Louisburg, N.C., Feb. 9. -- Three men and a woman died in an airplane crash thirteen miles north of here yesterday afternoon.

Coroner W. A. BOBBITT of Franklin county identified the dead as:

Chet H. BETZ, 2230 Manchester road, Akron, O.

Daniel L. BREEM, Akron, O.

Arthur CONN, 41 North High street, Akron.

Miss Caroline DANELY, Hotel George Washington, Miami, Fla.

Louisburg, a little North Carolina county seat, is located some thirty miles northeast of Raleigh, and is on the regular air route from Miami to Washington.

The plane, Coroner Bobbitt said, was scattered over some ten or fifteen acres.

"It just looked like the plane went all to pieces," Bobbitt said. "Nearby residents said it had been circling around for some minutes, flying just above the tree tops, before it crashed. Two of the bodies fell in front of a farm home as if the people might have jumped from the plane."

The coroner said Betz was the pilot of the plane.

The youth, a cutter employed at Gossard company plant, was alone in the car as it careened across state road 29 speeding southward, skipped a fence and overturned.

Witnesses questioned by Dr. Hubert GROS, Delphi, Carroll county coroner, included Frank MORRIS, 1711 High street and Jay McCROMICK, 200 Wheatland avenue, who saw the car leave the road a short distance from a point where they were parked at the entrance to the Harley MUMMERT home.

The car clipped off a utility pole in front of the Carrollton hatchery before it came to rest in front of the Will DISHON home. Among the first to discover the driver dead were members of the Dishon family.

Pulaski, Ind., Feb. 13. -- Mrs. Harry FISHER, 50, wife of the former trustee of Indian Creek township, shot herself to death in the bedroom of her home at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, firing one bullet from a single shot .22 calibre rifle through her left temple.

Mrs. Fisher who had been in failing health for the past month went into the kitchen of her home and secured the weapon and then returned to her lower floor bedroom while her daughter, Olive, who had been caring for her, was upstairs.

The daughter, hearing the fatal shot rushed to her mother's bedroom where she found the body stretched across the bed. Dr. H. G. McCASKEY of Winamac was summoned but Mrs. Fisher was dead when the physician arrived.

Coroner Claude BURSON of Francesville was summoned and the body later was removed to the Burson and son funeral home in Francesville.

William CARTER and Ernest FOLSOM of Anderson, who were killed in an auto accident south of Peru in Road 31 near Bunker Hill Thursday night in which collision two others met their death and several were injured were well known to residents of Leiters Ford.

The two men were the owners of a cottage on the island in the middle of the Tippecanoe River at Leiters Ford and spent practically every week end there during the summer and fall fishing and hunting.

Carter and Folsom were ex-soldiers and each had a permit to carry a gun. Each bore a good reputation. After the accident it was thought the two men had taken part in a holdup at Goshen a few hours before they met their death because of their likeness in description furnished police by the man who was robbed.

Leiters Ford residents who knew the two men stated that they did not believe that Folsom or Carter were the ones who had staged the Goshen holdup. It is thought the two men were on their way to spend the week end at Leiters Ford when they met their death. At the time of the crash they were northbound in Road 31 and not southbound as they probably would have been had they been in Goshen.

Marion, May 8. -- John Walter SPENCER, 50, of near Royal Centre, laborer employed by the Central Construction company, was pulled into the gears of an excavating machine shortly after noon Friday at Gas City and badly crushed before workmen, roused by his screams, stopped the machinery. Six and a half hours later he died at Marion general hospital.

Coroner Asher HUFF, who investigated, said Spencer died of a crushed chest and shock. He was working near the Diesel powered scoop when his jumper was caught at the wrist in exposed gears and before power could be cut off he had been flung from his feet and pulled into the meshing wheels. He was unconscious when fellow workers reversed the gears at the shoulder. Rushed to the hospital here, he was never conscious at any time. No immediate eye witnesses could be found.

The Central Excavation company was working on property of the Owens-Illinois glass company at Gas City, near here, and had completed a partial basement power house excavation.

In the close quarters occupied by the digging equipment, it is believed that Spencer walked too close to the open gears as the crane man was hoisting out a scoop of earth.

The clatter of the machinery drowned his first terrified cries. It was not until he was raised several feet off the earth and into the line of vision of the diesel crane operator that his plight was discovered.

Mrs. Odessa L. Hathaway, 420 Ruth avenue, secretary-treasurer of the drama branch of the Community Arts association since its organization, died yesterday afternoon at her home after a long illness.

Mrs. Hathaway was born in Indianapolis, July 13, 1889 and received her education in that state. She was married to the late Arden O. HATHAWAY January 1911. He died in Santa Barbara in 1916.

The Hathaways came to Santa Barbara from the east in 1914 with their young son, Robert [HATHAWAY], a student in the San Luis Obispo Polytechnic school. Their younger son, Arden [HATHAWAY] was born here.

When the Community Arts association and the School of Arts was formed in 1920, Mrs. Hathaway, then at the First National bank, became its secretary and treasurer and remained at the theater in that capacity until a year ago in April, when she resigned because of ill health.

During the early days of the school in the old adobe, and while the Community Arts plays were given at the Old Potter, Mrs. Hathaway had a large share in the growth of the organization. When Lobero was built, she kept the books and the finances, did the secretarial work at the theater, assembled the casts, built up season ticket subscribers and was an invaluable part of the theater in the business offices and back stage.

She had a gift for filling the theater, and year after year she arranged the seating for the season subscribers for all events. She knew everybody's preference for seats and the reasons. Her tirelessness was repaid by the gratitude of the Lobero public. She leaves many friends, who knew her affectionately as "Ann".

She was a member of the First Christian church and was the church organist for years. She was also a member of the Players club and the Business and Professional Women's club.

Mrs. Hathaway is the daughter of the late Andrew Daniel WILLIAMS and Mrs. Mary WILLIAMS, with whom she made her home. Her father, for many years was manager of the Mission theater. LaPorte, Ind., June 12. -- Emmet SCOTT, 63, prominent in the civic, political, industrial and educational life of this community for many years, died at his home, 1420 Indiana avenue, Thursday night at 6 o'clock, following an illness of 10 days with a heart ailment.

Mr. Scott had been active in recent years in the direction of a number of farms he owned in Fulton county, Indiana, near Rochester, and was a leader in new development in agriculture. Until he was forced to bed by his last illness, he maintained his keen interest in this agricultural work.

Son of a pioneer LaPorte county family, Mr. Scott spent almost his entire life here, variously engaged in industrial enterprises. During his adult life he was active in civic affairs and served his community in many ways. He was twice a candidate for mayor of LaPorte and served as a city councilman and as a member of the board of education. He was also president of the LaPorte New-Church society and one of its trustees.

Mr. Scott was born Oct. 7, 1873, in Saginaw, Mich., the son of Emmet Hoyt SCOTT and Mary Relief NILES SCOTT. His parents were residing in Saginaw at the time. When he was three they returned to LaPorte. His family was a pioneer one here. Mr. Scott's uncle, William NILES, was the first white child born in LaPorte.

Mr. Scott obtained his preliminary education in schools here. He was graduated from high school here and enrolled in the University of Michigan, from which he was graduated in 1895 with the degree of Bachelor of Literature and mechanical engineering. His family had a long record of academic achievement before him. Seven generations of his family on the Niles side had obtained college degrees, beginning with Samuel NILES, who earned a degree from Harvard in 1699.

As a young man Mr. Scott engaged in various industrial activities. With a number of associates he established the first gas plants in Petoskey, Mich., and Rochester, Ind. He was associated with the old Niles and Scott wheel factory here. Later he became president of the Kumfy-Kab company which manufactured baby carriages.

Mr. Scott was active in politics. After serving on the city council he ran for mayor on a fusion ticket in 1913 and was defeated by David H. McGILL, Republican, who won by 70 votes. In 1921 Mr. Scott ran on the Republican ticket against Herman W. SALLWASSER, who was elected mayor after a close race.

Mr. Scott was elected a Republican member of the city board of education and served from 1923 to 1928. At the same time he was a valuable member of the city library board, which is composed of members of the board of education.

Active in church affairs, Mr. Scott was president of the New-Church society here. He was also a member of the board of the Illinois Association of the New-Church. Mr. Scott was a former member of the Ruch C. Sabin Home and was also a former director of the First National Bank and Trust company.

In 1906 Mr. Scott was united in marriage to Miss Louise BOSSERMAN of LaPorte. She and their son, Hoyt Hamilton SCOTT, survive him. Mrs. E. A. RUMELY, of LaPorte, a sister and her family, also survive, in addition to a number of relatives. With his sister, Mr. Scott donated Scott field to LaPorte in 1925.

When he was a member of the city council he donated his salary for the purchase of the land on which the Maple school and its playground now stands. This was the first playground in the city. Mr. Scott also donated the equipment for it.

Mrs. Arthur MATTIX, 45, North Sugar street, Argos, committed suicide by hanging at her home this morning following an illness of several months. She was found by her son, Loren [MATTIX], 11.

Mrs. Mattix was in good spirits at breakfast time this morning. She had been busy early with her ironing and gave no indication of the impending tragedy.

The son discovered the body when he returned at 11 a.m. from a trip to the business district in Argos. He first tried to enter his mother's bedroom and found the door locked.

Loren then tried to look into his parents' bedroom through an outside window and found the shade drawn. The lad then climbed through a transom and discovered his mother's lifeless body.

An Argos doctor was called and found that Mrs. Mattix had died. Dr. James VORE, Plymouth, Marshall county coroner, was called and took charge of the body.

Mrs. Mattix had committed suicide by tying a clothes line to a bedpost. She fastened a noose at one end of the rope and then dropped the weight of her body. The badly decomposed BODY OF A MALE ITINERANT was found suspended from a piece of wire from the limb of a tree along the Tippecanoe river bank below Leiters Ford Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

The discovery was made by Frank SCHMIDT owner of the farm when he went to care for his cattle which were grazing along the banks of the river.

Coroner Dean K. STINSON, of this city, was immediately summoned and found that the suicide victim had died from a broken neck. In his reconstruction of the tragedy, Stinson stated it was probable that the hobo who was about 50 years of age, had secured the wire from a nearby fence, climbed the tree, fastened one end of the wire to a limb, made a noose of the other which he placed about his neck, and then leaped from the limb on which he was standing.

Embers from a camp fire near the river's edge indicated that the itinerant stayed over night and had prepared himself food prior to the ending of his life. A small knapsack and blanket were found at the site of the tragedy.

The suicide victim was not poorly dressed and is believed not to have been tramping for a long period. His underclothing were comparatively new and clean and the overalls and blue shirt he was wearing had been washed recently. The investigators searched for identification marks but none was found.

An immediate burial was ordered by Coroner Stinson as the condition of the body was such that relatives or friends could not identify him.

The clothing worn by the man will be held in an effort to aid in the identification of the victim, however, authorities stated.

Joseph MUSSELMAN, aged 68, prominent and wealthy Liberty township farmer, who was serving a life term in the Indiana State Prison at Michigan City, died at 9 o'clock Thursday morning in the prison hospital after a two day's illness due to pneumonia.

The aged man had suffered with diabetes for a number of years and had been moved from his cell to the prison hospital several weeks ago, where he could undergo better treatment for his ailment. Two days ago pneumonia developed which caused his death.

Musselman was sentenced to life imprisonment in the State Prison by a jury in the Marshall county circuit court last June. He was charged with the murder of his son-in-law, Edgar BURTON, after an argument which they had had at a farm southeast of Fulton on March 10, 1936 over farm finances.

Burton was leaving the farm which was owned by Musselman and was moving to another. An argument ensued between the two men and Musselman in a fit of anger stabbed his son-in-law several times, his death resulting the following day in a hospital in Logansport.

Musselman was charged with murder in an indictment which was returned against him by a Fulton county grand jury. On motion of Musselman the case was sent from Fulton county to Marshall county for trial. After a trial which lasted over a week and in which Musselman pleaded self defense, he was found guilty and given a life sentence in the state prison.

Mr. Musselman was taken to the prison in July to start serving his term. He had filed a motion for a new trial at Plymouth, this motion at the present time being under advisement by Judge Albert CHIPMAN, who presided at the trial of the aged defendant in June.

None of the members of Mr. Musselman's family could be reached today by The News-Sentinel for a complete obituary of the deceased. It was learned that he was born on a farm near Chili and when a young man moved to Liberty township to reside. He was a hard working man and very frugal and was able to accumulate large farm holdings through his labors. He was noted as a raiser of fancy hogs.

Survivors are the widow, Mrs. Alfretta MUSSELMAN, who resides with a sister in Akron; the daughter, Mrs. Grace BURTON; five brothers, Dr. George MUSSELMAN, Denver; Frank MUSSELMAN, Logansport; Charles [MUSSELMAN], Samuel [MUSSELMAN] and John MUSSELMAN, all of whom reside on farms near Chili and two grandsons.

Funeral services were held yesterday at Star City for Mrs. Matilda [ROBINSON] WARFIELD, widow of Louis WARFIELD, who died Monday after a long illness. Burial was made in the Odd Fellows Cemetery at Star City.

The deceased was born at Terrytown, Virginia, on October 18, 1852 and was the daughter of Joe and Mildred ROBINSON. Despite the fact that his home was in a Confederate state Mr. Robinson joined the Union Army and fought through the war with Union forces.

Some of the severest battles of the Civil War were fought around Terrytown and on one Occasion Mrs. Warfield's mother on account of the child's youthfulness sent her through a wooded district full of Confederate soldiers to bring word to the Union general of the arrival of the Confederates. Mr. Robinson was fighting with the Union detachment.

Mrs. Warfield returned to her home unmolested after she had delivered the message. The word given by the girl was the means by which the Union forces won a decisive battle.

As soon as the war was over and when she was but six years of age Mrs. Warfield's parents moved to a farm near Kewanna where they resided for a number of years. Later the Warfields moved to a farm near Star City. Mr. Warfield was a Civil War veteran.

When the first draft was held for the World War in Fulton county, a son Roy [WARFIELD] was the first one drawn for service. Because of his name which pertained to a battle field Roy Warfield [received] much publicity throughout the United States. Roy Warfield was killed in action in France and the Warfield-Knebel post of the American Legion at Star City was partially named after him.

Survivors are three sons, daughter and a sister.

Mrs. Ed LAWRENCE, aged 60, of 1102 Monroe street, died in a hospital in Logansport at 2:15 p.m. Thursday after an illness of nine months duration due to arterio-sclerosis.

The deceased was Cella MOORE and was the daughter of Theodore and Mary MOORE. She was born on a farm near Fulton on September 26, 1877. For a number of years Mrs. Lawrence operated a CIGAR FACTORY in this city.

Mr. Musselman was born on a farm near Chili on September 9, 1868 and was the son of Samuel and Mary (FIRESTONE) MUSSELMAN. He lived on a farm near Chili for a number of years and later moved to Liberty township where through hard labor and frugality he became the owner of large farm holdings.

In a ceremony which was performed at Macy on January 31, 1901 he was married to Miss Alfaretta BURKETT. Mrs. Musselman who lives with a sister at Akron survives as does a daughter, Mrs. Grace BURTON, Fulton, five brothers and two grandsons.

Death released Mr. Musselman from serving a life term in prison for murder which was imposed by a jury in the Marshall county circuit court in June, 1937 after he had been found guilty of slaying his son-in-law Edgar BURTON husband of his only daughter.

Musselman fatally stabbed Burton after they had had an argument at the Musselman farm near Fulton on March 10, 1936. The argument was over the division of hogs when Burton decided to leave the farm where he had been a tenant for several years.

The murder was the first in Fulton county in over thirty years and created much excitement here because of the prominence of the principals. Musselman was indicted for murder by a Fulton county grand jury. At his request the suit was sent to Marshall county for trial.

Meanwhile a $10,000 damage suit instituted in the Fulton circuit court by Mrs. Burton wife of Edgar Burton for the alleged wrongful death of her husband was thrown into confusion. Following the death of her husband Mrs. Burton became embittered toward her father.

Attorneys for Mrs. Burton conferred on new strategies to pursue in the case. Under a new state law, Mrs. Burton may sue the estate of her father through the executor, but the extent of such suit is limited to funeral expenses of the husband, court costs and damages not exceeding $1,000.

Until last year, suit of this type was automatically void at the death of the defendant. It was stated that Mrs. Burton may drop her damage suit and await a reading of her father's will. If she is not included in it, it is possible for her to contest it.

Vada Mae, daughter of Frank and Martha ZINK, was born on January 27th, 1888, in Richland Township, Fulton county. On June 3rd, 1906 in a ceremony pronounced at the Zink home in Richland township, she was united in marriage to Claude BRUBAKER. A holiday visit with his daughter Mrs. Paul HULS, Indianapolis, ended in tragedy Monday morning for Henderson STARNER, 88, pioneer resident of the Talma community who died from injuries five hours after he had fallen down a cellar way at the home of his daughter. The aged man received his fatal injuries when he tripped and fell due to his being blind.

Mr. Starner, who, with his wife, had been spending the Christmas holiday at his daughter's home, was born on a farm near Talma on December 15, 1849, and most of his life was spent in the Talma community where he was engaged in farming.

He was married three times, his third marriage having taken place on August 8, 1937, at Athens. His wife, the former Anna QUIMBY survives. He was a member of the Talma Methodist church.

Wednesday, December 29, 1937

Two Akron youths were killed and two Rochester persons were seriously injured in an automobile accident which occurred shortly after seven o'clock Tuesday evening on a curve in State Road 14 two miles east of Rochester.

The dead:

Dever HERENDEEN, 20 years old, Akron filling station owner.

Harry DIXON, 16, high school sophomore, son of Fred DIXON, farmer, southeast of Akron.

The injured both of whom were reported in a satisfactory condition today at Woodlawn hospital, were Omar (Musty) COPLEN, 25, and his nephew, James COPLEN, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar COPLEN.

Mr. and Mrs. Chet. GERIG, Akron, discovered the tragedy when they were compelled to leave the highway and go into the ditch to avoid the wreckage of the two vehicles. The Gerigs were enroute to this city. Their year-old-baby was accompanying them in the car.

The accident occurred when the Dixon and Herendeen youths were returning to their homes in Akron after a business trip to this city. Herendeen was driving a Chrysler coupe which he had borrowed from his brother Harold HERENDEEN for the trip to Rochester.

Omar Coplen was enroute to this city with his nephew to attend a picture show. Omar Coplen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. COPLEN who reside on a farm a mile east of the point where the accident occurred. James Coplen was spending a portion of his Christmas vacation with his grandparents. He is a grade school student.

The cause of the crash has not been determined as neither of the Coplens have as yet been able to give an account of the accident. Neither have they been told of the death of the two Akron youths.

It is thought the accident occurred either when the cars sideswiped on the curve due to the icy condition of the pavement or when a rear tire on the Herendeen car burst.

Herendeen was killed instantly when his head struck one of the posts supporting the top of the car which he was driving. Dixon got out of the machine and walked about for several minutes. He died while enroute to the hospital.

An autopsy performed by Dr. D. K. STINSON, coroner, revealed that Dixon and Herendeen died from broken necks. In addition Herendeen suffered fractures of the right limb in several places.

James Coplen received a fracture of the nose, lacerations above left eye and cuts on the lip while Omar Coplen suffered lacerations above the right eye and about the face. It was at first feared that the Coplens had suffered fractures of the skull.

The bodies of Herendeen and Dixon were first brought to a Rochester morgue and were later taken to an Akron undertaking parlor where they were prepared for burial. Herendeen was the operator of the City Service station in Akron.

Herendeen is survived by the parents, two brothers Harold [HERENDEEN] and Charles [HERENDEEN] at home and a sister Mrs. Charles EILER, Claypool. Dixon is survived by his parents and two sisters, Alma [DIXON], North Manchester, and Irene [DIXON], South Bend. No funeral arrangements had been made for either of the accident victims at the time The News-Sentinel went to press.

Sheriff Lester KING, Deputy Sheriff William WARD and State Policeman Estel BEMENDERFER investigated the accident and helped to direct traffic until the debris could be cleared from the state highway. Both of the cars in the accident were brought to local garages.

Thursday, December 30, 1937

Last rites for the two victims of the Tuesday night tragedy two miles east of this city in Road 14 were set today by their sorrowing relatives. Funeral services for Døver HERENDEEN, aged 18, who died instantly while at the wheel of his car will be held at the Saints Church in Akron at 10:30 o'clock Friday morning with Rev. D. L. SLAYBAUGH in charge. Burial will be made in the Odd Fellows Cemetery at Akron.

Funeral services for Harry DIXON, aged 18, who was riding with Herendeen and who succumbed while enroute to Woodlawn hospital will be conducted from the United Brethren Church in Athens at 1:30 p.m. Friday afternoon with Rev. Leslie HAWTIN pastor of the church officiating. Interment will be made in the Mt. Hope Cemetery at Athens.

Herendeen resides with his parents Benjamin and Bessie HERENDEEN on farm two miles southeast of Akron. He was born on a farm near Akron on June 21, 1919 and had lived in that community all of his life. He operated the City Service filling station at Akron. The parents, a sister Mrs. Charles EILER, Claypool and two brothers Harold [HERENDEEN] and Charles [HERENDEEN] both at home survive.

Dixon was a life long resident of the Akron community and resided with his parents on what is known as the Naaman NOFTSGER farm three miles west of Akron. He was born October 15, 1919 and was the son of Fred and Blanche DIXON. He was a regular attendant of the Athens United Brethren Church. Survivors are the parents and two sisters Miss Alma DIXON, North Manchester and Miss Irene DIXON at home.

Omar COPLEN, aged 25, and his nephew James COPLEN, 14, who were in the other car which figured in the accident with the Herendeen machine are reported recovering in Woodlawn Hospital from the injuries which they received in the crash. An eye specialist has been called to examine each of the youths. Hospital attendants report that the Coplens are making satisfactory progress.

Officers have made no attempt to learn details of the tragedy from the two survivors. How the accident happened, other than that revealed by the location and condition of the wrecked cars, remains unsolved. Should the two victims survive their injuries officers will attempt to question them as soon as physicians permit.

The investigation of the crash is in charge of Dr. Dean K. STINSON, coroner, Sheriff Lester KING and Prosecutor Murray McCARTY.

Mrs. Matilda [BOYER] KESTNER, aged 75, died at her home 504 East Ninth Street at 8 o'clock Thursday morning after a five year illness due to carcinoma.

The deceased was born on a farm near Macy on March 21, 1862, and was the daughter of George and Priscilla (TROESTER) BOYER.

In a ceremony which was performed on September 19, 1885 the deceased was married to the late Henry KESTNER who was a veteran of the Civil War.

Mr. and Mrs. Kestner lived in Macy for a number of years. Mrs. Kestner has resided in Rochester for the past twenty-five years.

The only immediate survivor is a son William (Bert) KESTNER former chief of police of this city.

The funeral services will be held from the residence at 2 p.m. Saturday with Rev. L. E. SMITH officiating. Burial will be made in the Odd Fellows Cemetery.

Roscoe Clayton COPENHAVER, 49, former resident of Argos, succumbed Tuesday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Eugene LONGLEY, of South Bend. Death was attributed to complications following an illness of seven weeks duration. Mr. Copenhaver had been a resident of South Bend for the past 17 years having moved to that city from Argos, Ind.

The deceased was born at Tyner, Ind., Nov. 27th, 1888. He was united in marriage to Miss Sylvia BARKMAN of Rochester, on Dec. 27th, 1911. Mr. Copenhaver was owner of a Watch Shop located at 1821 South Michigan street, South Bend.

The survivors are the widow; a daughter Mrs. Jessie LONGLEY of South Bend; a grandson Jack LONGLEY; his mother, Mrs. Albatena COPENHAVER, of South Bend; three brothers, Artie [COPENHAVER] and Fred COPENHAVER of South Bend; Glenn COPENHAVER of Los Angeles, Calif.; and three sisters, Mrs. Zola BECK, Mrs. Berneice SNYDER and Mrs. Fern KISTLER, all of South Bend.

The body will lay in the Orvis Chapel, 330 No. Main St., South Bend where the funeral will be held Friday afternoon, three o'clock. Burial will be made in the Fairview cemetery Mishawaka, Ind.

Friday, December 31, 1937

An error was made in the obituary of Mrs. Matilda KESTNER in The News-Sentinel Thursday when it was stated that Bert KESTNER was a son of the deceased. Bert Kestner is not a son of Mrs. Matilda Kestner, but William KESTNER is.
