Mary HARVEY, four months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank HARVEY, who live northeast of Rochester on the I. N. DARR farm, was found dead in bed Friday morning by the parents. It is the belief of the neighbors that the child got tangled in the covers and suffocated. The body was yet warm when found and every effort was made by women living in the neighborhood to restore circulation.

A SENTINEL representative in company with Deputy Coroner Dr. M. O. KING, visited the Harvey home Friday morning and found conditions which are hardly describable. The body of the child was lying on a broken down bed in a corner of one room of the two room house which was given to the family this winter rent free. A stove, held together with wire, furnished heat while a large hole in a partition furnished too much ventilation. Carpet was conspicuous by its absence and the walls were blackened with smoke. Light shown in thru many cracks in the doors.

When questioned by the coroner regarding the death of the child, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey both maintained that she was in the best of health Thursday evening and slept during the night between them. The mother found her child face downward upon the sheet, heavily covered with blankets, and maintained that the heart was yet beating. A visitor would be led to believe that an all wise Providence acted in this case for with their dead baby near, the parents indulged in a wordy altercation regarding the trouble which they have been having and the father even did not want to donate $10 of $16, which he said he had, to bury the child decently. He asked the physician to take the body back to the city and leave it at the morgue, with the excuse that he needed his money. Dr. King returned a verdict of death by suffocation. The county will probably take charge of the body.

The death is the culmination of considerable family trouble of the Harveys. Several days ago, Mrs. Harvey asked Prosecutor BROWN to file an affidavit against her husband. When in Brown's office, the wife said that she wanted to give her remaining child to some woman and told the prosecutor that Mrs. Neal WOODCOX and Mrs. Robert RICKMAN wanted the daughter. She asked Mr. Brown his advice, but he refused to take the responsibility. Later it was learned that she gave the child to Mrs. Woodcox, who lives in East Rochester, and then afterwards took her back.

Last fall, the Harveys were called before Judge STEVENS, when it was learned that they were not giving proper attention to their family of four children, and on the advice of the court, three were sent to the orphans home at Mexico. This winter, they have been living on the Darr farm while Mr. Harvey worked for Mr. Darr. His employer says that Harvey has been giving satisfaction.

After suffering since Monday with embolus, a blood clot in an artery of the brain, Mrs. Helen WAGONER, wife of Omer WAGONER, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. BAILEY, died Friday evening at 10 o'clock at the home on south Monroe street. The end came as a distinct shock to the community as Mrs. Wagoner was but 24 years old and was married only three years.

On Christmas eve Mrs. Wagoner gave birth to a son, who is living and in the best of health. The young wife seemingly recovered and last week received a number of visitors but on Monday, she became ill and her condition soon grew serious. Dr. Howard SHAFER was called from Chicago on Tuesday and he diagnosed the case as a blood clot on the brain. Everything was done to prolong life, but the attending physicians held out no hope from the first. The patient could not take medicine as the throat and part of the body were paralyzed and the clot, acting as a dam, kept the blood from circulating through the brain, causing a slow death.

Mrs. Helen WAGONER [Helen BAILEY], the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. BAILEY, of S. Madison st., Rochestr, was born Oct 31, 1891. She attended the grammar and high schools of the city, but did not graduate from the latter. Like her sisters, who was well known because of musical ability and her services were often in demand. In Feb, 1913, she was married to Omer WAGONER, a son of Mrs. Elizabeth WAGONER. He is associated with the Bailey planing mill. Deceased leaves, besides her parents, husband and infant son, William [WAGONER], three brothers and two sisters, Elliot [BAILEY], Max [BAILEY], Byron [BAILEY], Margaret [BAILEY SHAFER] and [Mary] Louise [BAILEY TAYLOR].

HUDKINS has received word of the death of his brother, Marion HUDKINS, 77, of Alix, Alberta, Canada, which occurred on January 7th while Mr. and Mrs. Hudkins were visiting at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Mildred KOKER, at Clive, Canada. Deceased formerly lived in Kewanna and is well known to all the older residents.

After laying bedfast for 11 weeks, as the result of illness due to old age, Mrs. Elizabeth BRUMFIELD, 84, died Saturday morning at 9:30 on the old home place occupied by her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Ms. Joseph BABCOCK, south of Rochester, near Wagoners.

The aged woman gradually sank away. Although not afflicted with any disease, weakness attending her advanced age caused her to take to her bed for many weeks. Mrs. Brumfield had been a widow since she was 22 years old, when her husband, Hiram BRUMFIELD, passed away.

She [Elizabeth HARPER] was born in Camden, Ohio, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James HARPER. After her marriage to Mr. Brumfield, they moved to Randolph county and later to this county, where she lived for over 50 years. She leaves two children, Mrs. Jacob HOOVER of this city and Mrs. Joseph BABCOCK of near Wagoners. Three children are dead. Mrs. Brumfield was a member of the Presbyterian church for over 40 years.

Word has been received here by Jacob PERSCHBACHER, of the fact that the funeral of W. P. LEONARD, 76, of Plymouth, who died late Thursday, will be held Sunday afternoon from the home in Plymouth. Deceased was a cousin of Mr. Perschbacher's late wife.

The SENTINEL erred Friday in stating that the house where the four months old child of Mr. and Mrs. Frank HARVEY died is located on the farm belonging to I. N. DARR. The building belongs to A. J. BARRETT, who owns the farm north of Darr's.

Special to the Sentinel

Kewanna, Ind., Jan 19 -- Isaac KING, aged about 60, who Jan 1st completed a two year term as marshal, killed himself in his home here this morning, drinking carbolic acid and breathing his last a few minutes before noon. No cause for the act is known.

King, who was a widower, made his home with his widowed daughter, Mrs. Chloe HIZER, and it was she who found him when she returned from Logansport about 11 o'clock. She summoned a doctor, but in vain, as he died about 11:45. He purchased the acid at Elston's drug store, where he had often bought it for medicinal purposes.

King was well known and well liked, altho defeated for re-election last fall. He leaves two daughters and a son at Logansport.

King was in Rochester Tuesday, a witness in the WILLOUGHBY case. He appeared to be in good health and spirits.

Mrs. James FRY of Peru, accompanied by her brother-in-law, Frank STETSON and family, went to Fulton to attend the funeral of the late Mrs. Sarah FRY, held there today.

Special to the Sentinel

Kewanna, Ind., Jan 20 -- It is the general impression here that the disappointment incident to his defeat in last fall's election and brooding due to alleged dissipation, were responsible for the suicide here Wednesday noon of ex-marshal Isaac KING, aged about 60.

King was beaten by a close vote, being one of the few republicans defeated. Since that time he has been known to drink heavily at times. Coroner Stanley V. ROTH states that he will return a verdict of suicide, as evidence points conclusively to the fact that the deceased drank a half ounce of carbolic acid from a tumbler. The bottle in which the drug was sold to him could not be found.

Dr. Herman ARMSTRONG, who was called, and who saw King breathe his last, has stated to the undertaker that he will sign a death certificate, but Dr. Roth is stong in his opinion that it is purely a coroner's case and will make his report in a few days. Funeral Friday, with interment at Indian Creek cemetery, near Grass Creek.

Friday, January 21, 1916

Dr. William HILL, 83, the oldest physician in Rochester, died Friday morning at 1:30 at his home on east Eighth street after an illness of two weeks. Death was directly due to an attack of ptomaine poisoning which left the physician in a very weak condition.

Several weeks ago Dr. Hill became ill after eating some veal and altho he seemingly recovered after prescribing for himself, Dr. Edgar HOFFMAN was called and at once said that the aged physician had not long to live. Mrs. HILL and Mrs. HUNTER, who has been assisting at the house, were at the bedside when death came.

The death of Dr. Hill marks the passing of a Rochester citizen, once very prominent in the social and business life of this city. He was born in New York state in 1832. With his parents he moved to Paw Paw, Ind., when very young. Before he was 20 years of age he took up the practice of medicine and after studying in an office for several years, he went to Philadelphia where he graduated from a medical school.

Dr. Hill moved to Rochester in 1864. Here he soon became promient in the community and developed a large practice. At this time he was living with his second wife, his first having passed away a few years previous. One son, William HILL, Jr., now living in Morris, Ill., was born to the first union. The result of his second marriage to Miss Sarah USH was one daughter, Ollie HILL, a mute, who is dead. About 40 years ago, between 1870 and 1880, Dr. Hill, his wife and daughter, who were then members of the Methodist church, left that organization and joined the Adventist church. A marked conversion then took place in their lives. The family gave up society while the doctor quit the practice of medicine to study theology. He became a preacher in the church, his wife and daughter assisting him in the work. Although in late years he again paid some attention to medicine, he always remained a deep student of the Bible. For five or six years after the death of his second wife, he remained alone until 1906, when he married Mrs. Ann M. QUIVEY, who survives.

About 10 years ago, Dr. Hill became prominently connected with a cancer cure. A Dr. YOUNG of Edinburg, Ind., who claimed to have discovered a cure for external cancer, having passed away, his wife who under the law, could not practice medicine, persuaded Dr. Hill to stand sponsor for the cure. They claimed to have had great success with the remedy. Dr. Hill never amassed a large amount of property but in late years took care of the estate gathered during the active years of his life. When the government a year ago was trying to obtain a postoffice site here, Dr. Hill was very active in his efforts to sell the lot at the corner of 8th and Madison streets, and took the matter greatly to heart when his ground was not selected. He leaves one sister Mrs. Jane LEEDY of Deedsville. She is in very feeble health and may not be able to attend the funeral.

Mrs. Otto CARLSON, Mrs. C. D. SHOBE and Miss Harriet BAIR went to Indianapolis today to attend the funeral of their cousin, O. T. HASKETT. Mrs. Haskett was formerly Miss May WRIGHT of this city.

Saturday, January 22, 1916

The funeral of Dr. Wm. HILL will be held at the Methodist church Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. Rev. W. A. YOUNG of Lafayette will have charge of the services and the physicians of the city will act as pall bearers.

Dr. Winfield S. SHAFER is dead.

The city's leading physician and well known public spirited citizen died Saturday morning at six o'clock at the home of his son, Dr. Howard SHAFER, in Chicago. The body will be brought to Rochester Sunday morning.

The death of Dr. Shafer does not come as a surprise to friends and relatives as it was known two weeks ago that he had not long to live. He left home a week ago last Sunday and on the Thursday following underwent an examination at a Chicago hospital where they told him that he was suffering with a cancer of the liver and that an operation would not prolong life. Mrs. Shafer was with her husband when the end came.

Dr. Shafer answered the call before his allotted time, passing away at the age of 63. His death was due to the same disease which afflicted his partner, Dr. J. N. RANNELLS. For years Dr. Rannells and Dr. Shafer occupied the same office over the Howard jewelry store and until taking his last trip to Chicago, Dr. Shafer was found every day at his office, insisting on taking care of his practice, regardless of the condition of his health.

Two Rochester institutions owe their existence to Dr. Shafer, the Woodlawn hospital and the Rochester Normal University. Woodlawn hospital was established November 2, 1905, through the efforts of Dr. Shafer who saw the need of such an institution in Rochester, and after failing to arouse public sentiment in favor of a public hospital, shouldered the task and gave the county what it needed, and though like every new undertaking it encountered obstacles of various kinds which made it appear doubtful whether or not it would survive, it is today, through the untiring efforts of Dr. Shafer, on a sound financial footing.

In 1895, Dr. Shafer became interested in a normal school for this city and with his usual vigor, pushed the enterprise and invested nearly all of his capital until the school became a reality. It proved non-supporting, - - - -, and was later abandoned.

Dr. Shafer was born in Ohio, Oct 12, 1852, the son of David and Sarah SHAFER. His parents moved to Marshall county, Ind., in 1865. They reared nine children, bringing them up on the farm. Dr. Shafer secured his early education in the common school, after which he attended the Indiana normal school at Valparaiso. While teaching school in Marshall county he took up the study of medicine, later taking a course in Rush medical college, Chicago. In 1879, he located at Big Foot, Ind., where he took up the practice of his profession. Four years later, he located in Rochester. He later took a short course in medicine in the Eclectic medical school of Cincinnati and in the Bennett school at Chicago.

Although a graduate of the old school, Dr. Shafer never refused to recognize the recent discoveries made by science and was usually the first in this city to put them into practice. His devotion to his profession was well known. In 1895 he was elected president of the Indiana Medical Association. He was also a member of the Fulton County and the Northern Indiana Medical Associations. He was a member of the Odd Fellows, Masonic and Ben Hur lodges.

In 1878, Dr. Shafer married Miss Sarah WILTFONG. Three children are living, Dr. Howard SHAFER of Chicago, Mrs. Charles BRACKETT and Robert SHAFER of Rochester.

He leaves two brothers and two sisters, all of Lapaz, Cyrus [SHAFER] and Abraham SHAFER, Mrs. Margaret STOUT and Mrs. Mary SYKES.

Mrs. Harriet B. ROSS received word Saturday morning that her sister, Mrs. Sarah J. QUIVEY, was dead.

Monday, January 24, 1916

Henry H. WARD, ex-county clerk, and well known Rochester citizen, dropped dead Sunday morning about two o'clock, following an attack of apoplexy at his home on Madison St.

Mr. Ward passed away suddenly just as his father and mother before him did. About two o'clock Mrs. Ward heard her husband fall in the hall leading from his room to a bath room. Finding her husband unconscious, Mrs. Ward called a neighbor and they placed the stricken man in bed. Dr. C. J. LORING arrived a few minutes before Mr. Ward died. He never regained consciousness. He had been in fair health and Saturday while being weighed at a local store, remarked to a friend that he never felt better in his life. However, he recently visited the Mayo hospital at Rochester, Minn., and knew he was not a well man.

THE "LITTLE MOTHER" DEAD

Morrilton, Ark., Headlight

It came to us with a feeling of deep, personal loss when we learned Sunday of the death of Mrs. S. A. SEIBERT, who passed away at noon that day, after an illness of just a week with bronchial pneumonia. Doubtless there has never been a good woman in Morrilton whose passing will be any more greatly deplored by all than this of the "Little Mother," whose ministrations to so many here had endeared her to womanhood, she became devoted to whole families. Herself a devoted mother to her own children, whom she reared to splendid manhood and all children who came under her care, and her great heart enfolded suffering ones of all ages in tender devotion at their bedside. It is small tribute that we can pay, but from intimate personal knowledge of her and her devoted, consecrated living, we feel that we have been helped and uplifted; have been greatly blessed by knowing her, and no one more deeply sorrows with her loved ones than do we.

Elizabeth VINCENT was born in Peru, Ind., October 10, 1858, and at the age of sixteen was married to Samuel A. SEIBERT, coming with her family to Arkansas in 1890. Seven years ago Mr Seibert died and since that time Mrs. Seibert has divided her time between her children, and in her great work of ministering to the sick and suffering. Steve SEIBERT, of Oklahoma, Mrs. Lee WOOD of England and Mayne SEIBERT, of the state of Washington are the children, the first named being present at the death of their mother. On account of the distance and delayed traffic the last named could not be present and only arrived this morning, not learning of the death of his mother until then.

Mrs. Seibert was a devoted member of the Methodist church and her daily life exemplified her christianity. The funeral services were held at the home of W. L. WOOD, on Tuesday afternoon, at which time Rev. FARRIS spoke to a multitude of her friends. The many beautiful floral offerings and the presence of so many testified to the love which was borne the deceased. Interment was made in the Knights of Honor cemetery and she was laid to rest by the side of her husband. May her last long rest be sweet and dreamless.

Among the physicians here today to attend the [Winfield S.] SHAFER funeral were Drs. SARBER, KENDALL, GOULD and McCracken of Argos, Dr. C. L. SLONAKER of Leiters and Dr. WISEMAN of Culver.

Lawrence COLLINS, 61, a well known farmer living in Millark, seven miles southeast of this city, blew out his brains with a revolver at one o'clock Saturday afternoon, dying instantly. No cause is known for his act.

Collins, who lived with his wife on a small farm which they owned, had spent the morning in Macy, where nothing unusual in his conduct was noticed. He visited his daughter, Mrs. E. U. SLIFER, and then returned home. After eating dinner, he read a newspaper, then got up, looked out into the yard, went upstairs and killed himself.

His wife, hearing the report of the pistol, found the body immediately, and called Dr. P. B. CARTER of Macy, who in turn called Coroner S. B. ROTH of Kewanna. Besides the widow and daughter, there survive four sons: Francis [COLLINS], who lives west of this city, Fred [COLLINS], a Fulton restaurant owner, and Charles [COLLINS] and Roy [COLLINS], farmers near Macy. A verdict of suicide will be returned by Coroner S. B. ROTH of Kewanna in the case of Lawrence COLLINS, who Saturday shot himself in the head with a pistol at his home in Millark. Little cause for the deed could be learned, except that it was ascertained that Collins quarreled with members of his family at times, and contrary to the first report, that he drank occasionally. However, there was no evidence to show that either was the immediate cause. The funeral was held Monday afternoon.

Twenty years of matrimonial strife and turmoil ended for Mr. and Mrs. William WALTZ Thursday morning at their farm home north of Rochester when he committed suicide, by firing a charge into his breast with a shot gun. Waltz killed himself after trying to murder his wife, she escaping from him when he left her to get a gun. "I can't say that I am sorry," said Mrs. Waltz to a SENTINEL representative. "My life with him for the last 20 years has been hell on earth."

The suicide took place on the Waltz farm just north of Rochester where Mr. and Mrs. Waltz moved with their family last March. They moved frequently, according to report, Mr. Waltz never being able to meet the rent. His many debts are supposed to have caused him to worry until he took his own life. The family says that he often threatened to kill Mrs. Waltz, the quarrel usually following pressure to pay an over due note.

The trouble started when the two sons left for the day, leaving their father and mother alone. They had not been away from the house long, according to the wife, when the husband began to abuse her. Words led to blows and being a very strong man and she being very frail, he easily threw her on a sofa in the living room, saying, "I am going to fix you." Choking her with one hand he reached for his knife, but it was gone. Cursing all the time he released her and started for the kitchen, saying, "Dam you, wait 'til I get the gun." Mrs. Waltz ran out the door and had just reached the road, when she heard the shot, which killed him. Reaching the home of her brother-in-law, Charles WALTZ, who lives about a quarter of a mile south, she told him about the attempted murder. He soon found the body on the kitchen floor, the gun held by one hand. It is thought that Waltz committed the act by leaning over the gun, with the butt resting on the floor and pulling the trigger with his right hand. Death was instantaneous.

William M. WALTZ was about 48 years old and was the son of Henry WALTZ, who lives near Rochester. He leaves the following children: Mrs. Susan May CALVERT of Logansport, Joseph WALTZ of near Rochester and Jesse [WALTZ] and John WALTZ at home. Fred WALTZ, a son, was accidentally shot and killed two years ago while demonstrating a gun to a friend at the home. After returning home she became bedfast, and gradually grew weaker despite expert medical aid. She lost consciousness Saturday night at 11 o'clock, and ceased breathing about seven hours later. He had been ill all winter and it was only last Friday that his mind became deranged and he asked to be killed. Since that time, his relatives have been watching him closely. He is the father of Mrs. Fred HETZNER of this city and Mrs. Robert MOWE, of north of Rochester.

In the death of Rev. McNeely our community witnesses the passing away of one among its oldest and best loved citizens and friends. He was only sick a few days and altho we all realized he was fast failing, his death came as a distinct shock to everyone. He was one who was ever ready and willing to help those in need or distress and will surely be missed both here and abroad as his mission was not confined to his home. Where ever he was needed or called, he was ready to respond and render his services to his Master and fellow men. Rev. McNeely's life was an open book and hence it is not necessary to dwell upon merits. He indeed fought a good fight and surely won the crown which is laid up in Heaven for those who are faithful to the trust which God bestows. He has surely heard the "Well done, thou good and faithful servant. Thou hast been faithful over a few things. I will make thee ruler over many; enter thou into the joys of thy Lord." - - - TIOSA ITEMS.

WHO KNOWS WHOM MARK MANGAN WED?

Believing that the children of Mrs. Lucy MANGAN, who left Rochester in 1898, have an estate coming to them from their grandparents living in Ohio, friends here are trying to find someone who knows the maiden name of Mrs. Mangan.

Recently the county clerk received a letter from a Chicago nurse, asking information concerning the relatives of Mark MANGAN who died two weeks ago in a tuberculosis hospital in Oak Park, Ill. Then it was learned that he was a brother of the adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs John LAIDLAW, who took the child from the local county farm, where the mother and six children had gone after the death of the father, Bartlet MANGAN.

The mother later left the county farm and her location is unknown. It is believed here that her parents in Ohio were well to do and if anyone knows the maiden name of Mrs. Lucy Mangan, he would bestow a favor by writing to Mrs. R. C. WALLACE, Rochester, Ind.

The mother never wrote to her children after leaving here and it is thot that she died in poverty shortly after going from Rochester.

After an illness lasting 12 weeks, George B. W. ROBBINS, 58, died Wednesday morning at his home just southwest of Rochester, a victim of bronchial pneumonia. Mr. Robbins first took sick with the grip, which later developed into pneumonia. Death came at 5:00 a.m.

Because of his long services as a rural mail carrier on route 10 out of Rochester and his activity in the local I.O.O.F. lodge, Mr. Robbins was well known in this county. He was the first carrier on number 10, holding that position for 10 years. In the state organization of the R.F.D., he took a prominent part and held the position of state secretary for one year. On several occasions he acted as delegate from the local unit to the state meet.

In the Odd Fellows, Mr. Robbins was one of the most prominent and active members and at the time of his death was financial scribe of the Encampment. He passed all of the chairs in the order and for several years was district deputy grand patriarch in the county. Mr. Robbins often served on committees in the grand lodge. He was also a member of the Modern Woodmen.

Before entering the government service, Mr. Robbins conducted a feed store in the city for a number of years. He was married twice and leaves a wife and four children: Virgil [ROBBINS] of Lehigh, Oklahoma, Roy [ROBBINS] of Michigan City, Mrs. E. L. GORDON of this county and Miss Fern [ROBBINS] at home. He leaves one brother and one sister, John ROBBINS and Mrs. Cassie BELT, both of near Green Oak.

Several prominent local men are thinking of starting a fund for the purpose of erecting a suitable monument over the grave of the late Prof. J. F. SCULL, Rochester's beloved school master, who for over 20 years directed the city's educational institutions in a manner generally approved.

Professor Scull was laid to rest in the Odd Fellows cemetery more than three years ago and today nothing but a very small stone marks the place. Strange as it may seem, the expenses incurred by three Rochester firms in properly caring for the aged educator after his death, have never been paid. It has been suggested that the school children, members of the R. H. S. alumni association and others might easily meet these obligations and erect an appropriate monument in the local cemetery.

As Rochester people know, Professor Scull devoted 20 years, during the prime of his life, to the welfare of the children of this city, and his teachings and kindly example have borne much fruit.

Joseph BEVELHEIMER, 59, died at Woodlawn hospital Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock after suffering a stroke of paralysis at 5:30 while in R. P. TRUE'S restaurant.

Mr. Bevelheimer's death came very suddenly. After working all day on his farm south of Rochester, near Mt. Olive, he drove to the city with the family. While Mrs. Bevelheimer was shopping at 5:30 the husband was standing in front of True's restaurant when he suddenly became ill. Just then his wife came up and advised him to get a cup of coffee and while trying to drink the liquid in the restaurant, he fell unconscious. A physician was called and ordered him taken to the hospital where he died shortly afterward. He never regained consciousness.

Joseph G. BEVELHEIMER was born in Illinois, September 11, 1856, the son of Reuben and Emaline BEVELHEIMER, both of whom are dead. Mr. and Mrs. Bevelheimer were married 35 years ago. Twenty-three years ago they moved to this county and for the last eight years lived on their present farm south of Rochester. They were the parents of seven children, six of whom are living: Ray [BEVELHEIMER] and Reuben [BEVELHEIMER], who are now in Montana, Ruth [BEVELHEIMER] and Jesse [BEVELHEIMER], at home, Mrs. Roy KOFFEL of Logansport and Mrs. Laura MASON of Illinois.

Mr. Bevelheimer leaves three sisters and one brother: Mrs. Mary HAMMOND of Shelby county, Ind., Mrs. Belle TRADER, also of Shelby county, Mrs. Adoline SHANE of Indianapolis and Bruce BEVELHEIMER of Pennsylvania.

Tuesday, May 16, 1916

Temporarily insane as the result of grief over the death of his wife, which occurred five weeks ago, William G. DOLLER of Macy, Monday night murdered his mother and daughter, badly wounded his son and baby daughter and then committed suicide on the grave of his wife a half mile from the home.

The results of the terrible tragedy were discovered Tuesday morning about eight o'clock, when Mrs. Otto CLOUD called at the mill, owned by Doller, for some feed. Finding the place locked, she went to the home and saw the son, George [DOLLER], in the yard with blood all over his face, as the result of a bullet which had passed thru his head. Mrs. Cloud called William ALSPACH, who went into the house.

The body of Mrs. George DOLLER, Doller's mother, was found in her bed while beside her lay the baby, Ida [DOLLER], yet alive, with a bullet hole just above the ear. In a cradle bed, just beside that of the grandmother, lay the body of Agnes [DOLLER], who had evidently died instantly. She had been shot thru the top of the head. Each victim had been killed with a 32 calibre bullet.

A few minutes after the discovery of the bodies at the home, the sexton of the cemetery found that of William DOLLER. He had knelt over the grave of his wife and pressed the muzzle of the gun to his chest, pulling the trigger once. In the gun were found two undischarged cartridges, proving that he had loaded the gun several times before committing suicide. George, the son, found in the yard, and the baby, Ida, were taken to a hospital at Peru. They are not expected to live.

Two letters were found upon Doller's person which showed that he intended to murder his family last Saturday, but changed his plans when his father, George Doller, did not leave the town as expected. The elder Doller left Monday afternoon, coming to Rochester, and in the evening, the son went to Peru where he purchased a revolver, returning to Macy at 8:30 o'clock. It is thought that he murdered his family about one o'clock Tuesday morning, altho no one can be found who heard the shots.

The Dollers were well liked in Macy, moving there in November from Westport, Ind., where he and his father were small truck farmers. They purchased the mill at Macy and soon young Doller became popular because of his congenial ways. He was an ideal citizen, and did not smoke nor drink. His love for his wife was very noticeable. Before the death of the wife, his family lived separate from his parents.

Two letters were found on Doller's body, one addressed to Rev. E. H. KENNEDY, the Methodist minister, as follows:

May 11, 1916

To the Rev. Kennedy

Dear Brother:

I have done the act because I cannot bear life without the one I love better than I love my life. I cannot go and have my mother and children behind, so there is only one way and that is to take them with me to the one we loved so well. I have prayed to God to forgive me and I hope he will.

I wish to be laid beside my loved one, then our baby, then our eldest girl next to the baby and then mother. I have asked Mr. Musselman to see about the stone to mark our grave and you will tell them what to put on it. Tell him not to pay much for them. On my wife and mine put:

Wm. G. DOLLER, Oct. 15, 1885, Died May 12, 1916, Age 30 years, six months and 28 days.

Elsie E. [DOLLER], his wife, born May 7th, 1889, died April 10, 1916, age 27 years, 11 months and three days.

On a stone for mother put Agnes DOLLER, born Dec 7th, 1865, died May 12th, 1916, age 51 years, three months and five days.

Do this for me dear brother and good bye and God bless you.

Yours in sorrow
William G. Doller

P.S.: I wish to be laid away just as I am dressed.

The second letter was addressed to Sam MUSSELMAN, Macy banker, and dealt with business affairs, asking that he close out the entire mill and stock owned by the Dollers and see that the bodies were properly buried. "Don't wait to find father," the letter said.

George DOLLER, the father, who was Tuesday believed to be in Anderson, came to Rochester Monday afternoon to see A. H. REITER's patent carpet cleaner, he said. He told Mr. Reiter of family trouble earlier in the day, but said he was going back to Macy that night. At the station, he inquired the best way to Anderson and bought a ticket to Kokomo, according to Chas. KEEL of the local force. At noon, it was not believed that he knew of the tragedy. A. S. HOFFMAN, his daughter, Miss Mary [HOFFMAN] and Rev. KENNEDY were in the city Tuesday searching for the elder Doller whose absence from Macy is believed to have saved his life.

The house in which the double murder took place stands just opposite the mill owned by the Dollers. It contains six rooms. The grandmother and her two granddaughters occupied one of the bedrooms on the lower floor while Mr. Doller and his son slept upstairs. The grandfather occupied a room on the lower floor. Monday evening William Doller was seen in Macy about 8:30. It is evident that he went to bed with his son and later in the night stole down stairs, shot his mother, killed the daughter in the room with her and attempted to kill his baby. He then went upstairs and shot his son, thence to the cemetery where his body was found, dressed in a dark blue suit. The beds in which the bodies were found were covered with blood but no evidence of a struggle could be seen. The mother had evidently turned over once after being shot. The son, who slept with the father, and who may live, crawled out of bed and out upon the front porch, leaving a trail of blood behind him.

The seven year old son was found in the yard crying for his grandma. He said that he was not hurt any but complained that he could not see. His head and hair were a mass of blood. He was able to stand up, but reeled when he walked.

William Doller, the murderer, was a strange appearing man. He was dark skinned and very large, weighing over 200. His wife once said that Mr. Doller looked like a rough man, but no woman, she said, ever had a better husband. He was not considered handsome, having high cheek bones and very large ears. Macy people do not know anything of the Dollers' past history.

Soon after the news of the murder reached Peru, the entire police force of that city, including the sheriff, were on the scene. They thought that the murderer was yet alive and brought along a camera to take pictures of the scene. At nine o'clock, when a SENTINEL representative arrived, the Doller home was crowded with curious people and no attempt was made to keep anyone from looking at the bodies. It was one of the greatest tragedies which had ever occurred in or near Macy. At noon the bodies were taken to the Savage undertaking establishment. No funeral arrangements were made Tuesday.

According to a message from Peru, the two Doller children were alive at 3:00 o'clock but the attending physician said that the boy would be blind for life, even if he did recover. They are at the Dukes hospital.

Wednesday, May 17, 1916

Little Ida [DOLLER], the 17 months old daughter of William G. DOLLER, Macy miller who early Tuesday practically wiped out his entire family, died Tuesday afternoon about three o'clock in the Dukes hospital at Peru, as a result of the bullet wound inflicted in her head, by her father, who later turned the same gun on himself, dying across the grave of his late wife. The body has been removed to Macy, where it lies together with those of the father, his mother, and Agnes [DOLLER], the five year old daughter, all victims of the madman's revolver.

George [DOLLER], the seven year old son, also wounded by the father, is still in the hospital, his condition being unchanged. It is reported that he is rational at times, but that he may never be able to see, even should he recover. He was shot twice in the head. No funeral arrangements have as yet been made, and none will be until the coroner makes his report. Undertaker John HOOVER of Rochester assisted Undertaker SAVAGE of Macy in preparing the bodies for burial.

The elder Mr. Doller (George), was located at Anderson Tuesday. In the afternoon the late young Mrs. Doller's father, Henry CLAY, who lives at Anderson, met Geo. DOLLER on the street and, supposing he knew all about the tragedy, began talking about it. Mr. Doller didn't seem to understand and Mr. Clay tried to explain to him. The shock caused Doller to go crazy, according to report, and the sheriff put him in jail at Anderson. After a while he quieted down and became rational. The sheriff brought him to Macy Wednesday morning, between five and six o'clock and he, being sane now, is not in the care of the sheriff.

In Doller's quarrel with his son, before he left Monday, he deeded all of his property to the son, and told him to "go to hell." The elder Doller is an indulger in intoxicating liquors.

As far as can be ascertained, the financial affairs of the dead man were in good condition and he waited upon a number of customers Monday up until taking the afternoon train for Peru. He seemed to be in good spirits and joked with all his acquaintances. After returning from Peru Monday evening he stepped in the L. J. SAVAGE store and gave a check for some of his wife's funeral expenses. He was in apparent normal mental condition and good spirits.

As all of Doller's victims died as the result of one bullet, it is evident, as first supposed, that he did not attack the son, George, who slept upstairs, until he visited the lower floor. The boy must have been awakened by the shots and probably got out of bed to meet his father, who by that time was in such a state of mind that he could not shoot straight. The first shot did not silence the boy, it is thot, so the crazed father probably held the lad and fired the second bullet which cut the optic nerve probably rendering him blind for life. When the lad was found Tuesday morning, he did not complain of pain, altho carrying two bullets in his head.

It is strange that no one in Macy heard the shots in the Doller home as he must have fired at least five times. Mrs. Amon RABER, who lives nearest to the Dollers, about 30 feet away, was at home alone Monday night and she asserts that she did not hear anything.

Since the terrible tragedy, many Macy residents remember peculiar things done by William DOLLER. A. J. SLUSSER, the sexton of the cemetery, who found Doller's body, says that he visited his wife's grave every day and was seen there many times as late as 10 o'clock at night.

The murderer was conviviel last Sunday evening at the Christian church in Macy following a sermon delivered by Rev. Edward CASTLE of South Bend, a former resident of Rochester. At the close of the services, Doller rushed forward and grabbed Castle's hand sayng "those words are a great relief to me."

Doller's letter of instruction to Sam MUSSELMAN, Macy banker, was as follows:

May 11, 1916

Mr. Musselman

Dear Sir:

Will you please look after settlement of the business of the Macy Milling Co. I am leaving the accounts in the McCosky register, also cash and checks in my overall pockets with keys to the office.

There are four cars of coal, two cars that shipment can be stopped as they were to be shipped June 1st. Two cars hard coal, one has been shipped. I think the other can be held up if cancellation is made right.

Will you please see that my wife's funeral expenses are paid, $130.35 for stone vault.

The lot is paid for. The receipt for it is with my money. Also see that our funeral expenses are paid and keep the cost down and that the note owing to the bank is paid and if there is money left, put a tombstone on our resting place.

In fact, I want you to go ahead with this just as I have written it here. Don't wait to find my father.

Before you buy the tombstones, I would like for you to pay the Paid Up Assessment Fund of $25.00 so that the lot I have out at the cemetery will be kept up and also pay for the stone vault that I wrote of in the first part of the letter.

I will leave my cash that I have on hand in a tin box in the bottom dresser drawer upstairs with a key in it and the key to the office of the mill. There is also a steel barrel with some gasoline in it in the shed on the south side of the old barn.

You will see by the Miller's Mutual Fire Insurance Policy that there is $101.25 coming to Doller & Son any time.

You are to sell everything; horses, wagons, harness, gas engine, feed grinders, hogs, hay, corn, wheat, etc. You will find the oats in the big bin over the scales. Wheat in the hopper bins in the cellar of mill and in bins in the mill. If you can get Mr. Jorden, he can show you where. We do not owe any accounts only to your bank and for the two cars of coal. I will try to give you a list of the property: ton hominy meal, corn in mill and wagon and crib, tankage. We get $2.50 for tankage, $1.50 for hominy meal, $2.10 for chick feed, $1.40 for bran, $1.50 for shorts, of which there is some up in the bin on the second floor. My father has gone to Peru and may go to Anderson. Try and locate dhim but do not turn any money to him until you have done as I ask you.

I expect you will have to try and sell the mill. After you have carried out my letter turn over the balance to my father or if anything should happen that he does not claim the balance, you will give it to my father-in-law, H. C. CLAY of Anderson, Ind., and the other two-thirds to my uncle, E. WILSON, Terre Haute, Ind. You are to have suitable pay for your work. I ask you to do this for me because I do not know who else to get.

Yours,
W. G. Doller

P.S. Since writing the above, I have made some changes. I have made cancellation on two cars of soft coal. Mr. A. Jordon owes me $15 for a stove. I will give Mr. L. J. SAVAGE a check for $130.75 due him and you will please cash it.

Anderson, Ind., May 17 -- William DOLLER, the miller at Macy, who shot and killed his mother and daughter, wounded his son and baby and then turned the weapon on himself and ended his life, was the son-in-law of Henry CLAY, a prominent farmer, living in Lafayette township, Madison county. Mrs. William DOLLER, whose death on April 10 is believed to have driven her husband insane, was the daughter of Mr. Clay. She was 27 years old, and had been married for nine years. Mr. Clay left Tuesday for Macy to give whatever assistance was possible.

Macy, Ind., May 18 -- But two hearses were used here this afternoon when the bodies of the four victims of the revolver in the hands of William G. DOLLER were laid to rest in the cemetery, where his corpse was found Tuesday, stretched across the grave of his wife.

Services for the four, Mrs. Agnes [DOLLER], her son William [DOLLER] and his children, Agnes [DOLLER] and Ida [DOLLER], were held in the Christian church at two o'clock this afternoon, Rev. E. H. KENNEDY of the Methodist church officiating, and members of both choirs furnishing the music.

Undertaker John HOOVER of Rochester assisted in managing the details of the funeral, which was marked by the largest crowd that ever attended a similar service in Macy. Hundreds of people were unable to get into the church.

George DOLLER, the seven year old son is yet living in the hospital at Peru and Thursday morning he was able to distinguish between light and dark. He has a slight chance to recover according to the attending physician.

A number of the Doller's relatives including several related to Mrs. William DOLLER who died about five weeks ago, came to Macy to attend the funerals. The caskets were not opened at the church and the bodies were laid away in one large grave.

George P. DOLLER, the only surviving member of the family intends to sell the mill at Macy and will leave. He is now staying with friends. The home in which the murders took place is owned by Lem POWELL. It is the same one occupied by Mr. and Mrs. A. M. ARNOLD and family of Rochester for 15 years.

When William G. Doller was in Peru Monday evening at which time it is supposed he bought the revolver with which he shot the members of his family, he went to a drug store and asked for some potassium cyanide but as this is one of the most deadly drugs known to mankind, the druggist refused to sell it to him, when he turned away apparently greatly disappointed. The druggist did not know the man but from the description of Doller he is well satisfied that it was he who asked for the poisonous drug. Before coming to Peru Monday evening Doller tried to buy the same kind of drug at the Carter Drug Store at Macy where he was also refused. It is believed that he intended to end his own life with this drug which is sure death in a few minutes after it is taken. Being denied the drug, there was nothing for him to do except to shoot himself.

Rev. and Mrs. J. N. MARTIN went to Lafayette today to attend the funeral of his brother-in-law.

Monday, May 22, 1916

Macy, Ind., May 22 -- George P. DOLLER and Rev. E. H. KENNEDY went to Peru Saturday morning to ascertain what course to pursue in settling the affairs of Mr. Doller's son, William G. DOLLER, who shot his children and mother and then took his own life last Tuesday morning. They decided not to take any legal steps until the son now in the hospital improved. The attending physician says that he may recover.

Aside from the little son, the only near relatives that Mr. Doller has is one nephew and a niece. Mr. Doller owned 180 acres of land in Jennings county, and a couple of years ago, in order to satisfy his son, deeded to him 80 acres of the farm. Last fall the son persuaded the father to trade the entire farm for the Macy mill, and those familiar with the transaction say that it was a very poor deal for the Dollers, who had put practically everything they had on earth in the mill, which did not pan out as they hoped, or rather as the son had anticipated. It may be that this condition of affairs was partially the cause of the young man committing the terrible deeds.

A remarkable coincidence in connection with the horrible tragedy is that the only surviving child of the murderer and suicide was the only one of the four victims to have two bullets fired into his head. The two bullets entered the boy's forehead, one directly over each eye, the one on the left side passing out at the back of the head and on the left side. The other bullet is still in the boy's head. An X-ray picture has been taken to locate this bullet, but it has not yet been developed. There is a bad contusion on the right side of the boy's head, but the skull at that point is not fractured. It was at first thought that there was where the second bullet came out. This wound is thought to have been caused by a fall from the top of the veranda at the Doller home Tuesday morning, but no one, however, saw the boy fall.

Since the day of the tragedy some new light has been shed in the matter. It is now evident that Doller did not at first intend to kill the mother and children by shooting them. On Monday, the day before the killing, Doller sent his son and daughter Agnes to a store in Macy and had them buy a quantity of pop, a great deal more than he was in the habit of permitting them to buy at one time. The same day Doller tried to buy some cyanide potassium at the Macy drug store, but the poisonous stuff was withheld from him.

After a long illness caused by a cancer of the stomach, Noah A. NORRIS, 73, died Sunday afternoon at four o'clock at his home on south Franklin ave.

Mr. Norris leaves a wife and four children, Russell [NORRIS], William [NORRIS] and John [NORRIS] who live near Mentone and Mrs. Howard BURKHISER of Miami, Fla. The mother of his children died a number of years ago and 15 years ago he married Miss Emaline MURPHY who survives him. Mr. Norris has lived in Rochester for over 10 years, moving here from Newcastle township where he lived on a farm for years. Several years ago he divided all of his property among his children. Funeral Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock at the Bethlehem church, Rev. G. C. CHANDLER of the Baptist church in charge.

John M. DAVIS, one of the best known citizens of Rochester and a resident of Fulton county for 70 years, died at 10:15 Sunday evening at his residence at 317 west 11th street. He had been in poor health for several years and finally on February 18, had a stroke of paralysis on his left side, rendering him helpless. He continued to grow weaker from day to day but kept up his courage and often said if he could walk he could regain his strength and tried in vain until last Friday, when he weakened and refused to take nourishment. Altho the members of the family scarcely hoped that he could live long they did not realize that the end was so near, as he continued conscious and conversed with the family up to within five minutes of his death. Mr. Davis was well known in Rochester where he had lived from 1881, moving here from Richland township.

He was born April 17, 1840, in Richland county, Ohio, the son of Amos and Rachel DAVIS and died at Rochester, Indiana, May 28, 1916. Together with his father and mother and family of seven children he moved to this county when he was six years old, settling in Newcastle township upon a farm where he lived for many years. When about 21 years old, Mr. Davis married Miss Catherine PACKER, who survives. They were the parents of eight children, seven sons and one daughter. The youngest son, Marion L. [DAVIS], died when about two years old and the daughter, Rosa McKEE, died a number of years ago, leaving six sons who are Cyrus M. [DAVIS], Ostinal A. [DAVIS] and Charles A. [DAVIS] of Rochester, Henry A. [DAVIS] of Kalamazoo, Mich.; Dr. Frederick W. [DAVIS] of Jeffersonville, Ind., and Vernon J. [DAVIS] of Buffalo, N.Y.

Mr. Davis has one sister, the last one of the family, living yet, who is Mrs. Eliza DYER of Glendora, Calif., who was with the deceased in his last hours.

Soon after his marriage, Mr. Davis and wife settled on a farm in Richland township near Tiosa, Ind., afterwards going into the mercantile business and conducted a small store and was postmaster and justice of the peace for many years in the small town of Sturgeon, located on the Tippecanoe river north of Rochester. Some years later the post office was discontinued at that point and he moved to Rochester where he studied law, was admitted to the bar, and conducted a law, loan and insurance business in connection with his son, O. A. DAVIS, until a few years ago when his health began to fail him and he retired from the business.

Mr. Davis' ancestors were of Welch origin, coming to America from Wales about the time William Penn laid out the city of Philadelphia. They settled about seven miles west of Philadelphia and built a large stone house there which has the date of 1702 carved on the stone in the gable and which stately building still stands to the memory of the Davis family and where their ancestors gathered for worship in their Quaker form of religion.

At the beginning of the Civil war Mr. Davis enlisted in the regular army enlisting in Company A, Second Battalion, United States Infantry, at Logansport and served until the end of the war, returning home with an honorable discharge. Afterwards he was a member of McClung Post, G.A.R. and served as their secretary for many years.

Mr. Davis joined the Masonic lodge and was the first to finish his work in the present Masonic Temple in Rochester and for 21 years served as secretary of the local order and for many years was one of the principal instructors in the Masonic work. Mr. Davis never united with any religious denomination, but was a strong student of the Bible and especially that portion which applies to the Masonic doctrines and always followed the teachings of Masonry as his guide and was a seeker after the truth and the right way of living to the end.

Funeral of Mr. Davis was conducted by the Masonic lodge at the home at 317 west 11th street at three o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Interment in I.O.O.F. cemetery.

Mrs. Margaret MONTGOMERY, 84, mother of Frank [MONTGOMERY], Orbra F. [MONTGOMERY] and Lee MONTGOMERY, died at the home of the latter just west of Rochester at 10:40 Friday evening of burns sustained at 5:30 when her clothes caught fire, as she was kindling a fire while alone in the house. She was a member of one of the county's most prominent families.

The exact manner in which the fatal accident took place is not known by the family, but on account of Mrs. Montgomery's aversion to the use of kerosene in building fires, it is thot that she employed a lighted paper, from which her clothing was fired. Her presence of mind in running to an adjoining pump house and jumping into a tub of water there, where she was found later by her granddaughter, Freda, who had been in the barn, is not understood, as she either did not call or was not heard by anybody in the premises. Upon discovering her grandmother, Freda called for Lee, who was also at the barn and together they assisted her to a bed and called Rochester physicians. The aged lady retained consciousness until about an hour before her death, when she became delirious.

Mrs. Montgomery's entire body, with the exception of the instep of one foot, and around one eye, was badly burned, the only part of her clothing left being that around her waist, the rest being swept up in a dust pan after the accident.

She had been afraid of fire since the death several years ago of her granddaughter, Mrs. Edward MURPHY, who was burned while building a bon fire of leaves. One of the old lady's peculiarities was to tell the family of the dangers of fire.

Immediately following the accident, Lee summoned the members of the family, practically all of whom arrived before Mrs. Montgomery passed away.

Margaret WILSON MONTGOMERY was born in Henry county, Ind., November 14, 1831, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac WILSON. She was married to Theodore MONTGOMERY, now deceased, in 1848. In 1852 with her eldest son, she and her husband made an overland trip to the California gold fields, where they remained for two years. Returning to this county, they purchased the Montgomery farm west of Rochester where she had since made her home. Mrs. Montgomery was a pioneer woman of this county and very well known. Wednesday, August 2, 1916

Caught in a cave-in while helping to excavate for the basement of the new Methodist church, Neal WOODCOX, 38, suffered injuries Tuesday afternoon at 5:45, from which he died a few minutes later. He leaves a wife.

The accident occurred as the men were loading the last wagon and within 10 minutes, everyone would have been out of the pit. Woodcox was standing within four feet of a dirt wall six feet tall which was crowned with a wall four feet high, made of niggerheads, composing the north wall of the old church building. Near Woodcox, Stephen ICE was working while J. W. SHUCK was standing at the rear of the wagon. Shuck saw the wall begin to lean and yelled. Woodcox tried to escape, yelling as he made an effort to get away but the team of mules were standing too close and the several tons of big stone crushed him to the ground. Stone hit the near mule, which in a panic, kicked Woodcox in the head.

With the help of a dozen men, Woodcox was freed in a few minutes and removed to the lawn near the sidewalk where he died after taking a few breaths. Death was caused from internal injuries, the big stones crushing him about the stomach and chest. A physician's examination disclosed that the left hip was broken, the trunk crushed and a scalp wound inflicted on the head by the kick of the mule. The body was removed to a local morgue.

The men employed in tearing down the building and in excavating the basement will not return to work until after the funeral of their fellow employee.

Insane with jealousy and partly under the influence of liquor, Roy GELBAUGH, 32, son of Mr. and Mrs. Levi GELBAUGH of near this city, committed suicide Sunday morning at his home in Mishawaka by drinking several ounces of carbolic acid. His brother, Leslie [GELBAUGH] and his father received a telegram Sunday announcing the death and the body was brought here Monday morning. Gelbaugh was well known here where he lived up until eight months ago.

According to the South Bend papers, Gelbaugh came home late Saturday night and started to quarrel with his wife. He poured the contents of a two ounce bottle of the deadly poison into a glass and is said to have chased Mrs. Gelbaugh about the house attempting to throw it in her face. About 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning she succeeded in getting him to bed. Several hours later he awoke and asked their two boarders to go fishing. Upon their refusal, it is said, he again renewed the quarrel. Mrs. Gelbaugh hurriedly dressed and tried to quiet him, to no avail. Again he endeavored to throw the poison upon her, and when she ran to the street, and started for the police station, he followed and yelled, "If you move, by God, I'll drink this stuff." Then he turned and rushed into the house.

A few seconds later she heard him fall. She ran into the house, but he was dead. The police were summoned and the body taken to a morgue where an inquest was held Monday morning.

That the man was mentally unbalanced is the opinion of his neighbors. Time after time they say, he would come home drunk and would chase Mrs. Gelbaugh.

Once before, it is said, he attempted suicide in the same manner, but Mrs. Gelbaugh succeeded in persuading him to throw the poison away. Twice it is alleged, he endeavored to kill his wife. The last time, a few weeks ago, she was saved by a boarder just as, it is said, he was about to shoot her. To protect herself she had him arrested and he was fined $5 and costs. Unable to pay he was taken to jail. Later a friend secured his release and he promised to reform.

Mrs. Gelbaugh is his second wife. They had been married but four months. He leaves three sons by a former marriage, Harold [GELBAUGH], Vernon [GELBAUGH] and Greshan [GELBAUGH]. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Levi GELBAUGH of near Tiosa, Ind., were notified. He is also survived by two brothers, Frank [GELBAUGH] and Leslie [GELBAUGH], of this city.

Altho the funeral of the late Absalom NELLANS, Walnut merchant who shot himself Sunday afternoon, was held Tuesday, the neighborhood has not quieted down as yet, and probably won't for some time.

The coroner's verdict is said to have been accidental shooting, but all who know are convinced that it was deliberate suicide, it is said. Every condition pointed to it, especially the fact that Nellans is said to have been in a strange frame of mind during the past month. The coroner took papers from the body, but no one seems to know what was written on them.

It is declared on good authority that Nellans' home life had not been congenial for some time, and that fact, with business worries, may have driven him to the act. Just before he shot himself, he had played a game of horseshoes in the yard by the store.

Marcus E. WORKING, 53, of North Fulton Ave., was instantly killed Sunday morning at seven o'clock when struck by Erie passenger train No. 7, one mile east of the Lake Erie crossing in East Rochester. The body was badly mangled as the train was running 50 miles an hour, being two hours late.

The accident happened in a peculiar manner as Mr. Working, it is thot, was facing the train when struck. He was employed on the Erie section gang out of Rochester and every other Sunday walked the track from this city to Athens, looking for track trouble. Sunday morning he left home at 6:30. On nearing the scene of the accident, he stepped off of the east bound track to allow a freight train to pass. As it was a long drag, he did not see the passenger train coming from the east, and when the freight got by he stepped across the path of the freight onto the west bound track, directly in front of the passenger train.

The engineer of the passenger train said that Mr. Working was taking a chew of tobacco when he walked out from behind the freight and it is possible that he was in the act of carrying the tobacco to his mouth, when he was killed. The open pouch was found near the scene of the accident. Altho the train stopped as soon as possible, the body was carried several hundred feet. Both legs and arms were broken and the head was badly crushed. The face was severely cut, while the body was a mass of bruises.

Mr. Working had been employed on the Erie section since last April. Last year he worked for the city as street commissioner. He was born September 26, 1863 in Marshall county, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Moses WORKING, who are dead, but had lived nearly all of his life in this county. On July 16, 1896, he married Mrs. Fannie BRUGH who is living. He leaves two brothers, Frank [WORKING] of Kewanna and Peter [WORKING] of this city. The latter is now in North Carolina working on a dredge but left Monday for home to attend the funeral. Mr. Working was a member of the I.O.O.F. lodge. A. W. LYONS, motorman of the interurban car, was the only eye witness of the accident. Jonathan DAWSON, 84, one of the oldest pioneer residents of Fulton county, died Saturday morning at two o'clock at his home on West 9th St., a victim of complications incidental to his advanced age.

Mr. Dawson passed quietly away and during his last hours suffered no pain whatever. All of the children were here. Deceased had been in poor health for several months due to liver trouble, but up to the last week, continued to enjoy life. Several years ago he underwent an operation for cataract and since then had considerable trouble in reading. Last August, Mr. Dawson suffered a slight stroke of paralysis.

Jonathan Dawson, son of James and Sarah BIDDLE DAWSON, was born near Newcastle, Pa., Dec 21, 1831 and came with his parents to Fulton Co., Indiana, in 1837, locating near lake Manitou. At that time this country was an almost unbroken forest, Indians and wild animals being the principal occupants. The following year, the family moved near to Akron where they cleared a farm where Mr. Dawson resided until 22 years of age. On May 1, 1854, he walked to Rochester, with only a few dollars in his pocket and began his career as a business man. He clerked six years in various general merchandise stores and was two years a member of the firm of DAWSON & STRADLEY, dry goods. In 1862 he formed a partnership with Dr. A. K. PLANK, as PLANK & DAWSON, and engaged in the drug business, later becoming sole proprietor, retiring in 1898 to a quiet home life.

Jonathan Dawson and Isabella Victoria KING were married in this city Sept. 18, 1856, by Rev. W. P. WATKINS, pastor of the Rochester Methodist Episcopal church, and continuously resided here, in 60 years occupying only three residences. To their union were born four children: Dr. Byron Francis DAWSON, of Corning, Calif., temporarily residing at Akron; Mary [DAWSON], died in 1860, aged one year; Mrs. Estella Edith SHELTON and George Vernon DAWSON, of Rochester. Mr. Dawson leaves six grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Mrs. Bessie HURST of this city was reared by Mr. and Mrs. Dawson, having been taken when three years of age.

Mr. Dawson's was an illustrious life of industry and thrift. He always avoided debt and lived within his income. For several years he was the heaviest individual tax payer in Fulton county. He did much for the upbuilding and improvement of Rochester and the county.

In 1914, Mr. and Mrs. Dawson donated to the city of Rochester five acres of land within the city limits for park purposes which was named Dawson Park by the city council. In 1915, when the infirmities of age were bearing heavily upon them they made a partial division of their property among their children, that it might be properly cared for.

Mr. Dawson never held membership in any lodge nor occupied any political office. He was 10 years a member of the county council and 10 years a town school trustee. He and his wife were members of the First Baptist Church of Rochester for half a century.

Funeral Monday afternoon at two o'clock at the house, Rev. G. C. CHANDLER of the Baptist church in charge. Interment at the Odd Fellows cemetery.

She afterwards united with the Santa Anna Methodist Protestant church by letter, and was a member of this church at the time of her death. She was a zealous Christian worker. She had served the church as Sunday school superintendent for nearly four years when she was married and moved to Mishawaka. She fully understood that the time of her departure was at hand and her last request on earth was that her friends might live prepared to meet her in heaven.

Many were present at the memorial service in honor of the late Jonathan DAWSON at the Baptist church Sunday morning, when Rev. G. C. CHANDLER, Mrs. John D. HOLMAN and Mrs. Geo. HOLMAN told of their regard for the deceased.

The tribute paid by the speakers showed Mr. Dawson to have been one of the church's foremost workers, and a citizen to be desired by any community. "Crossing the Bar," by a vocal quartet, made up of Mrs. J. Ralph BROWNE, Miss Louise GIBBONS, Harvey CHANDLER and Frank BRYANT was well rendered.

George MILLER, 93, a resident of Fulton county since 1862, died Sunday evening at 8:15 o'clock, at his home on E. Ninth St., a victim of complications due to advanced age. Until a week before his death, Mr. Miller had been in the best of health and was on the street every day. When about 25 years of age, he came to Miami county, Indiana, where he purchased government land. In 1850, he married Hester A. HIGHT, who died August 8, 1902. Mr. and Mrs. Miller moved from Miami county to this county in 1862, and in 1879, to Rochester. In 1903, Mr. Miller married Catherine SHELTON, who survives.

The death of Mr. Miller marks the passing of a pioneer citizen who amassed an estate, estimated at $35,000, thru hard work and investment in land. Altho he got but little from home, Mr. Miller took care of his earnings, never contracted any bad habits and was a good provider. His dealings were always marked with business acumen. Taking pride in the fulfillment of his promises, he often called attention to the fact that no man had ever called him before a court of justice.

He was active practically up to the day of his death and the lawn and shrubbery surrounding his home, which was the pride of the neighborhood, had his constant attention. He took an active interest in politics and worked for the interest of the democratic party. He never affiliated with any lodge or church but an active, clean life was responsible for his longevity and avoidance of second childhood, which is the fate of many.

The funeral services for the late Daniel JONES, 73, who died Monday afternoon at Woodlawn hospital, will be held Wednesday afternoon at one o'clock, in the home on N. Pontiac St. Burial in Reichter cemetery. Members of the Talma and Rochester I.O.O.F. lodges will attend in a body. Rev. FOSTER of Tippecanoe will preside.

Mr. Jones who had made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Mary CLIFTON, on No. Fulton Ave., for several years, had been in fair health for some time previous to his demise, but failing gradually for the past few weeks, his condition became critical two weeks ago when he was removed to the hospital for treatment of uraemic poisoning. The culmination of his illness occurred shortly after noon on Monday when he died at the hospital. His daughter, Mrs. Clifton and several other children were with him at the time of his death.

Daniel Jones, one of the foremost among the representative farmers of Newcastle township, was born in Marshall county, Ind., Feb. 12, 1843. His early advantages were such as the sons of pioneer farmers usually have. He obtained sufficient book knowledge while attending the log cabin school to enable him to secure license to teach about the time he became of age. He taught one term of school, went to Omaha, Neb., and hired to the general government, first serving in the quartermaster's department and lastly as teamster. His train was engaged in hauling supplies to the forts and garrisons located in the Black hills and in points in Wyoming. In the winter of 1865 he returned to Fort Leavenworth, Kan., and was discharged.

Returning home, he purchased 22 acres of land and engaged in farming in Marshall county, and resided there till 1872, when he sold out and bought a farm of 169-1/2 acres, one mile from Bloomingsburg. There he long resided. In 1882 Mr. Jones was elected township trustee by the democrats and was re-elected in 1884. During his regime a new Bloomingsburg school house was erected and such other public imprivements made as seemed most desirable. His service was such as a conscientious, conservative man would be expected to render and his administration is pointed to as one of the successful ones in the history of the township.

In August, 1872, Mr. Jones married in this county Amelia HOLMAN, a daughter of Charles HOLMAN, and a sister of George HOLMAN, of Rochester. Their children are: Charles [JONES], Newcastle Twp., Leroy [JONES] of Akron, Mrs. CLIFTON of Rochester, Mrs. Meade HAIMBAUGH of Newcastle Twp., Mrs. Garland CLYMER, Mrs. Allen UMBAUGH and Mrs. George BLACKETOR. Mr. Jones' father, Tyra JONES, was a prominent and popular farmer of Marshall county for many years. He was born in Pennsylvania, reared in Ohio and married in Crawford county, Ohio. He came to Indiana in 1829, the year the Indians were removed from Fulton county. He settled in Marshall county, where he was very successful, and died there in 1878, aged 70, leaving an estate of 400 acres, which he had cleared himself. His wife was Sarah AMES, who died in 1880 at 68. Her surviving children were: Jordan [JONES], Harriet [JONES], Benton [JONES], Sarah [JONES], Daniel [JONES], Mary [JONES], Kline [JONES] and Clara [JONES]. Mr. Jones was a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and the K.O.T.M. fraternities, being a charter member of Talma lodge I.O.O.F. He was also a member of the Talma Christian church.

The surviving brothers and sisters are Jordan JONES of Culver, Perry O. JONES of Plymouth, Mrs. Mary KLINE of Argos and Mrs. Clara IZZARD of Rochester.

The funeral of the late Major A. H. SKINNER will be held from the house Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock. The Red Men will be in charge of the burial services at the I.O.O.F. cemetery. The body may be viewed at the house Wednesday between the hours of 10 and 12.

The will of Alfred HIZER who died last week at his home near Grass Creek was filed Tuesday in the circuit court, the aged man leaving all his property to two sons, Hiram [HIZER] and John HIZER who are named executors.

The will recalls the HIZER-SNYDER murder trial in this county which occurred nine years ago, Alfred HIZER leaving 50 acres of land to Hiram Hizer, saying in the will that he did so, because Hiram used all of his money to defend his son Alfred [HIZER], Jr., when the latter was on trial for his life. Twenty acres are given to John E. HIZER, because the latter took care of his father.

The following children are given one dollar each on the ground that they shared equally in their mother's estate: Joseph [HIZER] and Nathan HIZER, Susan ARMSTRONG, Anna ACKERMAN and Lucy McLOCHLIN. Several of the children a year ago tried to have a guardian appointed for Mr. Hizer, but they lost the case in court.

Five year old Alta DUNKIN and her brother, John Leroy [DUNKIN], two years old, of Chicago, spent Christmas in Rochester with their grandmother, Mrs. John TONER, as planned, but they did not seem to realize the cause of the pall of gloom which hung over the home.

Their mother, Mrs. Roy DUNKIN, the last one of five children of Mr. and Mrs. John Toner of the Grand hotel, was instantly killed Saturday afternoon in the Chicago Dearborn street station as she with her husband and two children were about to take a train to Rochester to spend Christmas.

Mrs. Dunkin was leading her daughter thru the train shed while her husband followed with the boy and the baggage.

A train just starting from the station threw a loaded baggage truck against the train on the adjoining tracks and Mrs. Dunkin was crushed to death. Mr. Dunkin ran forward and dragged his daughter out unharmed. The high truck had missed her, but his wife was held fast between truck and coaches, buried under the load of Christmas packages from the truck. The body was badly mangled.

A few minutes after the accident, about 4:45 p.m., John Toner received a telegram telling the dreadful news. He left at once for Chicago. The children were brought to Rochester Monday by Edward HAYWARD, a friend of the Dunkins, while the husband and father remained in the city to attend the inquest which was held sometime Monday.

Nellie TONER was born in Kewanna, March 12, 1890, the third child of Mr. and Mrs. John Toner. She was one of five children, four passing away in infancy. When seven years of age, Nellie with her parents moved to the Burton neighborhood west of Rochester where she graduated from the eighth grade. The family then moved to Niles, Michigan, where she attended high school for a short time.

In July 1909, Miss Toner married Roy DUNKIN as the result of a romance begun in South Bend. He was a sheet metal worker and the family lived in Chicago nearly all of the last seven years. They were the parents of two children. Mr. and Mrs. Dunkin were well known here as they often spent several weeks at the local hotel conducted by her father. The visit planned Saturday was the first in eight months.

The body was brought here from Chicago Monday night. A short inquest was held but no witnesses were called to fix the blame for the accident. The truck which caused Mrs. Dunkin's death belongs to the Wells Fargo Express Co., and probably some employee left it standing too near the tracks. A further investigation will be made by Chicago authorities.

According to Mrs. HARTER of Akron, who came out from Chicago on the train the Dunkins were to have taken, the station was so full of steam, one could scarcely see. She also stated that the same train struck and killed a man riding a speeder near Knox.

Funeral Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 at the Presbyterian church, Rev. A. S. WARRINER of the Methodist church in charge. Burial in the Odd Fellows cemetery.

George P. KEITH, 76, a resident of Rochester since 1882 died at 4:30 p.m. Christmas day, a victim of diabetes. He had been ill for the past six years and for the last year had been unable to walk as the result of a fall.

Mr. Keith was born at Lima, Ind., August 27, 1840, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney KEITH, deceased. In 1860, Mr. Keith married Miss Margaret ACKERMAN, who survives. They celebrated their 56th anniversary Dec. 5th. They were the parents of Mrs. Albert RICHTER, who died in 1906 and of Mrs. Charles GOULD of Rochester. He leaves two grandchildren, Dr. Lyman GOULD of Ft. Wayne and Keith RICHTER of Plymouth. He also leaves one great-granddaughter, Muriel GOULD. Mr. Keith leaves one sister, Mrs. Jeanette CRAIG of Lima, Ind. One sister, Mrs. Asa GANLARD of Lima is dead.

Mr. Keith was well known here because of his activities as an inventor. He secured a patent a number of years ago for a railroad crossing but it was not a financial success. In cooperation with James MILLER he also invented a fire escape which was manufactured here for several years. When he came to Rochester in 1882, Mr. Keith purchased a half interest with George I. MILLER in a drug store on Ninth street, in which business he continued until six years ago. For years Mr. Keith was the local representative of the government weather bureau in which he took a great interest. Altho he was a druggist, he was skilled in mechanics and often neglected his business to work at his chosen hobby.

Funeral Thursday afternoon at 1:30 at the house, Rev. S. A. STEWART of LaPorte in charge. Interment at I.O.O.F. cemetery.

[Rochester Sentinel, Tuesday, December 26, 1916]

Mr. Powell who had lived in the Wagoners neighborhood for the past 30 years was well known as a progressive citizen and a well-to-do farmer. He was active in politics, working always in the interest of the republican party.

Two years ago last fall Mr. Powell was injured in a runaway which is thought to have led to his death. His team dashed into a telephone pole, throwing him on his head. Ever since the accident, Mr. Powell was in poor health. He suffered three strokes of paralysis.

Mr. Powell leaves a wife and one daughter, Mrs. Ethel FISHBACK who is at home. Two children are dead. He was a member of the Pleasant Hill M.E. church and of the Fulton County Horse Thief Protective Association. He was a brother of Oliver POWELL.
