Road Builder Ed Boswell dead at 88

Rochester lost one of its most influential figures at 4 p.m. Sunday when Edwin C. BOSWELL, 719 Jefferson St., died at home at the age of 88.

In addition to leading McMahan-O'Connor Construction Co. to prominence among Midwestern road builders, Boswell was a leader of the Methodist Church and the Republican Party, a longtime member of the DePauw University Board of Trustees and a local philanthropist who quietly contributed to the success of many community projects.

During his more than six decades with McMahan Construction Co., McMahan-O'Connor Construction Co. and Rock Industries, Boswell's crews were active in Indiana, Michigan, Kentucky and Illinois. They built U.S. 31 between Kokomo and U.S. 6, U.S. 465 around eastern Indianapolis and parts of Interstate 70. They also did extensive work on Indianapolis International Airport, Grissom Air Force Base, the Louisville, Ky., airport and the Fulton County Airport. They built Rochester High School's Barnhart Field and the nearby sledding hill. At one time or another, his machinery laid down pavement on virtually all Rochester streets.

He was a leader of the Asphalt Pavement Association of Indiana and of Indiana Constructors, Ind. and a member of the Indiana Society of Chicago.

During the 1950s he was financial chairman of Indiana's 2nd Congressional District.

He was active in Grace United Methodist Church as a trustee and finance committee chairman. He also served on the statewide Bishop's Committee.

Born in Indianapolis to Edwin C. and Nellie LOWE BOSWELL on Oct. 11, 1909, he married Rebabelle McMAHAN on Sept. 17, 1932. She died Sept. 27, 1972. He lived in Rochester most of his adult life.

After graduating from Arsenal Technical High School in Indianapolis, he entered DePauw as a Rector Scholar. He earned six athletic letters as a basketball guard and a golfer. He was captain of the ROTC unit, and member of the student council before graduating with majors in history and political science in 1931.

He served in the U.S. Army from 1942-45, rising to the rank of Lt. Col. and supervising Buckley Field, Colo.

Boswell was named to the DePauw Board of Trustees in 1956 and soon became chairman of the Trustee Committee on Athletics. He remained closely allied with DePauw for the rest of his life. He is credited with changing the campus landscape, largely by marshaling the resources of his companies. His DePauw projects included developing tennis facilities, two intramural fields, a varsity practice field and the Boswell Soccer Field. He chaired the drive for the construction of Lilly Physical Education and Recreation Center. He was instrumental in establishing the Old Gold Scholarship for scholar-athletes. A recipient of DePauw's Old Gold Goblet award, he was inducted into the DePauw Athletic Hall of Fame in 1996.

He was a member of Rochester Lodge No. 79 F&AM; Mizpah Temple of Fort Wayne; Scottish Rite of Indianapolis; Rochester Elks Lodge 2120; American Legion Post 36; Tippecanot Lake Country Club, Leesburg Bellaire Country Club, Clearwater, Fla.; The Wabash Country Club; and Rock Hollow golf course, Peru.

Surviving are two daughters, Lalla and her husband James HEYDE, and Rebecca and her husband Terry SMITH, both of Rochester; one sister, Mrs. Carl GERDTS, Indianapolis; seven grandchildren, Edwin [HEYDE], David [HEYDE] and Robert HEYDE, Todd [SMITH], Terry [SMITH], Chris [SMITH] and Julie (Carroll) SMITH, and 15 great-grandchildren.

His parents and one brother, William A. BOSWELL, Indianapolis, preceded him in death.

Services will be at 10 a.m. Wednesday at Foster and Good Funeral Home, Rochester. Friends may call from 4-8 p.m. Tuesday and for an hour before services.

In lieu of flowers, contributions may be made to Grace United Methodist Church.

Lorraine Kazlauskas/Kazlauski

Dr. Lorry, 5758 N. Old U.S. 31, Rochester, died at 2:55 p.m. Wednesday, February 18, at Manor Care in Kokomo.

She was born in Wilmette, Illinois to Albina and Alexander KAZLAUSKAS/KAZLAUSKI.

As a child she attended school in Switzerland then came back to the states where she attended Vassar College. She received a Master's in Psychology and a medical degree in neurosurgery from U.C.L.A. She interned at John Hopkins University.

Dr. Lorry provided surgical care to many of our servicemen who had head injuries in Cambodia during the Viet Nam War. Her medical unit had to be airvaced out of Cambodia when it was overrun. Her patients and she were captured before the evacuation was complete. They were tortured until the Navy air unit bombed the V.C.'s and rescued them.

After the war she went to Japan to educate herself in Oriental medicine. She stayed an additional year to learn how to treat animals. On June 6, 1997 she became a doctor of A.C.U.

Until she became very ill in the fall of 1996, she was still providing psychological counseling to Vietnam veterans on a 24 hour hotline.

She moved to Rochester and opened her office in 1988. She has helped many people. Her patients came to her from many places, as far away as Alaska. Many of her patients became her friends. A patient was never refused treatment because of a lack of funds. She always said poor people get hurt too.

She fought to protect her patients from contaminated air and water. She supported many charities and causes such as the Humane Society, Ducks Unlimited because they are trying to save our wetlands, The Heart Association, and the Cancer Society to name a few. She supported the high school yearbook because of the many children she's counseled in the area. She always said we need to listen to our children.

She was preceded in death by her parents and one brother, Alex [KAZLAUSKAS/KAZLAUSKI].

Foster & Good specified there will be no memorial service per the request of Dr. Lorry.

Memorials may be made to First Christian Church in Rochester where she attended and supported as a completed Jew.

Her motto was: "Good Health is a gift from God. My prayer is to be an administrator."

She leaves behind many friends.

Third Death From Accident

By Christina M. Seiler

Staff Writer, The Sentinel

Christina STANLEY, wife of Eddie STANLEY and daughter-in-law of Ed STANLEY Jr., died Thursday at Methodist Hospital in Indianapolis from injuries she sustained in the same wreck that killed Ed Stanley Jr.

They were in a car traveling north on U.S. 421 at Boone County Road 100 North at 5:56 p.m. Saturday when they were hit broadside by a pickup truck.

The driver of the truck, Ralph H. LONG, Sheridan, was killed on impact, police said. So was Ed Stanley, a former Letters Ford bank owner. Christina Stanley suffered head and internal injuries, Boone County police said. Her infant daughter Rosalie [STANLEY], five months, suffered scratches and was released Monday from Methodist Hospital.

Christina Stanley died at 10 a.m., Thursday of brain swelling and other complications.

"Christina has always been an individual concerned with helping others. On Thursday night, at age 29, she made this quest her legacy. Turning Saturday evening's tragic accident at the hands of a drunk driver into a final way of helping others, Mrs. Stanley's organs are to be donated to many in desperate need," states a press release from the Stanley family and Holly KUNKEL, of the Indiana Organ Procurement Organization.. Kunkel is the former Holly BELLOWS, of Rochester.

"At her request, Christina's family consented to donate her heart, heart valves, lungs, liver, pancreas, kidneys, stomach, corneas, intestines, and islet cells."

A scholarship in Christina Stanley's honor is being established by Purdue University President Steven BEERING. Her father, Dr. Allen YORK, is a Purdue University entomology professor.

A Fulton County jail inmate apparently hanged himself in his cell early today.

Jamie BECKER, 25, formerly of Lot 74, Four Seasons Mobile Home Court, was found hanging from the bars of his cell, at 2:12 a.m. by a jailer making rounds, according to Fulton County Prosecutor Rick Brown.

Becker was awaiting transport to Indiana state prison. He was sentenced April 27 to eight years, two suspended, for dealing cocaine.

"Preliminary indications are that Becker was distraught over an impending break-up of his marriage," Brown wrote in his release. Becker's wife, Teresa [BECKER], also is charged with dealing in cocaine. She is free on bail. She gave birth in late March to the couple's child.

Brown wrote that Becker was in bed when a jailer made a cell check at 1:15 a.m. His death was discovered during the next check, 2:12 a.m.

He was immediately cut down by the jailer and a deputy. Brown said Becker evidently found a piece of cloth somewhere in his cell to wrap around his neck.

He said jail cameras did not record the incident.

Brown said nobody else in the cell block reported hearing or seeing Becker's suicide.

Indiana State Police Det. Gary BOYLES was called to investigate. The body was taken to Wabash County Hospital today for an autopsy.

Court records state Becker pleaded guilty to the cocaine dealing charge. As part of his plea agreement, the charge was reduced and an additional charge of dealing cocaine within 1,000 feet of a public park was dismissed.

Court records say he sold the cocaine to a police informant on March 21, 1996.

On March 19 Becker's attorney asked the court for an emergency order to let Becker leave the county jail so he could attend the birth of the couple's child at Logansport Memorial Hospital. The motion was denied.

The Beckers lost an infant son, Gaige [BECKER], in October 1995 to a disease the four-week-old caught from a pet iguana in the couple's home.

BOB LANCASTER LEAVES A HOLE IN OUR COUNTY

We reflect with considerable sadness on the passing of Bob LANCASTER - a man whose easy-going charm and wit matched his deep affection for the Hoosier environment.

Lancaster, 78, Leiters Ford, died 12:30 p.m. Tuesday at Memorial Hospital, South Bend.

Bob was an influential member of Supporters To Oppose Pollution. His temperate and courtly manner was unflinching during the sometimes intense confrontations between Four County Landfill neighbors, ineffectual bureaucrats and cynical landfill officials.

He also set a high standard of leadership for the American Association of Retired People. Fulton County is diminished by his departure.

Services are at 10 a.m. Saturday at Foster & Good Funeral Home, Rochester. Friends may call at the funeral home from 3-8 p.m. today or for an hour before services Saturday.

ROCHESTER MAN BLEEDS TO DEATH

A rural Rochester man bled to death Saturday night after cutting an artery in his arm.

Darrell DUNN, 37, of 8409 W. County Road 500 North, was pronounced dead at Woodlawn Hospital, police said. Dunn was arguing with his 16-year-old son when he was injured. Instead of taking his anger out on his son, police said, he punched a window. An ambulance was called at 9:12 p.m. to the Dunn home.

Police said alcohol was a factor.

Police also received a call at 4:21 p.m. Saturday from an employee of Pulaski Memorial Hospital who reported someone was being treated in the emergency room after a stock car rolled over at the Dunn residence.

Police said they are not sure if the wreck had anything to do with the argument at the Dunn home.

A Pulaski Memorial spokesman today said Heather PAGE, 21, of Elm Street, Rochester, was brought to the emergency room at 4:10 p.m. Saturday. She has since been released. Her injuries were not specified.

[unknown woman] [See Tami L. (Slaybaugh) Hopkins and Tami L. Slaybaugh]

The Rochester City Police are investigating the death of a middle-aged woman found about 7:10 a.m. Today in a stairwell between Sally's tavern, 128 E. Eighth St. and the Fulton County Prosecutor's office.

Police chief Greg Halfast declined to reveal the woman's identity, or comment on whether her death was of suspicious nature.

She was pronounced dead at the scene by Fulton County Coroner Jon Good. At the Sentinel press time, Good had not yet made a ruling on the cause of death. Relatives had not been notified of her death.

The woman was found by a tenant of an apartment above the tavern. Nobody lives in the apartments above the prosecutor's office. The stairwell opens to the sidewalk on Eighth Street.

Incoming Fulton County Sheriff Roy Calvert, a city police investigator, is investigating the death.

David Hoehne

The Dec. 22 death of former Rochester accountant David HOEHNE has been ruled a suicide, police report.

Hoehne died of carbon monoxide poisoning near his Park City, Utah, home, said Summit County Sheriff Det. Rob BARRY.

A family member reported the death to police at 10:03 a.m. Barry said Hoehne left no note or indication of why he would take his life.

Hoehne partnered with Byron SHORE in 1978 to operate SHORE & HOEHNE Certified Public Accountants firm here. Hoehne's former wife Patty [HOEHNE] later took over the firm and named it MIDDLETON CPAs. In Utah, he was president of The HOEHNE GROUP, an accounting firm.

Tami L. (Slaybaugh) Hopkins

Authorities have concluded that Tami L. (Slaybaugh) Hopkins, 35, of 326 W. Fourth St., died accidentally early Tuesday in the stairwell leading to an apartment above Salty's Tavern, 128 E. Eighth St.

Fulton County Coroner Jon Good concluded she fell while descending the steps, and became wedged with a twisted neck between them and the door.

No autopsy is being conducted. Good said Hopkins' blood alcohol level indicated intoxication. She died about 4 a.m.

Police were called at 7:19 a.m. Tuesday by the resident of the apartment above Salty's, who found Hopkins on the way to work.
