and make a special feature of the notion department which is full to overflowing.

In the hosiery department may be found all the latest and nobbiest styles in any color to suit. The variety is large and must be seen to be appreciated.

The line of goods this firm keeps in stock in the cloak department, is always of the newest designs, never carrying any over, but disposing of them, often at a sacrifice, so that each season the stock will be fresh and of the latest styles.

In the grocery department their stock embraces everything that comes under that head. These gentlemen have a practical knowledge of the business in all its details and started in with the determination from the first to do a full and good share of the grocery trade of the city and surrounding section, by the simple merits of their goods, low prices and thorough attention to business. The stock of canned and bottled goods is especially large, and there is a great variety from which to make your selections.

They also keep on hand a large line of crockery, glass ware, queensware &c. Country produce is bought in large quantities, and they always pay the highest market price for the same.

We would advise those needing anything in their line to give these gentlemen a call and you will be treated in a pleasant and agreeable manner, and receive full value for every dollar invested.

L. E. RANNELLS
Central Book Store

Of the several firms or individuals in this city engaged in the book and stationery business, it may be safely asserted that none are better stocked, or conducted with a more thorough knowledge of the requirements of the trade than the establishment named above.

Mr. L. E. RANNELLS, who is familiarly known as Curg [RANNELLS], is right in the prime of business usefulness, and we predict for him a prosperous future knowing as we do that he conducts the affairs of his house on the most business like principles.

The stock of goods carried by the CENTRAL BOOK STORE is the most complete and best selected in the City, always embracing everything new, rare, rich and costly, and the store is the best in its line in this section carrying the most comprehensive list of goods. Mr. Rannells exhibits a large and varied assortment of all kinds of miscellaneous books, embracing all the latest writings of the most popular authors of the day, and all of the standard poetical works.

The stock of blank books is large, and as these goods are purchased direct from first hands, they are able to offer them at extremely low prices, school books and supplies are a specialty. They carry an elegant selection of photograph and autograph albums, scrap pocket books, fancy goods, notions, toys of every description. Particular attention is paid to artists materials of all kinds, the best the market affords, in which line they offer marked inducements.

The news department is supplied with all of the standard, leading popular dailies, weeklies and monthly publications. They take subscriptions for everything in this line, delivering to any part of the city without extra charge. Mr. Rannells also keeps a full stock of wall paper and ceiling decorations. In this line will be found a full assortment of the latest styles and grades at all times and at the lowest possible prices.

This gentleman is enjoying a large and satisfactory patronage, and by his fair treatment of all customers has established a high reputation for commercial honor.

JOSEPH LAUER
Clothing Store

A prominent philosopher has said that there is nothing that succeeds like success, and most certainly there is no better criterion by which we can estimate merit. Mr. [Joseph] LAUER has been identified in the clothing business in our city since the year 1867, and his long experience is a sure guarantee of the quality of goods handled by him.

He is a splendid judge of the goods he handles, and does not in the sale of goods say: "I bought them for all wool and they ought to be so" but sells them for what they are. He knows what he handles and always guarantees everything sold by him to be just as represented. He studies to please and always makes friends with his customers. Mr. Lauer is a far-seeing gentleman, and by carefully watching the markets, is enabled to buy judiciously and make choice selections, thus offering customers certain advantages not easily duplicated in the city.

The successful prosecution of any business enterprise requires ability and intelligence, combined with natural genius and taste for business pursuits. The result is inevitable as it has been proved in the case of this gentleman. The knowledge of how, when and where to buy goods is an important element in any business. Mr. Lauer possesses this knowledge, enabling him to give his customers the full benefit of his large experience, and to furnish them goods at prices as low as the lowest.

He has made the wants of his many customers a special study and evinces a studied avoidance of all goods not desirable for his trade. The stock of clothing carried by this house is of the finest quality. He began with the determination of keeping nothing but the best of goods from the best known manufacturers, and he was not long in convincing the people that such was the case, and during his business career has fully maintained that reputation.

The merchant tailoring department is under the supervision of Mr. H. HARTUNG, a gentleman whose reputation as a cutter is second to none in the State. They show some very handsome suitings in this department, of both foreign and American manufacture and at prices that cannot help but please.

In furnishing goods this house displays one of the finest lines to be seen in the city, a rich and varied display being made of fine neck wear, toilet jewelry, dress and driving gloves, fine underwear, shirts, collars and cuffs, showing all the most standard and celebrated makes.

The house of Mr. Lauer is one of the most popular of our city, his representations can always be relied upon, and his word is never questioned. His place of business is south corner of Masonic building.

MITCHELL & LONG Buggies, Carriages & Wagons

Of all the houses engaged in the carriage business in our city, we say with confidence that none occupy a position more entitled to notice at our hands than that owned and operated by Messrs. MITCHELL & LONG.

These gentlemen have been engaged in their present business for the past two years, and for the season of 1888 they display at their salesroom one of the largest and most complete stocks of buggies, carriages and spring wagons, to be found in the city. Messrs. Mitchell & Long were raised in Fulton county and for years have made the demand of the people a careful study. They evince a studied avoidance of all goods not desirable for their trade and will carry none that they cannot recommend under all circumstances, and today the vehicles handled by these gentlemen stand as the best proportioned, best ironed, best painted, lightest running and most durable rigs made.

In machine made work Messrs. Mitchell & Long make a "Leader" of the Schofield Buggy Co's. work manufactured at Ovid, Michigan. The buggies manufactured by this firm are among the very best to be found in the markets today, in fact they have no superiors and few equals, none but the best material is used in their construction, and they possess all of the latest improvements in design and finish. Purchasers will find it to their interest to bear in mind when wanting a buggy that Messrs. Mitchell & Long will sell them the Schofield buggy for the same price they will have to pay for inferior makes at other houses.

This firm makes a specialty of hand made work, manufactured at Noblesville, Indiana by Hare & Son. They have had a large sale on these goods and have never had a single complaint. This can be easily accounted for when we say Messrs. Hare & Son uses nothing but the best second growing hickory, the best trimming, upholstering, paints, oils and varnishes, and employs none but skilled workmen in the manufacture of their vehicles.

Besides the celebrated makes mentioned Messrs. Mitchell & Long handle a large line of buggies, carriages, phaetons, road carts and spring wagons, from various manufacturers. They also carry a large line of harness, robes and whips, collars, brushes &c, and will not be undersold.

One can gain an idea of the popularity of the goods handled by Messrs. Mitchell & Long when we state that they sold five car loads of buggies last season, and judging from present indications will sell nearly twice that amount the coming season. It is a well known fact that these gentlemen always make their word good, never advertising to do anything that they are not prepared to back up. They are regarded as among our best and most respectable business men, and we take great pleasure in recommending them to the people. Their place of business is one door north of Gould's store.

D. S. ROSS
Foundry & Machine Shop

Among the manufacturing institutions of Rochester, there are none she takes more pride in than the foundry and machine shop owned and managed by the gentleman whose name appears at the head of this article. Mr. [D. S.] ROSS has had a life's experience in the foundry and machinist business, having worked at the trade since the year 1852 and his long experience is a sure guarantee of the kind of work turned out by him.

He has applied himself to the demands of his trade with telling effect always adopting anything new in the way of improved machinery that would in any way add to the convenience of his shop, and give his many patrons the same advantages as found only in metropolitan institutions.

Mr. Ross built what is known as the ROSS FOUNDRY & MACHINE SHOP in 1879, where he successfully carried on his business until February, 1888. The increasing demand for his work necessitating a change to more commodious quarters, he bought the entire plant including building, tools, machinery &c that was formerly known as the EXCELSIOR FOUNDRY & MACHINE SHOP.

With the improvements added by Mr. Ross, lthis is without question the best arranged, best equipped and and most complete machine shop and foundry in the state. It is located just across the L. E. & W. R.R. track opposite the depot. Mr. Ross is prepared to do any kind of machine work known to the trade on the shortest possible notice. He makes all kinds of castings both in brass and iron and is prepared to build you a new boiler and engine or rebuild your old one at the lowest possible prices. He employs none but first class workmen, guarantees every job turned out. His shops are now known as the ROSS EXCELSIOR FOUNDRY & MACHINE SHOP. We would say to all when wanting anything done in his line take your work to Mr. Ross, you will be treated in a gentlemanly manner, and your work will receive the benefits derived from modern machinery and first class workmen.

C. B. MOORE
Photographer

There is no stronger evidence of the advancement of a people in refinement and culture, or more convincing proof of hospitality than the encouragement and cultivation of the fine arts. In the rapid progress of modern research, few professions have received greater accessions of improvements than photography. In the great accumulations of styles, careful sifting and judgment have been required in order to discard the worthless and trivial and select the meritorious.

Mr. [C. B.] MOORE is an example of a painstaking, thorough artist, and a visit to his parlors will amply repay the lover of the beautiful and artistic. This gentleman has had an experience of over eight years, his location being opposite court house. Since locating in our city Mr. Moore has had to contend with a great deal of competition. Photographers have located here time and again, but when patrons compared their work to that of Mr. Moore, they have invariably stuck to the latter, and today he holds the field alone and undisputed.

The rooms he occupies are nicely fitted up, are kept in excellent order, and everything about the place denotes a thorough knowledge of the business in which he is engaged, and a high degree of intellectual culture and refinement. The operating rooms deserve special mention. It is supplied with all the improved instruments known to the profession, and the light is excellent.

Mr. Moore makes a point of always keeping up with the times. His experience is extensive, and he has profited by the knowledge gained. He examines carefully into everything new that is introduced into photography, and if it is considered practical and any improvement on what he has hitherto used, he never fails to adopt it.

Mr. Moore makes all kinds of photographs, but makes a specialty of cabinets, panel pictures and large work. He also pays special attention to retouching, and his work in all things equals that of large cities. His positions are all characterized by an ease and grace which few photographers can obtain, and we consider his greatest success lies in this.

He uses the instantaneous process, by which pictures are taken in one-hundredth the ordinary time. A photograph by this is more satisfactory than by any other, and it is the only method by which you can obtain a life-like picture of a child. He also has special equipment for outside work and has achieved a great success in that line.

We heartily commend Mr. Moore to the people, and are safe in saying that all persons entrusting their work to him will be sure to have good work done, receive full value for their money and be treated in a very pleasant and agreeable manner.

ANANIAS BAKER Lumber Dealer

Mr. [Ananias] BAKER has been connected with the lumber business in our city for the past nine years, and there is no detail in the lumber trade no matter how minute that he does not thoroughly understand. As lumber enters into almost every improvement made, it is conceded that the trade is of great importance, and fortunate is the community that has there engaged in the distribution of building material who strives to prepare and furnish it at a minimum cost, thus giving a poor man a better chance to build his little home while the rich do not object to low prices.

His facilities for supplying the trade cannot be excelled by any firm in the city, possessing all the advantages in buying that enables him to sell as cheap as the cheapest. At his yards can be found lumber of all kinds, lath, shingles &c., in any quantity from a dray to car loads. He is a staunch member of the Christian church and one of our best and most reliable citizens and business men, who has done a great deal towards advancing the interests of our city. Mr. Baker has his own efforts to thank for the high position he occupies. He had no rich legacy to fall back upon, but "by the sweat of his brow" did he succeed in accumulating enough money to enable him to embark in business for himself, and that he has been successful, one has only to visit his place of business and view its workings to be satisfied. Everything he does is done thoroughly and well and bears the impress of good judgment. This gentleman is held in high esteem by the people in this section, who, one and all unite with us in wishing him a continuation of prosperity so well merited.

E. C. STANTON
Livery Stable

In giving a review of the business of Rochester it is our endeavor to make it as complete as possible. Among the many enterprises that go to make up the commercial world the livery business forms a very important part. The establishment indicated in the caption of this article is one of the best and most complete in this part of the state, and, in fact there are few metropolitan cities than can lay claim to a finer, better equipped and better managed livery stable, than that of E. C. STANTON.

This is one of the oldest established liverys in the city and has been under the present management for the past six years. This gentleman shows an aptitude for the business that few can lay claim to. He is watchful, energetic and employs only the most trustworthy. These stables are models of convenience, there being a place for everything, and everything kept in its place.

Traveling men and strangers when needing anything in his line, will do well to call on him before going elsewhere. He does a large business which is constantly on the increase, owing to the fact that patrons dealing with him once are always sure to call again. All orders will receive prompt attention and satisfaction guaranteed.

F. W. BOSENBERG
Liquors

The importance of purity and quality in every article of drink renders the business of supplying its demand one which should be intrusted only to reliable and honorable persons. Every city has its representative establishments, and Rochester lays claim to some of the best, both in regard to fine quality and large variety of stock. One of the best known and deservedly popular liquor establishments in the city is that owned and presided over by Mr. Fred. W. BOSENBERG, which is located on the north end of Main street, under the Academy of Music.

Mr. Bosenberg was born in the old country, and came to the United States in the year 1865. He had no help in making his start in his present business but by his own industry and push, succeeded in accumulating enough money to go into business for himself in a small way, but his business has steadily increased until his establishment now stands far ahead of those usually found in a city of this size.

Gentlemen can go there with the assurance of being supplied with pure liquors, secure from the insults and crowding of loafing bullies and bummers. His sample room is well supplied with the best of all kinds of liquors, and they are served to his customers in any style to suit. Gentlemanly attendants are always on hand to cater to the patrons of the house, and nothing is left undone that will add to the comfort or pleasure of his callers.

He carries a large stock of all kinds of liquors such as whiskies, brandies, gins, rums, wines, champignons &v &c., both of foreign and domestic manufacture, also a large stock of cigars, representing the most popular imported and domestic brands.

Mr. Bosenberg is sole agent for the justly celebrated C. F. Smith's Lager Beer, manufactured at Indianapolis, Indiana. The qualities for which this beer is most distinguished are its healthfulness, purity, brilliancy of color, richness of flavor &c, the result of excellent water, intelligent care of its brewers conjoined to the use of apparatus possessing all the best modern improvements made in this country or elsewhere, and to the superior quality and quantity of the ingredients used. No claims are made for this beer that cannot be substantiated.

Mr. Bosenberg is also sole agent for DuBois' celebrated Wine of Apples, Sachs' Pruden & Co's A-T-S Agaric Bitters, Sachs-Prudens &c., which are classed among the finest tonics used in the world. So universal are the good qualities of these famous beverages, especially for purity health-giving, and health-preserving qualities which they possess, that there are few families, no matter how temperate, that have not at some time experienced their beneficial results. Mr. Bosenberg, who is sole agent for these beverages in this section has reason to congratulate himself upon the fact that he can recommend them to his patrons for their pure and healthful qualities.

Mr. Bosenberg's trade on these goods is large and constantly increasing, extending all over the surrounding section of the country. He has displayed great skill in the management of his affairs and has shown a spirit of enterprise that many an older man might do well to profit by. Since his venture in the commercial world he has made many warm friends, who will unite with us in wishing him a pleasant and profitable business in the future.

In 1882 Mr. Bosenberg spent five months in his native country, Germany, among scenes of his childhood. He is one of our best and most enterprising German citizens, also one of the best educated Germans in this section; a progressive man and very charitable citizen. He is highly esteemed by the people of Fulton county, and has established a reputation for square and honorable dealing that would reflect credit upon any person.

Deceased was born in Perry county, Ohio, and was married to her surviving husband at the age of thirty-seven years, the union being blessed with two children both of whom survive.

In her infancy Mrs. Dunbauld was baptized according to the rite of the Lutheran church and after arriving at the age of maturity she was confirmed in the faith of that church and lived a faithful christian life. She was universally esteemed as a neighbor and a kind and indulgent wife and mother. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. A. E. GIFT, of this city at the Lutheran church, east of Tiosa, after which interment was made in the cemetery near by. The sickle of death is felling our old citizens in quick succession and in a few years the last of our Pioneers will be numbered with the dead.

The Rochester Sentinel - 1888

DIED - The odd facial expression and peculiar gait of John ANGERMAN combined to make him an individual who, when once seen, was never forgotten, and these features together with his reputation of living almost a hermit's life, right in the heart of Rochester, gave him a notoriety that made him familiar to many citizens of Fulton county.

The report, on last Wednesday morning, that Angerman was dead, attracted many of our people to the vicinity of his residence, which was over Johnny WALLACE's saloon where his death was under general discussion as he had been found dead on the sidewalk about midnight by Recorder WILSON and J. W. HILL, the busman. The doors of his room were locked and the keys inside, as were also his clothes, he having no apparel on when found except his night clothes. These facts, together with the discovery of a bruise upon the back of his head, pointed certainly to the theory that he had at some time in the night, raised the front window and fallen to the hard sidewalk below with fatal results.

Coroner LINE, assisted by Drs. GOULD, made an examination of the dead body, and, while it was ascertained that a bottle, labeled "Laudanum," and a spoon lay beside him when found, there were no signs of death from poisoning, and the verdict reached was in accordance with the above mentioned theory of falling from the window, a distance of about ten or twenty feet. The constant use of intoxicating liquors had reduced him to a mental and physical wreck and several months ago his wife and daughter left him and went to live with relatives at Plymouth, where Mrs. Angerman soon after died.

Several relatives came in answer to telegrams informing them of Mr. Angerman's death and by their direction the remains were placed in a neat casket and on Thursday shipped to Plymouth, where interment was made.

Deceased was an eccentric and decidedly queer, though harmless, old man, who gained his living from the rental of the two adjoining business rooms, over one of which he lived. Whatever were his joys and sorrows the world will never know, and while it seems appropriate in this sad case of a misspent life to exclaim with Lord Lytton "Twere better had he never been born," yet the destinies of men are not ours to shape for [here follows a poem].

The will of the late Jno. F. ANGERMAN was probated yesterday and names Fred HILL, as executor thereof. The deceased bequeaths to each of his four daughters and his grandson, Fred Hill, each one-fifth of the residue of his estate after all debts and funeral expenses are paid.

DIED - The Sentinel failed to announce the death of Miss Sarah WILDERMOUTH last week which occurred at the family residence in Liberty township March 1st. Deceased was an estimable young christian lady, and her many friends mourn her taking off so early in life.

DIED - Joseph GREEN, one of the oldest citizens of the county, died at his home six miles southwest of town last Wednesday, aged nearly 78 years and was buried at Salem church yard on Thursday. Deceased was well known to many of our older citizens and was the father of Alex and Will GREEN of that neighborhood.

BIOG - Mr. Tom SAVAGE, of Wagoner, who recently married Miss Ella BABCOCK, deserted his wife, last Saturday, and left for the far west. Both Mr. & Mrs. Savage were very popular in young society, before their marriage, are from the oldest and most respectable families in that section of the country, and the sudden termination of their union in such a manner, will be a source of humiliating grief to their relatives.

Wednesday, March 21, 1888

DIED - Mary GINTHER nee SHADLE, at Leiters Ford, March 14, 1888, aged 67 years 8 months and 10 days.

Deceased was born in Snyder county, Pennsylvania, and with her parents Mr. & Mrs. Jacob SHADLE, moved to Seneca county, Ohio, where she was married to Mr. Henry GINTHER, September 12, 1847. To them was born eight children, one of whom preceded her to the spirit world.

She was an affectionate wife, a loving mother, and an earnest devoted christian. She leaves a sorely bereft husband, seven children, Inine grandchildren, and many other relatives and friends to mourn their loss.

May God comfort them. - A. O. RABER.

DIED - John SAVAGE, an old citizen of near Gilead, and well known to many Sentinel readers, died at his home Saturday, and was buried at Gilead on Sunday.

DIED - For many weeks every issue of the Sentinel has chronicled the sad intelligence of the departure of pioneers of the county and in this, the issue is not different from the previous ones. For almost half a century the name of James CALLOWAY has been familiar to Rochester and that part of the county lying southeast of it, but those who knew him for these many years will now know him no more forever.

On Saturday afternoon Mr. Calloway complained of a severe pain in his head and at about 5 o'clock was stricken with apoplexy of the brain from which he did not rally and died just twenty-four hours afterward, surrounded by his family, relatives and neighbors.

Deceased was 66 years old and has lived in this county from its early settlement and by hard work and judicious investment, he has accumulated property to the value of fifteen or twenty thousand dollars. Mr. Calloway was married three times and to him and his third wife six children have been born, all of whom survive. He was a faithful member of the Presbyterian church and was elder of the Mt. Zion class at which place Rev. T. G. SMITH of this city will conduct the funeral services today at half past ten o'clock.

The ceremony took place in the presence of a few special friends of the bride and groom. A sumptuous repast was served, and the evening was spent in social chat and a few fine special instrumental selections by Miss Emma MEYER.

Mr. Miller continues wielding the paint brush. Mrs. [MILLER] will lay down the "birch" to assume the role of generalissimo of the department of cullinary of her own home, which the

The ceremony took place in the presence of about forty guests, many of whom substantially congratulated the happy couple with presents. An excellent supper was spread and highly enjoyed.

Mr. Bailey is well known as a member of the K. of P. band and an industrious and energetic young man. Mrs. Bailey is also well known as a teacher whose friends are limited only by the number of her acquaintances.

The industrious groom furnished a house on Madison street, whither he took his fair bride on the evening of their marriage and where they will be pleased to see their many friends. . . . .

DIED - Jacob KEHRER, of Union township, and for twenty-three years a resident of Fulton county, died at his home, near Kewanna March 20, and was buried at Bruce Lake cemetery on Thursday, Rev. A. E. GIFT, of this city, officiating at the funeral service.

Deceased was born in Lycoming county, Pennsylvania, in July, 1819, and was married to Miss Catherine MULLENKOPP in 1860 and five years later emigrated to Indiana where he located upon the farm on which he died.

He was a faithful member of the Lutheran church and a highly esteemed citizen in his neighborhood and vicinity. Peace to his silent rest.

BIRTH - An eleven pound boy, [Fred W. SCHOLDER], was born to Mr. & Mrs. John SCHOLDER last Thursday, [March 22, 1888].

MARRIED - Mr. William BEEHLER and Miss Christena COPLEN were married at the residence of the bride's parents in Henry township, last Sunday. . . . .

MARRIED - Elder E. COPLEN, of near Grant, writes the Sentinel that he pronounced the ceremony last Saturday which united as husband and wife Mr. Andrew BIGGS and Miss Florence STROUD.

DIED - Another old pioneer of Miami county has passed away and gone to his reward. John HORTON was born in December, 1792, in Berkly county, Virginia, and emigrated to Jefferson county, Indiana, in 1816, from there to Miami county in 1853, and built the first log cabin in Allen township near the spot where he now lies.

He had been a resident of Indiana 72 years, and of Miami county 53 years. Had been a member in good standing in the Church of Christ 60 years, and died March 24, 1888, being 95 years 3 months and 13 days old which entitled him to the distinction of being the oldest citizen in the county. Deceased was the father of a large family of children, five sons and two daughters. Three of his sons only survive him, namely: T. G. HORTON, W. A. HORTON of Allen township and S. H. HORTON of Ogden City, Utah, the other four children and his wife having preceded him to the spirit land some years ago.

Grandpa Horton as he was called was of German descent and a man of iron will and constitution which enabled him to withstand the hardships incident to a life in what was once the wilderness of Indiana. He came here when the redman was the sole inhabitant of this country and lived to see a veritable wilderness blossom as the rose. Rochester, when he came here, consisted of a very few rude shanties and only one store. The only music to be heard around Mud lake, was the howl of the wolf and the yell of the Indian, and he lived to see it one of the finest agricultural localities in the state.

He died as he had lived a constant follower of the lowly nazarine. He was followed to his last resting place by a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and fellow citizens who sadly mourn over his absence from among them. He was a true, noble and honest man. Farewell Grandpa, may we all meet you in heaven never to part again.

Funeral services were conducted by Elder J. H. LACY of Macy, who delivered a splendid sermon from the passage: It is appointed unto man once to die and after that the judgment. (MACY)

Wednesday, April 4, 1888

BIOG - Last Saturday evening Mrs. Willis HILL, wife of the busman, quietly packed her good "duds" and shook the Rochester dust off her feet, in company with Lige NEFF, the notorious, and they took the north bound L. E. & W. train for parts unknown.

Both Neff and his dashing paramour leave a wife and husband in this city who it is said were not strangers to the flirtations of the runaway pair. Neff had been drinking for several days before he left and the fact that Mrs. H's husband sent her to the train in his own bus, and was seen in private conversation with Neff on Saturday, leads many to the opinion that there is a money consideration in the elopement in which the Hills expect to make a stake. Neff had lately come into possession of about $1,000 and it is not at all unlikely that he will divide handsomely with his frail companion.

Rochester citizens are not of the class who are inclined to submit to such conduct in their midst, without protest of some kind and it might be well for the runaways to keep out of town.

BIRTHDAY - A pleasant surprise party was given Mrs. Geo. ADAMS on last Saturday evening, it being her 34th birthday. The G.A.R. band, of which Mr. [George] ADAMS is a member, gave them a pleasant serenade.

DIED - Mrs. Chas. [S. Elizabeth] CLYMER, who for many months had suffered with consumption, died at the residence of Rev. MURLY, at Denver last Wednesday.

The remains were brought to this place Friday, and Rev. WILSON preached the funeral sermon at Grace church, of which Mrs. Clymer was a member. She had been married but five years, during most of which time she lived in Rochester and by her upright, christian life made many friends who mourn her early demise. Interment was made in the Odd Fellows cemetery.

BIRTH - A new girl baby at Mr. [James E. and Delilah BISHOP] DURHAM's. (FULTON)

MARRIAGE LICENSES ISSUED - Charles BUNN and Amanda EASTERDAY; Calvin F. EMRICK and Lou GRAY; Eli W. TORRENCE and Laura HOFFMAN; Reuben EISENHOVER and Cruley C. CURTIS.

The Rochester Sentinel - 1888

DIED - Mrs. [Jacob (Susanna)] ROUCH, the aged mother of Henry and Levi ROUCH, departed this life for a home beyond, after a short illness of about two hours. It is supposed that she died with a congestive chill. (FULTON)

Grandma ROUCH, mother of Henry and Levi ROUCH, of Liberty township, died at the residence of Henry last Wednesday morning at a ripe old age. She was one of the county's earliest settlers and a noble, christian woman.

Wednesday, April 11, 1888

The quick succession in which the old settlers of Fulton county are falling before the sickle of death has been for several months a matter of general remark, and when the announcement was made yesterday that Uncle George ORR was dead, the general surprise was only a repetition of that manifested in the recent death of various pioneers and well known citizens.

On last Saturday evening Mr. Orr was suddenly taken ill with palpitation and inaction of the heart and grew gradually weaker until Monday morning, when he quietly and peacefully passed from the cares and joys of a well spent life of "thre score years and ten."

Deceased was born in Maryland in 1813 and emigrated west and settled in Fulton county in the fall of 1839, and has since been a resident of the county, having resided on the Orr farm, 4 miles southwest of this city from 1853 until eight years ago, when his wife died, since which time he has made his home with his sons Chas. and J. N. ORR.

There were born to Mr. & Mrs. Orr, nine children, six of whom are living, as follows: J. N. and Charley ORR, Mrs. Silas J. [Lucretia ORR] MILLER and Mrs. Jud [Emma S. ORR] AULT of this county, F. M. ORR, of Plymouth and Mrs. Ada [ORR] FAHARTY, of Maryland.

The highest compliment that could be paid to the life work of the deceased is to tell the truth of him and say that he was a pure man, honorable in all his dealings, a true father to his family and a devoted christian.

The funeral services will be conducted today at 10:30 o'clock at Grace M.E. church, in this city, by Revs. LORD and WILSON and interment will be made in Odd Fellows cemetery.

BIRTH - Ezra NEES' joy knows no bounds, and cannot be concealed. The boy weighs twelve pounds and they all say it's the image of his pa. (WAGONER)

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. RIDGEWAY on Sunday, at the Christian church of which Maggie was a communicant, and interment was made in Odd Fellows cemetery.

DIED - The little four year old son of Mr. & Mrs. Joe HUNTER, of Green Oak, accidentally fell into a tub of scalding water while playing at the house of a neighbor Saturday evening, and was so horribly scalded that he died on Sunday morning.

The little fellow was an exceptionally bright and interesting boy and his death, under such circumstances, is most distressing to the family and friends. Interment was made in the Shelton cemetery, near Green Oak, on Monday.

DIED - Little Retha BALDWIN, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Oscar BALDWIN, aged 5 years, died of diphtheria Saturday morning. Little Retha was a child of sweet disposition and much admired by all who knew her, but that dreaded disease marked her for a victim and her childlike spirit was wafted back to the mystic world.

DIED - Marion MYERS, the sixteen year old son of Mr. & Mrs. George MYERS, of this city, died suddenly Thursday evening and was buried Friday. Marion was subject to fits and this was the cause of his death, as he ate supper and went to bed in apparent good health, but was soon after discovered to be in a dying condition from which he did not rally.

DIED - Oliver F. SMITH, formerly a resident of this county for many years, died at his home in Grenada, Kansas, last week.

Wednesday, April 18, 1888

DIED - Mark COOK, April 9, 1888, aged 78 years 3 months and 16 days. Mr. Cook was born in England, and was married over 50 years ago, and was the father of eight children, three of whom survive.

He was a kind father, upright citizen, and a constant member of the M.E. church for 25 years. The funeral services were conducted at the M.E. church by Rev. MILLER. Interment was made in the Shelton cemetery. (GREEN OAK)

DIED - Since our last writing, we are called upon to record an account of the death of an aged father, Mr. Henry KLINE, who well represents the bearded grain, as the poet has said, and of an infant son of Hanes and Laura WOODS, which represents the flower . . . (FULTON)

DIED - Last Saturday evening Grandma [Mrs. Jacob (Susana)] ROUCH peacefully and quietly passed away. She was buried in the Mt. Zion cemetery. (SUGAR GROVE)

BIRTH - Born to Mr. & Mrs. Sol GIVLER, a girl. Both mother and baby are doing well. (BURTON)

DIED - Abner WOODS died at the residence of Franklin MICKEY, Newcastle township, Saturday morning at 3 a.m. of Brights disease, aged 88 years.

Deceased was a native of Richland county, Ohio, and migrated to Indiana some 40 years ago, living first in Kosciusko county, and for the last twenty-three years in Fulton county.

He served the people of Newcastle township as Justice of the Peace for 14 years. Mr. Wood was a member of the church of the Disciples, the doctrine of which he very ably expounded from the pulpit for many years.

He was an honorable, upright man in the strictest sense of the word, a man of rare intelligence, unflinching memory and extraordinary good judgment. Up to his death he was in full possession of his wonderful mental faculties.

Deceased leaves a wife 75 years of age, and two daughters, one in Ohio, and Mrs. Havey SPENCER, of this city.

DIED - Mr. Elmer IRWIN, step-son of our townsman, A. L. GOODRICH, died at Minneapolis, Minnesota, on the first day of the present month.

When but a small boy, he became an attachee of the Sentinel office, where he acquired a degree of proficiency in the "art preservative," seldom attained by one of his years. Since then he has worked in several of the larger cities of the country, his last employment being on the Minneapolis Journal.

He was 29 years of age, and he leaves a wife and two children to mourn the loss of a kind father, and a faithful husband. Elmer was a brother of Wm. IRVIN [IRWIN?], who was so brutally murdered at Leiters Ford a few years ago.

DIED - Miss Jennie HILTON, who for many years has been a sufferer from lung disease, died at the residence of Dr. A. H. ROBBINS, Tuesday morning, April 17 at five o'clock.

Miss Hilton has lived in this county for many years, and the number of friends she earned, by an exemplary christian life, are legion. Many of these friends were those who had met her during their early life in the school room, where for many years she taught, but years of separation have not altered the ties of affection then formed for "once to know her was always to love her," and it will be with the deepest sorrow that all will learn of her death.

The funeral services will be conducted at the residence of Dr. Robbins on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Wednesday, April 25, 1888

During his early life he became a member of the Baptist church and ever lived a consistent life. He leaves a wife, two sons, and three daughters.

DIED - Thomas MOORE, an old and highly respected citizen of Fulton county, died at his home four miles east of here last Sunday morning. Mr. Moore was 56 years of age, having for more than 50 years resided in this county.

BIOG - It is authoritatively stated that Simon BYBEE will again try his hand at the newspaper business, and will soon start a new paper at North Judson.

It is possible that the people in the vicinity of Judson have had sufficient rest during the two years since Simon's Banner died, to again be able to endure the ordeal of witnessing a further slaughter of the King's English by Simon's paper. If the "Lord loveth whom he chasteneth" there is certainly no necessity for a further manifestation of his admiration for North Judson's people than to prompt Simon to inflict upon them a weekly batch of his writings.

DIED - The Sentinel failed to mention the death of Mrs. Phoebe MORNINGSTAR, last week, which occurred in this city on Sunday the 15th inst. Deceased was 64 years old, was a life long member of the M.E. church, and was a modest, christian lady.

Wednesday, May 2, 1888

DIED - At the home of his daughter, Mrs. CRIPE, south of town, Uncle Johnny ROBBINS died last Tuesday at the ripe old age of 84 years. He was one of the oldest native Hoosiers in the state having been born while this great commonwealth with its two million people, was a wild Territory.

Wednesday, May 9, 1888

MARRIED - At the home of the bride's parents in this city, May 2d, by Rev. J. H. WILSON, Mr. David GINTHER and Miss Cassie ZIMMERMAN. . . .

Mr. Ginther is well known as a young man of straight forward, industrious habits, who has been engaged for several years in teaching in this county, while Miss Zimmerman, the oldest daughter of Senator [Valentine] ZIMMERMAN is one of our most pleasant young ladies, and has all the qualities to make Mr. Ginther a splendid helpmeet. The young couple will reside in this city, and the Sentinel wishes them all the prosperity life seems to hold in store for them.

DIED - Albert WARD, who had been lying very sick in his room over WOLF's Jewelry store for two weeks, died Sunday afternoon about one o'clock.

He was born in the state of New York but in early life removed to this place where he spent most of his life. He had been physically indisposed for several years, but being industrious, was always at work when it was possible for him to be, though he seems to have been one of the many unfortunates upon whom fortune frowned instead of smiled.

The funeral services were conducted at the residence of his brother, Ex-Sheriff Del WARD, on Monday afternoon by Rev. N. L. LORD. Interment was made in the Odd Fellows cemetery.

DIED - John FLINN and wife were called to South Bend last Thursday, by the death of Mr. Flinn's mother.

Among the guests was Mrs. Plunk's twin sister, Grandma REAM, and both of them are hale and hearty. They are probably the oldest pair of twins in the State.

DIED - Little Albert [RICHE], a two year old son of Mr. & Mrs. John RICHE, died last Saturday, it is thought from the effects of eating canned corn. The funeral was conducted on Sunday at two o'clock at Trinity church, Rev. H. E. NEFF officiating, after which the little body was laid to rest neath the flowers in the old Citizens cemetery.

MARRIED - Rev. Henry NEFF of Trinity church was married to Miss Christina WISE at her home in Ohio last Wednesday and came at once to this city. The bride is well known in this city having formerly lived here with her sister, Mrs. A. O. RABER. . . .

A friend of the family writes: Deceased was born in Kentucky July 3, 1812, and moved to Indiana about 1835, and was married at Logansport to the wife who survives, in the year 1840, and the union was blessed with thirteen children, six of whom are living. The remains were interred in Odd Fellows cemetery.

DIED - Tiosa Letter: - Our little village was thrown in a state of excitement and surprise Sunday afternoon, April 29, on hearing of the sudden death of our fellow townsman, Samuel O'BLENNIS.

He had just finished his dinner and stepped into another room, when he seemed to faint away, falling to the floor and expired in a few moments. While Mr. O'Blennis had been failing for some time, no one suspected the end so near. The attending physician pronounced the cause of his sudden death, heart clot, or clotting of the blood in the cavities of the heart, stopping circulation.

Samuel O'Blennis has been a citizen of Tiosa for a number of years, and as an upright man ready to do a favor to his fellowman, he had no superior. Always ready to wait on the sick, always having a good word for everybody, he was the life of his associates, who were many in number. Mr. O'Blennis had arrived at the age of 56 years, and leaves a wife and five children, four sons and one daughter, all of whom have grown to manhood and womanhood. The death of Mr. O'Blennis being so unexpected, it seems to be doubly severe to the members of his family and his many friends. We all extend our greatest sympathy to the widow and children in this, their sad bereavement.

The funeral services were conducted at the Christian church by Rev. S. McNEELY. The remains were laid to rest in the Richland Center cemetery.

DROWNED - The first sad report of accidental drowning while bathing, of this season, comes from Kewanna. Last Saturday the ten year old sons of Dr. ROGERS and Mr. WATSON were bathing in a pond about a mile east of Kewanna and as the pond had been scraped out with a road scraper, there were abrupt offsets in it which the little fellows were not aware of.

They were sporting about in shallow water when littler Bertie [ROGERS], the son of Dr. Rogers, stepped into one of the many holes in the bottom of the pond and as the water was about four feet deep, the little fellow strangled and drowned in plain sight of his companion who was powerless from fright to render any assistance.

Near residents to the pond were at once notified by the Watson boy of his companion's fate and a search by Al MOGLE and Phillip BARNETT soon discovered the body lying in water scarcely four feet deep, and which Bertie could have waded could he have retained his self possession. Physicians were hastily summoned but their efforts to restore the body to life were unsuccessful and it was conveyed home and buried on Sunday. Here is a warning for little boys who are in the habit of going in swimming when no help is near to save them in case of danger.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH - Saturday evening after dark a crowd of boys and young men went down to the creek near the Pottowattomie mills to take a bath. Among them was Frank TAYLOR, the well known cigar maker who was also cited as being an expert amateur athlete and base ball player.

The boys arranged a spring board on the bank from which they jumped and dived into the swimming hole. Frank concluded that he would turn a summersault from the board into the water, and some of his companions assisted in giving the board a sweeping swing so that when Frank made the leap the board darted him into the air about twelve feet, where he turned partly over and fell into the shallow water upon his shoulders and back of the neck. He lay in the water without moving a muscle and when someone suggested that he must be hurt, Johnnie MYERS rushed in and dragged the prostrate form to the bank when he said that his neck was broken and it would kill him.

A stretcher was at once secured and the poor fellow gently carried to his home near the L. E. & W. depot where Drs. BROWN, SHAFER and RANNELLS examined him and decided that the injury must prove fatal, as the posterior projection of the fifth or sixth vertebra was crushed in in such a manner as to press upon the spinal cord or rupture it so that the entire body from the neck down was paralyzed. When reclining in a certain position the sufferer was perfectly conscious and talked intelligently until death relieved him of his suffering at one o'clock on Sunday.

Deceased was born in Michigan eighteen years ago last February and came to Rochester with his parents about three years ago and has since worked at manufacturing cigars. He was a jolly, whole-souled fellow and quite popular among his young associates. His father and sister were away at Evansville, each receiving treatment for chronic diseases at the time of Frank's death.

The funeral was held Monday at three o'clock at Trinity church where Rev. NEFF preached a touching discourse to the large circle of mourners and friends, and interment was made in Odd Fellows cemetery. Messrs. Chas. BROUILLETTE, Chas. MYERS, Charley SCHOLDER, Billy IZZARD, Grant BETZ and Sam ROSS acted as pall bearers and the funeral cortege was escorted by eighteen of the deceased young gentlemen friends who wore white golves and badges of mourning. It was a most sad and touching funeral and a distressingly trying ordeal for the young man's family, but such is life in this world where death is the inevitable fate of us all.

Thirty minutes later they were enroute for the county seat, and the legal steps were taken to entitle her to the name of Mrs. Jackson.

Who Mr. Jackson is the Echo has no idea. Miss Clifton is one of the estimable young ladies of this place, intelligent, agreeable, with many warm friends. Her strange action in this matter is wholly unaccounted for, and we are told she has not yet offered an explanation. -- Akron Echo.

DIED - Levi S. EMRICK -- "Lee Emrick is dead" was the report which spread rapidly through the city Saturday afternoon and expressions of grief and sorrow were heard on every hand.

For several months the deceased was a great sufferer from consumption, and his death was therefore not unexpected. Several years ago he was one of the most promising young men in Fulton county and was made the Republican nominee for County Clerk, but being unsuccessful in the race, a financial and physical disaster here took its origin which followed his every step until it at last overcame him and crowned its successful combat by consigning its victim to the grave.

Deceased was about 40 years old and had lived in Rochester 20 years where he married Miss Alice POTTS in the fall of '74, and who with a son and daughter still survive.

Lee, as he was familiarly known, was a genial, whole-souled fellow, and in his days of prosperity no deserving human being in want ever passed his notice without being made happier by a contribution or some act of kindness.

The funeral took place from the family residence on Jefferson street Monday afternoon, Rev. J. W. WILSON officiating, after which interment was made in Odd Fellows cemetery.

Two years ago Mr. & Mrs. Wilson located at Tolono, Illinois, where they resided until Mrs. Wilson's death from consumption which occurred last Sunday evening at 5 o'clock.

By a request of the deceased, her remains were brought to her old home southwest of town, where Rev. N. L. LORD conducted the funeral services yesterday at two o'clock, after which the remains were brought to the city and interred in the Citizens cemetery. DIED - Dr. D. M. VINEY, Postmaster at Grass Creek, departed this life last Tuesday morning. Supposed cause of death was dispomania as he had been under the influence for some time previous to his death.

The doctor had once a large practice in one of our neighboring counties but through trouble of various kinds, that preyed upon him, he let it slip away from him with his property. He had worked up quite a practice at Grass Creek where he had been for the last three years, and erected him a small office to which he had added an addition just prior to his death.

DIED - Sixty-two years ago James EDWARDS, a Baptist minister, settled in Marshall county where he raised a family of eight children, four boys and four girls all of whom are now dead except the youngest daughter. One of the boys, David EDWARDS, the subject of this sketch, was 3 years old when his father came to Indiana, and at the time of his death last Saturday, was 65 years 5 months and 8 days old.

Deceased was twice married, first to Mahala ELAM, sister of that well known citizen, John ELAM. To this union were born three children, two of whom died in infancy, the other being Mr. Dallas EDWARDS one of the proprietors of the CROWN MILLS in this city.

With his first wife deceased lived for 25 years when she was called to the spirit world and he was afterward united in marriage with Sarah PETIT, who survives him.

His last days were days of great suffering, having been confined to his bed for sixteen months with paralysis. For thirty years deceased had been a faithful member of the Methodist church and was widely known among the older citizens as an honorable and strictly upright citizen. He saw Rochester when its habitations were wigwams and its inhabitants red men of the forest, but he lived to see our beautiful city and intelligent people take their places, and his country develop from one mighty forest to the richest and most sublime on earth.

DIED - At 6 o'clock a.m. Sunday September 23, Mrs. T[homas] S. GORDON, formerly Miss S[arah] E. GREEN, a sister of our fellow townsman Wm. H. GREEN, died at her home in Winchester, Indiana.

Mrs. Gordon was formerly a teacher in the Rochester public schools under Profs. WOOD, BRYAN and WILLIAMS, superintendent. She was a successful teacher, and has many pupils and friends in this city who will share the sorrow that her brothers and sisters feel in their sad bereavement. She was an exemplary lady, always devoted to the welfare and progress of her pupils and friends. She never failed to bring sunshine and gladness to the hearts of her friends whenever she mingled with them.

The disease that terminated her life was consumption, from which she suffered for the past year, constantly, believing she would be spared to rear her two lovely daughters that blessed her home, but He who holds the destinies of life in His hand, bade her come up higher to enjoy the full fruition of His grace and mercy. She was prepared for the summons. She fell asleep. We trust her awakening will be a grand and glorious immortality, where sin and sorrow is unknown, and danger can never come.

Her relatives and friends have the evidence in the beauty of her life and the sweetness of her disposition of her complete faith in the fulfillment of God's promise, both in this and the future life. If we believe in Christ we shall see and meet her when life's fitful dream is over.

DIED - The announcement of the death of that universally popular fellow citizen, Fred W. DANIELS, yesterday morning, was heard with sadness by his hosts of friends in Rochester.

For nearly two months, the once rugged and portly Fred has been drifting slowly, but surely to the grave, from a disorder of the digestive organs which the most attentive nursing and best medical skill could not divert, or even allay in its onward course to fatality.

Fred W. Daniels was born February 8, 1850 at Algonac, St. Clair county, Michigan; came to Fulton county sometime during the year 1868, died Wednesday, September 19, 1888; and was therefore aged 38 years 7 months and 11 days.

Three years ago he was united in marriage with Miss Belle BITTERS, daughter of Wm. BITTERS, who, with one child, survive the husband and father, as do also an only brother and sister, viz: Victor H. DANIELS, of this city, and Mrs. R. D. ASHFORD, of Lockport, N.Y.

Six years ago the county commissioners appointed the deceased to the office of Justice of the Peace in Henry township, and he has since been elected to the office in his township, which is strongly Republican, by very flattering majorities and has discharged the duties of his trust with eminent satisfaction to all who had business with him, and honor to his constituency. Four years ago the State Senate honored him with the appointment of postmaster of that distinguished body and few, if any, prominent politicians in Indiana failed to become acquainted with and attached to "Jolly Fred Daniels," as they all knew him. Deceased always took an active part in politics but his sterling honesty in his democratic convictions and charity and liberality toward those of opposite opinions made him universally popular with all men, and one whose counsels were always in demand in political matters of importance.

Genial, companionable, liberal, hospitable and benevolent our pen fails to pay him the tribute such a beloved citizen deserves. . . .

The funeral services will be conducted at the family residence one-half mile east of Akron, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. W. N. NELSON, officiating.

TIPTON] BAXTER, daughter of Joshua TIPTON of Newcastle township, and sister of Jas. and Holmes TIPTON, died in Illinois last Wednesday, leaving a husband and a three weeks old babe. The deceased was widely known in the vicinity where she was raised and universally esteemed.

DIED - Although she had been in feeble health for several years, the friends of the family of Dr. and Mrs. Daniel TERRY were greatly surprised and grief stricken to hear of the death of their daughter, Mary [TERRY], which occurred Thursday evening at the hour of 10 o'clock.

For several years deceased had been afflicted with something like tumor of the brain which at times caused her mind to wander, and when death relieved her she was greatly emaciated both physically and mentally. In her healthy days, Miss Terry was a great favorite with her companions, and all who knew her, and her death at an age so young, creates universal sorrow among them. Brief funeral services were conducted at the family residence Sunday afternoon, in the presence of a large concourse of sorrowing friends after which the remains were laid to rest in Odd Fellows cemetery. The floral tributes were profuse and elegant and the final parting with a body of the near relatives was the most affecting scene.

KILLED BY TRAIN - Night operator HATFIELD, of Akron, whose injury by being struck by a train was mentioned by the Sentinel last week, died Tuesday night from his injuries, and the remains were brought to this city for burial Thursday. Of the deceased, the Akron Echo says:

The death of Lewis D. HATFIELD casts a deep shadow of gloom over our little town and takes from our midst a young man held in the highest esteem by an army of friends. He had lived among us long enough to become known as a gentleman with many commendable traits of character. He was always genial companionable, intelligent and honorable toward all. For some months he had been employed by the C. & A. railroad as night operator at Markle, and had just been transferred to this place and given a similar position. His object in desiring the change was to be at home and aid his brother occasionally in the store in which he had an interest.

The scene around the death bed was deeply affecting, it being the first time the family circle was ever broken. The venerable father, being a man of deep religious convictions, while lamenting over the loss of a devoted son quoted numerous appropriate passages of scripture for the comfort and consolation of those who, like himself, had been bereft.

The memory of Lewis D. HATFIELD will live forever in the hearts of those who knew him so long and so well.

SUICIDE - The little town of Roann, eighteen miles east of Rochester, is all excitement, occasioned by the suicide of a former citizen of the town in Chicago last week, and the subsequent appearance of Chicago detectives at the deceased's former home, for the purpose of ferreting out the cause of the victim's melancholly.

Miss Meda HULIT, an intelligent but homeless girl of nineteen, formerly lived in Roann, and was a confidential friend of the postmistress of the town, as well as several prominent people. Sometime in the early autumn, Meda went to Chicago and found employment and little was heard of her by her friends until her dead body was found last week floating in Lake Michigan.

Some ugly rumors concerning the past conduct of the girl, and implicating a Chicago druggist and the publisher of the Roann Clarion, are afloat, but the friends of both gentlemen deny that any improper relations existed between them and the dead girl, although both admit that they corresponded with her, and the latter also recently visited her at her room in Chicago, which he claims he did for the purpose of warning her of her danger in living alone in a city like Chicago, and pleads justification for this interest in the young lady's welfare on the ground that she had no near relatives to look after her, that he felt an interest in her because she had formerly worked in his office.

Some of the reports are that her suicide was not a surprise to some of her friends, to whom she had before hinted of her purpose. There are several people in Roann who are acquainted with some of the unpublished facts which surround the mysterious case and the exact cause which drove the girl to self destruction, all of which will, no doubt be sooner or later developed.

Her funeral was preached at Macy M.E. church by Rev. SAWYER, on Christmas day, after which she was followed to her last resting place in Five Corners cemetery by a large concourse of sorrowful friends and relatives. She died as she had lived, a meek follower of the lowly Nazarine. She is sleeping now, but when the trump shall sound to wake her sleeping dust, may we all so live as to meet her in that sun bright clime where partings come no more but all shall be one joyful happy day forever. (MUD CREEK)

MARRIED - Deputy clerk REES took down the marriage record yesterday evening and, with many graceful flourishes, inscribed thereon the names of County Recorder Fredeus C. WILSON and Miss Emma A. ONSTOTT.

By some clever interrogatories, the Sentinel ascertained that the marriage ceremony was performed at the residence of the officiating clergyman, Rev. E. J. DELP, at 6 o'clock yesterday evening, and it blandly offers the popular and widely known couple its best wishes for a happy and prosperous future. . . .

DIED - Tessie [MYERS], the bright, and only little daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Roy MYERS, was suddenly stricken with neuralgia of the heart, Tuesday, and died that night. Only those who have been robbed of an only child by death, can fully sympathize with the bereft parents, but such are the afflictions of mortality and they must be endured.

DROWNING - A team came dashing up Main street Wednesday evening at runaway speed, and halted at the corner of North and Main streets when Johnny HOOVER sprang from the buggy and hastened to find a physician, and the report was at once started that there had been a drowning at the Lake near STRAUSSSES landing, and people on foot, horseback and in vehicles soon lined the road and race bank leading to the scene of the calamity.

Johnny, or "Bunt" HOOVER, Jack FULLUM, the night operator of the C. & A. and Tommy HERME, son of Mr. HERME, of FEDER & SILBERGERG's, who was here visiting his father, went to the Lake for an afternoon's skate and had had a very enjoyable time until about half past three o'clock, when the party was just north of NYE's island and directly over the channel, young Fullum broke through where the water was about seven feet deep, and commenced struggling in the chilling water.

Herme approached to offer him assistance when the ice gave away and he too went to the bottom, but was rescued by a most daring and heroic effort on the part of the third member of the party, Hoover, who pulled him out more dead than alive and then hastened to the assistance of Jack, but he had sunk and the motionless water above him conveyed the horrible intelligence that the young man was a corpse at the bottom of the cruel lake.

Johnny then turned his attention to the wants of Young Herme and conveyed him to the residence of Wellington KILMER, where Dr. GOULD's services soon restored him sufficiently that he was removed to his room at the Central House and his recovery was rapid and complete.

The Rochester Sentinel - 1889

Messrs. Will MERCER, "Wen" SHULER, Joe HUTTON, Will SWEET and Johnny HOOVER hastily skidded boats across the ice to the hole where the unfortunate young man had gone down, and after a very brief search the cold and lifeless body was found and transferred to the Central House where the process of resuscitation was attempted by the application of electrical currents, but the efforts were of no avail and the body was taken in charge by undertaker Chris. HOOVER and a message of the sad event forwarded to the deceased's relatives at Jersey City, N.J.

In reply to the telegram an older brother of the deceased wired that he would be here at the earliest possible moment, and gave orders to embalm the body as he wished to convey the remains back to the family burying ground for interment. The gentleman arrived in the city Friday evening and departed for the east with the corpse Saturday noon

Jack Fullum had just reach his majority and, since the first of August, had held the position of night telegraph operator at the C. & A. depot until two weeks ago when he asked a lay off for two weeks and it was granted. He was a popular fellow among his young associates, was quiet and orderly at all times, and was regarded as a faithful employee by the Ry. company.

Almost miraculous as it may seem, when we consider the thousands of people who have risked their lives on the surface of Manitau every year for nearly a quarter of a century, this is the first loss of life ever recorded against it and there is universal regret that its peerless record has been broken.

MARRIED - The marriage of Mary SWANK was quite a surprise to some of the neighborhood, but we knew it all the time and extend thanks for the cake. (MUD CREEK)

Aside from the one term of school at the Valparaiso Normal, deceased was obliged to acquire his education preparatory to the ministry, through diligence and hard study at home.

Three years ago he was united in marriage with Miss Lizzie WEBB, of Richland township, who, with a one year old child survives.

For 12 months while in charge of the Akron mission, deceased and family were residents of Rochester. Subsequently he was assigned to a new field of labor at Germantown, Wayne county, Indiana, where after an illness of but 40 hours, caused from neuralgia of the stomach and bowels, he expired in peace with his God.

The remains were brought back to the old homestead, to be sheltered once more, and for the last time under the parental roof. January 4th the body was gently laid away at the Germany church cemetery in the presence of a large gathering of weeping and sympathizing friends. Prior to the burial, Rev. OAKES, Presiding Elder, delivered an able funeral sermon, assisted by Revs. Sam'l. PLANTZ, James WALES and Philip BUEHLER.

Rev. Geo. C. STEININGER, deceased, was a faithful worker and true follower of his Divine Master. In shouldering the cross of his Savior, and dedicating his life to the cause of christianity, he did not relinquish the superior manhood possessed in him -- to use his own judgment and uninfluenced by others in following the dictates of his own honest heart in things pertaining to secular affairs. With a heart free from prejudice, he was capable of grasping the sublime theory of our free institutions, that the safety and perpetuity of the same can only be assured through the complete separation of church and state. For his manly virtues, purity of character and his honesty and sincerity in all things, deceased had many friends and admirers among every sect and creed.

Keller was indeed an eccentric character. While he was not crazy, he was considerably "off" mentally in certain respects. At times he would imagine that he was very wealthy and then he would leave the poor farm and go about the country where he was not known, and contract for the purchase of farms at any price the owners might name. Of course he would pay no money, but would request the farmer to meet him in Rochester on a specified day and many a man has left his plow and driven to town with the belief that he was selling his farm at a fabulous price, only to find when he arrived in the city that his purchaser was a county charge and poor as a church mouse.

BIOG - The News, of Denver, Colorado, of recent date contains the following article of local interest:

Rev. J. Q. HENRY, the vigorous and popular temporary pastor of the First Baptist church, will in all probability in the near future be called upon to elect which of two very important congregations he will preside over as pastor.

One of these is the first Baptist of Denver, which holds a meeting Wednesday next for the purpose of considering the tender of a call to Mr. Henry. The other, and one of a formidable nature, too, is the Twenty-third street Baptist church of New York, which has expressed a strong desire for Mr. Henry to come and look over the field with a view to settlement. The pulpit of the latter church became vacant a few weeks ago on the resignation of Rev. L. A. CRANDELL, who left to take charge of the Euclid Avenue church, Cleveland. On his retirement Mr. Crandell was consulted as to who should be his successor; and in reply informed the congregation that Mr. Henry was, of all others, the man to occupy his erstwhile pulpit. The reverend gentleman was seen last evening by a News reporter but he declined to be communicative.

"It is true," said he "that I have been asked to go to New York, and to a most important church, but I have nothing in particular to say as to that just at present."

Mr. Henry was ordained to the Baptist ministry in July, 1880, at San Francisco, and immediately afterwards was engaged for six months as acting pastor of the First Baptist church of that city.

For three years and a half after he occupied the pulpit of the Sacramento, California, Calvary church, and in that period received 225 additions into the congregation. He was next called to the First Baptist church of Portland, Oregon, where he remained four and one-half years, and left the congregation in an exceedingly prosperous condition. His next change was to come to Denver as acting pastor of the first Baptist church. Arriving here some months ago, Mr. Henry has already established his reputation as not only a powerful preacher but a faithful and earnest worker. Since the church has been in his charge there have been no less than 115 accessions, and the Sunday school has increased 100 per cent in its attendance. The advisory board of the church has already declared that financially, spiritually, numerically and socially the congregation was never in so prosperous a condition before.

Mr. Henry is a Fulton county product, being a nephew of Mr. & Mrs. Philom WEBBER, of this city, with whom he made his home for several years. He received his primary education in this city and for a time read law with ESSICK and HOLMAN, but decided to take a theological course and afterward graduated in a Chicago Baptist college. His large circle of lfriends here will be highly pleased to hear of his great success in a grand work.

MARRIED - At the residence of Dr. and Mrs. H. H. WARD Wednesday evening, Mr. Grant E. HALDERMAN, of Roann, and Miss Hattie G. SAMUELS were happily married, Justice BUCHANAN officiating.

The groom is a young attorney of considerable promise in his town, and a capital fellow socially, while the bride he took from Rochester is a jovial and noble little woman.

The newly married couple took the evening train for Roann, where they will go to housekeeping at once. May their anticipations for future happiness and prosperity be fully realized.

KILLED BY TRAIN - Friday evening a report reached the city that Myron ADAMS, who lived two miles north of Hoovers Station, had been killed on the railroad west of Akron.

The deceased's brothers, Constable George and Marshal ADAMS, of this city, accompanied by Coroner SHIELDS, went at once to the scene of the accident and found that the report was only too true. Myron's dead body had been found about 7 o'clock in the morning lying near the track at a crossing two miles west of Akron, with his skull crushed in such a manner that death was, no doubt, instantaneous.

The body was conveyed to the residence of the deceased's brother, George, in this city, where an inquest was held and the following report made: . . . . death by a passing train while either standing, lying or sitting near the track of the C. & A. R.R., two miles west of Akron, Indiana, in which the accident was caused by the carelessness of said Myron Adams while in a state of intoxication. . . . A. M. SHIELDS, Coroner, C. J. LORING, Clerk

This report probably explains the cause of the accident as well as words could portray. On Thursday Myron went to Akron where he imbibed freely and started home late in the evening on the railroad track. Later he was discovered lying on the track about 80 rods west of the Akron depot and removed when he refused to leave the track, and again started westward. This was the last seen of him until found dead the next morning and from every indication he must have sat down or laid down on the crossing just outside the track so that some part of the engine of the west bound freight, which is due at rochester about 9 o'clock, struck him with fatal result.

Deceased was about 33 years old, and leaves a wife and two little girls to mourn the sad and unnatural death of a parent and husband who was a slave to strong drink. The remains were interred in Citizens cemetery Saturday afternoon when a large concourse of people turned out to manifest their sympathy to the grief stricken relatives.

The young man was troubled considerably with heart disease and this was no doubt the cause of his sudden and untimely death.

Deceased was nearing his 25th birthday at the time of his death and was a very honorable and companionable young man. He was the son of Mr. & Mrs. Henry King, of Newcastle township who have the sympathy of a very large circle of friends in their sad bereavement.

The funeral was held yesterday at two o'clock at Yellow Creek Baptist church.

DIED - For eight months "Judge" [Hugh M.] STEPHENSON, as he was familiarly known, had been an invalid, and the announcement of his death Thursday, was, therefore no surprise to his neighbors and numerous friends in this city. Through the kindness of a friend of the deceased, the Sentinel is furnished the following obituary:

Hugh M. STEPHENSON was born in Iredell county, North Carolina, December 29, 1818, and at nine years of age moved with his parents to Henry county, this state, and after a residence of several years moved to Grant county, where he remained till 1844, when he settled at LaGro, Wabash county and in the same year was married to Marrie J. THOMPSON, who survives him.

Not long after he became a resident of Wabash county, he was elected its Sheriff, two terms. When gold was discovered in California he was among those who visited that Eldorado, going there in 1850 and returning home to Wabash in 1853. He was at one time assistant doorkeeper of the Indiana House of Representatives. After his return from California he was engaged in business in Wabash.

In 1878 he removed to Rochester, and prepared an abstract of the real estate titles of the county and was engaged in abstract business until taken sick. He also served one term as Justice of the Peace of Rochester Township and was an active worker in starting the Building and Loan association.

Two children, a son and a daughter, preceeded Mr. Stephenson to the spirit world, and five sons, William, Leslie, Joseph, Frank and Rome C. [STEPHENSON], with the mother, survive.

The funeral, which was held at the family residence on West Washington street Saturday afternoon, was conducted by Rev. J. H. WILSON of the M.E. church, of which deceased was a faithful member, and the remains were followed to their last resting place in Odd Fellows cemetery by a large concourse of sympathizing friends and citizens.

John was a prominent christian young man, of this place, and he has a promising young wife. John worked in a hotel in Wisconsin, during the past winter, and on Thursday morning last, he and his wife started for that state, to again find employment in the hotel. (BURTON)

DIED - Lawrence McCARTER, who was for nearly fifty years a resident of Fulton county, had been an invalid for many months, but with the opening of spring he gained new strength and his relatives and large circle of friends hoped soon to see him regain his former good health, but in vain. Last Wednesday evening he went out in the barn lot among his cattle and a half hour afterward was found lying unconscious on the ground from paralysis, and after being removed to the house, lived but a few hours until death relieved him of his suffering.

Lawrence McCARTER was born in Ohio 71 years 1 month and 4 days before his death, and at an early age emigrated with his parents to Rush county, Indiana, where he resided until he removed to this county in 1842 when he settled on the farm two miles northeast of town, where he died. At the age of twenty-four, deceased was united in marriage with Eliza BOLLS, who still survives, and to this union nine children have been born, seven of whom are living, viz: William, Frank, Cyrus, Alvin [McCARTER], Mrs. McGUIRE, Mrs. CARR and Mrs. EASTERDAY.

Lawrence McCarter was a man of the firmest and most uncompromising convictions of what he thought to be right. He was an unswerving and intelligent advocate of the principles of Thomas Jefferson, but made no political distinction in criticizing a wrong either of public officers or private citizens. He was a husband and father in all that these sacred terms imply, a neighbor and citizen of unblemished character, and withal a noble man.

BIOG - Mrs. Kate CARROLL, of Lafayette, is in the city, the guest of her sister, Mrs. Obed ALLEN.

The meeting of these two sisters, is, in some respects quite remarkable, in that the latter never saw the former until they had reached majority, Mrs. Carroll having been born and raised in Ireland, and Mrs. Allen in this county. This visit is the first ever made by Mrs. Carroll with her sister, for the reason of their holding opposite religious views, the one being a Catholic and the other a Protestant.

POSSIBLE ATTEMPTED SUICIDE - Dispatches from LaPorte to the city papers Sunday stated that Eugene WILE, son of Hon. Jacob WILE, shot himself Friday night. It is believed to be a case of suicide, though Wile says it was accidental. The bullet is in his left lung and his condition is critical. The young man is a cousin to Mr. A. BICCARD, of this city.

DIED - Miss Charlotte RAWLS died at her home in this county, April 26, aged -- years. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. LAMBERT, of Kewanna, interment being made in the --iver's cemetery.

DIED - Many Sentinel readers in the southern part of the county and at Perrysburg, Macy and Twelve Mile were well acquainted with Isaac NEWMAN, who lived near the line dividing Miami and Cass counties. Two weeks ago last Sunday Mr. Newman died and twelve hours afterward his wife, [Mary] followed him to the spirit world [d. April 21, 1889, age 81y].

Two years ago Mr. Newman suffered a serious illness from which he never fully recovered. During this time he made mention to his son, Benjamin [NEWMAN], that should he die he would find in an old and unique family bureau a small sum of money, naming the amount at about $100, which, he said, was there for contingent expenses.

Mr. Newman recovered, and the son moved to Minnesota, and the subject was entirely forgotten until after the burial of the couple, it reverted to him. Diligent search throughout the bureau failed to reveal the cash, and a conclusion was reached that it contained no money. Search was again renewed upon the suggestion of possible false drawers or bottoms, and a more thorough and systematic search disclosed a false bottom in which, neatly sewed up in various articles of apparel, was $7,000 in gold, silver and paper.

Thirty-five years ago Jonathan DAWSON commenced his business career in Rochester and has been closely identified with every progressive move the city and its interests have since made. DAWSON's drug store is a familiar name in every home in Fulton County and the proprietor who will retire next week will have the best wishes of thousands of customers for a pleasant journey down the declining years of a well spent life. Mr. George V. DAWSON, the junior member of the firm will continue the drug business and the Sentinel cheerfully recommends him as a worthy successor of his father.

DIED - The death of Ex-county Treasurer James WARE, at his home in Wayne township, Thursday morning was a sad event which had been expected for several weeks, as the attending physicians had pronounced his case a hopeless one more than a month ago.

James Ware was born in Johnson county, Indiana, in January, 1828, came to Fulton county in 1851 and was married to Mary BOWMAN, who survives, in January, 1853. To the union were born twelve children, six daughters and six sons -- Louisa (deceased), Greenville, Henry M., Geo. W., James F., Mary E., Martha A., Samuel (deceased), Ezra I., Ada E., Nettie M. and Dora E.

James Ware was a perfect representative of noble manhood, if that state of human excellence was ever attained in Fulton county. Honest, industrious, religious, candid, charitable, courteous and companionable, he won the esteem, not only of his neighbors, but, of all with whom he came in contact in his extensive dealings with the people as trustee of his township and treasurer of the county for two terms. The universal esteem in which the deceased was held was eminently attested by the immense concourse of people who turned out to the funeral service, conducted by Rev. REEDER and in charge of Kewanna lodge F. and A. M., which was held at the family residence Friday afternoon, interment being made in the grave yard near by.

Phillip and William WARE and Mrs. McCLATCHEY, of Kansas, arrived in time to be with their brother in his last hours and mingle their grief with that of the disconsolate wife and grief stricken children.

The attending physicians attribute the origin of ex-Treasurer WARE's disease, which resulted in his death, to the fall he received from a ladder about a year ago. It is thought that the fall dislocated the ribs from the spinal column so as to irritate the membranes in such a manner as to produce the abscess which caused his death.

DIED - Strawder ABBOTT was born in Shenandoah county, Virginia, March 28, 1817, and died at his residence, five miles south of Rochester May 15, 1889.

SHELTON and by this marriage six children were born, four of whom, with the mother, survive, viz: James, Jay, Leslie [ABBOTT] and Mrs. Catherine [ABBOTT] KOCHENDERFER.

Sister Goss was sorely afflicted for months, and through all her sufferings exemplified the christian grace of patient endurance, often during her sickness in the midst of intense suffering, she shouted praises to God and rejoiced in her salvation. Thus another one of God's children has been called from labor to reward. Though in sorrow we separate, yet we do not wish her back to this world of suffering.

DEBASED CONDUCT - Heretofore the Sentinel has not referred to the downfall of Elder Sherman CHANDLER, but his recent conduct has become a matter of such general notoriety that it is no longer a secret.

More than two years ago Sherman forsook his cup, joined church and was soon made a minister. Soon after this he married an estimable, christian girl in Hamilton county and brought her to this city to reside. For two years he acted the honorable man and the people looked upon his case as one of true reformation.

But recently, without any apparent cause, he took to drinking again, disgraced his family and friends, and left the city very suddenly and went to Chicago where his baby died at the residence of Jerry BARBER Saturday, and was taken to Hamilton county for burial, a former Rochester citizen furnishing the money to enable the parents to take the remains of the little one to its final resting place.

If there is a spark of humanity left in Sherman's breast, the Sentinel hopes to be able to announce in the future that it has been fanned to a blaze by the misery and wretchedness now enshrouding his family and directly attributable to his debased conduct.

MARRIED - At the residence of Rev. A. E. GIFT, on the 25th inst., Mr. George W. KILER, of Indianapolis, and Miss Annie M. PERSCHBACHER of Tiosa, in the presence of a number of immediate relatives, the above named minister officiating.

He was married to Catharine LAMB, of Canton, Ohio, in 1839, who with eight surviving children, mourn the loss of a loving husband and a kind and indulgent father. Mr. Hoffman with his father's family, consisting of eleven persons, emigrated from Germany in 1839, and settled in Stark county, Ohio. In 1874 he moved to Akron, Indiana, where he has since lived an honored and respected citizen.

When fourteen years old he united with the Presbyterian church, continuing his membership until his death.

DIED - The family and numerous friends of Milo MARTIN, son of Mr. & Mrs. D. R. MARTIN, of this city, were terribly shocked Thursday evening when a telegram came to Postmaster BITTERS, informing him that Milo Martin, of Rochester, Indiana, had died suddenly in a Jackson, Michigan hotel.

Mr. V. S. REITER at once left for Jackson, where upon his arrival he found that the report was only too true, as he beheld the familiar countenance of his friend who was cold in death. An investigation into the cause of his death was then making by the coroner, and the verdict was that the deceased came to his death by an overdose of strychnine.

It was learned that Milo left Auburn, Indiana, Monday, and went to Jackson where he secured employment at his trade, carriage trimming, with the understanding that he should commence work in one week. He went to the hotel and took a room and boarding, paying a week in advance, but complained of being sick.

On Tuesday he went down and purchased some morphine pills, which he frequently took for sick headache, and on Wednesday went back to the same store and asked for four grains of strychnine, but the druggist refused to sell it to him. He at once went to another store and secured the poisonous drug. Late in the evening he called from his room and asked for a physician, and when the doctor arrived he stated that Milo had a kind of cholera infantum. Nothing more was heard of him until the next morning, when he came down, but took no nourishment except a glass of water. He then again retired to his room and was found dead at two o'clock in the afternoon. Nearly all the strychnine he had purchased, some of the morphine pills and an unopened bottle of chloroform was found in his room, but whether he used them with intent to commit suicide will probably never be known.

He was a popular and fine appearing young man, 22 years old, was never known to have trouble of any kind, had a good trade, and the fact that he died under such circumstances, among strangers and without leaving a single word to console his family, makes their grief most crushing.

The funeral, conducted by Rev. H. E. NEFF, took place from the family residence Sunday, when an immense throng of sorrowing associates of the deceased and friends of his family turned out to mingle their grief in one common wail of sorrow, and to pay their last respects to a young man of whom the grandest of all tributes may be said, viz: he honored his mother and father with that filial love which binds family ties as closely as they can be drawn on earth.

HORRIBLE DEATH - In its report of the horrible death of Irene DAWSON, formerly of this city, and mention of which was made in the last issue of the Sentinel, the Huntington Democrat says:

The accident is very mysterious. During her lucid intervals she told two or three different stories of how it occurred, one of them being to the effect that her clothing caught fire from the lamp while she was lying on the bed. This is improbable as the bed was not touched by the flames, and from other circumstances which will be later noted. Another story told by her is that she was sitting on the floor performing the duties of a chiropodist and had the lamp near her when in raising it, her hair, which was abundant and was hanging loose, caught the blaze and communicated it to her clothing. But this seems improbable from the fact that the lamp was placed on the dresser and turned low when she ran out of the room, and certainly her first thought would have been personal safety. The most probable theory of the accident seems to be that she was burning or heating alcohol for toothache of which she had complained early in the evening, and from this the flames were communicated to the mother Hubbard dress which she wore at the time. The finding of the lamp in the position noted and also of alcohol and sugar in a cup, would indicate this to be nearer correct. She was evidently about to retire, wearing only her underclothing and the loose wrapper mentioned. The idea of suicide is not probable.

BIOG - Kokomo Gazette:- Over a quarter of a century ago, there lived in Marshall county, this state, a family by the name of McCLOUD.

The family consisted of father, mother and several children, five of them under ten years of age. At this time our civil war was at its height, and the father, though compelled to leave his wife and little ones in a comparatively helpless condition, shouldered a musket and went to the front in defense of his country and flag. At the close of the bloody conflict he was brought back to his family a corpse, dying in the hospital at Washington on his way home.

The widowed mother, unable to support her large family, found homes for the little ones in other families in distant parts of the state, all separated from one another. Shortly after this Mrs. McCLOUD died.

In the separation of the family, one of the little girls, Annie [McCLOUD], went to the home of Dexter BROOKS, in Wabash county, and a younger sister, Mary [McCLOUD], was given to William CRAVEN, of Fulton county.

Years came and went and the memories of the past faded from their minds, though a recollection of other homes was not altogether obscured. Their foster parents wanted them to know no other home or parentage.

Fourteen years ago the Brooks family moved to Carthage, Rush county, taking Anna, then sixteen years old with them. Mary remained in Fulton county till she grew up to womanhood. In 1878 she married William SPURGEON, near Rochester, and seven years ago they moved to this city where they have since resided. They now, with three children live on east Sycamore street, near Crown Point cemetery.

Anna, as above stated, was taken to Rush county in 1875. Two years later she married J. K. GALLOWAY of that place, and they, too, came to Kokomo later on, and have been here for the past year, residing on Fremont street. They have five children. The two sisters who had not seen each other since infancy and whose memories of early childhood were as but a dream, were thus brought almost face to face. For the past several months they have many time doubtless passed each other on the street. Our church bells have called them to worship in the same church and their children have mingled together in the same schools and playgrounds, yet they knew it not.

But chance brought them together. Last Thursday Mr. Galloway, husband of one of the sisters, and Mr. Spurgeon, a brother-in-law of the other, were at work together in the northwest part of town. Spurgeon was walling a well, while Galloway was painting a house near by. In passing the well Galloway accidentally let a piece of brick fall in. Spurgeon then remarked that he knew a man in Marshall county who came near being killed that way. This allusion to Marshall county, the original home of his wife, led Galloway to inquire if he ever lived in that county or was acquainted there, to which the former replied that a brother of his married a girl named Mary McCloud, who was born there. This, with a few following remarks, convinced Galloway that the lost was found and he rushed home to convey the glad tidings to his wife. The joy brought by this news was only equaled by that of meeting the long lost sister, which was only a few minutes later.

And what a meeting it was! As they laughed and talked through their tears, the memories of the past came up before them with the vividness of but a day. Incidents of twenty-five years ago, when they last looked into each other's eyes, came back to them -- the little old cradle in which their mother rocked them to sleep; the trundle bed in which they slept, and of the times when they were hustled into it early by older sisters when their beaux came to see them

This happy discovery reunites the surviving members of the family. The older children have passed to their long home. There are two brothers living -- a fact known to Mary, but a revelation to Anna, who, after as diligent a search as she was able to make, concluded that all her relatives were dead. The brothers and sisters, likewise, had given up Anna as lost. There will be a family gathering as soon as the brothers can be summoned to rejoice over the discovery of the long lost sister.

MARRIED - At the home of the bride's parents, a half mile southeast of the city, Thursday evening, in the presence of about fifty relatives and friends of the contracting parties, Rev. N. L. LORD pronounced the ceremony which bound as husband and wife, Mr. J[im] A. TERRY, of the Sentinel, and Miss Lola [VanDIEN], eldest daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Richard VanDIEN. Congratulations over, the guests sat down to a most toothsome wedding spread . . . and the bride and groom repaired to furnished rooms in the Holman block, where they are at home to their numerous friends.

The bride is one of Rochester's most charming, and popular girls and the groom is the well known foreman of the Sentinel office, which responsible position he has faithfully filled for the past six years. . . . There were present from a distance Mrs. J. F. and Will TERRY, of LaPorte, mother and brother of the groom; Mr. & Mrs. F. M. ORR, Mrs. BENNETT, and Miss Ella WILCOX, of Plymouth, and Mrs. COURSE, of South Bend.

DIED - The hosts of friends in this city of Mrs. L. E. DELVIN, formerly Miss Mel. EDWARDS, were grief stricken Thursday evening, upon the announcement of her death at her home in Huntington. In a touching tribute to the deceased, the Huntington Democrat says:

Mrs. Delvin has been ill for some time, and critically ill for several days. All that medical skill could do, all that loving hearts could suggest, was used to save the life of the young woman who was just entering upon the beauties of life, but without avail, and surrounded by her husband, parents, brother and sisters, the end came quietly and peacefully.

Two years ago the 6th of the present month, Lin E. DELVIN, of this city, and Amanda M. EDWARDS, of Rochester, were joined until death should part. The dread messenger has come and the young husband is prostrated with grief. They came to this city immediately after the marriage and have since resided here.

Mrs. Delvin was the second daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Andrew EDWARDS, sister to Miss Alice [EDWARDS] and Charley EDWARDS and Mrs. Clem [Della EDWARDS] MILLER, and was one of Rochester's noblest contributions to our present generation of young people. Her kind words for everybody and jolly demeanor at all times endeared her to rich and poor alike, and the circle of friends which mourn her untimely death, is circumscribed only by the limit of her acquaintance.

Verily, in the midst of the most promising period of life, we are in death, and the call of Mel. Edwards Delvin is only another verification of these words.

The funeral service was held at Huntington Saturday, and largely attended, after which kindly hands laid the body to rest in Mt. Hope cemetery. May the bleak November winds hum a requiem to her silent rest.

DIED - At the home of the deceased's foster parents, Mr. & Mrs. M. T. LOUDERBACK, Mrs. Maggie PENDLETON, wife of Clinton PENDLETON, quietly breathed her life out at four o'clock, Friday evening, aged 27 years and 7 months. Her disease was consumption, from which she had been a sufferer for many months.

Deceased was a noble christian lady and was married to her surviving husband in March, 1887.

Mrs. Pendleton was not adopted by Mr. & Mrs. Louderback, nevertheless they occupied the position of parents towards her since she was 13 months old, and she was as dear to them as though she were their offspring, and Maggie, on her part, was always a dutiful daughter.

The funeral service, conducted by Rev. E. J. DELP, took place from the Christian Chapel, Sunday afternoon, when a large concourse of people followed the remains to their last resting place in Odd Fellows cemetery.

DIED - Mr. Peter LYNCH, son of Wm. LYNCH, died at the residence of his brother, Arthur [LYNCH], in Englewood, Sunday, October 29, and the remains were brought here Wednesday, for interment in Odd Fellows cemetery.

DIED - The ten months old child of Mr. & Mrs. John HAGAN, who live five miles southwest of town, died Monday night and was buried yesterday.

DIED - "Charley RICHTER is dead," was the surprising and sad intelligence that was rapidly circulated on the streets Friday evening.

Nearly eight months ago Charley and Frank RICHTER went to Dakota to try the cold, dry climate of that country as a panacea for the asthma with which both were afflicted, but Charley received but little benefit and at the solicitation of his parent and brother, started home, arriving here Thursday evening. On Friday afternoon he was stricken with a chill and the family physician was summoned, but when he arrived, about 6 o'clock in the evening, he was just breaking the crushing news to the family of the near approach of death when the noble boy turned upon his couch and nestled down into the cold chill of death as peacefully and apparently, painlessly as though he had dropped to sleep.

The unexpected presence of death in that family which had been made so happy by the return of the pet of the home circle but twenty-four hours before, was so stunning in its awful reality that the passionate grief of the silver-locked mother, sister and brother, who were present, knew no bounds.

The deceased was nearly twenty-one years old, was the youngest son of Mrs. F. RICHTER and brother of the well known merchant, Albert RICHTER, of WILE & RICHTER's. He had grown up from babyhood in Rochester, and in school and his society circles was universally popular.

The funeral service, conducted by Rev. LORD, took place from the family residence on Madison street Sunday afternoon when an unusually large crowd of sorrowing admirers of the deceased and friends of the family assembled to mingle their grief with those of mother and brothers and sisters and to pay the last tribute of respect to one of Rochester's young men who, in his short life, immortalized himself for generosity, filial devotion and exalted citizenship.

Just before Charley's departure from the west for his long journey home, to a comfortable death bed, a lady friend, Mrs. JOHNSON, who had become much attached to him prepared a delicious of lunch and fruit in the bottom of which she secreted the following note:

My Dear Charley:-- As I am caring for the sick tonight, I find my thoughts are with you, and tomorrow's train bears you homeward, and we hope, safely. Many are the sad thoughts that crowd my mind tonight when I think of your suffering which has been borne so patiently, but it has taught me a lesson long to be remembered, and your kind, unselfish manner will have an influence that will impress me through all time, and when the "crowning day of life" shall come you will be richly rewarded for bearing your affliction without a murmur. And may Heavens choicest blessing rest upon you and your future life be adorned with

DIED - A friend of the bereaved family kindly furnishes the Sentinel with the following obituary notice of the death of George B. STOCKBERGER, a pioneer of Fulton county and one of its most honorable citizens.

George B. Stockberger was born in Perry county, Ohio, December 12, 1821. In 1853 he, with his family, left his native state, journeying Westward to Fulton county, Indiana, where he spent the remainder of his life.

In his infancy he was consecrated to God in holy baptism according to the rites of the Lutheran church. And in later years ratified his covenant with God by the rite of confirmation to a full membership in the same church. Of this church he remained a faithful and consistent member until his death.

He was well and favorably known throughout the community and county, not only as a citizen but also as a man of principle and uprightness.

He died of heart disease December 4, 1889, aged 67 years 11 months and 12 days. He leaves a widow and 10 children to mourn his departure. The remains of the deceased were laid to rest in the Lutheran cemetery in Newcastle township, December 6, 1889, the services being attended by a large number of sorrowing relatives and friends.

DIED - The announcement of the death of Mrs. J. H. [Anna C. LINDSAY] WILSON, at noon yesterday, was heard with universal surprise and sorrow by Rochester people. Although it was generally known that the deceased was somewhat worse than she ordinarily grew in her frequent prostrations, the good woman's death was unlooked for except by the family and immediate friends.

Anna C. Lindsay was born at Mt. Vernon, Ohio, September 19, 1845, and was therefore in her forty-fifth year. She was united in marriage with her surviving husband in June, 1868, and to the union four children were born, three of whom, two boys and a girl, preceded their angelic mother to the great beyond.

From her girlhood, Mrs. Wilson had always been in delicate health and to this feebleness, her circumscribed acquaintanceship and retiring disposition, may be entirely attributed. Patient in her daily suffering for years and years, her exemplification of Christian fortitude was soul inspiring, and her angelic resignation to the will of her Creator, supremely saintly. "O what a religion that can sustain such sufferers as she in life, and give them such heavenly comfort on their death bed," said the grief stricken husband to the Sentinel reporter two hours after the messenger of death had called from his a companion who had sustained him in those life trials which only the itinerate ministry are in a situation to realize.

Mrs. Wilson was not fond of what is known as modern society, was not a promiscuous friend maker, but her charity knew no bounds, and her daily pleasure was a reconsecration to God and His cause, and an earnest appeal for her fellow creatures.

During her last few days on earth a devoted husband and affectionate daughter administered every consideration conducive to a flowry death bed that human skill could devise, and they are rewarded in the consolation that their truest friend on earth died as she had lived, peacefully, resignedly, and in full anticipation of a glorious reward in the Haven of Rest.

A brief funeral service will be held at the Parsonage, Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, after which the remains will be conveyed to South Bend where the cortege will arrive at 6 o'clock p.m., and the remains will be taken to the home of Mr. G. W. BAKER, where they will lie in state until 2 o'clock p.m. Friday, when Dr. BECK, presiding Elder of the LaPorte District, will conduct the final service, and the remains will then be laid to that rest in Cottage Grove Cemetery, South Bend, which they have so deservedly earned.

He emigrated to this state in 1854, and departed this life December 12, 1889, aged 60 years 3 months and 19 days. The deceased leaves a wife, four sons, two daughters and many friends to mourn his loss.

DIED - The familiar form of Silas Allen NYE, the peanut vendor, is no longer visible at his "little red shop" at the Sentinel corner.

At about 8 o'clock Friday evening, he was found unconscious in his little business room, and died ten minutes later from paralysis of the heart. The funeral took place from Trinity church, Sunday afternoon, when a mighty concourse of people, who had known the deceased as an energetic, honest man for years, turned out to pay the last tribute of respect to the dead. Deceased was 73 years old.

DIED - Mention has heretofore been made of the critical condition of Hezekiah STEVENS, of Liberty township, occasioned by being kicked on the head by a horse, and after nearly three weeks of unconsciousness, the poor fellow died Monday, and was buried at Odd Fellows cemetery yesterday. BIOG - The grandsons of Silas NYE will continue the cigar, popcorn and peanut business at the old stand, and they deserve a liberal patronage in their efforts to earn a legitimate livelihood.

DIED - Uncle Billy SEDAM has for many years made his home at Bloomingsburg and was widely known in that vicinity and many other sections of the country where he had plied his vocation, that of a mill wright.

Mr. Sedam came to Bloomingsburg from Pennsylvania about thirty years ago and has since lived alone in a little hovel, working at his trade at times and spending his earnings for drink.

In the latter part of October he went east to visit his relatives and soon after his arrival there the word came back that he had been killed on the railroad. Last week, however, Mr. S. Y. GROVE, who had been appointed administrator of the deceased's estate, received a letter from one of his relatives which states that Uncle Billy was murdered, as the following synopsis of the coroner's finding in the case will show:

Wm. SEDAM went to his death by wounds inflicted by a weapon having an edge and, from the effects of a bruise, caused by a heavy pressing blow which broke several ribs and injured him internally, and that the wounds on his head and side caused his death.

That we believe that the blows inflicted on the head of said Wm. Sedam, with a cutting instrument was done by some person or persons using the same and striking the head of said Wm. Sedam, that the person or persons using said instrument, and striking the head and body of said Wm. Sedam, is or are, to this jury unknown.

We find further that one John BRADY and one George TIPPIE, were the last persons in company with the said Wm. Sedam, injured, and that said John Brady and George Tippie were on the R.R. track at or about dark in company with Wm. Sedam, a few hours before he was injured, at or near the place he was found in a dying condition.

We find further that the said Wm. Sedam was in an intoxicated condition and not able to care for himself, at or about the hour of 5:30 p.m., on the 29th day of October, 1889, and that he was on the R.R. in such condition at or about said hour.

Another letter from the same party states that two suspects are in jail awaiting an investigation by the Grand Jury.

WILL SET ASIDE - The will of the late George KING was set aside in the Circuit Court Monday on account of legal defectiveness.

Wednesday, February 12, 1890

KILLED BY TRAIN - It is reported that Silas THOMSON, former resident of this city, recently died in the west. It is also said that ---ie THOMSON, a brother of Silas, was killed in Ohio by the cars while dead heading his way on the train.

WHY WILL WAS SET ASIDE - The Akron Echo offers the following explanation of a brief local which appeared in these columns last week:

The Sentinel's little item this week saying that the will of the late George KING was set aside "on account of legal defectiveness," might lead the reader to think that it was not properly written. The will was written by Dr. HARTER, and the court complimented him on its arrangement. The reason for setting it aside was that there was a question in the mind of the court as to the sanity of Mr. King at the time it was written. He had been seriously ill for a long time and it is believed that the disease affected his mind to a considerable extent.

DIED - Harmon MAGDEBURG died at his home near Tiosa last week and was buried by the Order of Red Men, of Walnut.

KILLED IN MILL - A dispatch from Huntington to the Indianapolis Sentinel yesterday from Huntington says that one of the most horrible accidents that ever occurred in that county, happened Monday at Warren, by which Thomas HUTSELL lost his life.

He was at work in his flouring mill and in some way became entangled in the belting. He was drawn over the shafting and his neck broken. The body caught between the shafting and the wheel, stopping the machinery, but he was dead when discovered.

Mr. Hutsell formerly lived here and worked in several mills throughout the county, but principally in COOPER's ROLLING MILLS in this city, and after that was burned he operated the FULTON mill for a while and then moved to Warren.

The following obituary was read at the funeral services Sunday morning which was held at the residence, Rev. ROTH of the Presbyterian church officiating:

Mrs. Nancy A. House was born in Pickaway county, Ohio, February 23, 1853, and was dedicated to the Lord, by holy baptism, in her infancy.

At an early age she moved with her parents to this, Fulton county, Indiana. On the 12th day of November, 1872, she was united in holy wedlock with Rev. A. V. House, the present sorrowing husband. This union was blessed with two sons and one daughter, of which one son preceded her to the spirit world.

Soon after her marriage she was confirmed a member of the Evangelical Lutheran church in which she lived for some 17 years, and died with the blessed hope of everlasting life. She bore her long suffering patiently, yet toward the close of life prayed earnestly for the Good Lord to come and take her home. Her prayer was answered on the morning of February 14, 1890, when she calmly passed away into the slumber of death without a struggle. She leaves a husband, two children, five step-children, a mother, two brothers, and four sisters with many other relatives and friends to mourn her loss. Age 36 years 11 months and 21 days.

December last our young brother was happily converted to God, and united with the Evangelical church, and while we mourn his departure, we rejoice in his hope, and mourn not as those who have no hope, but patiently await our time when we may all be gathered in the Christian home.

OBITUARY - In his obituary of Wm. H. HAMLETT in the Mentone Gazette, Rev. LEDBETTER says:

Years after this the visitors at the Hamlett cemetery may read on one of the tombstones erected there, this plain and simple inscription: "To the memory of William H. Hamlett, departed this life, February 4, 1890, aged 53 years 2 months and 11 days."

The many good deeds of this man whose body rests in an humble grave, near the village of Bloomingsburg, need not be engraved on a marble slab, they are engraved on the tablet of many hearts who knew him well, and knew him only to love and respect him. He lived, but lived not for himself alone, he lived for the benefit of his family, for whom he had the most tender regard; he lived to be kind to all mankind. The best interest of his neighbor was not lost sight of, and the stranger was not turned from his door, hungry or unsheltered. He lived, but the life he lived was by faith in the Son of God.

DECORATION DAY, 1890

Decoration Day was different this year in Rochester from those of several preceding years, in that it was one of the brightest of the proverbial month of flowers and sunshine. "In panegyric oratory, in patriotic song, in the wealth of May flowers with which we bestrew their graves is expressed the deep gratitude, the tender reverence, in which we hold the nation's defenders in its hour of peril. It is our highest honor that the custom grows with time, that the march of years tends to brighten rather than dim their valorous deeds, making them a glorious heritage to be as sweetly commemorated by generations yet to come."

Every detail for the appropriate observance of this, America's day of patriotic worship and reverence, had been carefully perfected by McClung Post G.A.R. At 2 o'clock the 3d Regiment Band made a parade of the streets and led a vast multitude into the Public Square where the exercises were opened by a song by the quartette and prayer by Past Chaplain E. J. DELP. The pupils of the public schools then entertained the audience with patriotic songs and recitations for twenty minutes, when the speaker of the day, Hon. Charles F. GRIFFIN, was introduced and delivered an eloquent, patriotic and touching eulogy to our honored dead.

The line of march was then taken up to Odd Fellows cemetery with McClung Post G.A.R., Manitu Blues, Knights of Pythis, Knights of Maccabees, and the school children in procession. Upon arriving at the cemetery, the grave of Comrade Palmer COLLINS was decorated by bouquets from the hands of forty-three little girls who represented the states in the Union. This done and all other comrades' graves decorated the procession reformed and marched back to the city where the people dispersed, satisfied with having again performed the pleasant and patriotic duty of "giving honor to whom honor is due."

DIED - The announcement of the death of Martin STURGEON which occurred at his residence seven miles southeast of Rochester Friday morning, created considerable surprise, as he had been in town on Wednesday.

DIED - As predicted in the last issue of the Sentinel, Dr. Rob. R. HOUSTON died at Long Cliff Asylum, Logansport, Wednesday, and was brought here for burial Thursday. This unfortunate young man was a bright scholar and, when he graduated from college, had a very bright future before him, but disease fastened upon his brain and he died while under treatment at Logansport.

DIED - One of the oldest and most highly respected citizens of Fulton county passed to the great beyond Saturday night in the person of Harrison DUDGEON, of Richland township.

The deceased was in town Saturday and retired in his usual health, and nothing was known of his illness until he was found to be dead by his wife at 2 o'clock Sunday morning. Dr. LORING was called and, after a thorough examination, decided that his death was caused by paralysis and that he had died painlessly while asleep.

The funeral services were conducted at the family residence yesterday morning by Rev. LORD, after which the remains were followed to Odd Fellows cemetery in this city, by one of the very largest funeral processions ever seen in the county.

MURDERED - Friday evening the remains of Lina CULVER MATHIAS, wife of Col. MATHIAS, formerly of this city, but for several years a resident of Decatur, Illinois, were brought here and with them the blood curdling report that the head was almost severed from the body and that an insanely infatuated lover had inflicted the death wound with a razor. Particulars of the murder and capture of the murderer are thus given by a special from Decatur wired to the city papers Wednesday afternoon:

The body of Mrs. Col. Mathias was found in a field near Decatur this morning with her throat cut from ear to ear. She was a handsome woman, thirty-five years old, and had a husband and three children. Her body was found about two blocks from her house, and in her hands bits of grass and brush were clinched and the surrounding ground showed that the woman had struggled desperately for life.

Her husband was absent from home and her three children had been left over night by themselves. It was soon learned that William CRAWFORD, who had previously worked for Mathias and for whom it was said Mrs. Mathias had too friendly a feeling, had been at the house at 9:30 last night. Some time ago Crawford was arrested for an alleged attempt at burglary at Mathias' house. It was said then that he was charged with this crime by Mrs. Mathias to shield herself. The grand jury indicted him and he was taken to Jacksonville. He succeeded in getting bond and a few days ago returned to Decatur.

A posse, suspecting him, started after him, and about 10 o'clock found him at the home of his sister, eight miles northeast of Decatur. Crawford saw the officers coming and ran. When the officers commanded him to halt he turned half around and, drawing a razor, with one slash cut his throat, missing the arteries, but severing the windpipe. He then made a written confession, saying he had killed the woman because he loved her. He cannot recover.

In the Decatur papers, Mr. Mathias emphatically denies his wife's reported infidelity. He said to the reporter: "You can say for me in the Republican, and make it as strong as you like, that I have never been jealous of my wife. I believe she was a strictly virtuous woman. She never gave me cause to believe otherwise. Crawford and my wife never run together, and Lina was always a good and true wife to me. She did not leave her home Tuesday night voluntarily. In some way she was inveigled into going into that field."

Nine years ago the deceased and her bereaved husband were married in this city and soon after moved to the suburbs of Decatur. They lived happily and three bright children are the fruit of the union, who are now left motherless by the fiendish stroke of a murderer's hand.

Deceased was a cousin to the McQUERN family and the remains were taken to the home of Mr. J. C. TIPTON, where, on Friday, brief funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. H. WINANS, and the remains were then consigned to a premature grave in Odd Fellowos cemetery in the presence of a very large assembly of relatives and sympathizing friends.
