What is thought to have been the oldest set of triplets in the United States was broken by death Saturday when Mrs. Emma Elizabeth MARTINDALE, aged 76, former evangelist and pastor of the Wesleyan Methodist church died at her home, 710 South Eddy street, South Bend.

Mrs. Martindale had been ill since last February with a heart ailment. She was a native of Rochester and was born here August 6, 1864.

The surviving triplet sisters are Mrs. J. H. ZEITERS of Oconomowoc, Wis., and Mrs. Tobias HELSEL of Plymouth. In a ceremony performed in Rochester in 1884 she was married to H. A. MARTINDALE who died in 1925.

A greater portion of the time since her husband's death Mrs. Martindale had resided in South Bend. For many years she and her brother, Rev. S. A. MOW of Rochester, traveled the United States in evangelistic work.

Mrs. Martindale and her two sisters had often entered plural birth contests such as those conducted at the twin's convention in Fort Wayne each year and in each they always won the honor of being the oldest set of triplets present.

Surviving besides the two sisters are four daughters, Miss Mable MARTINDALE, Mrs. G. E. LAMAR, Miss Eunice MARTINDALE and Mrs. Howard BERGER, all of South Bend; nine grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Just as the first streaks of light through the eastern skies heralded the approach of Easter morn an auto accident occurred on Road 25 two miles south of this city in front of the Porter HAIMBAUGH residence which caused the death of one man and the injury of five others. Three of the men in the crash were from Rochester and the others were Macy residents.

The accident involved two cars which sideswiped each other. It is believed the accident occurred when the driver of one of the cars involved fell asleep and allowed his vehicle to weave over to the wrong side of the road. The injured were moved to Woodlawn hospital.

The dead man is Henry GEIGER, aged 27, of 716 North Madison street, father of two small children. His neck was broken. He was riding with Dee VanDALSEN, 26, of Macy, a married man, who was his boyhood chum. VanDalsen suffered lacerations of neck, cuts, one of which grazed the jugular vein, and many bruises.

The other injured were Roy HILL, 23, owner of the Wall Street barber shop, several scalp wounds and numerous bruises. One cut practically scalped him. Hill was driving his car and was riding alone.

Lowell COLLINS, 25, Macy fractured left leg and many body bruises. His condition is serious.

Richard STAHL, 19, of Macy, fractured right ankle and cuts about the head and body.

Earl THOMPSON, 19, of Rochester, cuts and bruises. Condition is favorable.

The accident occurred while Hill was enroute to Fulton to spend Easter with his aged mother. He had worked late Saturday night in his barber shop which he acquired early last week. He was driving his 1935 Chevrolet coach.

Mr. VanDALSEN had left Macy around 8 o'clock Saturday evening with Collins and Stahl in VanDalsen's 1930 Ford Tudor. They were met in Rochester by Geiger and Thompson. At the time of the accident the five men were returning from Logansport.

Sheriff Russell VOORHEES, State Detective Estil BEMENDERFER, Night Patrolman Manford NEWELL and Dr. Dean STINSON, county coroner, were called to the scene of the fatal accident. The injured were taken to Woodlawn hospital in the Ora Foster ambulance, and Geiger was moved to the Foster funeral home.

Dr. Stinson, and the officers have been able to obtain statements from Hill, Stahl and Thompson but because of their physical condition no attempt has been made to question Collins and VanDalsen who are still suffering greatly from shock.

Mr. Geiger was born March 13, 1913 in Milford, Ind. His parents were Charles and Nellie GEIGER. On June 5, 1934 he was married to Betty SLAYBAUGH of Rochester and he has resided here during the past year moving here from Akron where Geiger was formerly employed in the shovel factory. Dr. Dean K. STINSON, Fulton county coroner, today filed his report in the county clerk's office in the death of Henry GEIGER, aged 27, of Rochester, who was killed early Easter morning in an auto accident two miles south of Rochester on Road 25.

The coroner found that Mr. Geoger died of a broken neck and other injuries. He was riding in an automobile driven by Dee VanDALSEN, 26, of Macy. Other occupants of this car were Lowell COLLINS, 24, and Richard STAHL, 19, of Macy and Earl THOMPSON, 19, of Rochester.

Geiger was killed when cars driven by VanDalsen and Roy HILL, 24, of Rochester, collided.

Sworn statements were made by Collins, Thompson, Stahl, VanDalsen and Hill which were made a matter of record in the case.

Substantially the reports are that the three Macy men came to Rochester in the VanDalsen car and that the machine, a 1930 Ford Tudor, had but one headlight which was never repaired.

The three men arrived in Rochester about 9 o'clock and purchased a pint of whiskey in the BERGHOFF CAFE.

The three men got into the car and drove to the STREAMLINER where they purchased three bottles of Coca Cola which they, as their statements said, then "spiked" with whiskey.

The men then visited MAC'S PLACE to see what was going on and then drove to the WEST SIDE HOTEL at Lake Manitou which they found was closed.

The trio then drove to WALT'S TAVERN at Lake Manitou where Collins said he had a bottle of beer. They returned to Rochester where Stahl met a girl friend about 10:30 and walked home with her and this interim VanDalsen and Collins, according to Collins, went to the TOM THUMB where each had a bottle of beer.

Stahl returned and all went to the EVERGREEN LUNCHROOM where they met Geiger and Thompson. At Geiger's suggestion they decided to drive to Logansport.

As the car was partially filled with clothes belonging to VanDalsen a trip was made to Macy where the clothes were unloaded and the trip to Logansport was started from there.

The five men arrived in Logansport about 2 a.m. and went to the A. F. of L. club room where their sworn statements said, beer was purchased. On the return trip to Rochester which started at 4 a.m. Collins said that he and VanDalsen got out of the car south of Metea and walked around a little. The other occupants were sleeping.

VanDalsen, Collins and Stahl's stories differ in as to the one who made the purchase of the pint of whiskey. Stahl also said that when VanDalsen stopped the car near Metea he asked him why he had stopped and VanDalsen replied that he was walking to wake up a bit.

Hill in his statement said he noticed the VanDalsen car approaching from the south and that it was being driven to the left of the center of the highway and that in an effort to avoid the accident he cut his car to the east side of the road but too late to avoid the crash.

Lawrence BOGANWRIGHT, aged 49, trustee of Newcastle township, was instantly killed at 11 o'clock this morning when his truck was struck by a fast west bound Pennsylvania railroad passenger train at the Mulberry Hill crossing midway between Etna Green and Atwood in Kosciusko county. Robert READ who was riding with him escaped injury.

Mr. Boganwright lives on the Kosciusko-Fulton county line three and a half miles east of Talma. He operates a stud farm and was transporting three stallions in his truck when the accident occurred. Two of the stallions were killed instantly but the third was unhurt.

Mr. Boganwright had driven to the crossing which is a down grade one. He thought that he had placed the truck in reverse gear but instead it was in first and the truck leaped into the path of the oncoming passenger train.

Mr. Boganwright's body was badly mangled. It was taken to an undertaking parlor in Warsaw. Read escaped when he jumped from the cab of the truck.

Mr. Boganwright was married and the father of seven children who with the widow survive. He was a Republican and had been trustee of Newcastle township for a year. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Boganwright and Read were associated in the raising of purebred horses. They had left the Boganwright farm home at 8 o'clock Friday morning in a truck with three stallions for the George FORD farm near Etna Green. They were on their return trip to the Boganwright farm when the accident occurred at 10:45 a.m.

Boganwright drove to the Mulberry Hill crossing midway between Etna Green and Atwood where he stopped when he saw the passenger train approaching. There is a down-grade approach to the crossing, it is said, and Boganwright thought the truck too close to the railroad tracks, and told Read he would backup a few feet.

The Newcastle township trustee in the tension of the moment became excited and accidentally put the truck in low gear instead of reverse and the vehicle lunged in front of the approaching train. Read succeeded in jumping to safety. Two of the stallions were killed but the third was unhurt.

Boganwright's body was badly mangled was almost severed. It was carried far down the tracks from the crossing. Wreckage of the truck was strewn over 200 feet down the railroad right-of-way.

The victim was born at Silver Lake on July 18, 1891, the son of John and Lou BOGANWRIGHT. He had been a resident of Newcastle township 25 years, moving there from Palestine. On November 27, 1915, he was married to Gifta HARSH.

Funeral services for Charles O. DYCHE, owner of the WALGREEN AGENCY drug store and an official of the DYCHE MOTORS, INC., of this city, were conducted at the Presbyterian church at 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. Rev. Glenn C. McGEE was in charge of the rites.

Immediately following the services the body was entrained for Childress, Texas, where brief services will be conducted and interment made in the Dyche family lot in the Childress cemetery.

Coroner Dean STINSON has completed his inquest into the death and pronounced a verdict of suicide. An autopsy revealed that Mr. Dyche had placed the muzzle of a .38 calibre revolver in the roof of his mouth and fired a single shot which is believed to have caused instantaneous death. The bullet which was recovered is being examined by ballistic experts to check with the rifling of the gun which was found clasped in the right hand of Mr. Dyche.

Relatives and business associates of the deceased are at loss to affix a motive for the deed and private detectives who have been working on the case since the middle of last week are continuing their investigation, it was stated today.

Mr. Dyche disappeared late Tuesday evening from his lake cottage home adjacent to the Rochester country club and when he failed to put in his appearance at his drug store Wednesday morning, some apprehension was entertained inasmuch as he had not taken his auto or any extra clothing which would have indicated his departure from the city.

An investigation was immediately launched by local and private officers and the search for the missing man terminated late Saturday afternoon, when Max NICODEMUS, an employee of A. C. BRADLEY, discovered the body in a half prone position at the base of a tree in a wooded section of the Bradley farm on the southeast shore of Lake Manitou. The scene of the tragedy was about a mile south of Dyche's home, a few yards east of the new gravel road which skirts the lake from the old Fairview hotel site to the Joe BAKER farm.

Nicodemus stated he saw a man lying near the same tree Wednesday morning, but made no investigation, believing it was someone asleep. Saturday afternoon, while working the same vicinity, he noticed the body was still there and the discovery was made. It is believed that Dyche ended his life late Tuesday night. To date no note or other message has been found which might serve to clarify the tragedy.

Mr. Dyche came to Rochester in the fall of 1938 and purchased the BLUE DRUG STORE from Mrs. Edith B. RUH. Late in the fall of 1940, he became president of the Dyche Motors, Inc., a new Ford agency, associated with Mrs. Bessie BOWERS, widow of the late Bert BOWERS, Peru circus owner, and Ralph WALL, an auto agency manager, of Valparaiso. This business is located at 600-602 Main street. The deceased was also active in the civic and social affairs of the community and was a member of the Rochester Kiwanis Club and the Country Club.

Charles Oliver [DYCHE], son of Mr. and Mrs. Cal DYCHE, was born in Childress, Texas on December 5th, 1897. Following his graduation from the high school of that city, he completed a pharmaceutical course at Valparaiso University, Valparaiso, Ind. For several years he operated a drug store at Hobart, Ind. and disposed of his interests to accept a salesman's position with the Parke-Davis Co. of Detroit. While in the employ of the pharmaceutical supply house Mr. Dyche's territory was in the Chicago area. The deceased was a member of the Rochester Presbyterian church and took an active interest in the affairs of that organization.

An investigation is now being made by Kosciusko County Coroner Leslie A. LAIRD and other county authorities into the death of Dayton KLINE, 64, Disko hunter and trapper, who was found dead at 10:45 a.m. Thursday, along State Road 14, about a mile and a half west of Silver Lake, near the Kosciusko-Fulton county line. Kline's body was discovered lying in a ditch, frozen, by Ronald RICHARDS, farmer of the Silver Lake community, who was driving a tractor along the highway.

Coroner Laird stated that Kline had been "hit in the face with something," his face showing lacerations. It is believed Kline may have been the victim of foul play.

Kline, a widower, lived alone in a small hut near Disko. He was last seen in Silver Lake about midnight Wednesday, when he told friends that he was going to walk to his home, a distance of about five miles. Coroner Laird said that he had been dead "a few hours."

It was first thought that Kline might have been struck by a hit-and-run motorist, but lack of bruises and other lacerations of the body forced abandonment of that theory. A death verdict will not be filed until investigation is complete, it was stated.

Surviving Kline are two sisters and two nephews. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.
