Martha V. Atkinson

Fulton county's 1959 traffic toll leaped to one killed and at least six injured Thursday, before the New Year was even a day old.

Dead is Mrs. Martha Virginia ATKINSON, 40, Elkhart, whose life was snuffed out instantly in a car-truck accident on U.S. 31, six miles north of Rochester, at 8:30 p.m. Thursday.

Injured in Thursday's crashes include:

Norman ATKINSON, seven-year-old son of Mrs. Martha Atkinson, who is listed in "critical" condition at Woodlawn hospital, with two broken legs, a broken arm, head injury and possible internal injuries.

Ralph G. ATKINSON, 46, husband of the dead woman, lacerations of face and arms, treated at Wodlawn and not admitted.

Mrs. Atkinson was riding in the right front seat of a 1957 Ford, driven by her husband, that attempted to pass another south-bound car about 300 feet north of the Richland Center road on U.S. 31.

Fog apparently obscured from Atkinson's view a tractor-trailer, located with scrap, that was approaching from the opposite direction. The Atkinson's son was lying in the back seat of their car at the time.

The truck pulled to the side in an effort to allow the Atkinson car clearance, but Atkinson said he braked his auto and thought he could get across the road. His car hit the right front fender of the semi, the entire right side of the 1957 Ford was ripped away.

Mrs. Atkinson, who was thrown from the car, died of a skull fracture, said Dr. Howard ROWE, county coroner, and also had broken legs, broken arm and a crushed pelvis. The truck went through a fence on the Kenneth MYER farm, narrowly missing a tree.

The tractor-trailer, owned by the Midwest Emery Trucking company, was driven by George O. EMMONS, 42, Holland, Mich., who was not hurt. The Atkinsons were enroute to visit relatives in Danville, Ind.

State Trooper John HATCH and Sheriff Willard CLARK investigated. They estimated damage to the truck at $150 and termed the car a total loss. The car that Atkinson tried to pass stopped a few feet down the road from the accident site, then went on. Nearby residents called the sheriff's office.

The couple's son, Lawrence Willard [HUDSON], 2, who was in his mother's arms at the time the shooting took place, was hit by several pellets from the blast and is listed in fair condition at Dukes hospital.

Mrs. Hudson's son by a previous marriage, David McKINLEY, 11, also was wounded in the face by stray pellets.

Hudson is being held by Peru police on an open charge pending the calling of a grand jury in the Miami county seat.

According to Peru police, the events which led to the tragic slaying occurred in the following order.

Hudson and David McKinley had attended the Peru-Rochester high school basketball game in Peru, and Hudson, after sending the boy home with friends, stopped at a tavern where he reportedly told police he had "four or five shots of vodka."

Arriving at home, Hudson found that Mrs. Hudson's daughter, Carolyn Sue McKINLEY, 14, was entertaining three boys. Hudson and his wife became embroiled in an argument about the girl which raged for nearly two hours.

At the climax of the quarrel, about 11:50 p.m., Hudson went to a closet, took out a 12-gauge shot gun, went to the back porch of the house and inserted a single shell into the gun. Coming back into the kitchen, he leveled the gun at his wife in the living room and fired it.

David McKINLEY, who had looked from the living room into the kitchen at almost the exact instant the gun was discharged, was thought to have been hurt by part of the blast which ricocheted off the kitchen table. His sister was in an upstairs bedroom at the time of the shooting.

When police arrived, Hudson was seated on the couch beside his wife, who was sprawled still conscious on the living room floor. He was vague in his story to investigating officers and kept repeating that he "didn't know how" the shooting occurred.

Hudson is a welder for the Freeman Loader corporation, manufacturers of farm implements, and also a part-time bartender.

Since his retirement from the superintendency in 1941, he had attended all board of director meetings, had been on reserve duty as a "trouble shooter" and had taken an interested part in administration by the board.

His longevity record with the company probably was unequaled by any other telephone man in the nation. In his six decades of service, Mr. Pontious witnessed the telephone company's growth from 84 telephones to 3,620, from magneto, hand crank, sets to common battery service in 1909 and then to dial phones. He lived through the eras from trouble-shooting by foot, horseback and bicycle to today's use of high-powered trucks.

Born March 17, 1870, on a farm near Disko, Mr. Pontious lived in Rochester since the early 1890s, when he came here from his birthplace. His parents were Samuel and Rachel PONTIOUS.

Jay Howard

A 22-year-old Denver, Ind. truck driver burned to death in the blazing wreckage of his tractor-trailer early this morning after the outfit rammed a bridge and burst into flames on Ind.19, four miles south of Mentone.

He was identified as Jay HOWARD, R.R. 5, Peru, who was driving for the Elvin Murphy Trucking company of Denver.

State police and the Kosciusko county sheriff's office said Howard was enroute from Decatur to Mentone. The accident occurred at 5:50 a.m. in Kosciusko county, a short distance from the Fulton-Kosciusko county line.

Officers surmised that Howard fell asleep at the wheel of the northbound vehicle. The tractor came loose from the trailer after hitting the south edge of an iron railing on the west side of the bridge and careened into the creek that the bridge spans.

The tractor was enveloped in flames almost immediately. Officers said that Howard apparently was not killed by the impact of the accident, but burned to death before he could escape from the tractor.

The force of the crash against the iron railing broke the trailer loose and caused it to travel to the highway on the north side of the bridge. It ended up across the road, blocking traffic.

Howard was the son of Harold and Louise PETRIE HOWARD, R.R. 5, Peru. He was born in Peru on Nov. 5, 1935.

James Eiler

An accidental dynamite explosion hurled James EILER, 65, 315 East 14th street, about 40 feet through the air and killed him instantly Saturday afternoon on his farm five miles southeast of Argos.

Eiler moved to Rochester five months ago after living on the Marshall county farm for 25 years. He was removing stumps with the dynamite when the accident occurred.

Dr. James COURSEY, Marshall county deputy coroner, and Jerry GREENLEE, Marshall county sheriff, placed the time of death at about 2:30 p.m. They said Eiler apparently leaned over a box of the dynamite and accidentally exploded it.

Eiler's body was found by his wife, Evelyn [EILER], and a neighbor, Leonard LOWE, Rochester, about 1:30 a.m. Sunday. They had gone to look for him when Mrs. Eiler, a nurse at Woodlawn hospital, returned from work at 11:30 p.m. Saturday and her husband was not home.

Eiler had left Rochester with 5 1/2 pounds of dynamite about 8 a.m. Saturday, authorities said. Mrs. Eiler called Rochester police after she returned home and when they could tell her nothing of her husband, she and the neighbor went to the farm.

Danny Benefiel

Danny BENEFIEL, 22, Elwood, drowned Sunday morning in Beaver Dam lake, north of Akron in Kosciusko county, when a sailboat capsized in about 50 feet of water.

A companion, Kenneth BRADBURN, 25, also of Elwood, was pulled from the water but Benefiel disappeared beneath the surface before rescuers could reach him. It was reported that Benefiel knew how to swim but Bradburn did not.

Dragging operations were begun immediately, but it was seven hours later about 6:10 p.m. before Benefiel's body was discovered. At one time, 14 boats were involved in dragging operations, with assistance from a Civil Air Patrol airplane.

The sailboat containing the two men capsized about 200 yards off the east shore of the lake around 11 a.m. Both men were dressed in heavy jackets which hampered their efforts to stay afloat.

The Mishap was witnessed from shore by Mike HUGHES, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Verl HUGHES of Alexandria. The Elwood men were visiting at the Hughes cottage. Mike Hughes ran to his parents cottage to summon help.

Verl Hughes went to the men's assistance in his motorboat and picked up Bradburn first. He saw Benefiel struggling to remove his jacket and finally escape from it. However, Hughes reported, by the time he had reached the spot where Benefiel had been swimming, the latter had disappeared.

Brandburn and Benefiel had come to the lake for the weekend with Barbara UMMEL, the Hughes' daughter, and Miss Dee TAYLOR, Frankton. The Hughes cottage is named "Here 'Tis."

Burket firemen began the dragging operations, with assistance from Dick HIGGINS, conservation officer of Kosciusko county. Later help came from Deputy Sheriff Don KARNIS of Fulton county; Ray REKER, Fulton county conservation officer; Bob GRAY and Ed HAUSER, Akron special deputy sheriffs; State Troopers Wallace MANROW of Warsaw, Henry CRIPE of Goshen and Herschel HARPER and Robert CLEVENGER of Syracuse; the Warsaw sheriff's department and Wabash conservation officers.

The C.A.P. airplane which flew over the dragging site in hopes of sighting the body was piloted by Capt. H. M. HAZARD of Warsaw, who was accompanied by Jerry EASTBURG of Rochester, commander of Group Seven, Civil Air Patrol.

Women of the Burket Firemen's Auxiliary served coffee and sandwiches to the workers from Jack WITHERS' store and the lake shore.

The body was discovered near the area where Benefiel last was sighted.

A veteran of Marine Corps duty from 1953-55, Benefiel was employed at the Heinz Manufacturing company in Elwood and lived at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert BENEFIEL, who were called to the scene.

According to state police and Howard county sheriff's deputies, the northbound 1957 Plymouth sedan driven by Marsh swerved across the center line and into the path of the southbound 1958 Mercury station wagon, driven by Glackman. The head-on collision occurred a fourth-mile south of the Chrysler Corporation transmission plant on the U.S. 31 bypass.

Val Zimmerman, II

Valentine ZIMMERMAN, II, longtime Rochester businessman and civic leader, died this morning at 4 o'clock in the Rochester nursing home. He was 86 years of age.

Mr. Zimmerman, the son of one of Rochester's pioneer residents, was stricken with pneumonia last winter in Orlando, Fla., where he had moved ten years previously. He was returned to Rochester in December and, following treatment at Woodlawn hospital, had been confined in the nursing home since.

Death was attributed to apoplexy compounded by the effects of pneumonia.

Mr. Zimmerman, known as "Val" to his many friends, retired from the furniture and undertaking business in 1945 after 41 years. His firm was located on Main street in the building now occupied by the American Legion Post. He had been in retirement at his longtime home, "Hoosier Hut," 916 Pontiac street, until moving to Orlando two years ago.

Mr. Zimmerman had a long and varied career of community endeavor. He helped found the Rochester country club, the Rochester Kiwanis club and the Rochester Chamber of Commerce. Following lengthy service in local children's activities, he assisted in the start of Boy Scout Troop 18 here in 1931 and then served as chairman of the troop committee and later as Fulton county Scout commissioner. The Three Rivers Council, Boy Scouts of America, honored Mr. Zimmerman later with a special service award.

A graduate of Rochester high school and of the University of Notre Dame, he also served as chairman of the Fulton county committee of the Works Progress Administration during the 1930s. Other community work found him serving as secretary of the original Fulton County Fair association, forerunner to the present-day 4-H Fair.

When Woodlawn hospital was established in 1907 under the late Dr. W. S. SHAFER, Mr. Zimmerman directed fund-raising benefit shows to help equip the city's first such medical facilities.

He was most active in the presentation of plays at the old Academy of Music building, located at the southwest corner of Main and Fifth streets, and was one of the founders of the Actors' Group which staged plays during the winter seasons.

Mr. Zimmerman was a script writer for many of the minstrel shows which were a highlight of the local stage season here for over a decade, also serving as an "end man" in the shows. He was a personal friend of many of that era's nationally famous stage actors and actresses.

A learned student of Rochester history, Mr. Zimmerman authored a long series of articles which have appeared in The News-Sentinel over the past 20 years. He signed these stories with the pseudonym "Pioneer."

The son of Valentine and Martha NEWHART ZIMMERMAN, he was born Jan. 18, 1873, in Rochester and had spent his entire life here. He was married Dec. 20, 1900, at Crown Point, to Clara J. YOUNG, who died Sept. 19, 1948.

Mr. Zimmerman was a 50-year member of the Rochester Masonic lodge, belonged to the Knights of Pythias lodge and to the Notre Dame Alumni Club.

His father, Valentine I, came to Rochester in 1865 after emigrating from Germany. The elder Zimmerman first opened a shoe factory in this city and in 1879 began the furniture and undertaking business. In 1880, he moved the firm to what is now the Legion Home site at 611 Main street. Following his death in 1904, sons Valentine II and Leo [ZIMMERMAN], operated the business until 1912, when the partnership was dissolved. Valentine II maintained the firm at the same location until retirement in 1945. His brother, Leo, opened a similar firm which has been operated by his sons, under the name of Zimmerman Brothers, since Leo's death in 1928.

Surviving are three nieces, Mrs. Robert (Mary Jane) Van DUYNE and Mrs. Chauncey (Hannah) OREN, both of Rochester and Mrs. Jackson (Martha) ROYNON, Chicago; six nephews, Emerson ZIMMERMAN and Valentine ZIMMERMAN III, both of Bakersfield, Cal; Leo D. ZIMMERMAN, Chicago and Major, Herbert and James ZIMMERMAN, all of Rochester.

Preceding him in death were the brother, Leo George [ZIMMERMAN], and two sisters, Mrs. Howard HOOD, in 1950, and Mrs. Martha GINTHER, in 1959.

Funeral services will be Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in the Zimmerman Brothers funeral home. The Rev. Father Charles A. J. Valentine Zimmerman, II

A PIONEER DEPARTS

[editorial]

Valentine ZIMMERMAN, II, a resident, businessman and civic worker in Rochester for 86 years, has passed away. Younger people do not know about Val since he was inactive in recent years and also spent some time in Florida. But older citizens will recall his background, his work, his unselfishness and his progressive leadership during his lifetime.

He is one of the few men left in Fulton county who began life here and remained until death. Rochester was a typical Hoosier country town when he was born--with dirt streets, horse-drawn vehicles, wooden sidewalks, oil lights and the center of a thriving agriculture community. His father settled here years before and was a leading merchant. After a high school and college education, Val followed in his footsteps.

He had many interests outside his furniture and mortuary business. A Boy Scout leader, a promoter in the commercial clubs of his day, a lover of theatricals and a booster for home talent and good stage shows, an able newspaper contributor, one of the men behind Woodlawn hospital at its founding, a World War I worker, a background helper in many church improvements, a story teller and historian, and above all a good citizen.

Val Zimmerman left his mark in Rochester as have many others like him. His life, enthusiasm, self-sacrifice for others and his optimistic outlook on the future of his home community will set a high example for others to follow for many years to come.

Nell Louise Burns

Nineteen-month-old Nell Louise BURNS was killed instantly Tuesday night when she was thrown from a westbound car driven by her father, Ivan Roy BURNS, Jr., 36, R.R. 1, Akron, after the car had gone out of control on Ind. 14 near the Erie railroad tracks 1 1/2 miles west of Akron.

Both the father and the mother, Muriel [BURNS], 28, were injured critically and were taken to Woodlawn hospital. They were thrown from the auto, also.

State police and the sheriff's office said the tragedy happened about 9:30 p.m. when Burns lost control of the car as he entered a sharp curve that leads to the railroad tracks.

The 1945 Plymouth four-door sedan skidded 100 feet and across the tracks went off the highway on the south side, skidded back onto the road and turned over once in the middle of the highway. The baby was thrown from the vehicle at this point.

The car skidded some more and turned over again, on the north side of the road, throwing out both parents, then hit a Northern Indiana Public Service company utility pole broadside.

The infant was killed instantly by a skull fracture suffered when she landed on her head on the highway, state police said.

The father suffered a possible skull fracture; a fractured clavical and bruises and abrasions over his entire body.

The mother also received a possible skull fracture, a fractured jaw, chest injuries and lacerations and abrasions on her head and legs.

State police estimated the speed of the car at 55-60 miles an hour, officers said.

The Burnses apparently were on their way to their home, which is only a short distance west of the accident scene. Officers were advised of the crash by Mrs. Glen MERLEY, who lives nearby.

Investigation disclosed that a westbound Erie train passed the crossing about five minutes after the accident, but that the train had nothing to do with the mishap. State police and the sheriff's office were told by crewmen of train number 77 that they saw the car against the utility pole as the train passed the site.

State troopers said all four tires of the Burns car were bald. The accident still is under investigation.

Don Music

A 29-year-old Rochester man was killed instantly Tuesday night when his car smashed broadside into a tree near the Nyona Lake bridge. Two passengers--one a four-year-old boy--were injured and taken to Woodlawn hospital.

Dead is Don MUSIC, 104 East Sixth street, who suffered a crushed skull and a broken ankle. In "fair" condition at the hospital are Mrs. Paul (Rosanna) EYTCHESON, 21, 128 East Fourth street, with six fractured ribs and her son, Gary Lee [EYTCHESON], with bumps and bruises.

The accident happened at 9:16 o'clock Tuesday just after Music, driving a 1951 Chevrolet east on a county road, had crossed the Nyona Lake bridge. The road curves to the right slightly after the bridge. Music turned his car to the right and lost control. The car spun to the right and hit the tree--on the right side of the road--broadside on the driver's side.

Music was pinned in the wreckage. Mrs. Eytcheson, sitting in the right front seat, was thrown through the windshield and landed on the ground near the home of Mr. and Mrs. James WELLS, R.R. 1, Macy. The boy in the back seat was knocked against the inside top of the car.

The Wellses heard the crash and rushed to the scene. They carried the boy and helped Mrs. Eytcheson to their home, then called the sheriff's office and state police. Dr. Howard ROWE, county coroner, also investigated.

It took officers considerable time to free Music from the car, since most of its left side was caved in. A wrecker was used to pull the car apart.

The sheriff's office said the car was traveling at a high rate of speed when it crossed the bridge and that Music lost control of it when he tried to negotiate the curve in the road. Officers said the bridge floor was damp, but apparently was not icy or snowy.

Mrs. Eytcheson told the sheriff's office that Music had been drinking shortly before the crash. The three apparently were on their way to Rochester after having been in Nyona Lake officers said.

Music was Fulton county's third traffic fatality of the year.

The body was taken to the Zimmerman Brothers funeral home and today was taken to Paintsville, Ky., where services are to be conducted.

Donald Lee Fry, II

A Fulton high school basketball star, apparently hurrying home so he wouldn't break training rules, was killed instantly about 10 p.m. Monday when his car crashed on the Green Oak road south of Rochester. The body lay pinned in the wreckage for eight hours before being discovered by a passing motorist.

He was Donald Lee FRY, II, 17, son of Donald Lee and Merl McCLAIN FRY of Fulton. President of the senior class at Fulton high, the boy was averaging 17.3 points a game, fourth highest among area basketball players. He was a regular guard on the Bulldogs team.

The wrecked 1953 four-door Plymouth, with Fry's body inside, was discovered at 6 a.m. today by Harold BEAUDOIN, who lives a half mile east of the accident site. He was going to the Lillian BARGER farm to do chores. The crash occurred across the road from the Barger farm, about one-half mile east of Ind. 25 or about four miles south of Rochester.

According to reports assembled by the sheriff's office, the boy had taken his girlfriend to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred GOTTSCHALK, who live on U.S. 31, south of the Green Oak road. He left the Gottschalk residence about 9:50 p.m., went north on U.S. 31, turned west onto the Green Oak road and apparently planned to turn south on Ind. 25 and arrive at his home in Fulton.

The sheriff's office learned that Fry apparently was attempting to arrive home by the 10 p.m. curfew established on week nights for the Fulton basketball players.

After the car went out of control, it went off the south side of the county blacktop road, careened back onto the road, smashed into a cement gateway post on the north side of the road, then wrapped around the other cement gateway post.

Sheriff Willard CLARK said the car looked like it had exploded. Parts of it--such as the battery and the tool box from the trunk--were scattered about, some of them 65 feet from the car itself, Clark said.

Although it was eight years before the crash was discovered, the Fulton county coroner's office said the nature of injuries indicated the boy had been killed instantly. X-rays still were being inspected today to determine the exact injuries.

Donal Lee Fry was born in Kewanna on Oct. 18, 1942, and was a member of the E.U.B. church.

Surviving, besides the parents, are two sisters, Mrs. Jack (Lelia) WALTZ, Fulton, and Pamela Jean [FRY], at home; a brother, David Lynn [FRY], at home; the paternal grandmother, Mrs. Vern FRY, Fulton, and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin McCLAIN, Kewanna.
