Peru, Jan. 14. -- George W. (Pete) JACKSON, one of Peru's best known colored residents and a heavyweight prize fighter of renown in the days when Jack JOHNSON was in his prime, died at 11 o'clock Wednesday night at his home, 117 South Huntington street. He was 58 years old.

Jackson's death was due to heart bloc. He had been ill the past two days, but had been up ;and around the house and did not become critical until a few minutes before his death. A doctor was summoned, but he passed away before the physician arrived.

During the nineties and for some years after the turn of the century, Jackson was a heavyweight boxer of unusual ability who barely missed championship ranking. He was a personal friend of Jack Johnson and numerous other champions and near-champions of the prize ring, and on numerous occasions was a sparring partner in Johnson's training camps. Jackson fought in main-go bouts here and in many larger cities throughout the country.

Although his final bid as a real contender in the prize ring was made about the time of the World war, Jackson had been in excellent physical condition until a year ago. In fact, his health had been such that as recent as five years ago when Nick CARTER was promoting fight shows at the Wallace theater, Jackson donned the gloves when a heavyweight failed to put in appearance and although Jackson was then 53 years old, he made a creditable showing against his young and conditioned opponent. In addition to skill and unusual ring generalship, Jackson had a fighting heart and in his prime packed a terrific wallop, standing six feet three and weighing over 200 pounds.

Jackson, who had a genial disposition, was, of course, especially well known and liked by local sports fans, particularly the ones who had seen him in his best fighting days. However, he was also well known by the younger generation of fight fans here, having put in his last public appearance during the holidays when he served as second for several youngsters in an amateur fight show at the Eagles' hall.

Friends may view the remains at the Allen mortuary Friday evening and on Saturday until the time of the funeral.

Funeral services will be conducted in the Allen chapel Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. LACEY, of this city, officiating. Interment will be in Mt. Hope cemetery.

Peru, Ind., Feb. 7. -- William MALOTT, 43, 15 East Second street, a World War veteran, drowned about 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon when he fell through the ice while fishing on the frozen surface of Hawk Lake, near Culver.

Henderson ("Lefty") SHEETS, 45, 268 West Fifth street, a machinist employed by the Kingston Products company, of Kokomo, and former well known semi-professional baseball pitcher, also was plunged into the water when the ice on which the two were standing broke, but managed to work his way to footing by holding onto cakes of ice. He and Earl KELLER, 38, also of Peru, who was the third member of the fishing party, made valiant but unsuccessful efforts to save Malott. Keller was a short distance away from Malott and Sheets and the ice on which he was standing did not break.

Other fishermen, among them, William TANNER of Rochester, rushed to the scene and retrieved Malott's body after it had been in the water for several minutes. The methods they used could not be learned here. It was learned, however, that attempts were made at resuscitation for more than an hour without result.

Sheets was given dry clothing by a farmer living near the lake and returned to his home here last night, apparently having suffered no ill effects from his exposure to the icy water. However, he suffered minor lacerations about his legs from being battered by the floating ice cakes.

Malott, Sheets and Keller drove to the lake about 8 o'clock Sunday morning, and were about to return home when the tragedy occurred. They had been fishing at one hole throughout the forenoon and decided to quit, but enroute to the shore they stopped for another try, and it was then that the ice broke.

Malott is survived by a widow, Genevieve (LUNSFORD) MALOTT, and a three-year-old daughter, besides two sisters. A fulloughed railway trainman, he had been working of late as a WPA laborer.

Harvey BENNETT, aged 68, farmer living one and a half miles south and two miles west of Fulton in the Fletcher's Lake community, committed suicide shortly before 9 o'clock Monday evening, when Sheriff Lester KING and a party of deputies were in his home to arrest him for stealing chickens.

Bennett ended his life in an upstairs bedroom by shooting himself through the heart with a .12 gauge shotgun. He discharged the gun by pulling a string around the trigger.

Bennett was a lifelong resident of the Fletcher Lake community where he lived on a small farm of ten acres, one mile east of Fletcher's Lake.

Bennett committed suicide rather than face the disgrace of standing trial on a charge of larceny which had been filed against him in the Fulton circuit court by Sheriff Lester King at the request of farmers living in the Fletcher's Lake community.

Farmers in the southern part of Fulton county and the northern portion of Cass county had been missing chickens for sometime and so they decided to form a vigilante committee and try to find the culprit.

Sunday night, Frank St.CLAIR was standing guard at the hen house of his brother, George St.CLAIR, who resides on a farm two and a half miles west of Fletcher's Lake. As he was so doing it is said he saw Bennett emerge with both of his hands full of chickens.

Bennett it is said when caught with the chickens confessed to St.Claire and also told other members of the vigilante that he has been stealing chickens for some time and had been disposing of them in Logansport and Rochester.

Monday morning farmers from the Fletcher's Lake community who had chickens stolen came to Sheriff King's office where they talked with him as to the filing of charges against Bennett.

Sheriff King told the farmers he would go to the Bennett farm Monday afternoon and interrogate Bennett as to the chicken thefts and if possible obtain a written confession from him.

Sheriff King and Deputy William WARD drove to the Bennett farm and attempted to get in touch with Bennett, whose farm home they found locked. Believing that Bennett was in the house Sheriff King had Lowell BURKE, a farmer, stand guard while he returned to this city.

At 4:30 p.m. Sheriff King received a call from Burke stating that Bennett had emerged from his home and had been sitting on the porch. Sheriff King then had Prosecutor Murray McCARTY draw an affidavit against Bennett charging him with larceny. Sheriff King signed the affidavit which was filed in the circuit court.

Armed with a bench warrant Sheriff King, Deputy Ward and Boyd PETERSON, former sheriff of Fulton county, drove to the Bennett farm last night where they were met by Lowell Burke and all walked toward the Bennett home where they demanded admittance in the name of the law.

When Bennett failed to open the door, Sheriff King attempted to force the portal which he found barred by a fork handle being driven into the floor. The handle had been placed back of the door knob and then nailed to the door.

Gaining entrance to the home the officers attempted to locate Bennett on the first floor. Unsuccessful they opened a door leading to the second floor and were startled by the report of a blast from a shotgun.

Believing that Bennett was firing at them the officers decided to employ an old Indian ruse and placed a hat on a long stick which they lifted to a point above the upstairs banister.

When Bennett did not fire at the hat the officers went up the stairs and found Bennett lying on the floor of his bedroom with the shotgun clutched in his hand. Bennett was still alive, but died a short time later. Dr. Dean STINSON, coroner, was called and ordered the body moved to an undertaking parlor in Fulton, where it was prepared for burial.

The deceased was born near Fletcher's Lake on June 1, 1869 and was the son of Ben and Laviena BENNETT. He had spent his entire lifetime in the Fletcher's Lake community where he followed the occupation of farming and also livestock buying on a small scale.

Saturday, April 9, 1938

It was learned today that the death of Leander B. SNYDER, 81, former farmer of the Argos community, was caused by hanging. Mr. Snyder who had been a patient in the Logansport state hospital since 1916, committed suicide by hanging himself from a step ladder in the linen room at that institution, Friday morning.

An attendant opens the linen room every morning at five o'clock, to distribute towels to other departments of the hospital, and it is believed that soon after the employee left the room Snyder entered.

Officials of the institution in reconstructing the suicide, stated today that Snyder had tied a handkerchief around his neck, and then attached a long towel to a loop he had made in the handkerchief. He then climbed a tall ladder in the room, tied the other end of the towel to the top rung and jumped.

His body was found with feet dangling but a few inches from the floor, by a ward attendant, and was still warm when it was cut down. When all efforts of the physicians to resuscitate the victim failed, County Coroner Dr. M. B. STEWART was called. Dr. Stewart will conduct his inquest Monday morning at 10 o'clock in the superintendent's office of the state hospital.

Mr. Snyder's obituary appeared in Friday's issue of The News-Sentinel.

The fishermen heard the youths' cries for help but at first thought they were joking. When they realized that they were in earnest in their shouts for help they rowed to the spot just as the rowboat sunk to the bottom. Ewer by that time had gone to the bottom of the lake.

All of the boys were expert swimmers but the Ewer boy had suffered with heart trouble and it is believed that he suffered a heart attack while he was clinging to the side of their galvanized steel rowboat. Examination disclosed that the air chamber of the steel rowboat had a leak and this had caused the chamber to fill with water.

Calls were made to Rochester and Peru for pulmotors and firemen from stations in both cities went to Lake Nyona with such equipment. A diver from Peru was taken to the lake by a member of the state police department but he was unable to locate the body. Nets, searchlights and grabhooks were used.

The body was found by Robert "Bud" SCHMIDT, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey SCHMIDT, Peru and Marvin WYANT, 18, Indianapolis, who is spending the summer at the lake with relatives. The body was found by the two youths at 12:55 a.m. Tuesday and was located with the aid of grabhooks.

When found Ewer had on all of his clothing except his shoes. It is believed that he had finished swimming and was in the act of dressing when the boat sank. The victim of the tragedy graduated from Macy high school in 1938. He was employed as a driver of a milk truck. He was a life long resident of the Macy community.

The body was moved to the Ditmire Undertaking Parlors in Fulton where Dr. Dean STINSON, coroner conducted his post-mortem. Some water was found in the lungs. The public inquest into Ewer's death will not be held for several days.

Surviving with the parents are the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Chester READ, Donovan, Ill.; Mrs. Floyd BOCK, Elkhart, Ind.; Mrs. Richard WILSON, Indianapolis; Mrs. Marshal SEDAM, Rushville; Richard EWER, Rushville and Doyne [EWER] at home.

Charles READ, Danville, Illinois, former pastor of the church, will officiate, and interment will be in Plainview Cemetery at Macy.

Dr. Dean STINSON, coroner, has concluded his inquest into the demise of Ewer and held that his death was due to drowning and a heart attack which he suffered while swimming. The coroner also said that he found that Ewer had swallowed considerable water before he was drowned.

Ewer with Bernell [JONES] and Bernie JONES and Archie WILTSHIRE all of Macy went to Lake Nyona on a swimming party Monday night. Ewer drowned in 30 feet of water about 800 feet northeast of the John SHAFER boat landing.

The four youths were using a steel rowboat which had a leaky air chamber. This chamber filled with water and caused the boat to sink. Hugh WAGNER, Peru, Miami county surveyor who was fishing nearby was the first man to reach the spot where the boat sank.

He ordered the Jones brothers and Wiltshire to hold to the gunwhale of his boat while he rowed them to shore. Had the three youths tried to get into the Wagner rowboat all probably would have been drowned. The three youths were only mediocre swimmers and they were panicked when their rowboat sank.

Funeral services for the late Brigadier General Hiram I. (Hiking Hiram) BEARSS of Peru who was killed early Saturday morning in an auto accident near Columbia City, were held this afternoon from the home of his aged father Frank BEARSS in Peru.

The services were in charge of Rev. R. E. TUNMER, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Peru. Also participating in the obsequies were Capt. Asa J. SMITH Indianapolis a close personal friend of Gen. Bearss who served under him in France when he was a colonel with the American Expeditionary Forces in the front lines.

Although he was entitled to burial in the Arlington National Cemetery at Washington where a lot had been reserved for him, his final resting place was in the southeast corner of Mt. Hope Cemetery at Peru. The plot was the original Bearss cemetery and was reserved for the family when the Mt. Hope Cemetery Association was formed. The American Legion had charge of the graveside service.

Gen Bearss was well known in this city, where his nickname was "Mike" BEARSS. He was a nephew of the late George BEARSS and spent many summers on the farm of his uncle and also of his father west of this city. He is a first cousin of Gresham BEARSS who attended the services today.

Gen Bearss met his death while riding in a car driven by his niece Miss Lillie Mae WEST of Welland, Ont. They were returning from Chicago where she had been attending school when she sideswiped a car driven by Claude P. SHUFELDT, Springfield, Ohio and then careened into another auto driven by Joseph Anthony AMBROSE, Zanesville, Ohio. Miss West was seriously injured as was several of the occupants of the other cars.

Survivors of Gen. Bearss besides the father include the widow, Mrs. Louise BEARSS of New York; a daughter, Mrs. Frederick THWING, of Kansas City, Mo., and a brother and two sisters, Braxton BEARSS and Miss Lucy BEARSS, both of Peru, and Mrs. G. O.

MULFELD of Englewood, N.J.

General Bearss was 63 years old last April 13, having been born in Peru in 1875. After attending DePauw university, he graduated from Norwich Military Academy, Northfield, Vt., entering the Marine Corps with the rank of second lieutenant upon the outbreak of the Spanish-American war. Almost immediately he covered himself with glory by outstanding acts of personal valor, and rapidly advanced in rank. Including in his adventurous career before the outbreak of the World War was service in the Boxer rebellion, the Haiti uprising and the Mexical invasion. In recommending him for promotion to the rank of brigadier-general, General John J. Pershing was quoted as saying that his sheer daring and personal bravery were the greatest he ever had seen in any officer in the United States military service.

Although he retired from active service because of ill health in 1920, he later was made commander of Marines guarding the United States treasury in New York City, serving in this capacity for a number of years. Two years ago he was made a brigadier-general (retired) by a special act of congress.

Stories of the acts of "Hiking Hiram" read like fiction, and reveal both an apparently utter disregard of personal safety and a keen sense of humor. Veterans of the World War swear to the veracity of the story of Col. Bearss standing in a hail of bullets atop the rampart in front of a trench, and yelling "Get down, you damn fool", to a private who reared up his head to see what was going on.

In spite of his indefatigable energy and indomitable will, through which he gained the sobriquet of "Hiking Hiram" by continuing marches after all others were exhausted, he showed great concern at all times for the safety and well-being of his troops. He was quoted as declaring: "American soldiers are the best soldiers on earth. The secret of handling soldiers is to feed them, see that no other officer bothers them and never ask a man to go where the commander himself will not go."

An error was made yesterday in The News-Sentinel when the names of Arthur [CRAIG] and Maxine CRAIG were omitted in the list of local persons who attended the funeral services for the late Mrs. J. A. KENNEDY in Kokomo, Wednesday.

Mrs. Irene RAY, aged 62, was instantly killed and her husband, Louis RAY, 65, was seriously injured when they were struck by a car driven by Miss Mae KERN of Athens, at 5:15 o'clock Friday afternoon.

The accident occurred one mile east of Rochester in Road 14, midway between the One Horse Grocery and the home of the Rays, which in other days was known under the name of "The Farm."

The accident occurred while Mr. and Mrs. Ray were walking to their home after a shopping trip to Rochester and Miss Kern, bookkeeper in a local elevator, was on her way to her home in Athens.

Witnesses stated that the Rays were walking on the south side of the road while traveling east and were not facing traffic as they should have been under Indiana state law but were walking with the same.

At the time a blinding rainstorm was in progress which obstructed Miss Kern's view of the road. Miss Kern was watching a child riding a bicycle and was attempting to avoid striking the youngster when the accident occurred.

First persons on the scene were James COPLEN, Simon BAILEY, George REAM, Harry ALLISON and Mr. and Mrs. Otto WEIMER. They found that Mrs. Ray had been killed instantly and called an ambulance to have Mr. Ray moved to the Woodlawn hospital.

It was found that Mrs. Ray's death had been caused by a fractured skull, a severed limb and other injuries. Mr. Ray suffered a fractured skull it was found after an examination at the hospital.

Mr. Ray's condition is considered critical but doctors believe that he will survive. Up until today he had not regained consciousness but spent a restful night.

Miss Kern collapsed after the accident and was taken to her home in Athens. She has been placed under the care of a doctor.

Dr. Dean STINSON, county coroner, and Sheriff Lester KING made an investigation of the accident and obtained statements from witnesses. The inquest probably will be held as soon as the exact condition of Mr. Ray has been determined.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray moved to this city from Plymouth in 1933. Mr. Ray has been on WPA as a laborer most of the time since his arrival in this city. He is a native of Norton, Virginia.

Survivors are the husband, daughter, Mrs. Martin CARTER of this city, a grandson, Rex CUNNINGHAM, Wabash; brother, Joseph TEDROW, Bourbon, five half-brothers who reside in Battle Creek, Mich., and a sister who lives in South Bend.

The funeral services will be held from the Foster Funeral Home in West Sixth street at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon with Rev. James CALL of the Church of God officiating. Interment will be made in a cemetery at Bremen.

The machine had struck a low concrete culvert abutment west of the Half Way Inn after leaving the concrete pavement a few yards east of that point, going out of control and crashing quarterwise against the wall.

Dr. M. B. STEWART, Cass county coroner, said Merle HARRIS of Walton, operator of the Charles KNAUSS salvage yards, Peru, going east, was a witness to the crash. Harris told Sheriff Dewey SCHMIDT he saw the crash. It appeared that Johnston lost control of the car as he was coming west from an early morning call on the Hilltop station near Peru which sold gasoline and products under him.

Rites will be held for the deceased at Chase and Miller chapel 10 a.m. Friday, the Rev. Louis BEAN of Baptist Temple, of which the deceased was church clerk, officiating with interment in Mt. Hope cemetery.

A passing motorist, flagged by Mr. Harris who had removed the victim to a car seat beside the wreck, called the sheriff, coroner and Chase ambulance. As Harris spoke to the victim his neck and head badly injured, he died. Dr. STEWART said death had been caused by fracture of the neck.

Mr. Johnston was a native of Carroll county, having been born there Feb. 16, 1882. On November 1, 1911, he was married to Miss Florence COONS of Cass county, who with a son, Hollis [JOHNSTON], employe of the Farmers State bank and widely known as a soloist and director of the Baptist Temple choir, and a brother, William [JOHNSTON], who resides near Rochester.

Dr. M. B. STEWART will take depositions of witnesses 9 a.m. Saturday at the courthouse.

Despondent over a frustrated love affair, Fred GRAY, 24, of Argos, Ind., shot himself in the right temple with a 32-caliber revolver, Tuesday morning, while visiting at the home of his sister, Mrs. Edward R. HOSTETLER, 1211 South Columbia street, South Bend. The young man died two hours later in the St. Joseph hospital where he was removed a short time after receiving the self-inflicted injury.

The shooting occurred in an upstairs bedroom at the Hostetler residence to which Gray had gone after kissing his sister, Mrs. Evelyn HOSTETLER, and telling her "Goodbye, I'm going home now."

Officers summoned to the scene found a note explaining the suicide, pinned to the young man's shirt when he was removed from the blood-stained bed where he fell after the shooting.

The note contained the following statement:

"Get in touch with Mildred EDWARDS. I love her so much I couldn't go on without her."

The suicide occurred a short time after Mr. Hostetler had left for work at the Studebaker plant. Breakfast awaited Mr. Gray when he arose Tuesday morning. He declined to eat, however, and said to his sister: "You'd better save the flapjacks. I'm not hungry this morning."

A few moments later he went upstairs after kissing his sister, who believed he was preparing to return to Argos. A few seconds later Mrs. Hostetler heard the shot. Mrs. Hostetler identified the gun used as one which had belonged to her father and which her brother had apparently brought from home.

The victim arrived at the Hostetler residence Monday evening, his sister said, and was invited to spend the night after telling members of the family that he had a day off from the Argos sawmill, where he was employed.

His sister-in-law in Argos stated that as he left Monday afternoon he told her: "Whatever happens, tell mother not to feel hard toward me."

Also included in the suicide note were instructions that his parents be notified of his taking his own life, but to be careful in the manner in which the news was broken. In the letter he also asked for their forgiveness for his act.

It was learned from Argos that the young man last week had been reemployed at the Argos saw mill after being out of work for some time. At the time he was reemployed, however, work was given him on his statement that he was married. The man's relatives said, however, they did not believe he was married unless it was secretly.

Mrs. Hostetler is suffering from shock at her home. Two weeks ago she was injured when struck by a car, it was learned, and has had difficulty in climbing the stairs at her home. For that reason she had not called her brother Tuesday morning when it was time to get up. She did not see him until he went downstairs, kissed her goodbye and told her he was returning home, police said.

The deceased was a life long resident of Argos and was born September 9, 1914. His parents with whom he made his home are Harvey and Myrtle GRAY.

Survivors are the parents, three sisters, Mrs. Mabel PARRISH, Plymouth, Mrs. Elsie ELLIS, Trenary, Mich. and Mrs. E. HOSTETLER, South Bend, and a brother, Everett GRAY of Argos.

The funeral services will be held from the Umbaugh Funeral Home in Argos at 2 p.m. Thursday with Rev. A. M. THOMAS, pastor of the Argos Christian Church officiating. Burial will be made in the New Oak Hill Cemetery at Plymouth.

The deceased was a lifelong resident of Fulton county and was born near Rochester, March 22, 1865. Her parents were Jonas and Lavina GILBERT. She had resided in Rochester for 59 years.

Her husband, Joseph HUNTER, was killed in a train accident a number of years ago. She was a member of the Church of the Nazarene at North Manchester.

A Thanksgiving holiday tragedy which claimed three lives in a double murder and suicide, was discovered Friday morning by William G. THOMPSON, Argos, trustee of Green township, Marshall county, when he went to the Jacob VOREIS farm home three miles west of Argos on Road 10.

The victims were Mrs. Della VOREIS, 57, her daughter, Miss Evelyn VOREIS, 27, a graduate nurse and her son, Sammy VOREIS, aged 14, a freshman in the Argos high school.

Reconstruction of the tragedy by Coroner James VORE of Plymouth is that Mrs. Voreis killed her son, Sammy, Wednesday evening and her daughter, Evelyn, Thursday afternoon and fearing that she would be held for the double murder, committed suicide this morning.

Neighbors stated that Mrs. Voreis' mind has been failing for some time or since the death of her husband, Jacob VOREIS, one year ago. It is believed that grief over her husband's death and the fact that their family circle would be broken for the first time this year on Thanksgiving Day, because of her husband's demise, proved too much for Mrs. Voreis' mind and her reasoning lapsed and the tragedy followed.

Miss Evelyn VOREIS had been caring for Mrs. William THOMPSON, a patient in the Woodlawn Hospital for the past ten days. Yesterday she went off the case at 1 p.m., intending to go home and spend Thanksgiving Day with her mother and brother and return to the hospital this morning with Mr. Thompson.

Mr. Thompson drove to the Voreis home in his car this morning to call for Miss Voreis. The mother informed Mr. Thompson that her daughter was not there. He went away and came back about eight o'clock and inquired again about Miss Voreis.

The mother then replied with eyes blazing:

"You can't see Evelyn!"

Becoming suspicious and knowing the mental condition of Mrs. Voreis, Mr. Thompson brushed her aside and went into the home where he found the body of Miss Evelyn Voreis on a couch.

Mr. Thompson left the house for help, but did not take Mrs. Voreis with him. When Mr. Thompson returned with several neighbors they found that Mrs. Voreis had committed suicide by shooting herself through the heart.

Thompson and the other men then made a search of the Voreis home and found the lifeless body of Sammy wrapped in a blanket which had been tucked away under the bed in his room in the second story of the Voreis farm home.

Clarence VORE was called as was Dr. H. E. SARBBER of Argos. It is thought that Mrs. Voreis shot her son through the heart Wednesday night while he was asleep and then secreted his body. The daughter was killed while she was sleeping on the couch sometime Thursday afternoon. Miss Voreis had been shot through the head.

Mrs. Voreis' relatives knew that her mental condition was bad, it was stated, but thought it was better that she live at home with her son, than somewhere else. Her husband was the owner of a section of land and was considered quite wealthy.

The bodies of the three victims were moved to the Grossman Funeral Home in Argos. Funeral arrangements had not been completed at the time The News-Sentinel went to press. Mrs. Voreis' maiden name was Della DILLINGER and she had resided near Argos practically her entire lifetime. She has three step-sons, Dale [VOREIS], Guy [VOREIS] and James [VOREIS], who reside in Argos. The two children she murdered were her own.

Coroner Vore will not hold his inquest until after the funeral services for Mrs. Voreis, her son and daughter. Following the discovery of the tragedy the Voreis farm was visited by many persons. Officers, however, refused anyone admission to the house unless on official business. Attaches from the sheriff's office in Plymouth and state police are guarding the Voreis farm home.

A triple funeral service will be held in the Methodist Church at Argos, Sunday at 2 p.m. for the three victims of a Thanksgiving tragedy which occurred at a farm home four miles west of Argos in Road 10.

The victims are Mrs. Della VOREIS, 57, [who] committed suicide Friday morning by shooting herself in the heart with a revolver, her daughter, Miss Evelyn VORHEIS, 27 a graduate nurse and her son, Daniel (Sammy) VOREIS, aged 15, a freshman in the Argos high school, .

The services will be in charge of Rev. Richard CROWDER, pastor of the Argos M.E. Church. Burial will be made in the Poplar Grove Cemetery, which is a mile west of the Voreis farm.

It is believed that Mrs. Voreis was demented due to great grief because of the death of her husband one year ago. It is thought that her reason snapped when she brooded over the fact that her husband for the first time would not be able to be with them at Thanksgiving.

The tragedy was discovered Friday by Orval VOREIS, a son who lives on an adjoining farm and William THOMPSON, Green township, trustee, who resides in Argos.

Miss Evelyn VOREIS had been caring for Mrs. Thompson, who is a patient in the Woodlawn Hospital, and had gone home Thursday afternoon to visit her mother until Friday morning.

When Mr. Thompson asked for Miss Voreis he was told by her mother, that she was gone. Later Thompson went to the farm of Orval Voreis and both returned to the farm and made the gruesome discovery of the two murders after they were forced to push Mrs. Voreis aside.

The two men did not watch Mrs. Voreis when they went to call for help and during their absence the demented woman fired the bullet through her heart.

The body of the son was found wrapped in a blanket which had been stuffed under a bed in his bedroom in the second story of the Voreis home and that of Miss Voreis was found reclining on a lounge in the parlor of the home.

Reconstruction of the crime is that Daniel was slain sometime Wednesday night after he returned home after attending the Culver-Argos basketball game in Argos and that Miss Voreis was killed Thursday afternoon. The boy had been shot in the head and Miss Voreis had been shot three times in the head and body.

Mrs. Voreis had lived near Argos all of her life and her maiden name was Della ELLINGER. Her husband was Jacob VOREIS, wealthy farmer. She was a member of the Argos Methodist Church and the Progress Club of that city.

Survivors are the son, Orval [VOREIS] and three step-sons, Dale [VOREIS] and Guy VOREIS, Argos, and James VOREIS, Chicago.

Miss Evelyn Voreis was a graduate of the Argos high school and the nurses training school of the St. Lukes Hospital, Chicago. She was often on special cases in the Woodlawn Hospital and in the Parkview Hospital in Plymouth.

Daniel Voreis was born at Argos and had lived there all of his life. He was a freshman in the Argos high school and a member of the class basketball team.

Funeral services for Mrs. David PARSONS, aged 44, who resided on Rural Route 5, northeast of the city, will be held from the Methodist church at Kentland Sunday afternoon with burial in the Fair Lawn cemetery there.

Mrs. Parsons died in the Cass county hospital in Logansport on Thursday from injuries which she received Monday afternoon in an auto accident a mile west of Burnettsville.

Death was due to a fractured pelvis. Efforts were made Wednesday to bolster her ebbing strength through a blood transfusion and oxygen.

Mrs. Parsons received her fatal injuries when she was riding in a car with her husband and two sons when the auto collided with one driven by Russell BRANDT, 47, manager of a lumber company at Chalmers.

The Parsons family moved to Fulton county five years ago after Mr. Parsons purchased a farm in Richland township. He is employed as a mechanic in the Continental Can Company in Chicago and spent the week ends at the farm with his family.

Mrs. Parsons was reared at Kentland and lived there all her life until the family moved here to reside. Survivors other than the husband and two sons are a brother Bert McCARTHY of Kentland.
